33 After this came Nicanor by vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of people went forth of the Sanctuary to salute him peaceably, & to shewe him the burnt offering that was offered for the King.

34 But he laughed at the, & mocked the, and counted the prophane, & spake proudly.

35 And swoze in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste be not deliuered nowe into mine handes, if euer I come againe in safetie, I will burne by this house. with that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Priests came in, and stode before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 For so much as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer, & petition for thy people,

38 We auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 While Nicanor was gone from Jerusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas pitched in Adala with three thousand men where Iudas prayed, saying,

[Or, Adala.]

41 O Lord, because I messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forth, and slewe an hundred, & foure score, and fise thousand of them.

[2 King. 19. 35. Job. 41. 18. ecclesi. 48. 22. Isa. 37. 36. 1. mac. 8. 19.]

42 So destroy thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may knowe that hee hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuary, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirtieth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he him selfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his arme sawe that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes iourney from Adala vnto Casera, blowing an alarime with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the towncs of Iudea round about, & rushed vpon them, and therewe them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the spoiles, & the pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, & brought it with them, and hanged them by afore Jerusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnes.

49 And they ordeined, to keepe yeerely the day on the thirtieth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a litle while.

1 Judas, considering the power and police of the Romans, made peace with them. 22 The conditions of mutuall friendship sent to the Jewes.

Iosep. Antiquar. lib. chap. 8.

Judas heard also the fame of the Romaines, & they were mighty, and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them.

Iosep. Antiquar. lib. chap. 8.

2 And & they were men of great power, and they told him of their battels, and their worthy actes, which they did among the Galathians whom they had conquered, & made to paye tribute.

3 And what they had done in the country of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of silver and golde,

4 And that by their counsell, & gentle behaviour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discouered, & giuen great overthowes to the kings that came against the, from the uttermost part of the earth, & that others gaue them tribute euery yeere,

Or. Cimon.

5 Howe they had also discouered by battell Philippe and Perles kings of the Macedonians, and others, that arose against them, and how they ouercame them,

6 And how great Antiochus king of Asia that came against them in battell, hauing an hundred and thientie elephantes, with horsemen and charets, and a very great armie, was discouered by them,

7 And howe they tooke him alive, & ordeined him, with such as shoulde reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, and to giue hostages, and a separate portion,

8 Euen the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they tooke of him and gaue them to King Cumenes.

9 Againe when it was tolde them that the Grecians were coming to destroy them,

10 They sent against them a capitaine, which gaue them battell, and slew many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues, and children, and spoiled them, and conquered their lande, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day:

11 Moreover, howe they destroyed, and brought into subiection other kingdomes & yles, whoseuer had withstande them:

12 But that they kept amitie with their owne friends, and those that stayed vpon them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes, both farre and nere, in so much that whoseuer heard of their renoume, was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, and whom they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authoritie.

14 Yet for al this that none of them ware a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby,

15 But that they had ordeined the selues a counsell, wherein three hundred & thientie men consulted daily, and prouided for the common affaires, to gouerne them well,

16 And that they committed their gouernement to one man euery yeere, who did rule ouer all their country, to whome euery mā was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor ennie among them.

17 Then Judas chose Epulemus the sonne of John, the sonne of Accus, and Jason, the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them vnto Rome to make friendship, and mutuall fellowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they saue that the kingdomes of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the Senate where they spake and said, 20 Judas Maccabees with his brethren, and people of the Iewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship, & peace with you, and ye to register vs as your partakers and friends.

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse & sent to Ierusalem, & they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace, & mutuall fellowship.

23 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Iewes, by sea, and by land for euer, and the sword, and enemy be from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romaines, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shalbe appointed, with all their heart.

26 Also they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor serue them with wheat nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romaines, but they shall keepe their couenants without taking any thing of them.

27 Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of the Iewes, the Romaines shall helpe them with a good will, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shal wheat be giuen vnto the, that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, ney, nor shippes, as it pleaseſh the Romanes, who will keepe theſe covenantes without deceit.

Or. Cimon.

29 According to theſe articles the Romanes made the bond with the people of the Iewes.

30 If after theſe pointes the one partie, or the other will adde or diminuiſh, they may do it, at their pleaſures, & whatſoeuer they ſhall adde, or take away, ſhall be ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, wee haue written vnto him, ſaying, Wherefore lapeſt thou thine heauie yoke vpon our friendes, & confederates the Iewes?

32 If therefore they complaine any more againſt thee, wee will doe them iuſtice, and fight with thee by ſea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Alcimus Demetrius ſendeth his armie againſt Judas, 18 Judas is ſlayne. 31 Jonathan is put in the ſeate of his brother. 47 The battell betwene Jonathan, and Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is ſmiten with the palle, and dyeth. 68 He cometh vpon Jonathan by the counſell of certaine wicked perſons, and is overcome. 70 The treace of Jonathan with Bacchides.

IN the meane ſeaſon when Demetrius had heard holde Mica-no, and his hoſt had giuen the battell, he ſent Bacchides, and Alcinus againe into Iudea, and his chiefe ſtrength with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Bethſaioth which is in Arbelis, and wmaie it, and ſlewe much people.

3 And in the firſt moneth of the hūdzeth, fiftie and two yere, they layed their ſiege againſt Ieruſalem.

4 But they rayled their campe, & came to Berea, with twentie thouſand foote me and two thouſand horſemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tent at Eſſaia, & three thouſand choſen me with him.

6 And when they ſawe, that ſ multitude of the armie was great, they were ſore afraide, and many conuerſed them ſelues out of the hoſte, ſo that there abode no more of them, but eight hundzeth men.

7 When Judas ſawe that his hoſt ſailed him, and that hee muſt needes fight, hee was ſore troubled in minde that hee had no time to gather them together, and was dicourageed.

8 Neuertheles, he ſaide vnto them that remained, Let vs riſe, & goe by againſt our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue ſtayed him, ſaying, We are not able: but let vs rather ſaue our liues: turne backe now, ſeeing our brethren are departed: for ſhal we fight againſt them, that are ſo fewe?

10 Then Judas ſaid, <sup>a</sup> God forbid, that we ſhould do this thing, to flee from the: if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, & let vs not ſtaine our honour.

11 Then the hoſte remoued out of the tentes, and ſtoode againſt them, who had deuided their hoſemen into two troupes, and they that were with ſlinges, and the archers marched in the forewarde, & they that fought in the forewarde, were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing.
So the armie drew neere on both ſides, & blewe the trumpets.

13 They of Judas ſide blew the trumpets alſo, and the earth ſhook at the noyſe of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Judas ſawe Bacchides and the ſtrength of his armie was on the right ſide, he tooke with him all the hardie men,

15 And brake the right wing, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Nowe when they which were of the left wing, ſaw that the right wing was dicomſited, they followed Judas behind, and them that were with him hard at heels.

17 There was there a fore battell: for many were ſlaine of both the parties.

18 Judas alſo him ſelfe was killed, and the remnant ſled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Judas their brother, and buried him in his fathers ſepulchre in the cite of Bethſai.

20 And all the Iſraelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamented
many dayes, ſaying,

21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Iſrael!

22 Concerning the other things of Judas, both the battels and the valiant actes that he did, and of his worthineſſe, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 Nowe after the death of Judas, wicked men came by in all the coaſtes of Iſ-rael, and there aroſe all ſuch as gaue them ſelues to iniquitie.

24 In thoſe daies was there a very great famine in the lande, & all the countrey gaue ouer them ſelues with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuſe wicked me, and made them lordes in the land.

26 Theſe fought out, and made ſearch for Judas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged him ſelfe vpon them, and mocked them.

27 And there came ſo great trouble in Iſrael, as was not ſince the time that no

Prophet was scene among them.

28 Then came all Judas friends together, and said vnto Jonathan,

For against the enemies of our nation.

29 Seeing thy brother Judas is dead, and there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, ene against Sacchides, and against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs.

30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee that thou maiest be our prince & captaine in his place to order our battell.

31 So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, & ruled in steade of his brother Judas.

32 But when Sacchides knewe it, hee fought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wilderness of Therna with all their companie, and pitched their tentes by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Which when Sacchides vnderstood, he came ouer Jordan with all his hoste vpo the Sabbath day.

35 For he had Jonathan sent his brother [John,] a captaine of people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, & they would keepe their baggage which was much.

For, Leuith.

36 But the children of Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke John, and all that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

For, Rebe-
hah.

37 After this came worde vnto Jonathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, & brought a bride from Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembred John their brother, and went vp, and hid them selues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a great noyse, and much preparation: then the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met them with tymbrels, and instruments of musike, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathan's men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, & slew many of them, and the remnant fled into a mountaine: so that they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the bloud of their brother, they turned againe vnto Jordan.

43 When Sacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Jordan with a great powder vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his companie, Let vs rise now, & fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battell is before vs, & behinde vs, & the water of Jordan on this side and that side, and the marie, and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may bee deliuered fro the powder of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hande to smite Sacchides: but hee turned aside from him and reculed.

48 Then Jonathan, and they that were with him, lept into Jordan, and swimmied ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe through Jordan after the.

49 So in that day were slayne of Sacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, and builde vp strong cities in Iuda, as the castell of Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, & Chamnatha, & Pharathon, and Lepho, with high walles, with gates, and with barres,

For, Pharathon, & Lepho.

51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the cite Beth-sura, & Gazara, and the castell, and let a garison in them with prouision of vitayles.

53 He tooke also the chiefe mens sonnes in the country for hostages, and put them in the castell at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde in the hundredth, fiftie and thre yeere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie should be destroyed, and hee pulled downe the monuments of the Prophetes, and beganne to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterpises were hindred, & his mouth was stopped: for hee was smitten with a palse, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Sacchides sawe, that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the King, and so the lande of Iuda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men helde a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his companie dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Sacchides hither, and he will take them all in one night.

59 So they went & consulted with him.

60 Who arose & came with a great hoste, and and sent letters priuily to his adherentes, which were in Iudea, to take Jonathan & those that were with him: but they coule not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

For, Ioseph.

61 And they tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chiefe workmen of this wickednes, and slewe them.

For, Ezech.

62 Then Jonathan and Simon with their companie departed vnto Beth-basim, which is in the wilderness, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Barchides knewe this, hee gathered all his hoste, and sent worde to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came he and laid siege to Beth-basim, & fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Jonathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forth into the countrey, and came vnto a certaine number.

For, Olaus.

66 And slewe Odomeras and his brethren and the children of Phasiron in their tents: so hee beganne to slay, and increased in power.

67 Simon also and his companie went out of the citie, & burnt by the instrumentes of warre.

68 And fought against Barchides, and discomfited him, and bereft him sore, so that his counsell and iourney was in vaine.

5. Ezech. hee coule not sell his self on the countrey.

69 wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, and slewe many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 whereof whē Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to create of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 which thing hee accepted, & did according to his desire, & made an oth, that he would neuer do him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So hee restored vnto him the pyllovers that he had taken aforesaid out of the land of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne lande, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the word ceased from Israel, and Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, & destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4 Demetrius desired to haue peace with Jonathan. 18 Alexander also desired peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slayne. 51 The friendship of Ptolemus and Alexander.

Ioseph. Antiq. 13. chap. 3.

In the hundredth and three score yeere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, & tooke Ptolemas, & they retrained him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius King heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan, with louing wordes, as though hee would preferre him.

4 For he saide, we will first make peace with him, before hee ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castel, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, & read the letters in the audience of all the people, & of them that were in the castel.

8 Therefore they were sore afraide, because they heard that the King had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castel, deliuered the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to builde, and repaire the citie.

11 And he commanded the workmen to builde the walles, & the mount Sion round about with heben stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castels which Barchides had made, fled.

13 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Only at Beth-sura remained certaine which had forsaken the Law and the commandments: for it was their refuge.

15 Nowe when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: and when it was tolde him of the battels & noble acts, which he & his brethren had done, and of the paynes that they had indured, 16 he saide, Might we finde such a man: now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these words, saying, 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 we haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthie to bee our friende.

20 wherefore this day wee ordeine thee to bee the friend of the nation, and to bee called the Kings friend: (and he sent him a

<sup>109. m. i. c.</sup> purple robe, and a crowne of golde, that thou maist consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seventh moneth of the hundredth and threescore yere, vpon the feast day of the Tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an host, & prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius heard, he was marvellous loy, and laide,

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath prevented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength:

24 Yet will I write and exhort the, and promise them dignities and rewarde, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIUS vnto the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Solue therefore remaine still, & keepe fidelitie toward vs, and we will recompence you for the good things that ye haue done for vs,

28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewarde.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, and free you from the customes of salt, and the crowne taxes, and from the thirde part of the seede.

30 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees which is mine owne dueitie, I so release the that from this day forth, none shall take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three gouernments which are added thereto, as of Samaria and of Galile, <sup>a</sup> from this day forth for euermore.

31 Jerusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free from the tenths and tributes.

32 Also I release the powder of the castell which is at Jerusalem, and giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may let in it such men, as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 Moreover I freely deliuer every one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and every one of them shall be free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell,

34 And all the feasts, and Sabbaths, and new moones, and the dayes appoynted and the three dayes before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be dayes of freedom and libertie for all the Iewes in my realme,

35 So that [in them] no man shall haue powder to do any thing, or to bere any of the in any maner of cause.

36 Also thirte thousande of the Iewes shall be written by in the Kings host, & haue their wages paid them as appertaineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: and of them shall be ordeined certaine to keepe the Kings strong holdes.

37 And some of them shall be set ouer the Kings most secret affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shall bee of themselves, and they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernements that are added vnto Iudea fro the countrey of Samaria, shall be ioyned vnto Iudea, and they shall be as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemais and the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuarie at Jerusalem, for the necessarie expenses of the holy things.

40 Moreover, I will giue euery yere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues out of the places appertayning vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they dyd in the former yeres, from henceforth they shall giue it toward the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yearly of the account appoynted for the intertainment of the Sanctuarie, these yeres passed, euen these things shall be released because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoener they be that flee vnto the Temple at Jerusalem, or within the libertie thereof, and are indebted to a King for any maner of thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the building also & repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenses shall be giuen of the Kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Jerusalem, and fortifying it rounde about, that the holdes in Iudea may be built by, that also the costs be giuen out of the Kings reuenues.

46 But when Jonathan & the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credit vnto them, neither receiued the: for they remembered the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how sore he had bere them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for hee was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederate with him alway.

51 ¶ The Alexander sent Ambassadors vnto Ptolemeus the King of Egypt with these words, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioy my countrie,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battell, and he and his armie is discomfited by mee, & I sit in the throne of his kingdom,

54 Let vs nowe make friendship together, & giue me nowe thy daughter to wife: so that I be thy sonne in lawe, and giue thee rewarde, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemeus the King gaue answer, saying, happie be þ day, wherein thou art come againe vnto þ land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 Nowe therefore will I fulfil thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais þ we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in Lawe, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in þ hundreth threescore and two yeere, 58 where King Alexander met him, and he gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glory, as the maner of Kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he shoulde come & meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, & there he met the two kings, & gaue the great presents of siluer and golde, and to their friends, & found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellows of Israel, & wicked men to accuse him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the king commanded that they shoulde take off þ garments of Jonathan, & clothe him in purple: and so they did: and the king appoynted him to sit by him.

63 And laide vnto his princes, Go with him into the middes of the cite, and make a proclamation, that no man complayne against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So whē his accusers saw his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And þ King preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chiefe friends, and made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladnes.

67 ¶ In the hundreth, three score and five yeere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta into his fathers lande.

68 Whereof when King Alexander heard, he was very soze, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius þ gouernour of Coelofryia, who gathered a great hoste, & ramped in Jamnia, and sent vnto Jonathan the hie Priest, saying,

70 Wareest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs: and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: nowe therefore why doest thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the playne felde, and there let vs try the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Alke and learne who I am, and they shall take my part: and they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stande before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twice chased in their owne land.

73 And nowe holde wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen & footemen in the playne, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto:

74 When Jonathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherefore hee chose tenne thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And hee pitched his tents at Joppe: but they shut him out of the cite: for Apollonius garrison was in Joppe.

76 Then they fought against it, & they that were in the cite, for very feare let him in: so Jonathan wanne Joppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen w a great host of [foote] men, and went towarde Asotus, as though he would goe forwarde, & came immediately into þ plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in the.

78 So Jonathan followed vpon him to Asotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere band, 79 For Apollonius had left a thousande horsemen behinde him in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behinde him, and though they had compassed in his hoste, and shot darts at the people from the morning to the evening,

81 Yet the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them, til their horses were wearie.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the bande: but the horses were wearie, and hee discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the fildes.

83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there save themselves.

84 But Jonathan let fyre vpon Azotus and al the citie round about it, & tooke their spoiles, and burnt with fyre the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slayne and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remoued the host fro thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, & met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his hoste againe to Jerusalem with great spoiles.

88 And when King Alexander hearde these things, hee begaune to doe Jonathan more honour.

89 And sent him a colar of golde, as the vs is to be giuen vnto such as are of Kings blood: hee gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissension betwene Ptolemus & Alexander his sonne in lawe.
17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after Ptolemus.
22 Syon is besieged of Jonathan. 41 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

And P King of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the lande that lieth vpon the sea thore, and manie shippes, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyn it vnto his owne Realme.

2 Upo this he went into Syria to friends by wordes, and was let into the citie, & men came forth to meete him: for King Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Nowe when he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bandes and garisons in euery citie.

4 And when hee came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodie cast abrood, and them that hee had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of the by the way where he should passe.

5 And they tolde P king whate Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the King helde his peace.

6 And Jonathan met P king with great honour at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So whē Jonathan had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Jerusalem.

8 So King Ptolemus gate the domination of the citie by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 And sent Ambassadors vnto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus hee slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.

12 And he tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, & forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowen.

13 Then Ptolemus came to Antiochia, where hee set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:

15 But when Alexander heard it, hee came to warre against him, and Ptolemus brought forth his host, and met him with a mightie powder, and put him to flight.

16 The fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemus.

18 But the third day after, King Ptolemus died: and they that were in the holds, were slayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundredeth, threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathan them that were in Judea, to lay siege vnto the castell, which was at Jerusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto vnto King [Demetrius,] and told him that Jonathan besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediately came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Jonathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that hee shoulde meete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himselfe in danger,

24 And tooke with him siluer and gold, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the King, and found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends,

27 And confirmed him in the hie Priesthood with all the honourable things, that he had afore, & made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathan also desired the King, that he would make Iudea free with the three governments, and the countrey of Samaria, and [Jonathan] promised him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the King consented, and gaue Jonathan writing of the same, containing these wordes, 30 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

31 We sende you here a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lathenes his father, sendeth greeting.

33 For the saythfulness that our friends the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will towards vs, we are determined to do them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coastes of Iudea with the three governments Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Jerusalem: both concerning the payments which the king tooke verely aforetime, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruites of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertayning vnto vs of the tenthes and tributes, which were due vnto vs, & the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.

36 And nothing hereof shalbe reuoked from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Jonathan, that it may be set by vpon the holy mount in an open place.

38 After this when Demetrius the king saue that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, hee sent away all his hoste, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, whom he brought fro the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when he saue that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to <sup>Or, Em.</sup> <sup>incl.</sup> Simatene the Arabian, that brought by Antiochus some of Alexander,

40 And lay fore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that hee might reigne in his fathers steade: he told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Jonathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castell at Jerusalem, & those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Jonathan, saying, I will not onely do these things for thee and thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.

43 Nowe therefore thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt sende me men to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.

44 So Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the king: wherefore the king was very glad at their coming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred, and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, and would haue slaine the king.

46 But the king fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him all together, & went abroade through the citie,

48 And slewe the same day an hundred thousand, & set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoils in that day, & deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saue that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they the Iewes were disappointed of their purpose, they made their suppli-

cation vnto the King, saying,

50 ¶ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from bering vs and the citie.

51 So they cast away their weapons, and made peace, & the Iewes were greatly honoured before the King, and before all that were in his Realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then king Demetrius late in þ throne of his kingdom, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheles he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew himselfe from Jonathan, neither did he rewarde him according to the benefites which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crownded.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had scattered, & they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the || beastes, and wanne Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoynt thee to bee the chiefe Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure governments, that thou maiest bee a friend of the Kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, and to weare purple, and to haue a colar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also capitaine from the coasts of Tyrys vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourable.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and hee made peace with them, and tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great host, purposing to drine him out of the countrey, 64 he came against them, & left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon beleaged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, & shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he graunted them, & afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the citie, and set a garison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azot.

68 And beholde the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, and had layed ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against the, the ambushments rose out of their places and skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Jonathan's side, fled: and there was not one of the left, except Hattathias the sonne of || Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the Captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, & cast earth vpon his head, and prayed.

72 And turned againe to them to fight, & put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after al vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, & Jonathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jonathan sendeth Ambassadors to Rome, 2 And to the people of Sparta, to renewe their couenent of friendship, 24 Jonathan putteth to flight the Princes of Demetrius, 40 Tryphon taketh Jonathan by deceit.

Jonathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them vnto Rome, to establish & renewe the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, & entered into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie Priest & the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendship with you, & the bonde of loue, as in times past.

4 So the [Romanes] gaue them free passportes, that men should leade the home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the Priests, & the rest of the people of the Iewes, sende greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto || Joseph the hie Priest, from || Arius, which the reigned among you, that ye would be our brethren, for, give vs

the right hand.

for, give phant.

brethren, as the copie here vnder written specifieth.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadour honourably, & received the letters: wherein there was mention made of þe bonde of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, wee neede no such writings: for wee haue the holy bookes in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuerthelesse we thought it good to sende vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhoode and friendship, least we shoulde be strange vnto you: for it is long since þe time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feasts and other dayes appoynted. When wee offer sacrifices and prayers, as it is meete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And wee reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene environed with great troubles and warres, so that the Kings rounde about vs haue fought against vs,

14 Yet woulde we not be grielous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For wee haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, & wee are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius [the sonne] of Antiochus, and Antipater [the sonne] of Jason, and sent the vnto the Ro-mains, for to renewe the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, which Arus the King of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto
Onias the hie Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Spar-tians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now we so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal doe well, to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, & ours are yours: these things haue wee commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Jonathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore,

25 He went from Jerusalem, & met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe, & told him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in armes ready to fight all the night, and sent watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was ready with his men to the battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Neuertheles Jonathan & his company knewe it not till the morning: for they saw the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathan folowed vpon them, but hee coulde not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, & slewe them,
and tooke their spoyle.

32 Hee proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thowoe all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon and to the next holds, departing vnto Joppe, and Vamne it.

34 For he heard that they would deliuer þe holde to them that tooke Demetrius part:
wherefore he let a garison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, & called the Elders of the people together, & devised with them for to build vp the strong holdes in Iudea,

36 And to make the walles of Jerusalem hieh, and to make a great moat betwixt the cassel and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, & that men should neither bye, nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to build by the citie: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.

38 Simon also set vp Aida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon pur-posed to reigne in Asia, and to bee crowned when he had slaine the King Antiochus,

40 But he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him:
wherefore he went about to take Jonathan, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

Ioseph.
chap. 9.

41 Then went Jonathan forth against him to the battell with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethan.

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathan came with so great an host, he durst not lay hand vpon him, 43 But receiued him honourably, and commended him vnto all his friendes, and gaue him rewarbes, and commanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him selfe.

44 And saide vnto Jonathan, why hast thou caused this people to take such trauell, seeing there is no warre betweene vs?

45 Therefore sende them nothe home againe, and chuse certaine men to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolemais: for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, and the other garisons, and all the that haue the charge of the common affaires: so will I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 Jonathan believed him, and did as he said, and sent away his host, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And retained but three thousand with him, wherof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Nowe alsoone as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, & slewe all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footemen, and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Jonathans companye.

50 But when they knelwe & Jonathan was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they incouraged one another, & came forth against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which folloved vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meane as they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they saide, Nowe haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: therefore let vs nowe fight against them, & roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 After Jonathan was taken, Simon was chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon, taking his chyldren, and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him and his chyldren. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possideth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 He possideth the colye of Sidon. 53 He maketh his sonne Toyn captaine.

Nowe when Simon heard that Trypho gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, & to destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, We know what great things I, & my brethren, & my fathers house haue done for Ierusalem, and the Sanctuarie, and the battels, & troubles that we haue seene.

4 By reason wherof al my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Nowe therefore God forbid, & I should spare mine owne life in any tyme of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I wil avenge my nation, and the Sanctuarie, & our womes, and our chyldren: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these wordes the heartes of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in steade of Iudas and Jonathan thy brethren.

9 Fyght thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we will do it.

10 So he gathered al the me of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and fortified it round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Abalomus with a great hoste vnto Joppe, which dyone them out that were therein, & remained there him selfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Iuda, & Jonathan was with him as prisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at Adidid vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stode vp in steade of his brother Jonathan, and that hee would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Where as wee haue kept Jonathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account concerning the busines that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send nothe an hundredth talents of silver, and his two sonnes for hostages, that when hee is letten forth, he will not turne from vs, and wee will send him againe.

17 Neuerthelesse Simon knew that he dissembled in his wordes, yet commanded hee the money and chyldren to be deliuered vnto him, least he should bee in greater hatred of the people of Israel:

Joseph.
Antiq. 13.
chap. 9.

18 Who might haue sayde, Because hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So hee sent the children and an hundred talents: but he dissimbled, and would not let Jonathan go.

20 Afterward came Tryphon into y<sup>e</sup> land to destroy it, and went round about by the way y<sup>e</sup> leadeth vnto Adoza: but whersoever they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castel, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wilderness, and to send them vitayles.

22 So Tryphon made ready al his hostmen: but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that hee came not, because of the snow: but he remoued and went into y<sup>e</sup> country of Galaad.

23 And whē he came neere to Balsama, he slew Jonathan, & hee was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon to take y<sup>e</sup> bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Hodin his fathers citie.

26 And all Israel bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto, of heben stone behind & before,

28 And set by seven pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillars round about the, and set armes vpon the pillars for a perpetual memory, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which hee made at Hodin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Now as Tryphon went forth with the yong King Antiochus, hee slew him traiterously, 32 And reigned in his steade, & crownded him selfe King of Asia, and brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also built by the castles of Iudea, and compassed them about with high towres, and great walles, euen wth towres, and gates and barres, and laied by vitayles in the strong holdes.

34 Moreover Simon chose certaine me and sent them to King Demetrius, that he would discharge the land: for all Tryphos doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIUS the King vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friende of Kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and precious stone that ye set vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to release you of the thinges wherein wee made you free.

38 So the thinges that we haue graunted you, shalbe stable: y<sup>e</sup> strong holds which ye haue buylded, shalbe your owne.

39 Also wee forgive the ouersightes, and faults committed vnto this day, & the crowne tax that ye ought vs: and where as was any other tribute in Ierusalem, it shalbe now no tribute.

40 And they that are meete among you to bee written with our men, let them bee written by, that there may bee peace betweene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundredth and seuentie yeere.

42 And y<sup>e</sup> people of Israel began to write in their letters, and publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon, the high and chiefe Priest, gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it rounde about, where he set by an engine of warre, and approached neere the citie, and beate a towre, & tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, & there was great trouble in the citie,

45 In so much that the people of the city rent their clothes, and clumed by vpon the walles with their wiues, and children, and cryed with a loud voyce, beseeching Simon to graunt them peace, saying,

46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.

47 Then Simon pitied them, & would fight no more against them, but put the out of the citie, and densted the houses, wherein the idoles were, and so entred thereunto wth psalmes and thanksgiving.

48 So when hee had cast all y<sup>e</sup> filthines out, he set such men in it as kept the Lawe, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for him selfe.

49 Now, when they in the castel at Ierusalem were kept, that they coude not come forth forth nor goe into the countrey, neither buy nor sell, they were very hungrie, and many of them were famished to death.

50 In so much that they besought Simon to make peace with them: which hee granted them, & put them out from thence, and closed the castles from filthines.

51 And vpon the thye and twentie day of the seconde moneth, in the hundredth seuentie and one yeere, they entred into it with thanksgiving, & branches of palmie trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with viols, and with psalmes, and songs, because the great enemy of Israel was overcome.

52 And hee ordeyned that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnes.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beside the castle where he dwelt himself with his companie.

54 Simon also seeing that John his sonne was now a man, hee made him captain of all the hostes, & caused him to dwell in Gazaris.

Item, Geze.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius is overcome of Aslacas. 11 Simon being captain, there is great quietnes in Israel. 13 The covenant of friendship with the Romans, & with the people of Sparta is renewed.

IN the hundredth, seuentie & two yeere gathered King Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Aslacas the King of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, hee sent one of his princes to take him alive.

3 So he went, and overcame the armie of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Aslacas, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land [of Juda] was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for hee sought the wealth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, & to do him worship all way.

5 Simon also wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to bee an haven to wine, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreies.

7 He gathered by many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth Sur, & the castle, which hee closed from filthines, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that euery man filled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her frutes, and the trees gaue their fruite.

9 The elders sate in the open places, & consulted al together for the common wealth, and the yong men were honourably clothed and armed.

10 Hee prouided vitayles for the cities, and all kind of munition, so that his glorious fame was renoumed vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 He made peace throughout the lande, and Israel had perfit mirrh and ioy.

12 For euery man sate vnder his vine, & the fig trees, and there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in the lande to fight against them: for then the Kings were overcome.

14 He helped al those that were in aduersitie among his people: he was diligent to see the Law kept, and hee tooke alway the vngodly, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and encreased the vessels of the Temple.

16 When the Romans heard, and the Spartians had knowledge, that Jonathan was dead, they were very soze.

17 But when they heard, that Simon his brother was made hee Priest in his stead, & how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it.

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renew the friendship, and bond of loue, which they had made with Judas & Jonathan his brethren.

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent.

20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Jewes their brethren sende greeting.

21 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory and honour, wee were glad of their coming.

22 And haue registred their ambassage in the publike recordes in this maner, NVMENIVS [the sonne] of Antiochus, & Antipater [the sonne] of Jason the Jewes ambassadours came vnto vs, to renew amity with vs.

23 And it pleased the people, that men should be honorably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should be registred in the publike recordes, that it might bee for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pounde weight, to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the people understood, they said, what thanks shal we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children:

26 For hee and his brethren, & the house of his father haue stablished Israel, and overcome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentieth day of the moneth August. ¶ Et in the hundredeth, seventie and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high priest.

28 In Samariam in the great congregation of the priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the Elders of the countrey, we would signifie vnto you, that many battels haue bene fought in our countrey.

29 wherein Simon the sonne of Patarchias (come of the children of Iarib) and his brethren put them selues in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuary, and Lawe might bee maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high priest, and is laid with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue invaded their countrey, and destroyed their lande, and lay their handes on their Sanctuary.

32 Then Simon resisted them, & fought for his nation, and spent much of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, & Bethsura that lieth vpon the borders of Iudea (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garrison of the Iewes.

34 And he fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpon the sea, & Gazara that bordereth vpon Asotus (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with things necessarie for the reparation thereof.

35 Now when the people sawe the faithfulness of Simon, & to what glory hee thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouerner, and the chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the vprightnes, and fidelitie that hee had kept to his nation, and that sought by all meanes to exalte his people.

36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the citie of David at Ierusalem, where they had made the a cassette, out of the which they went, and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuary, and did great hurt vnto religion.

37 And he set Ierues in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the lande, and citie, & raised by the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romans called the Iewes their friends, and confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours,

41 And that the Iewes, & priests consented, that Simon should bee their prince, and high priest perpetually, till God raised by the true Prophet,

42 And that he should be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuary, and so set men ouer the workes, & ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that should make prouision for the holy things,

43 And that he should be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey should bee made in his name, and that hee should be clothed in purple, and weare gold,

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or priests to breake any of these things, or to withstand his wordes, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collar of gold:

45 And if any did contrary to these things, or breake any of them, he should bee punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should bee done to Simon according vnto these wordes.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high priest, and the captaine, & the prince of the Iewes, & of the priests, and to be the chiefe of all.

48 And they commanded to set by this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuary in an open place,

49 And that a copie of the same should be layed by in the treasure, that Simon & his sonnes might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1. Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Symon. 11 Tryphon is pursued. 15 The Romans write letters unto Kings and nations in the defence of the Jewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

MOREOVER King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea unto Simon the Priest, and prince of the Jewes, and to all the nation,

2 Conteyning these words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

3 For so much as certeine pestilent men haue blurred the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to chalenge the Realme againe, & to restore it to the old estate: Wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, & prepared shippes of warre,

4 That I may goe thowle the countrey, and bee auenged of them, which haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted many cities in the Realme.

5 Nowe therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof al the Kings my pogenitours haue discharged thee, and all the payments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coine money of thine owne stanpe within thy countrey,

7 And that Jerusalem, and the Sanctuary be free, and that al the weapons, that thou hast prepared, and fortresses, which thou hast builded, & keepest in thine hands, shall be thine.

8 And al that is due vnto the King, and al that shalbe due vnto the King, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for evermore.

9 And when we haue obtained our kingdome, we wil giue thee, and thy nation and the Temple great honour, so that your honour shal be knowen throughout þ world.

10 In the hundredth, seventy and foure yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and al the bands came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the King Antiochus pursued him, but hee fled and came to Dora, which lyeth by the sea side.

12 For he sawe þ troubles were toward him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundredth and twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the cite about, and the ships came by the sea. Thus they pressed the cite by lande, and by sea, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Pumenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings and countries, wherein were contained these words, 16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The ambassadours of the Jewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the hie Priest & from the people of the Jewes to renewe friendship, and the bond of loue,

18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weying a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the Kings and countries, that they should not go about to hurt the, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neyther to mainteine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, that he may punish them according to their owne Lawe.

22 The same thinges were written to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Ariaces,

23 And to all þ countries, as | Sampla-
mes, and to them of Sparta, and to | Delus,
and to | Rhodus and to Strion, & to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, & to Rhodus, and to Phaselis, and to Cos, and to Siden, and to Corryna, & to Gnidon, & to Cypus, and to Cyrene.

24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the hie Priest.

25 So Antiochus the King camped against Dora the second time euer ready to take it, and made diuers engins of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither go in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him with siluer & gold, and much furniture.

27 Nevertheless, hee would not receiue them, but brake all the covenant, which hee had made with him afore, and withdrew him selfe from him,

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, saying, We withhold Joppe, and Gazara with the castell that is at Jerusalem, the cite of my Realme.

29 Whose borders wee haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernement of many places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore

30 Wherefore now deliver the cities, which yee have taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye have rule over without the borders of Iudea,

31 Or els give me for them five hundred talents of silver, and for the harme that yee have done, and for the tributes of the places other five hundred talents: if not, we will come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the Kings friend came to Jerusalem, and when he sawe the honour of Simon, and the cupbord of gold and silver plate, and so great preparation, he was astonied, and tolde him the Kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, we haue neither taken other mens landes, nor withhelden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had unrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recovered the inheritance of our fathers.

concerning.

35 And whereas thou requirdest Ioppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and thozow our countrey, yet will we give an hundred talents for the. But Athenobius answered him not one word, 36 But turned againe angrie vnto the King, and told him all these words, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the King was verie angrie.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the King made Cendebeus capitaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bands of footemen and horsemen,

39 And commanded him to remove the hoste towarde Iudea, and to build by Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to bere the people, and to invade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And he built by Cedron, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the King had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the capitaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banker. 23 John killeth them that he in waite for his life.

¶ Then came John by from Gazara, and tolde Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and sayde vnto them, I, and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our handes, and we haue delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now olde, and ye by [Gods] mercy are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore in steade of me, and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation, & the helpe of heauē be with you.

4 So hee chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Boddin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: and beholde, a mightie great host came against them both of footemen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And John ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he saw that the people was afraid to go ouer the riuer, he went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 Then he deuided his men, and let the horsemen in the middes of the footemen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were very manie: but when they blew the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortresse.

9 Then was Judas Johns brother wounded: but John followed after them, till he came to Cedron, which [Cendebeus] had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fieldes of Asotus, and thole did [John] burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Iuda.

11 ¶ Nowe in the field of Jericho was ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made capitaine, and hee had abundance of silver and golde.

12 (For hee had married the daughter of the hie Priest.)

13 Therefore he waxed proud in his mind, and thought to rule the lande, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about Jericho the cities of the countrey, and studded carefully for them, hee came downe to Jericho with Mattathias, and Judas his sonnes in the hundredth, seuentie and seven yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then [the sonne] of Abubus receyued them by treason into a litle holde, called Do-thus, which hee had built, where he made them a great baker, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes had made good cheare, Ptolemus stoode by with his men, and tooke their weapons, and entered in to Simon in the banket house, and slew him with his rivo sonnes, and certaine of his servants.

17 Whereby he committed a great villenie, and recompenced euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemus these things and sent to the king, that he might send him an hoste to helpe him, and so would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take John, and sent letters vnto the capitaines to come to him, and hee would giue them siluer, and gold and rewards.

20 And to Jerusalem hee sent other to take it, and the mountaine of the temple.

21 But one came before, and tolde John in Gazara, that his father, and his brethren were slaine, and that [Ptolemus] had sent to slay him.

22 When he heard this, he was fore astonished, and laid handes of them that were come to slay him, & slew them: for he knew that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other things of John, both of his warres, and of his noble actes (wherein he behaued himselfe manfully) of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes,

24 Behold, they are written in the chronicles of his Priesthoode, from the time, that he was made high Priest after his father.

- 1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Jerusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pitce. 24 The prayer of Nicanor.

The brethren the Iewes, which be at Jerusalem, & they that are in the countrey of Judea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are thorow Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you and remember his covenant made with Abraham, & Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruants.

3 And giue you all an heart, to worship him, and to do his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde.

4 And open your hearts in his Law, and commandements, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, & neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundredeth, three score and ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble, and violence that came vnto vs in those yeres, after that Jason and his companie departed out of the holy land and kingdom.

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine flower, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Nowe therefore keepe ye the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Chassen.

10 In the hundredeth, fourescore & eight yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the counsell and Judas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolemus master, which is of the stock of the anointed Priests, & to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had overcome the King.

12 For hee brought them into Persia by heapes, that fought against the holy cite.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, seemed invincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Panea, by the deceit of Paneas priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell with her, came thither, he, and his friends with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

15 But when the Priests of Panea had layde it forth, and hee was entred with a small companie within the Temple, they shut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuie dooze of the haute, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine [and his,] and hauing brused the in pieces, they cut off their heads and theiue them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered by the wicked.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the fine & twentie day of the moneth Chassen, we thought it necessarie to certifie you thereof, thus, which hee had built, where he made them a great baker, and had hid men there.

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Jerusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pitce.

24 The prayer of Nicanor.

The brethren the Iewes, which be at Jerusalem, & they that are in the countrey of Judea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are thorow Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you and remember his covenant made with Abraham, & Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruants.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundredeth, three score and ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble, and violence that came vnto vs in those yeres, after that Jason and his companie departed out of the holy land and kingdom.

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine flower, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Nowe therefore keepe ye the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Challen.

10 In the hundredeth, fourescore & eight yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the counsell and Judas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolemus master, which is of the stock of the anointed Priests, & to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the King.

12 For hee brought them into Persia by heapes, that fought against the holy cite.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, seemed invincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Panea, by the deceit of Paneas priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell with her, came thither, he, and his friends with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

16 And by opening a priue dooze of the haute, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine [and his,] and hauing brused the in pieces, they cut off their heads and theiue them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered by the wicked.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the fine & twentieth day of the moneth Challen, we thought it necessarie to certifie you thereof, thereof, that yee also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire [which was given vs.] When Jeremias offered sacrifice, after that hee had built the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests, which sought the honour of God, tooke the fire of the altar primly, and hid it in an hollow pit, which was drie in the bottome, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknown vnto euery man.

20 Now after many yeres when it pleased God that Jeremias should be sent from the King of Persia, he sent of the posteritie of those Priests, which had hid it to fetch the fire, and as they tolde vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commanded he them to drayne it vp, and to bring it: and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Jeremias commaunded the Priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things layde thereupon with water.

22 When this was done, & the time came that the Summe thone, which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man maruelled.

23 Now the Priests, and all praised, while the sacrifice was consuming: Jonathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Jeremias was after this maner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art feareful, and strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely and gracious King,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust and almightie and euermlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, and hast chosen the fathers, and sanctified them,

26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and preserve thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together, that are scattered from vs: deliuer them that serue among the heathen: looke vpon them which are despised, and abhorred, that the heathen may know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, & with pride do vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holy place as Moyses hath spoken.

30 And the Priests sang Psalmes thereunto.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Jeremias commaunded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light, that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was tolde the King of Persia, that in the place where the Priests which were led away had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Jeremias and his companie had purified the sacrifices.

34 The king tried out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holy.

35 And to them that the King fauoured, he gaue and bestowed many gifts.

36 And Jeremias called the same place Ephthar, which is to say, purification: but many men call it Septhar.

4 Now Jeremie had the tabernacle, the Arke and the altar in the hill, 23 Of the true bookes of Isaion contained in one.

It is found also in the writings of Jeremias the Prophet, that hee commaunded them, which were caried away, to take fire, as was declared, and as the Prophet commaunded them that were led into captiuitie.

2 *Giuing them a laide that they should not forget the commandements of the Lorde, & that they should not erre in their mindes, when they laide images of golde and siluer, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commaunded he them, & exhorted them that they should not let the Law go out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, howe the Prophet, by an oracle that hee had, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke, and follow him: and when he came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went vp, and saw the heritage of God.

5 Jeremias went forth, and found an hollowe caue, wherein he layde the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 And there came certaine of those that followed him, to marke the place: but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremias perceived, he reproued them, saying, As for that place, it shalbe vnknown, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, & the maiestie of the Lord shall appeare and the cloude also, as it was shewed vnder Moyses, and as * when Salomon desired, that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 For it is manifest that he, being a wise man, offered the sacrifice of dedication, and consecration of the Temple.

 renoumed throughout all the worlde, and deliuered the cite, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them

23 Wee will assay to abridge in one volume those thinges, that Jason the Cyre-nian hath declared in fine bookes.

 ber, and the difficultie that they haue that because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue induoured, that they that would reade, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keepe them in memoie, & that whosoever reade them, might haue profite.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labor, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required both sweat, and watching.

27 Like as hee that maketh a feast, and seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so wee also for many mens sakes are verie well content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leaving to the authorour the exact distinguishment of euery particular, we will labour to go forward according to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as hee that will build a new house, must prouide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plate or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but only what is comely for the decking thereof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it apperteineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deeply into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in euery part.

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to vse selue words, and to anoyde those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will we begin the storie, adding thus much to our former words, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in words before the storie, and to be short in the storie.

2 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. 3 Simon secretly what treasure is in the Temple. 7 He Hieronymus is sent to take them away. 26 He is stricken of God, and healed by the prayer of Onias.

What time as the holy cite was inhabited with all peace, and when the Lawes were verie well kept, because of godlines of Onias the hie Priest, and hatred of Wie-kednesse,

2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great gifts.

3 In so much that Seleucus King of Asia of his owne rentes, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning the iniquitie committed in the cite.

for the sake and grandsons.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he gave him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelofrygia and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasure in Jerusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the Kings hands.

7 Nowe

7 Nowe when Apollonius came to the King, and had shewed him of the money, as it was tolde him, the King chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresayd money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the Kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Jerusalem, and was courteously receyued of the hie Priest into the cite, hee declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so in deede.

10 Then the hie Priest tolde him that there were such things laide by by the Widowes and fatherles,

11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus (the sonne) of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in al, there were but foure hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of golde,

12 And that it were altogether impossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holines of the place & Temple, which is honoured through the whole world for holines and integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the Kings commandement given him, sayde that in any wise it must be brought into the Kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, and went in to take order for these things: then there was no small grieue throughout the whole cite.

15 For the Priests fell downe before the altar in the Priests garments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning things given to be kept, that they should be safely preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorrow of his minde.

17 The man was so wrappd in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackcloth vnder their breastes, filled the streetes, & the virgins that were kept in, ranne some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes.

20 And all helde by their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sortes, and the expectatio of the hie Priest being in such anguish.

22 Therefore they called vpon the almighty Lord, that hee would keepe safe and sure the things, which were layed by for those that had deliuered them.

23 Nevertheless, the thing which Heliodorus was determined to do, he did he performe.

24 And as hee and his souldiers were nowe there present by the treasure, he that is the Lord of the spirits, and of all power, shewed a great vision, so that at they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, & fell into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto the an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barbed, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his foefere, and it seemed that hee that late vpon the horse, had harness of gold.

26 Moreover, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, and comely in apparell, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many foze stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was couered with great darkenesse: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great company, and many souldiers into the said treasure, was borne out: for he could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did knowe the power of God manifestly, but hee was domine by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

30 And they prayed the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioye and gladnes.

31 Then straightwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Omias, that hee would call vpon the most high to graunt him his life, which laye readie to giue by the ghost.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Nowe when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodozus, saying, Give Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life:

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie powber of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lorde sacrifice, and made great bolbes vnto him, which had granted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the King.

36 Then testified hee vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Jerusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemy or traitour, send him thither, and thou shalt receiue him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a speciall powber of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and hee beateyth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasure.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias, 7 Jason obeyneth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King, 27 And was by Spentius defeated by like bysings, 34 Onias is slaine traitorously by Andronicus.

In this Simon noibe, of whom we shalke after, being a bewayer of the money & of his owne natural countrey, reported euill of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was he bolde to call him a traitour that was so beneficiall to the citie, and defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that through one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as he that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, & increased Simons malice,

5 He went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both priuately and publicly.

6 For hee saide that it was not possible except the King tooke order to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his follie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdom, Jason brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull meanes to be hie Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundredth and three score talents of siluer, and of an other rent, foure score talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundredth and fiftie, if hee might haue licence to set by a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would name them of Jerusalem Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the King had granted, and he had gotten the superiority, he began immediately to dyuise his kinnesmen to the customes of the Gentiles.

11 And abolished the friendly priuileges of the Kings, that the Iewes had set by by John, father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friendes and confederates: hee put downe their lawes and policies, and brought by newe statutes, and contrarie to the Lawe.

12 For he presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castle, and brought by chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them weare hattes.

13 So there began a great desire to folow the maner of the Gentiles, and they tooke by the factions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednes of Jason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person,

14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to bee partakers of the wicked expenses at the playe: after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glorie of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to bee their enemies & punishers, whose custome they folloved so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to trasgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time folowing shall declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the games that were held euery five yere, were played at Tyrys, the King being present,

19 This wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they had bene Antiochians, which brought three hundredth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not bee bestowed on the lathe sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expenses.

20 So he that sent them, sent the for the sacrifice of hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were given to the making of galleies.

21 Now Apollonius the sonne of Hecastheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemies Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that hee was euill affectioned towarde his affaires, hee sought his owne assurance, and departed fro thence to Ioppe, and so came to Ierusalem, 22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the cite, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings, and so hee went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeere afterwarde Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaide Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certaine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memorialis.

24 But he, being commended to King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthoode vnto him selfe: for he gaue three hundred, yet talentes of silver more then Iason.

For commens.

25 So he gaue King letters patents, albeit hee had nothing in him selfe woorthie of the Priesthoode, but bare the stomacke of a cruel tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gaue the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the King, hee tooke none order for it, albeit Sosistratus the ruler of the castell required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the King.

b These as of the charmes sared the eqyue.

30 While these things were in doing, the Tharrians and they of Hallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the King in al haste, to appease his busines, leaving Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that hee had gotten a convenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some he sold at Tyus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a surretie, hee reynoued him, and withdiuelt him self into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slaye Onias: so when he came to Onias, hee counseled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an oth: (Howbeit he suspect him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so he slewe him incontinently without any regard of righteoulines.

35 For the which cause not onely the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighereous death of this man.

36 And when the King was come againe from places about Cilicia, he Iewes, that were in the cite, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the facte also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and hee had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, he tooke away Andronicus garnet of purple, & rent his clothes, & commanded him to bee led throughout the cite, and in the same place where he had committed the wickednes against Onias, he was slaine as a murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39 Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the cite through his counsell of Menelaus, and the brute was spread abroade, the multitude gathered the together against Lysimachus: for hee had caried out no litle much vessel of gold.

40 And when the people arose, & were full of anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand, and began to be blawful powder, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they vnderstood the purpose of Lysimachus, some gaue stones, some great clubbes, & some cast handfulls of dust, which lay by, vpon Lysimachus men, and those that inuaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slayne, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchjobber him selfe, they killed besides the treason.

43 For these causes an accusation was layde against Heleneus.

44 And when the King came to Tyrys, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Heleneus, being not be convinced, promised to Ptolemeus [the sonne] of Domitienus much money, if he would persuade the King.

46 So Ptolemeus went to the King into a court, where as hee was to coole himselfe, and turned the Kings minde.

47 In so much that hee discharged Heleneus from the accusations (notwithstanding hee was the cause of all mischief) and condemned those poore men to death, which if they had toyle their cause, yea, before the Syerthians, they should have bene heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they soone punished brutally, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holie vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrys hated that wickednesse, and ministred all thinges liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in powder, Heleneus remained in authozitie, increasing in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitour to the citiens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Jerusalem. 6 Of the ende and wickednesse of Jason. 11 The pursuite of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Paracabeus fleeth into the wilderness.

About the same time Antiochus undertooke his seconde voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie [of Jerusalem], fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of beare men.

3 And as troups of horsemen set in array, into uttering and courting one against another with shaking of shields and multitude of darts and dialling of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all forces.

4 Therfore euery man praised, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bin dead, Jason tooke at the least a thousande men, and came suddenly vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the walles, being put backe and the citie at length taken,

6 Heleneus fledde into the castell, but

Jason slew his owne citzens without mercie, not considering that to haue the advantage against his kinsmen is greatest disadvantage, but thought that he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gate not the superiortie, but at the last receiued shame for y reward of his treason, and went againe like a vagabond into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked conuersation, that hee was accused before <sup>in Greece</sup> Areta, the King of the Arabians, and fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemy of his countrey and citzens, and was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that he was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kindred.

10 And hee that had cast many out buried, was thyoven out him selfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when these things that were done, were declared to the king, he thought that Judea should haue fallen from him: Wherefore hee came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill, and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yong men, and old men, and a destruction of men and women and chidren, and virgins, and infants were murdered:

14 So y within three dayes were slayne foure score thousand, and fourtie thousande taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but durst go into the most holie Temple of all the world, hauing Heleneus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne countrey, to be his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holie vessels, which other Kings had giuen for the garnishing, glory and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So hautie in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not, that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in  $\text{f}$  citie, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many finnes, hee, assoone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whome Seleucus the King sent to biewe the treasure.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it be partaker of the benefites of the Lorde, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall be set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eighteen hundred talents out of the Temple, hee gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men sayle vpon the drie lande, and to walke vpon the sea: such an hie munde had he.

22 But he left deputies to bere  $\text{f}$  people: at Ierusalem Philip a Phrygian by birth, in maners more cruell then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with the Penelaus, which was more greivous to the citizens then the other, and was despitefull against the Iewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruel prince, with an armie of two & twentie thousand, whome he commaunded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women, and the yonger soite.

25 So when he came to Ierusalem, hee sayned peace, and kept him still vntill the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Iewes keeping the feast, hee commaunded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so hee slew all them that were gone forth to the shebe, & running through the citie with his men armed, hee murdered a great number.

27 But Judas Maccabens, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wilderness, and liued there in the moistaines with his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should bee partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. vi.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Lawe of God. 4 The Temple is desiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 28 The greivous payne of Eleazarus.

NOt long after this, sent the King an olde man of Athens, for to compell  $\text{f}$  Iewes, to transgresse the Lawes of the fathers, and not to be gouerned by the Lawe of God,

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter, that keepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked gouernment was soze & greivous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissoluti on, and gluttonie of the Gentiles, which dalted with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbath, nor to obserue their aunient feasts, nor plainly to confesse him selfe to be a Iewe.

7 In the day of  $\text{f}$  kings birth they were greivously compelled parforce euery moneth to banquet, and when the feast of Zachus was kept, they were constrained to go in the procession of Zachus with garlands of yue.

8 Moreover through the counsel of Ptolemeus, there went out a commaundment vnto the next cities of  $\text{f}$  heathen against the Iewes, that the like custome, and banquetting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforne them selues to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a ma haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought foozth, that had circumsised their somes, whom when they had led round about the citie, (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast the dovine hedlong vnder  $\text{f}$  walles.

11 Some that were runne together into denmes to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered vnto Philippe, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honourable day they were afrayde to helpe them selues.

12 ¶ Nowe I beseech those which reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straight wayes to punish them.

14 For the Lorde doeth not long wayte for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth when they are come to the fulnes of their finnes.

|| Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

|| Or, Asiatick.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our finnes should not be heaped by to þ full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore he neuer witholdeth his merie from vs: and though hee punish with aduerlity, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this bee spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now he will be come to the declaring of þ matter in fewe words.

18 Cleazar then one of the principall scribes, an aged man, and of a wel fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to die gloriously then to liue with hatred, offered him selfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to go [to death] which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawefull to taste of for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banquet, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him, that he would take such flesh, as was lawefull for him to vse, and as he would prepare for him selfe, and dissemble as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the King, euen the flesh of the sacrifice,

22 That in so doing he might bee deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, hee would receive this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discretely, & as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yerres, and the honour of his graye heares, whereunto hee was come, and his most honest conuersation fro his childehode, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God: therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to sende him to the graue.

24 For it becometh not our age, [saide he,] to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke, that Cleazar being foure score yere olde and ten were now gone to another religion,

25 And so through mine hypocrisie [for a litle time of a transitorie life] they might be deceiued by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproche to mine olde age.

26 For though I were now deliuered from the torments of men, yet could I not escape the hande of the Almighty, neither alme nor dead.

27 wherefore I will now change this life manfully, and will shewe my selfe such as mine age requireth,

28 And so will leaue a notable example for such as be yong, to die willingly and cou-rageously for the honourable & holy lawes. And when he had said these wordes, immediately he went to torment.

29 Nowe they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30 And as hee was ready to giue þ ghost because of the trokes, hee sighed and saide, The Lorde þ hath the holie knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, I am scourged and suffer these sore paines of my bodie: but in my minde I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this maner ended hee his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriall of vertue, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the leuen brethren and of their mother.

When I came to passe also that seven brethren, with their mother, were taken to bee compelled by the King against the Lawe, to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whippes,

2 But one of them, which spake first, sayde thus, what seekest thou: and what wouldest thou know of vs: we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the Lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the King angrie, and commanded to heate pannes & caldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to slay him and to cut off the vtmost partes of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when he was thus mangled in all his members, hee commaunded him to be brought alme to the fire & to frye him in the panne: and while the snobe for a long time smoked out of the pan, the [other brethren] with their mother, exhorted one another to die courageously, saying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doth regard vs, as Doyle's * declared in the long wherein he testified openly, saying, That [God] will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 So when þ first was dead after this maner, they brought þ second to make him a mocking stocke: and when they had pulled the skinne with the heare ouer his head, they asked him, if he would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the body.

8 But

8 But he answered in his owne language, and said, No. wherefore he was tormented forthwith like the first.

9 And when he was at the last breath, he saide, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the world will raise vs by, which die for his Lawes, in the resurrection of euerslasing life.

10 After him was the third had in derision, and when they demaied his tongue, hee put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his handes boldly,

11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Law of God, I despise them, & trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 In so much that the King and they which were with him, marvelled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 After hee was dead also, they bered and tormented the fourth in like manner.

14 And when he was now readie to die, hee saide thus, It is better that we shoulde change this which wee might hope for of men, & waite for our hope from God, that we may be rayled by againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fift also and tormented him,

16 who looked vpon the King, and said, Thou hast polver among men, and though thou bee a mortall man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsaken our nation.

17 But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great polver, how he will torment thee and thy seede.

18 After him also they brought the sixte, who being at the point of death, saide, Deserue not thy selfe foolishly: for wee suffer these things, which are worthy to bee wounded at for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vnderstandest to fight against God, that thou shalt be unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous above all other, and worthy of honourable memorie: for when shee saue her leuen sonnes flame within the space of one daye, she suffered it with a good will, because of the hope that he had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wisdom, stirred by her womanly affections with a manly stomacke, and said vnto them,

22 I can not tell howe ye came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body,

23 But doubtles the Creator of the world, which formed the birth of man, and founde out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercie giue you breath and life againe, as yee now regard not your owne selues, for his Lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking him selfe despised, and considering the iniurious wordes, while the yongest was yet aloue, hee did exhort him not onely with wordes, but swore also vnto him by an othe that he would make him riche and welshie, if hee would forsake the Lawes of his fathers, and that he would take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that she would counsell the yong man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him that shee would counsell her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorne, and spake in her owne language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon mee, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, & gaue thee sucke three yeres, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, and brought thee by.

28 I beseeche thee, my sonne, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made like life.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shewe thy selfe worthy such brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While shee was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man said, whereof waite ye for? I will not obey the kings commandement: but I will obey the commandement of the Lawe that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31 And thou that imaginest all mischief against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes.

33 But though the liuing Lord be angry with vs a litle while for our chastening and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his owne seruants.

34 But thou, O man without religion and most wicked of all men, list not thy selfe by in

by in vain, which art puffed by with uncertain hope, & liftest thine handes against the seruants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped  $\bar{\nu}$  iudgement of almightie God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are now vnder the diuine covenant of euermlasting life: but thou through iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my bodie and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment maifest cōfesse, that he is the onely God.

38 And that in mee and my brethren the wrath of  $\bar{\nu}$  Almightie, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the King being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it grievously, that hee was mocked.

40 So he also dyed holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now be enough spoken cōcerning the bankers, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathered together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Judas. 16 Judas exhorteth his souldiers to constancie. 20 Nicanor is overcome. 27 The Iewes giue thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, deuising part of the spoiles vnto the fatherles and vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Barchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

When Judas Maccabeus, & they that were with him, went priuily into the towines, and called their kinsfolkes and friendes together, and tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religio, and assembled six thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was bereed of euery man, and haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men.

3 And that hee would haue compassion vpon the cite that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that hee would heare  $\bar{\nu}$  voyce of the bloud that cried vnto him.

4 And that hee would remeber the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, and the blasphemies committed against his Name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, hee could not bee withstand by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercie.

6 Therefore hee came at bmbares, and burnt by the towines and cities: yet he tooke the most commodious places, and slewe many of the enemies.

7 But specially hee bled the nightes to make such assautes, insonmuch that the brute of his manimesse was spread euery where.

8 C So when Philippe saide that this man increased by litle and litle, & that things prospered with him for the most part, hee wrote vnto Ptolemus the gouernour of Coelohyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings busines.

9 Then sent hee speedily Nicanor [the sonne] of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousand me, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gogias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the King of two thousand talentes, which the Romaines should haue, to bee taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediately hee sent to the cities on the sea coast, prouoking them to bie Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sel fourescore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almightie God, that should come vpon him.

12 When Judas then knew of Nicanors coming, he told them that were with him, of the coming of the armie.

13 Nowe were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteounes of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other folde all that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them, or euer he came neere them.

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about six thousand, exhorting them not to bee afraide of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrightrously, but to fight manly.

17 Setting before their eyes the inurie that they had vniuilly done to the holy place, place, and the crueltie done to the citie by destruction, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers, 18 For they, saide hee, trust in their weapons and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almightie God, which at a becke can both destroy the that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Whereouer he admonished them of the helpe  $\psi$  [God] shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred and fourescore, and fise thousande vnder \* Senacherib,

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galatians, howe they came in all to the battell | eight thousande, with foure thousande Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousande slewe an hundredeth and twentie thousande through the helpe that was giuen the from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus when he had made them bolde with these wordes, and readie to die for the Lawes & the countrey, hee deuinded his armie into foure parts,

22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the armie, [to wit,] Simon, and Joseph and Jonathan, giuing eche one fiftene hundred men.

23 And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, [Judah] which led the forward, ioyned with Antioch,

24 And because the Almighty helped them, they slewe aboute nine thousand men, and wounded and maimed the most part of Antiochs host, and so put all to flight.

25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they woulde no longer pursue them.

27 So they tooke their weapons, and spoiled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thanks and praising the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and polidred vpon them the beginning of his mercie.

28 And after the Sabbath, * they distributed the spoiles to the sick, & to the fatherles, and to the widowes, and deuinded the residue among them selues and their children.

29 When this was done, and they al had made a general prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterward with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus and Bacchides, and slew aboute twentie thousande, and wanne hie and strong holdes, & deuinded great spoyles, and gaue an equall portion vnto the sick, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Whereouer they gathered their weapons together, and laied them by diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoiles to Jerusalem.

32 They slewe also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, & had bereed the Iewes many wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of victory in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fledde into a little house: so he receiued a reward meete for his wickednesse.

34 And that most wicked Antioch, which had brought a thousand marchants to buye the Iewes,

35 He was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe of them whom he thought as nothing, in so much that hee put off his glorious raiment, and fled ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitive seruant, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romanes, by meanes of the pyllo-ners of Jerusalem, brought netwes, that the Iewes had a defender, & for this cause none coulde hurt the Iewes, because they folowed the lawes appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to people Persopolis, is put to flight. 2 As he persecuteth the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 3 The sayntes repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dieth miserably.

AT the same time, came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persopolis, and went about to rob the Temple, and to subdue the citie, the people raine in a rage to defende themselves with their weapons, and to put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitantes, and returned with shame.

3 Nowe when he came to Ecbatane, hee vnderstoode the thinges that had come vnto Antioch, and Timotheus.

4 And then being chased in his fume, he thought to impute to  $\psi$  Iewes their faulte, which had put him to flight, and therefore commanded his charet man to driue continually, and to dispart the tourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had said thus in his pride, I will make Jerusalem a common burying place of the Iewes, when I come thither.

5 But the Lorde almightie and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and invisible plague: for as soone as he had spoken these wordes, a payne of the bowelles, that was remediless, came vpon him, and sore tormentes of the inner parts,

6 And that most iusty: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers, and strange tormentes.

7 Howbeit he would in no wise cease fro his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fyre in his rage against the Iewes, and commanded to halte the iourney: but it came to passe, he fell downe from the charet that ranne swiftly, so that all the members of his body were bruyled with the great fall.

8 And thus hee that a litle afore thought he might commaund the floods of the sea (so proude was he beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the hie mountaines in the balance, was now leaied on the ground, and caried in an horselfitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God,

A. 12. 13.

9 * So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: & whiles hee was alive, his flesh fell off for payne and torment, and all his armie was grieved at his misell.

Or, rotten negle.

10 Thus no man coulde beare because of his stinke, him that a litle afore thought hee might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then hee began to leaue off his great pride, and selfe will, when hee was plagued and came to the knowledge of him selfe by the scourge of God, and by his payne which increased every moment.

12 And when he himself might not abide his owne stinke, he saide these wordes, It is meete to bee subiect vnto God, & that a man which is mortal, should not thinke himselfe equall vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who would not haue no mercy on him,

14 And sayde thus that he would set at libertie the holy cite vnto which hee made haste to destroy it, and to make it a burying place.

15 And as touching the Iewes (whome he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children to be deuoured of the foules and wilde beasts) he would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16 And where as he had spoyled the holy Temple afore, he would garnish it with great giftes, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Hea, and that he would also become a Iewe himselfe, & go through all the woordes that was inhabited, and preach the polber of God.

18 But for all this his paynes would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.

19 THE KING and prince Antiochus vnto the Iewes his louing citizens witheth much loye and health and prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all thinges goe after your minde, I giue great thanks vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Though I lie sicke, yet I am mindefull of your honour, & good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of all,

22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sickenes.

23 Therefore considering that when my father ledd an hoste against the high countreys, hee appoynted who should seeke him:

24 That if any controuersie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might knowe to whom the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.

25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours, that are borderers, and neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for occasions, & looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordeyned that my sonne Antiochus shalbe King, whome I oft commended and committed to many of you, when I went into the hie prouinces, and haue writte vnto him as follooweth hereafter.

26 Therefore, I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that every man will be faithfull to mee and to my sonne.

27 For I trust that he will be gentle, and louing vnto you according to my minde.

28 THE murderer and blasphemer suffered most grieuously, and as he had intreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey among mountaynes.

29 And Philip that was brought by with him, him, caried alway his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1. Judas Maccabeus taketh the cite and the Temple. 10 The actes of Eupator. 16 The Jewes fight against the Iudumeans. 24 Timotheus invadeth Judea, with whom Judas toperly battell. 29 Five men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Jewes. 37 Timotheus is slayne.

Maccabeus now he and his compaignie, through þe helpe of the Lord, wanne the Temple and the cite againe.

2 And destroyed the altars, and chapels that the heathen had buyded in the open places,

3 And censed the Temple, and made an other altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them, & offered sacrifices, and incense two yeeres, and six moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flatte vpon the grounde, and besought the Lord, that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they sinned any more against him, that he himselfe would chasten them with mercie, and that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.

5 Nowe vpon the same day, that þe strangers polluted the temple, on the very same day it was censed againe euen the five and twentieth day of the same moneth, which is Challan.

6 They kept eyght dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembering, that not long afore they helde the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaynes and denmes lyke bestes.

7 And for þe same cause they bare greene boughes, and sayre branches and Palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordeyned also by a common statute and decree, that euery yeere those daies shoulde be kept of the whole nation of the Jewes.

9 And this was the ende of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 Nowe will we declare the actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres, that followed.

11 For when he had taken the kingdome, hee made one Nylas, which had bene captaine of the host in Phenice, and Coelosyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the Realme.

12 For Ptolemeus that was called Ptolemy, purposed to doe iniustice vnto þe Jewes for the wrong, that had bene done vnto the, and went about to behaue him selfe peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friendes before Eupator, and was called oft times traytour, because hee had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that he was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poisoned him selfe, and died.

14 But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, hee intertayned strangers, and made warre oft times against the Jewes.

15 Whereouer the Iudumeans that helde the strong holdes, which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Jewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besought God that he would be their helper, and lo they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Iudumeans,

17 And assaulted them sore, that they wanne the places, and slewe all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slew no lesse then twentie thousande.

18 And because certaine (which) were no lesse then nine thousande were fled into two strong castels, hauing all maner of thinges conuenient to susteine the siege,

19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and Zacharias also, and those that were with them, which were nowise to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessarie.

20 Nowe they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnes, were intreated for money (through certaine of those þe were in the castell) and tooke leuentie thousande drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was tolde Maccabeus what was done, hee called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had solde their brethren for money, and let their enemies go.

22 So hee slewe them when they were commit of treason, and immediately wanne the two castels:

23 And hauing good successe, as in all the warres that he tooke in hande, he slewe in the two castels no then twentie thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom the Jewes had overcome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sortes, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia to winne Jewrie by strength.

a l. hach me is the eight part of an officer, which is about three pence,

25 But when he diewe neere, Baccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reynes with sackcloth,

26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, and besought [the Lord] to be mercifull to them, & to be an enemye to their enemies, and to be an aduersary to their aduersaries, as the Lawe declareth.

Exo. 31. 10
deut. 10. 4.

27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie, & when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke heede to themselves.

28 And when þ morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto þ enemies from heauen five comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Iewes,

30 And tooke Baccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts, and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine of foote men twentie thousande & five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong hold, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Baccabeus and his companie laide siege against þ fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

Or the first and second dayes.

35 Nevertheless vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie yong men of Baccabeus companie, whose hearts were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto þ wall, and with bolde stomackes smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also that climed vp vpon the engins of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towres, and burnt those blasphemers quicke with þ fires that they had made, & others brake vp the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And hauing sounde Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apolophanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalmes, and thankes giuing, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

1 Lysias goeth about to overcome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romans to the Iewes.

Very shortly after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, tooke his displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all þ horsemen he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other Temples of the heathen: for he would sell the priests office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, & thousands of horsemen, and in his fourescore Elephants,

5 He came into Iudea, and drew neere to Beth-sura, which was a castell of defence, five furlonges from Jerusalem, and layde

6 But when Baccabeus, and his companie knewe that he besieged the holds, they, & all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lord, that he would sende a good Angell to deliuer Israel.

7 And Baccabeus him selfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would keepe them selues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a courageous minde.

8 And as they were there besides Jerusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, shaking his harness of golde.

9 Then they praised the merciful God all together, and tooke heart, in so much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruel beasts, and to breake downe walles of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lions, they slew eleuen thousand footemen, and sixtene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped,

13 Who as hee was a man of vnderstanding, ding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing, that the Iewes could not be overcome because the almighty God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised, that he would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perhwade the King to be their friend.

15 Haccabeus agreed to Lysias requests, hauing respect in all things to the common wealth, and whatsoeuer Haccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias containing these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 John and Absalom, which were sent from you, deliuered me the things that you demaunde by writing, and required mee to fulfill the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meete to bee reported to the King him selfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends towarde his affaires, hereafter also I will inueuour my selfe to do you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commendement to these men, and to those whome I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye well, the hundredth and eight and fourtie yere, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Dioscorithius.

22 Cholbe the Kings letter contained these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our realme, liue quietly, that euery mā may applie his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to bee brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne manner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that we would suffer them to liue after their owne Lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation shall be in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be gouerned according to þ custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to sende vnto them, and grant them peace, that whē they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cheerefully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Hecelans declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, and to applye your owne businesse.

30 Wherefore, those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtiē day of the moneth of Panthicus, 31 That the Iewes may be their owne manner of liuing and Lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Hecelans to comfort you.

33 Fare ye well: the hundredth and eight and fourtie yere, the fiftēth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter containing these wordes, QVINTVS MEMIVS and Titus Panilius ambassadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes send greeting.

35 The things that Lysias the Kings kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shal report vnto the King, sende hither some with speede, when ye haue considered the matter diligently, that we may consult thereupon as shal be best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and sende some men, that we may know your minde.

38 Fare well: this hundredth & eight and fourtie yere, the fiftēth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

1 Timotheus troubled the Iewes. 2 The wicked dedes of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 3 Judas is durged of them. 4 The Iewes live in the haven of Samia. 5 The practise of the Iewes against Timotheus. 6 Timotheus is taken and let goe without. 7 Judas pursueth Cogias.

When these covenants were made, Lysias went vnto the King, and the Iewes filled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the places, [as] Timotheus & Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, and Jeronimus, and also Demophon, and besides them Pitanor the gouernour of Cypus, would not let the liue in rest and peace.

3 They of Ioppe also did such a vile acte: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues and children into þ hippes, which they had prepared pared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduice of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 Now when Judas knewe of this cruelty hee used against his nation, he commanded those men that were with him, to make them readie.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haufen by night, and burnt the ships, and those that fled thence, he slew.

7 And when the citie was shut vp, he departed as though hee would come againe, and roote out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 But when he perceived that the Jamnites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them,

9 he came vpon the Jamnites by night, and set fyre in the haufen with the nauie, so that the light of the fyre was seene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundred and fourtie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone fro thence nine furlongs, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about five thousand men of foote, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battell was sharpe, but it prospered with Judas through the helpe of God: the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas to make peace with them, & promised to giue him certaine cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Judas thinking that they should in deede bee profitable concerning manie things, graunted them peace: whereupon they shooke handes, and so they departed to their tents.

13 C Judas also assaulted a citie called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, & fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of vitails, that they were the slacker in their doings, reuiling them that were with Judas, and reproching them: yea, they blasphemed and spake such wordes as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of world (which without any instrumentes, or engines of warre, did cast downe the walles of Jericho, in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles,

16 And tooke the citie by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, in so much that a lake of two furlongs boade, which lay thereby, seemed to flowe with blood.

17 C Then departed they from thence, seven hundred and fiftie furlongs, & came to Characa vnto the Iewes, that are called Tubient.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garison in a very strong holde.

19 But Dosithius, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortreffe, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, and ranged his armie by bandes, and went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred & twentie thousand men of foote, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, and children, and the other baggage asofore vnto a fortreffe called Carion (for it was hard to besiege, and breake to come vnto because of the straites on all sides.)

22 But when Judas first bande came in fight, the enemies were knitte wth feare, & a trembling was among them thorough the presence of him: seeth all things, in so much that they fleeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, & wounded with points of their owne wordes.

23 But Judas was very earnest in pursuing, and slew those wicked men: yea, he slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dosithius, and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because he had many of the Iewes parents and the brethren of some of the, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had assured them with many wordes, and promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him goe for the health of their brethren.

26 C Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, & Atargathion, and slew five and twentie thousand persons.

27 And after that he had chased away & slaine them, Judas remoued his host toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lysias and a So called because they were thepeards, for pasture for beasts, namely, for cattle.

and a great multitude of all nations, & the strong young men kept the wailes defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engines of warre, and darts.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his powder breaketh the strength of the enemies, they vnaime the citie, and slewe fine and twentie thousande of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs fro Jerusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which dwelt there, testified, that y Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, and intreated the kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 They gaue them thanks, desiring the to be friendly still vnto them, & so they came to Jerusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Iudaea:

33 who came out with three thousande men of foote and foure hundred horlemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Iewes were slayne, 35 And Dosithus one of the Sacerdotes, which was on horsebacke & a mightie man, tooke Gorgias, and laide holde of his garment, and drewe him by force, because hee woulde haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman of Chracia fell vpon him, and smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Masada.

For, Marfa for, Masada for, Masada Gorgias.

36 And when they that were with Eleazar, had foughten long, and were wearie, Judas called vnto the Lord, that he woulde helpe him selfe to be their helper, and captaine of the fildes.

37 And the he began in his own language, and sung psalmes with a loud voyce, in so much that straight wayes he made the that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Judas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Masada. And when the seventh day came, they closed them selues (as the custome was) & kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessity required, Judas & his companie came to take vp the bodie of the that were slaine, and to burie the with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder y coates of euery one, that was slayne, they founde iewels y had bene consecrate to the idoles of the * Yammites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Law. Then euery man saw, that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue them selues to prayer, and besought him, that they shoulde not vterly bee destroyed for the faute committed. Besides that, noble Judas exhorted y people to keepe them selues from sinne, for so much as they saw before their eyes y things which came to passe by y sinne of these that were slaine.

43 And hauing made a gathering together the companie, sent to Jerusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very wel, & honestly that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if hee had not hoped, that they which were slaine, shoulde rife againe, it had bene superfluous, and vaine, to pray for the dead.

45 And therefore he perceived, that there was great fauour laid by for those that died godly. (It was an holie & good thought.) So hee made a reconciliation for the dead that they might be deliuered from sinne.

ures, & also the autor of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmities, desirer pardon, if he haue not attained to that hee shoulde. And it seemeth, that this Iason the Cyrenian, out of whom he rooke this abbingement, is Joseph Ben Goyon, who hath written in Etyew five bookes of these matters, & intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, lib. 3. chap. 19. for it is contrary to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Judas has so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Hippocras was to proue that women might minister the Sacramentes, Exod. 4. 25. or the example of Rapis that one might kill him selfe, whom this autor so much commendeth, Chap. 1. 4. 1.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iudaea. 2 The death of Penelias. 10 Bacchides going to fight against Eupator, moueth his soldiers vnto paper. 15 He killeth fourtene thousand men in y tents of Antiochus. 21 How comes the betrayer of the Iewes to taken.

In the hundredth, fourtie and nine yere it was told Judas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great powder into Iudaea.

2 And Lysias the steward & ruler of his affayres with him, hauing both in their arme an hundredth and ten thousand men of foote of the Serians, & five thousand horsemen, & two and twentie Elephants, & three hundred charrets set with hookes.

3 Penelias also ioyned him selfe with them, & with great deceit encouraged Antiochus, not for the lauegard of the countrey, but because hee thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of Kings moued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, & Lysias informed the King that this man was y cause of al mischiefes, so that the King commanded to bring him to Barea to put him vnto death as the maner was in that place.

5 Nowe there was in that place a towre of assie cubites high, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on e-very side it rolled do downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoever was condemned of sacriledge, or of any other greivous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man shoulde die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Demetrius should want buriall.

8 For because hee had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire & ashes were holy: he himselfe also died in the ashes.

9 Now the King raged in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruell vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, hee commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euer he had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they shoulde be put from their Lande, from their countrey and from the holy Temple:

11 And that he would not suffer his people, which a litle afore begonne to recouer, to be subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this altogether, and besought the Lord for mercy with weeping, & fasting, and falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselves readie.

13 And hee being apart with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe forth, afore the King brought his hoste into Iudea, and shoulde take the citie, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to his Lord of the world, he exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto the death for his lawes, the Temple, the citie, their countrey, & the common wealth, and camped by Babin.

15 And so giuing his souldiers for a watch word, The victorie of God, he piket out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the kings campe, and slew of the host foure teene thousand men, & the greatest elephant with all that late vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord vnder helpe them.

18 Nowe when the King had tasted the manlines of the Iewes, he went about to take the holds by policie,

19 And marched towarde Beth-sura, which was a strong hold of the Iewes: but hee was chased away, hurt and lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessarie.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secretes to the enemies: therefore he was sought out, & when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the King commune with them that were in Beth-sura, and tooke truce with them, departed, and ioynd battle with Iudas, who ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstood, that Philippe (whom he had left to be ouerseer of his busines at Antiochia) did rebel against him, he was astonished, so that hee yeilded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an oath to do all things that were right, and was appeased towarde them, and offered sacrifice and adorned the Temple, & shewed great gentlenes to the place,

24 And embraced Bacrabeus, & made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Cereceneas.

25 Neuerthelesse when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: and because they were greued, they woulde that hee should breake the covenants.

26 Then went Lysias by into his iudgement seate, & excused the fact as well as hee could, & perswaded them, & pacified them, & made them well affectioned, & came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIII.

Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Alcimus to kill his Iewes.
18 Alcimus maketh a compact with the Iewes, 29 Which hee perbreake through the motion of the King, 37 Alcimus commandeth Rasis to be taken, who saueh him selfe.

After three yeres was Iudas informed that Demetrius his sonne of Seleucus was come by with a great powler and naue by the haue of Trepolis,

2 When he had wonne the countrey, and slaine Antiochus & his lieutenant Lysias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had bene his Priest, & wilfully desired him selfe in the time that all things were confounded, seeing that by no means hee could saue him selfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy altar,

4 Hee came to King Demetrius in the hundredeth, fiftie and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of gold, & a palme, & of the boughes, which were bled solemnely in the Temple, and that day he yeld his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunity, and occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, & asked him what desires

02 counsels the Iewes learned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, y<sup>e</sup> Iewes that bee called Alcideans, whose capitaine is Judas Maccabæus, mainteine warres, and make insurrections, & will not let y<sup>e</sup> Realme be in peace.

7 Therfore I being deprived of my fathers honour (I meane y<sup>e</sup> high Priesthood) am now come hither.

8 Partly because I was wel affectioned vnto the kinges affaires, & secondly because I sought the profit of mine owne citizens: for al our people, tho<sup>tho</sup> their rashnes, are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the countrey, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanity, that is ready to helpe al men.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11 When he had spoken these wordes, o<sup>o</sup>ther friends also hauing euil wil at Judas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediately called for Nicanor, the ruler of the Elephants, and made him capitaine ouer Iudea.

13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, & to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathen which fled out of Iudea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors coming, & the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled them selues with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed him selfe a people for ever, & did allwayes defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of the capitaine, they remooued straight wayes from thence, and came to the towne of Desian.

17 Where Simon Judas brother had toynd battel with Nicanor, and was some what astonished through the sudden silence of the enemies.

18 Neuerthelesse Nicanor hearing the manlines of them that were with Judas, & the bolde stomacks that they had for their countrey, durst not proue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Dosidonius, Theodorus, & Matthisas before, to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduise ment thereupon, & the capitaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one mind, and consented to the conenants.

21 And they appointed a day when they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery mā his stoole.

22 Neuerthelesse Judas commanded certeine men of armes to waite in conuenient places, least there should suddenly arise any euil tho<sup>tho</sup> the enemies: & so they continued together of the thinges whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while hee abode at Ierusalem, did none hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas, and fauoured him in his heart.

25 Hee prayed him also to take a wife, & to beget children: so he married, & they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betweene them, & vnderstanding the conuents that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, & ordeined Judas a traitour to y<sup>e</sup> Realme, to be his successeur.

27 Then the King was displeased, and by the reports of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was very angrie for the conuents, commanding him that he should send Maccabæus in al haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When these thinges came to Nicanor, he was astonished and sore grieved, that he should breake the things wherein they had agreed, seeing that that man had committed no wickednesse.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the King, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding when Maccabæus perceiued that Nicanor began to bee rough vnto him, and that hee intreated him more rudely then he was wont, he perceiued that such rigour came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, & withdrew him selfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabæus, worthy pollicie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offering their vsuall sacrifices, to deliuer him y<sup>e</sup> man.

32 And when they sware y<sup>e</sup> they could not tel where the man was, whom he sought, 33 he stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this manner, If ye will not deliuer mee Judas as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine fildes, & will breake downe the altar, & wil erect a notable temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After

34 After these words he departed: then the priests lift up their hands toward heaven, & besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this manner,

35 Thou, O Lorde of al things, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that þe Temple of thine habitation shoud be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was clesed, and stoppe al the mouthes of the vnrightheous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanoz, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of the cite, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this man afozetymes when the Iewes were minded to keepe them selues vndefiled and pure, being accused to be of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to spend his body and life with all constancie for the religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanoz willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fure hundredth men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this company would haue taken his castel, and would haue broken the gates by violence, and commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that hee was ready to be taken on every side, hee fell on his sworde,

42 Walling rather to dye manfully, then to giue him selfe into the handes of wicked men, and to suffer reproch vnbworthy for his noble stocke.

43 Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwene þe doozes, he ran boldly to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the multitude.

44 which conueyed them selues tightly away, and gaue place, so that hee fel vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheles while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his mind, he rose vp, & though his blood gushed out like a fountaine, & he was very sore wounded, yet hee ranne thorow the middes of the people,

46 And gat him to þe top of an hie rocke: so when his blood was biterly gone, he tooke out his owne bowelles with both his hands, and threw them vpo the people, talking vpon the Lord of life and spirit, that he would restore them again vnto him, & thus hee died.

5 The blasphemie of Nicanoz. 14 Haccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the vision, incourageth them. 21 The prayer of Haccabeus. 30 Haccabeus commaundeth Nicanoz head and hands to be cut off, and his tongue to be giuen vnto the ioules.

39 The author exhorteth himselfe.

NOW when Nicanoz knewe that Judas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, hee thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheles the Iewes that were compelled to go with him, said, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour & sanctifie the day, that is appointed by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demanded, Is there a Lorde in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they said, There is a living Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commanded the seventh day to be kept,

5 Then he said, And I am mighty vpon earth to commaund them for: to arme them selues, and to perforce the kinges business. Notwithstanding hee could not accomplish his wicked enterpryse.

6 For Nicanoz lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memoiall of the victorie obtained of al them that were with Judas.

7 But Haccabeus had euer sure confidence & a perfit hope that the Lord would helpe him,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the coming of the heathen, but alway to remember the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauē, and to trust now also that they shoud haue the victorie by the Almightye.

9 Thus he incouraged the by the Law and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, & so made them more willing,

10 And stirred by their hearts, & shewed them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, & howe they had broken their othes.

11 Thus hee armed euery one of them, not with the assurance of shields & speares, but with wholsome wordes and exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worthy to be beleueed, and reioyed them greatly.

12 And this was his vision. He thought that he saw Onias which had bene þe high priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersatio, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in al points of godlines from a childe, holding by his hands toward heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 After this there appeared vnto him another,

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanoz goeth about to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day, another mā which was aged, honourable, and of a wonderful dignitie, and excellencie aboue him.

14 And Onias spake, and saide, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, [to wit,] Jeremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also, Jeremias held out his right hand, & gaue vnto Judas a sword of gold: and as he gaue it, he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt wound & aduerlaries.

17 And so being comforted by the words of Judas, which were very sweete & able to stirre them vp to valiantnes & to encourage the heartes of the yong men, they determined to pitch no campe, but courageously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to trie the matter hande to hand, because the citie and the Sanctuary & the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, and chyliden, and brethren & kinsfolkes, they let lesse by their danger: but their greatest & principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Again they that were in the city, were careful for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whyles they al waited for & trial of the matter, & the enemies wolue mette wth the, & the hoste was set in aray, & the beasts were separated into conuenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

21 Haccabens considering the conning of the multitude & the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fierceness of the beasts, helde by his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lorde that doth wonders, & that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie commeth not by the weapons, but that he giueth the victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his praier he said after this maner, O Lord, thou & diddest sende thine Angel in tyme of Ezerias King of Iudea, who in & hoste of Sennacherib slew an hundred fourescore and fise thousand,

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lorde of heauens, for a feare & dread vnto them,

24 And let them bee discomfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these words he made an end.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were wth him, drewe neere with trumpets and shoutings for ioi.

26 But Judas & his companie praying and calling vpon God, encountred with & enemies,

27 So that wth their hands they fought, but wth their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then fise and thirty thousand men: for through the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, & were turning againe with ioi, they vnderstood that Nicanor him selfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and acrie, praising the Almightye in their owne language.

30 Therefore Judas, which was euer the chiefe defender of his citzens both in body and minde, and which bare euer good affection towarde them of his nation, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, wth his hand & shoulder, & to bring it to Jerusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called all them of his nation, and let the priests by the altar, and sent for them of the castel,

32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hande of that blasphemour which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of Almightye with proude bragges.

33 Hee caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in little peeces, and to be cast vnto the foules, and that the rewarde of his madnesse should be hanged by before the Temple.

34 So euery man praised towarde the heauen the glorious Lorde, saying, Blessed be he, that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the hie castel, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they established all together by a common decree that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Hardochus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an end.

39 If I haue done well, & as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant & delighteth the taste, so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that reade the storie. And here shal be the end.

16 And Jacob begat Joseph, the hus-

Jesus, that is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraons. And from David until they were caried away into Babylon, fourethene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon until Christ, foure-teene generations.

18 Nowe the birth of Jesus Christ was thus, when as his mother Marie was betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, shee was founde with childe of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a iust man, & not willing to make her a publicke example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whiles hee thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lorde appeared unto him in a dreame, saying, Joseph, thou sonne of David, feare not to take Marie for thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And thee shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name: Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of by Lorde
by the Prophet, saying,

23 Behold, a virgin shall be with childe, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by inter-

24 Then Joseph, being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lorde had enioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But he knewe her not, till she had brought forth her first borne sonne, & he called his name Jesus.

CHAP. II.

1 The time and place of Christs birth, 11 The wise men offer their presents, 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt, 16 The pong children are slaine, 23 Joseph turneth into Galile.

When Jesus then was borne at Beth-lehem in Judea, in the daies of Herode the king, behold, there came wise me from the East to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Jewes that is borne: for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When King Herode heard [this], hee was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priestes and Scribes of the people, he asked of the, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said unto him, At Bethlehem in Judea: for so it is writte by the Prophet,

6 And thou Beth-lehem in the land of Juda, art not the least among the Princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come the governour that shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herode priuily called the Magistren, [and] diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Beth-lehem, saying, See, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come also,
and worship him.

9 So when they had hearde the king, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came, and stood ouer
[the place] where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioye,

11 And went into the house, & found the babe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him giftes, [even] gold, and incense, and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they shoulde not go againe to Herode, they returned into their country another way.

13 After their departure, behold, the Angel of the Lorde appeareth to Joseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I bring thee word: for Herode will seeke the babe to destroy him.

14 So hee arose and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt,

15 And was there unto the death of Herode: that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lorde by the Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt haue I cal-

16 The Herode, seeing that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wothy, & sent forth, and slew all the male children y<sup>e</sup> were in Beth-lehem, and in all the coasts therof, from two yere old and vnder, according to y<sup>e</sup> time which he had indulgently searched out of the wise men.

17 The was that fulfilled which was spoken by y<sup>e</sup> Prophet Ieremias, saying, 18 * In m<sup>a</sup> Rama was a voice heard, mourning, and weeping, and great la-

a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt,

20 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and go into the lande of Israel: for they are dead which sought the babes life.

21 Then hee arose vp, and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when hee heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iudea in steade of his father Herode, he was afrayde to go thither:
yet after he was warned of God in a dreame, hee turned aside into the parts of Galile,

23 And went and dwelt in a cite called Nazaret, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophetes, which was, that he should be called a Nazarite.

CHAP. III.

1 The office, doctrine, and life of Iohn. 7 The Pharisees are re-proued, 8 The fruits of repentance. 13 Christ is baptized in Iordan, 17 And authorized by God his father.

And in those dayes, Iohn
the Baptist came & preached in the wilderness of Iudea,

2 And said, Repent: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.
3 For this is hee of whom it is spoken by the Prophet Esaias, saying, * The voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernes, is, Prepare ye the way of y<sup>e</sup> Lord:
make his pathes straight.

4 * And this Iohn had y<sup>e</sup> garment of camels heare, and a girdle of a skin about his loines: his meate was also w<sup>o</sup>llustes and wilde donne.

5 * Then went out to him Ierusalem and all Iudea, and all the region round about Iordan.

6 And when he had fasted fortie dayes, he came out of the wilderness, and said, Behold, I have brought forth unto you, as I have said, a man which shall baptize you with water.

6 And they were baptized of him in Iordan, confessing their finnes.

7 Nowe when hee sawe many of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees come to his baptisme, he said vnto them, * O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bynge forth therefore frutes worthy amendment of life,

9 And thinke not to say with your selues, we haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

10 And nowe also is the axe put to y<sup>e</sup> roote of the trees: * therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen down, and cast into the fire.

11 In derde I baptize you w<sup>o</sup> water to amedemet of life, but he y<sup>e</sup> cometh after me, is mightier the<sup>n</sup> I, whose shoes
I am not worthy to beare: he will baptize you with y<sup>e</sup> holy Ghost, & with fire.

12 which hath his<sup>n</sup> fenne in his hab, and will make cleane his floore, & gather his wheate into his garner, but will burne by the chaffe with vnbquench-able fire.

13 * Then came Iesus from Galile to Iordan vnto Iohn, to bee baptized of him.

14 But Iohn put him backe, saying,
I haue neede to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 Then Iesus answering, saide to him, Let be now, for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill all righteousnes. So hee suffered him.

16 And Iesus wh<sup>e</sup> he was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo, the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn sawe the Spirit of God descending like a<sup>n</sup> doue, & lighting vpon him.

17 And lo, a voyce came from heaue, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am well pleased.

18 I will render perfect obedience to God in all things, which hee hath ordeined. 19 To shewe the state of his kingdome, which is in all meche-fourtie daies, and fourty nights, he was afterward hungrie.

3 Then came to him the tempter, and said, If thou be the sonne of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answering, said, It is written, *<sup>c</sup> Man shall not live by bread onely, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devill tooke him by into the holy citie, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And sayd vnto him, If thou be the sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe: for it is written, *<sup>c</sup> that he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee, and with their handes they shall lift thee vp, least at any time thou shouldest dash thy foote against a stone.

7 Iesus said vnto him, It is written again, *<sup>c</sup> Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devill tooke him by vnto an exceeding high mountaine, & shewed him all the Kingdomes of the world, and the glorie of them,

9 And sayde to him, All these will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship me.

10 Then said Iesus vnto him, Auaide Satan: for it is written, *<sup>c</sup> Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serue.

11 *<sup>c</sup> Then the devill left him: and behold, the Angels came, and ministred vnto him.

12 *<sup>c</sup> And when Iesus had heard that Iohn was delivered by, he returned into Galilee,

13 And leauing Nazareth, went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is neere the Sea, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali,

14 That it might bee fulfilled which was spoke by Elias the prophet, saying,

15 *<sup>c</sup> The land of Zabulon, & the lande of Nephthali (by) the way of the sea, beyond Iordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

16 The people which sat in the darknes, saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is risen by.

17 *<sup>c</sup> From that time Iesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your liues: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.

18 *<sup>c</sup> And Iesus walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea

(for they were p<sup>r</sup> fishers.)

19 And he said vnto the, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway leauing nets, followed him.

21 And when he was gone forth fro thence, hee sawe other two brethren, James the sonne of Zebedeus, and John his brother in a shippe with Ze-bedeus their father, mending their nets, and he called them.

22 And they without tarrying, leauing their ship & their father, followed him.

23 So Iesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, & preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing euery sickness and euery disease among the people.

24 And his fame spred abroade through all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people, & were taken with diuers diseases and gripings, and them that were possessed with deuils, & those which were lunatique, & those that had the palsey: and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and of Decapolis, & Jerusalem, and Iudea, and from beyonde Iordan.

12 Reioyce & be glad, for great is your reward in heauen: for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

13 * We are the salt of the earth: but if the salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foote of men.

14 We are the light of the world. A citie that is set on an hill, can not be hid.

15 * Neither do men light a candle, & put it vnder a bushell, but on a candle-sticke, and it giueth light vnto all that are in the house.

16 * Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, & glorify your father which is in heauen.

17 I thinke not that I am come to destroy the lawe, or the Prophets. I am not come to destroy the, but to fulfill the.

18 * For truly I say vnto you, Till heauen and earth perish, one iote, or one tittle of the lawe shall not scape, till all things be fulfilled.

19 * Whosoever therefore shall breake one of these least commandements, and teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heauen: but whosoever shall obserue & teach [them,] the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heauen.

20 * For I say vnto you, except your righteousness exceed the [righteousness] of the Scribes & Pharisees, yee shall not enter into the kingdom of heauen.

21 * We haue heard that it was sayde vnto them of the olde time, Thou shalt not kill: for whosoever killeth, shall be culpable of iudgement.

22 But I say vnto you, Whosoever is angry with his brother, is vnadvisedly, shall be culpable of iudgement. And whosoever sayeth vnto his brother, ° Raca, shall be worthy to be punished by the Council. And whosoever shall say, Foole, shall be worthy to be punished with hell fyre.

23 If then thou bring thy gift to the altar, & there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

24 Leave there thine offering before thy altar, & goe thy way: first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 * Agree to thine aduersary quickly: while he is with thee, lest thou be brought to the iudgement of the lawe: for thou shalt be compared to the iudgement of God, to be punished with hell fyre. For that thou hast offended him, or he hath offended thee: for God preferreth wholly reconciliation to sacrifice. Luke 12. 58.

ly, whiles thou art in thy way with him, least thine aduersary deliuer thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the sergeant, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast payed the vtmost farthing.

27 * We haue heard that it was said to them of olde time, Thou shalt not commit adulterie.

28 But I say vnto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adulterie with her already in his heart.

29 * Wherefore if thy right eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole bodie should be cast into hell.

30 Also if thy right hand cause thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole bodie should be cast into hell.

31 * It hath bene said also, whosoever shall put away his wife, let him giue her a testimoniall of diuorcement.

32 But I say vnto you, whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) causeth her to commit adulterie: and whosoever shall marrie her is diuorced, committed adulterie.

33 Again, ye haue heard that it was said to them of olde time, Thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe thine othes to the Lorde.

34 But I say vnto you, I sweare not at all, neither by heauen, nor is it the throne of God:

35 Nor yet by the earth: for it is his footstoolle: neither by Ierusalem: for it is the citie of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thine head, because thou canst not make one haire white or blacke.

37 * But let your communication be, Yea, yea: Nay, nay. For whosoever [is] more then these, cometh of euill.

38 * We haue heard yit bin said, An eye for an eye, & a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say vnto you, Resist not euill: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any man wil sue thee at thy lawe, and take away thy coat, let him haue thy cloke also.

CHAP. VI.

1 Of almes, 5 Prayer, 14 Forgiving one another, 16 Fasting, 19 Be forgiueth the careful seeking of worldly things, and willeth men to put their whole trust in him.

Take heede that yee giue not your almes before men, to be seene of them, or else yee shall haue no rewarde of your Father which is in heauen.

2 *Therefore when thou giuest thine almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee, as the * hypocrites do in the Synagogues and in the streets, to be prayfed of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their <sup>b</sup> rewarde.

3 But when thou doest thine almes, let not thy <sup>c</sup> left hande knowe what thy right hand doeth,

4 That thine almes may be in secret, and thy Father that seeth in secreete, hee will rewarde thee <sup>d</sup> openly.

5 And when thou prayest, bee not as the hypocrites: for they loue to stande, and praye in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, because they would be seene of men. Verely I saye vnto you, they haue their rewarde.

6 But when thou prayest, <sup>e</sup> enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray vnto thy Father which is in secreete, and thy Father which seeth in secreete, shall rewarde thee openly.

7 Also when ye pray, | vse no bayne repetitions as <sup>f</sup> heathen: for they thinke to be heard for their much babbling.

8 Be yee not like them therefore: for your <sup>g</sup> Father knoweth wherof ye haue need, before ye aske of him.

9 After this <sup>h</sup> manner therefore praye ye, *Our Father which art in heauen, halowd be thy Name.

10 Thy <sup>i</sup> kingdom come. Thy will be done euen in earth, as it is in heauē.

11 Giue vs this <sup>j</sup> as our daily bread.

12 And forgive vs our dettes, as we also forgive our detters.

13 And leade vs not into <sup>k</sup> temptation, but deliuer vs <sup>l</sup> from euil: for <sup>m</sup> thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for euer, Amen.

14 *For if ye doe forgive men their trespasses, your heauenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if ye doe not forgive men their trespasses, no moze will your Father forgiue | you | your trespasses.

16 Moreover, when ye fast, looke not sowre as the hypocrites: for they <sup>n</sup> dis-
vnto men to fast. Verely I say vnto you, that they haue their rewarde.

17 But when thou fastest, <sup>o</sup> anoint thine head, and wash thy face,

18 That thou seeme not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy Father which is in secret: and thy father which seeth in secret, will rewarde thee openly.

19 *Clay not vp treasures for your selues vpon the earth, where the moth and canker corrupt, and where thieues digge through, and steale.

20 *But lay vp treasures for your selues in heauē, where neither the moth nor canker corrupteth, & where thieues neither digge through, nor steale.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 *The light of the bodie is the eye: if then thine eye bee <sup>p</sup> single, thy whole bodie shall be light.

23 But if thine eye be <sup>q</sup> wicked, then all thy bodie shall be darke. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darknesse, howe great is that darknesse?

24 *No man can serue two masters:
for either he shall hate the one, and loue
the other, or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye can not serue
God and riches.

25 *Therefore I say vnto you, be not carefull for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drinke: nor yet for your bodie, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth than meate: and the bodie then rayment?

28 And why care ye for rayment? Learne, how the lilies of the fild doe grow: they labour not, neither spinne:

29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grasse of the field which is to day, & to morrowe is cast into the ouen, shall he not doe much more vnto you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eate? or what shall we drinke? or wherew shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things *seeke the Gentiles) for your heavenly Father knoweth, that ye haue neede of all these things.

33 But seeke ye first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shall be ministred vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morrow: for the morrow shall care for it: seife: the day hath ynough with his owne griefe.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ forbadeth rash iudgement. 6 Not to call holy things to dogges. 7 To aske, seke, or knocke. 12 The scope of the Scripture. 13 The straight and wide gate. 15 Of false prophets. 16 The good tree and euill. 23 False miracles. 24 The house on the rocke, & vpon the sande.

Iudge not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what *iudgement ye iudge, ye shall be iudged, and with what *measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you againe.

3 And why seekest thou the mote, that is in thy brothers eye, and perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

4 *O howe sayest thou to thy brother, suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and beholde a beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out the beame out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see cleerely to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 *Gue ye not that which is holy, to dogges, neither cast ye your pearles before swine, least they treade them vnder their feete, and turning againe, all to rent you.

7 *Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

8 For whosoever asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his sone aske him bread, would giue him a stone?

10 Or if he aske a fish, will he giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then which are euill, can giue to your children good gifts, howe much more shall your Father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aske him?

12 *Therefore whatsoeuer ye would, that men shoulde doe to you, euen so doe ye to them: for this is the Lawe and the Prophets.

13 *Enter in at the strait gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad way that leadeth to destruction: and many there be which goe in thereat,

14 Because the gate is strait, and the way narrow that leadeth vnto life, and fewe there be that finde it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheeps clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.

16 Ye shall knowe them by their fruites. *Doe men gather grapes of thornes? or figges of thistles?

17 So euery good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth euill fruit.

18 A good tree can not bring forth euill fruit: neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 *Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

20 Therefore by their fruites ye shall knowe them.

21 *Not euery one that sayeth vnto me, *Lorde, Lorde, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen, but he that doeth my Fathers will which is in heauen.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lorde, Lorde, haue wee not s by thy Name prophesied: and by thy Name cast out devils: and by thy Name done many great workes?

23 And then will I professe to them, *I neuer knewe you: *depart from me, ye that worke iniquitie.

24 Whosoever then heareth of mee these wordes, *and doeth the same, I will liken him to a wise mā, which hath builded his house on a rocke:

25 And the same fell, and the floods came, and the windes blew, and heare vpon that house, and it fell not: for it was grounden on a rocke.

5 ¶ When Iesus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saide, Master, my seruant lyeth sicke at home of p<sup>a</sup>llie, and is grievously pained.

7 And Iesus saide vnto him, I will come and heale him.

8 But the Centurion answered, saying, Master, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my rooffe: but speake the worde onely, and my seruant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man also vnder the authoritye [of another,] and haue soldiers vnder me: and I say to one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 ¶ When Iesus heard [that,] he marvelled, and saide to them that followed him, Verely, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, euen in Israel.

11 But I say vnto you, that many shall come from the East and West, and shall sit downe with Abraham, & Isaac, and Iacob in the kingdome of heauen.

13 Then Iesus said vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it vnto thee. And his seruant was healed the same houre.

14 ¶ And when Iesus came to Peters house, he saide his wifes mother layde downe, and sicke of a feuer.

15 And he touched her hande, and the feuer left her: so the arose, and ministered vnto them.

16 ¶ When the euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with deuils: and he cast out the spirits with [his] worde, and healed all that were sicke,

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by ¶ Elias the Prophet, saying, He tooke our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ And when Iesus saide great multitudes of people about him, he commanded them to goe ouer [the water.]

19 ¶ There came there a certain scribe, and said vnto him, Master, I will folow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 But Iesus saide vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen haue nestes, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to rest his head.

21 ¶ And another of his disciples saide vnto him, Master, suffer me first to goe, and I will burie my father.

22 But Iesus said vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead burie their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entred into the shippe, his disciples folowed him.

24 And beholde, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waues: but he was a sleepe.

25 Then his disciples came, & awoke him, saying, Master, saue vs: we perishe.

had heard it, they followed him a foote out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth and saue a compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a 16 But Jesus sayde to them, They haue no neede to go away: giue ye them to eate.

17 Then said they vnto him, We haue here but fye loaves, and two fishes.

18 And hee sayde, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the fye loaves and the two fishes, and look-

20 And they did all eate, and were suf-that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were a-

22 ¶ And draught way Jesus: com-and to go ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And assoone as he had sent the mul-

27 But straightway Jesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort. It is I: be not afraide.

k His zeale was great, but he had not sufficiently considered the measure of his faith.

28 Then Peter answered him, and saide, Master, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.

l His enterprise was too great, & therefore he must needs fall in danger, when his faith failed.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the shippe, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

32 And as soone as they were come into the shippe, the winde ceased.

33 Then they that were in the shippe, came and worshipped him, saying, O a truest thou art the Sonne of God.

3 Christ correcteth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes, and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandment by their owne traditions. 13 The plant that shalbe rooted out. 18 What things defile a man. 22 He deliuereth the woman of Cananans daughter. 26 The heede of the children. 30 He healeth the sicke. 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, besides women and children.

Exod. 21.17. leuit. 20.9. pron. 20.20.

3 But he answered and saide vnto them, Why do ye also transgresse the commandment of God by your tradition?

c The Scribes dispensed with them, & did not their duties to their owne parents, so they would recompence & came to their profit by their offerings,

4 For God hath commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and hee that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to father or mother, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayst haue profite,

6 Though he honour not his father, or his mother, [shalbe free:] thus haue ye made the commandment of God of no authoritie by your tradition.

7 O hypocrites, Elaias prophesied well of you, saying,

8 This people draweth neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honoureth mee with the lippes, but their heart is farre off from me.

9 But in vaine they worship me, teaching [for] doctrines, mens precepts.

10 Then he called the multitude vnto him, and saide to them, heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Perceivest thou not, that the Pharisees are offended in hearing [this] saying?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant which mine heavenly Father hath not planted, shalbe rooted bp.

14 Let them alone: they be blinde leaders of the blinde: & if the blinde lead the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Peter, & saide to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Jesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the bellie, & is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which procede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart come euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, slanders.

20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eate with vnbawshen handes, defileth not the man.

21 And Jesus went thence, & departed to the coasts of Tyrys and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cryed, saying vnto him, Haue mercie on me, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserably vexed with a deuil.

23 But he answered her not a word. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Sende her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

18 And Jesus rebuked the deuil, and he went out of him: and the childe was healed at that houre.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and saide, why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus saide vnto them, Because of your unbeliefe: for verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith [as much] as [is] a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place, and it shall remoue: and nothing shall be impossible vnto you.

21 Howbeit this kinde goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 And as they abode in Galile, Jesus saide vnto them, The Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

23 And they shall kill him, but 3 thred day shall he rise againe: and they were verie forie.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued polle money, came to Peter, and saide, Doeth not your Master pay tribute?

25 He saide, Yes. And when hee was come into the house, Jesus preuented him, saying, what thinkest thou Simon: of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute, or polle money: of their children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saide vnto him, Of strangers. Then said Jesus vnto him, Then are the children free.

27 Neuertheles, lest we shoulde offende them, goe to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fische that cometh by, and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, and give it vnto them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIIII

1 The greatest in the kingdom of heauen, 2 He teacheth his disciples to be humble and humble, 3 To auoyde occasions of euill, 4 That to contemne the little ones, 5 Why Christ came, 6 Of hyerly correction, 7 Of the au-thoritie of the Church, 8 The commendation of prayer and godly assemblies, 9 Of hyerly forgiveness.

10 He same time the disciples came vnto Jesus, saying, who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen:

2 And Jesus called a little childe vnto him, and set him in the middes of them, and let him helpe and reuerenced one another, they were ambitious and despisers of their brethren,

3 And sayde, Verely I say vnto you, except ye be conuerted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Whosoever therfore shall humble himselfe as this little childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heauen.

5 And whosoever shall receiue such a little childe in my name, receiue me.

6 But whosoever shall offend one of these little ones which beleue in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Who [be] vnto the worlde because of offences: for it must needs be that offences shall come, but who [be] to that man by whom the offence cometh.

8 Wherefore, if thine hande or thy foote cause thee to offend, cut them off, and cast [them] from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two handes, or two feete, to be cast into euerlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

10 See that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, in heauen their Angels alwayes behold the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 For the sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? If a man haue an hundred sheepe, & one of them be gone astray, doeth hee not leave ninetie and nine, and go into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely
I say vnto you, hee reioyeth moze of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 So is it not the will of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 Whosoever, if thy brother tref-passe against thee, go, and tell him his faute betwene thee and him alone: if hee heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if hee heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the mouth of two or thre witnesses every worde may be confirmed.

17 And if hee will not hearken to thee, offerre of particular finnes, and not of open or known to others, [or, re-

20 For where tbo of thre are gathe- red together in my name, there am I in the middes of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Master, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, & I shall forgive him: vnto seven times?

22 Iesus sayd vnto him, I say not to thee, vnto seven times, but vnto <sup>seuen</sup> times <sup>seuen</sup> times.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of hea- uen likened vnto a certaine King, which would take a count of his seruants.

24 And when hee had begun to recken, one was brought vnto him, which ought him ten thousand <sup>talents</sup>.

25 And because hee had nothing to pay, his master commanded him to be solde, and his wife, and [his] children, and all that he had, and [the dette] to be payed.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Master, appeare thine anger toward me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then that seruants master had compassion, and loosed him, and forgauē him the dette.

28 But when the seruant was depart- ed, he found one of his fellowes, which ought him an hundredth <sup>pence</sup>, and hee layde hands on him, & tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 Then his fellow fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Appea- re thine anger towards me, and I will pay thee all.

30 Yet hee would not, but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the dette.

31 And when his [other] fellowes saw what was done, they were very sorre, and came, and declared vnto their ma- ster all that was done.

32 Then his master called him, and saide to him, O euill seruant, I forgauē thee al <sup>this</sup> dette, because thou prayedst me. 33 Oughtest not thou also to haue had pittie on thy fellowe, euen as I had pittie on thee?

34 So his master was wroth, and de- liuered him to the iaylor, till he should pay all that was due to him.

35 So likewise shall mine heauenly Father doe vnto you, except ye forgive <sup>from your heartes</sup>, eche one to his bro- ther their trespasses.

3 Child betwixt for what cause a woman may be diuorced. 11 Continence is a gift of God. 14 Hee receiveth like chil- dren. 16 To obtaine life euertlasting. 24 That rich men can scarcely be saved. 28 Hee promised them which haue lett all to followe him, life euertlasting.

AND * it came to passe, tha- when Iesus had finished those sayings, hee departed from Galile, and came into the coastes of Iudea beyond Iordan.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 Then came vnto him the Phar- ises tempting him, and saying to him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for euery <sup>saute</sup>?

4 And he answered and sayde vnto them, haue ye not read, * that he which made [them] at the beginning, made them male and female.

5 And sayde, * For this cause, shall a man leaue father & mother, and cleaue vnto his wife, and they <sup>two</sup> shall be one || flesh:

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that, which God hath coupled together.

7 They sayde to him, why did then * Moses commande to giue a bill of di- uorcement, and to put her away?

8 He said vnto them, Moses, because of the <sup>hardnes</sup> of your heart, suffered you to put away your wives: but <sup>from</sup> the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore vnto you, that who- soeuer shall put away his wife, except [it be] for whoredome, and marry ano- ther, <sup>committeth</sup> adulterie: and who- soeuer marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulterie.

10 Then I sayde his disciples to him, If the matter be so betweene man and wife, it is not good to marrie.

11 But he sayde vnto them, All men cannot receiue this thing, saue they to whom it is giuen.

<sup>13</sup> ¶ Then were brought to him little children, that he should put [his] hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

<sup>22</sup> And when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

<sup>24</sup> And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

<sup>25</sup> And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, who then can be saved?

said to him, Beholde, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall wee haue?

<sup>28</sup> And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, ye which followed me in the regeneration, shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

<sup>29</sup> And whosoever shall forsake himselfe, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, he shall receiue an hundred fold more, and shall inherite euertlasting life.

e He setteth the crosse before their eyes to drawe them from ambition, calling it a cup, to signifie the aniection of the afflictions, which sonnes be called baptiste.

22 And Jesus answered and sayd, Ye know not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup, that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with? They sayd to him, we are able.

f Can my father hath not giue me charge to bestowe offices of honour here: but to be an example of humilitie vnto all.

23 And he sayd vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deede of my cup, and shall be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is not mine to giue: but it shall be giuen to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

4 All this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,

5 *Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy King cometh vnto thee, mecke and sitting vpon an asse, and a colt.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Jesus had commanded them, 7 And brought the asse and the colte, and put on them their clothes, and set him thereon.

8 And a great multitude spred their garments in the way: and other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna the sonne of David:
blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna [thou which art] in the highest Heavens.]

10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the cite was moued, saying, who is this?

11 And the people said, This is Jesus the Prophet of Nazaret in Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the Temple of God, & cast out all them that solde

and bought in the Temple, and ouer-threw the tables of the money changers,
and the seates of them that solde doves,

13 And sayde to them, It is written,
My house shall be called the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

14 Then the blinde, & the halt came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 But when the chiefe Priests and Scribes sawe the maruells that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Da-uid, they disdained,

16 And sayd vnto him, hearest thou what these say: And Jesus sayde vnto them, Yea: read ye neuer, By the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast made perfit the prayse?

17 And so he left them, and went out of the cite vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

18 And in the morning as he returned into the cite, he was hungrye.

19 And seeing a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and sayd to it, Neuer fruite growe on thee hence forthwardes.
And anon the fig tree withered.

20 And when his disciples sawe it, they maruelled, saying, Howe soone is the fig tree withered!

21 And Jesus answered and sayd vnto them, Merely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doute not, ye shall not onely doe that, [which I haue done] to the fig tree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleue, ye shall receiue it.

23 And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, and sayd, By what au-thoritie doest thou these thinges: and who gaue thee this authoritie.

24 Then Jesus answered and sayd vnto them, I also will aske you of a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these thinges.

25 The baptisme of John whence was it: from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, why did ye not then beleue him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we feare the people: for all holde John as a prophet.

27 Then they answered Jesus, and sayd, We can not tell. And he sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you by what au-thoritie I doe these thinges.

28 But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, & sayd, Sonne, go, and worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 But he answered, and sayd, I wil not: yet after ward he repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and sayd likewise. And he answered, & sayd,
I will: so he went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of the father: They said vnto him, The first. Jesus sayd vnto them, Merely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots shall go before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For John came vnto you in the way of righteousnes, and ye beleened him not: but the Publicanes, & the har-lots beleened him, & ye, though ye sawe it, were not moued with repentance afterward, that ye might beleue him.

33 I heare another parable, There was a certaine houtholder, which planted a vineyarde, and hedged it round about, and made a winepresse therein, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, & went into a strange

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they sayd among themselves, * This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slewe him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he doe to those husbandmen?

41 They sayd vnto him, he will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the fruites in their seasons.

2 The parable of the marriage. 9 The location of the Seruants. 11 The marriage garment. 17 Dying of tribute, 25 Of the resurrection. 36 The Seribes question. 44 Chyldes dominie.

Then Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine king which married his sonne,

3 And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bid to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Again hee sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner: nine oren and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, and another about his marchandise.

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intreated them chaepely, and slewe them.

7 But when the King heard it, hee was wroth, and sent forth his warriers, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt by their cite.

8 Then said he to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthe.

9 Soe ye therefore out into the hie wayes, & as many as ye finde, bid them to the marriage.

10 So those seruants went out into the hie wayes and gathered together all that euer they found, both good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

11 Then the King came in, to see the ghestes, and sawe there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he sayd vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speechlesse.

13 Then sayde the King to the seruants, Binde him hand and foote: take him away, and cast him into bitter darkness: * there shall be weeping & gnashing of teeth.

14 * For many are called, but fewe chosen.

15 * Then went the Pharises and tooke counsell howe they might tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, neither carest thou any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou: Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

29 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie wives, nor wives are betrothed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying,

37 Iesus sayd to him, * Thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandment.

39 And the second is like vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

44 * The Lorde sayd to my Lorde, Sit at my right hand: till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

Matthe 13. 1.
Luk 21. 5.

And Jesus went out, and departed from the Temple, and his disciples came to him, to shew him the building of the Temple.

2 And Jesus said vnto them, See ye not all these things: Verely I say vnto you, there shall not be here left a stone vpon a stone, that shall not be cast downe.

3 And as he late vpon the mount of Olives, his disciples came vnto him apart, saying, Tell vs when these things shall be, and what signe [shalbe] of thy comming, and of the ende of the world.

4 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, Take heede that no man deceiue you.

5 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

6 And ye shall heare of warres, and rumors of warres: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe, but the ende is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and realme against realme, and there shall be pestilence, and famine, and earthquakes in diuers places.

8 All these are but the beginning of sorowes.

9 Then shall they deliuer you vp to be afflicted, and shal kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false Prophets shall arise, and shall deceiue many.

12 And because iniquitie shall be increased, the loue of many shalbe colde.

13 But he that endureth to the ende, he shall be saued.

14 And this Gospell of the kingdome shalbe preached through the whole world for a witnesse vnto all nations, and then shall the ende come.

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing in the holy place, (let him that readeth consider it.) 16 Then let them which be in Iudea, flee into the mountaines.

17 Let him which is on the house top, not come downe to fetch any thing out of his house.

18. And he that is in the felde, let not him returne backe to fetch his clothes.

19 And wo [shalbe] to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this time, nor shall be.

22 And except those dayes should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the electes sake those dayes shall be shortened.

23 Then if any shal say vnto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there, beleue it not.

24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signes & wonders, so that if it were possible, they should deceiue the very elect.

25 Beholde, I haue tolde you before.

26 Wherefore if they shal say vnto you, Beholde, he is in the desert, go not forth: beholde, he is in the secret places, beleue it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and shineth into the West, so shall also the comming of the Sonne of man be.

28 For where soeuer a dead carcasse is, thither will the Eagles resort.

29 And immediately after the tribulations of those dayes, shall the sunne be darkened, and the moone shall not giue her light, and the starres shall fall from heauen, and the powers of heauen shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appeare the signe of the Sonne of man in heauen: and then shall all the kindreds of the earth mourne, and they shall see the Sonne of man come in the cloudes of heauen with power and great glorie.

31 And hee shall sende his Angels with a great sounde of a trumpet, and they shal gather together his elect, from the foure windes, and from the one end of the heauen vnto the other.

32 Howe learne the parable of the figge tree: when her bough is yet tender, & it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that sommer is neere.

33 So likewise ye, when ye see all these things, knowe that [the kingdome of God] is neere, [euen] at the doores.

34 Verely I say vnto you, this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

35 Heauen & earth shall passe away: but my wordes shall not passe away.

36 But of that day & houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heauen,

CHAP. XXV.

i By the similitude of the virgines Iesus teacheth euery man to watch, 14 And by the talentes to be diligent, 31 The last iudgement, 32 The sheepe and the goates, 35 The woikies of the faithfull.

a This similitude teacheth vs that it is not sufficient to haue once giuen our selues to solow Christ, but that we must continue, b To bo his honour, as the manner was,

When the kingdome of heauen shall be likened vnto ten virgines, which tooke their lampes, and went to meete the bridegrome.

2 And five of them were wise, and five foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome tarried long, all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a crie made, behold, the bridegrome cometh: go out to meete him.

7 Then all those virgines arose, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish sayde to the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are out.

c They seke that which they haue committed, but it is too late, d This was spoken in reproche, because they made not provision in time, 9 But the wise answered, saying, We feare lest there will not be enough for vs and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and bye for your selues.

10 And while they went to bye, the bridegrome came: and they that were readie, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwardes came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I know you not.

e I will not open to you because you haue failed in the midway, Chap. 24. 47, 44. mar. 13. 33a, 35.

13 * Watche therefore: for ye knowe neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

14 * For [the] kingdome of heauen is] as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his owne habilitie, and straightway went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and occupied with them, and gained other five talents.

17 Likewise also, he that [receiued] two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

f This similitude teacheth how we ought to continue in the knowledge of God, and do good with those graces that God hath giuen vs, g Euery talent commonly made three score pounde, 8. 24, Or, made,

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came hee that had receiued five talents, and brought other five talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto mee five talents: beholde, I haue gained with them other five talents.

21 Then his master saide vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter in into thy masters joy.

h The master receiued him into his house to giue him part of his goods and commodities,

22 Also hee that had receiued two talents, came and saide, Master, thou deliueredst deliveredst vnto mee two talents : be-holde, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master saide vnto him, It is well done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much : enter in into thy masters ioy.

24 Then hee which had receiued the one talent, came & said, Master, I know that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowdest not, and gather-est where thou sowdest not :

25 I was therefore afraide, and went and hid thy talent in the earth : beholde, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and saide vnto him, Thou cullst seruant, and lothfull, thou knowest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I sowed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I haue re-ceiued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For vnto euery man that hath, it shalbe giuen, and hee shall haue abundance, and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall be taken away.

30 Cast therfore that vnprofitable seruant into bitter * darkenes : there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ And when the Sonne of man cometh in his glorie, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepheard sepa-rateth the sheepe from the goates.

33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

34 Then shall the King say to them on his right hande, Come ye blessed of my Father : inherit ye the kingdome prepared for you from the foundations of the world.

35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate : I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke : I was a stranger, and ye lodged me :

36 [I was] naked, and ye clothed me :
[I was] like, and ye visited me : I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee : or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke :

38 And when sawe we thee a stranger, and lodged thee : or naked, and clothed thee :

39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee :

40 And the King shall answer and say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shall he say vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me ye cursed, into euermlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his Angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate : I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke :

43 I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not : [I was] naked, and ye clothed me not : like, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shal they also answer him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee :

45 Then shall he answer them, and say, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 * And these * shall go into eueralasting paine, and the righteous into life eternall.

8 And when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, what needed this waste?

9 For this ointment might haue bene solde for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, saide vnto them, why trouble ye the woman: for shee hath brought a good worke vpon mee.

11 For ye haue the poore allwayes

12 For in that shee powred this oym-

Priests,

15 And saide, what will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you: and they appointed vnto him thirtie pieces of silver.

16 And from that time, hee sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 Nowe on the first [day] of the feast of vbleauened bread the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, where wilt thou that wee prepare for thee to eate the Pascheouer?

18 And hee sayde, Goe into the citie to such a man, and say to him, The master sayth, My time is at hand: I wil keepe the Pascheouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen them charge, and made ready the Pascheouer.

20 So when the euen was come, he saie doleue with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he sayde, Ve-rely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered and said, He that sippeth his hand with me in the dish, he shall betray me.

24 Surely the sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, Master: he saide vnto him, Thou hast said it.

26 And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread: and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and said, Take, eate: this is my body.

27 Also he tooke the cuppe, and when he had giuen thanks, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it.

28 For this is my blood of the Newe testament, that is shed for many, for the remission of sinnes.

29 I say vnto you, that I will not drinke henceforth of this fruite of vine vntill that day, when I shall drinke it newe to you in my fathers kingdom.

30 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out into the mount of Oli-ues.

31 Then saide Iesus vnto them,
All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheepe of the flocke shall be scattered.

32 But after I am risen againe, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 But Peter answered, and saide vnto him, Though that all men shoulde be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be

34 Iesus saide vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise.

35 Peter saide vnto him, Though I shoulde die with thee, yet will I not de-disciples.

36 Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsema-

37 And hee tooke Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waie sorrowfull, and grievously troubled.

38 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, My

39 So he went a litle further, and fell

f And therefore we must continually fight against the flesh

41 Watch, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit in dedde is ready, but the flesh is <sup>weake</sup>.

42 Again he went away the seconde time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup can not passe away from mee, but that I must drinke it, thy will be done.

43 And hee came, and founde them a sleepe againe: for their eyes were heaume.

44 So hee left them and went away againe, and prayed the third time, saying the same wordes.

45 Then came he to his disciples, and said vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is giuen into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs go: beholde, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelue, came, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staves, from the high Priests and Elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, whomsoever I shall kisse, that is he, lay holde on him.

49 And forthwith hee came to Jesus, and laide, God saue thee, Master, and kised him.

50 Then Jesus laide vnto him, Friende, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laide handes on Jesus, and tooke him.

51 And beholde, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out [his] hand, and drewhis sworde, and strooke a seruant of the high Priest, and smote off his eare.

52 Then sayde Jesus vnto him, But by thy sword into his place: for all that y take the sworde, shall perish with the sworde.

53 Either thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and hee will giue me mo then twelue legions of Angels?

54 How then should the Scriptures be fulfilled, [which say,] that it must be so:

55 The same houre said Jesus to the multitude, Be ye come out as [it were] against a chiefe, with swordes & staves, to take me: I late dayly teaching in the Temple among you, & ye tooke me not.

56 But all this was done, that the * Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. * Then all the disciples forsooke him, and fled. Lamen. 4. 20. Verse 31.

57 C And they tooke Jesus, and led him to Caiaphas the high Priest, where the Scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 And Peter followed him a farre off vnto the high Priests hall, and went in, and sate with the seruants to see the ende.

59 Nowe the chiefe Priests and the Elders, & all the whole Council sought false wimes against Jesus, to put him to death.

60 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet founde they none: but at the last came two false witnesses,

61 And said, This man said, I can destroy the Temple of God, and builde it in thre dayes.

62 Then the chiefe Priest arose, and sayde to him, Answerest thou nothing: what is the matter that these men witness against thee?

63 But Jesus helde his peace. Then the chiefe Priest answered, and saide to him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs, if thou be the Christ the Sonne of God.

64 * Jesus said to him, Thou hast sayde it: neuertheless I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man, sitting at the right hand of the power of [God,] and come in the cloudes of the heauen.

65 Then the high Priest rent his clothes, saying, hee hath blasphemed: what haue we any more neede of witnesses: beholde, now ye haue heard his blasphemie.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, and said, he is worthy to dye.

67 * Then spate they in his face, and buffeted him: and other smote him with their roddes.

68 Saying, Prophecie to vs, O Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 C * Peter sate without in the hall: and a maide came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I wot not what thou sayest.

71 And when hee went out into the porch, an other maide saue him, and sayde vnto them that were there, This man was also with Jesus of Nazaret.

72 And againe hee denied with an othe,

CHAP. XXVII.

2 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangerg himselfe. 23 Christ is pronounced innocent by the iudge, and per is condemned, and crucified among thieves. 46 Hee prayeth vpon the crosse. 51 The waile is rent. 52 The dead bodies arise. 57 Ioseph buryeth Christ. 64 Watchmen keepe the graue.

When þe morning was come, all the chiefe priests, and the Elders of the people tooke counsell against Iesus, to put him to death,

2 And ledde him away bounde, and deliuered him vnto Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then when Iudas which betrayed him, saue that hee was condemned, he repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie [pieces] of siluer to the chiefe priests and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue sinned betraying the innocent blood. But they said, what is that to vs: see thou to it.

5 And when hee had cast downe the siluer [pieces] in the Temple, he departed, and went, and hanged himselfe.

6 And the chiefe priests tooke the siluer [pieces], and said, It is not lawfull for vs to put them into the [treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsell, & bought with them a potters field, for the buriall of strangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, The field of blood, vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled þe which was spoken by Ieremias the prophet, saying, ¶ And they tooke thirtie siluer [pieces], the price of him that was valued, whom [they] of the children of Israel valued.

10 And they gaue them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 ¶ And Iudas stood before the gouernour, and the gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes: Iudas sayde vnto him, Thou sayest it.

12 And when hee was accused of the chiefe priests and Elders, hee answered nothing.

13 Then sayde Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee:

14 But hee answered him not to one worde, inso much that the gouernour marueyled greatly.

15 Nowe at the feast, the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas,

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, whether will ye that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ:

18 (For hee knewe well, that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 Also when he was set downe vpon the iudgement seate, his wife sent to him, saying, I haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)

20 But the chiefe priests and the Elders had perswaded þe people, that they should also Barabbas, and shoulde destroy Iesus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, & sayd vnto them, whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you: And they sayd, Barabbas.

22 Pilate sayd vnto them, what shall I doe then with Iesus which is called Christ: They all sayde to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then said þe gouernour, But what euill hath he done: Then they cryed the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate saue that he auailed nothing, but þe more tumult was made, hee tooke water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust man: looke you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and sayde, his blood [be] on vs, and on our children.

26 Thus let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke Iesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole band.

28 And they stripped him, and put vpon him a skarlet robe,

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God saue thee king of the Iewes,

30 And spitted vpon him, and tooke a reede, and smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke the robe from him, and put his olbne raiment on him, and led him alway to crucifie him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his Crosse.

33 And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead mens' skulles)

34 They gaue him vineger to drinke, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, * They deu-ided my garments among them, and vpon my besture did cast lottes.

36 And they late, and watched him there.

37 And they set by also ouer his head his cause written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 And there were two thieues crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by, reviled him, wagging their heades,

40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buidest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.

41 Likewise also the hie Priestis mocking him, With the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharises, said, 42 He saued others, [but] he cannot saue himselfe: if he be the King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and he will beleue him.

43 He trusted in God, let him deli-uer him now, if he will haue him: for he saide, I am the Sonne of God.

44 That same also the 9 thieues which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 Nowe from the first houre was there darkenesse ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Eli, Eli, lama labachthan: that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, saide, This man calleth Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ranne, and tooke a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke.

49 Other saide, Let be: let vs see, if Elias will come and saue him.

50 Then Iesus cryed againe with a loude voyce, and yeelded by the ghost.

51 And behold, the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the toppe to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the stones were clouen,

52 And the graues did open themselves, and many bodies of the Saintes which slept, arose,

53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the holy Citie, and appeared vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, & they that were with him watthing Iesus, saue the earthquake, & the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.

55 And many women were there, beholding him a farre off, which had folloved Iesus from Galile, ministering vnto him.

56 Among whom was Marie Magdalene, and Marie mother of James and Ioses, and the mother of Zebedeus somes.

57 And when the euen was come, there came a riche man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also himselfe bene Iesus disciple.

58 Hee went to Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus. Then Pilate commaunded the body to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph tooke the bodie, and wrappd it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And put it in his newe tombe, which he had hewn out in a rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 Now the next day that folloved the Preparation of the Sabbath, the hie Priestes and Pharises assembled to Pilate,

6 The resurrection of Christ 10 The heretike of Christ. 12 The hie Priests hilde the souldiers. 17 Christ appeareth to his disciples, and sendeth them forth to preach, and to baptize, 20 Promising to them continual assistance.

NOWE * in the ende of the Sabbath, when first day of the weeke beganne to dawninge, Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie came to see the sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore,
and late vpon it.

3 And his countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snowe.

4 And for feare of him, the keepers were affonied, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and saide to the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

6 He is not here, for he is risen, as hee said: come, see the place where the Lord
was layd,

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that hee is risen from the dead: and be-holde, hee goeth before you into Galilee:
there ye shall see him: lo, I haue

tolde you.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy,
and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disci-

saying, God saue you. And they came,
and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Iesus vnto them, See not afraide. Go, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were gone, be-

14 And if the gouernour heare of this,

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noyed among the Iewes vnto

16 ¶ Then the eleuen disciples went into Galilee, into a moueraime, where Je-

6 The resurrection of Christ 10 The heretike of Christ. 12 The hie Priests hilde the souldiers. 17 Christ appeareth to his disciples, and sendeth them forth to preach, and to baptize, 20 Promising to them continual assistance.

NOWE * in the ende of the Sabbath, when first day
of the weeke beganne to
dawninge, Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie came to see the sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore,
and late vpon it.

3 And his countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snowe.

4 And for feare of him, the keepers
were affonied, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and saide
to the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

6 He is not here, for he is risen, as hee said: come, see the place where the Lord
was layd,

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that hee is risen from the dead: and be-holde, hee goeth before you into Galilee:
there ye shall see him: lo, I haue

tolde you.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy,
and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Iesus also mette them, saying, God saue you. And they came,
and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Iesus vnto them, See not afraide. Go, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall
they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the ci-tie, and shewed vnto the hie Priests all the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsell, and gave large money vnto the souldiers,

13 Saying, Say, his disciples came by night & stole him away while we slept.

14 And if the gouernour heare of this,
we will perillwade him, and saue you harmeles.

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noyed among the Iewes vnto
this day.

16 ¶ Then the eleuen disciples went into Galilee, into a moueraime, where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth,

19 So therfore, and teach all nations, baptizing the in the name of the Father, and the Sonne, and the holy Ghost,

20 Teaching the to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commanded you:
and lo, I am with you alway, vntill the of Iesus Christ the Sonne

of God:

2 As it is written in the Prophets, Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 The voice of him that crieth in the wildernes [is,] Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

4 John did baptize in the wildernes and preach the baptisme of amended He did both baptize and preach, but preached first, and after baptized, as ap-peareth by Mark. 1. 1: so that the other is here inuetered, which thing is common in the scriptures.

ment of life, for remission of finnes.

5 And all the countrey of Iudea, and they of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer Jordan confessing their finnes.

6 * Now John was clothed with camels heare, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: and he did eate || locustes and wilde house,

7 * And preached, saying, A stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoes latched I am not worthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 Trueth it is, I haue * baptized you with * water: but hee will baptize you with the holie Ghost.

9 C * And it came to passe in those daies, that Iesus came from Nazaret [a citie] of Galile, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10 And assoone as he was come out of the water, [John] saue the heauens cloude in twaine, and the holie Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

11 Then there was a voyce from heauen, [saying,] Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

12 * And immediately the || Spirit diueth him into the wilderness.

13 And hee was there in the wilderness fourtie dayes, and was <sup>b</sup> tempted of Satan: hee was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 C * Nowe after that John was committed to prison, [Iesus] came into Galile, preaching the Gospell of || kingdome of God,

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleue the Gospell.

16 C * And as he walked by the || sea of Galile, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you to be <sup>b</sup> fishers of men.

18 And straight way they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he saue James [the sonne] of Zebedeus, and John his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the shippe with his hyred seruants, and went their way after him.

21 C So * they entred into Capernaum, and straight way on the Sabbath day he entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonyed at his doctrine: * for hee taught them as one that had authoritie, and || not as the Scribes.

23 C And there was in their Synagogue a man which had an vncleane spirit, and he cried,

24 Saying, Ah, what haue we to doe with thee, O Iesus of Nazaret: Art thou come to destroy vs: I knowe thee what thou art, [even] || holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, <sup>m</sup> Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cryed with a loude voyce, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, what thing is this: what <sup>n</sup> newe doctrine is this: for he commandeth the foule spirites with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spred abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

29 C And assoone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 And Simons wifes mother lay sick of a feuer, and anon they tolde him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hande, and lift her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by, and shee ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, and the sunne was downe, they brought to him al that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And hee healed many that were sick of diuers diseases: and hee cast out many deuils, and <sup>o</sup> suffered not the deuils to say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early, <sup>p</sup> before day, [Iesus] arose and went out into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they sayd vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 Then he sayd vnto them, Let vs goe into the next towne, that I may preach

3 And there came vnto him, that brought one sicke of the palsey, borne of foure men.

4 And because they coule not come neere vnto him for the multitude, they brouer the rooffe of the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed, wherein the sicke of the palsey lay.

5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, he sayd to the sicke of the palsey, Sonne, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

b By these wordes Christ shewed that hee was sent of his Father with authoritie to take away our sinnes. Iob. 14. 4. iij. 43. 25.

6 And there were certayne of the Scribes, sitting there, and reasoning in their heartes,

7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies: * who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

8 And immediately when Iesus perceived in his spirite, that thus they thought with themselves, hee sayde vnto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsey, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

10 And that ye may knowle, that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgive sinnes, (he sayde vnto the sicke of the palsey)

11 I say vnto thee, Arise and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence into thine owne house.

12 And by and by he arose, and tooke vp his bed, and went forth before them all, in so much that they were amazed, and glorified God, saying, Wee neuer saw such a thing.

13 ¶ Then he went againe towarde the sea, and all the people resorted vnto him, and he taught them.

14 ¶ And as Iesus passed by, he saue Leui [the sonne] of Alphens sitte at the receyte of custome, and sayde vnto him, Followe me. And he arose and followed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees saw him eate with the Publicanes & sinners, they sayde vnto his disciples, Howe is it, that hee eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

20 But the daies wd come, when the bridegrome shall be taken from them, & then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 Also no man soweth a peece of new cloth

22 Like wise, no man putteth new wine into old vessels: for else the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost: but new wine must be put into new vessels.

23 ¶ And it came to passe as he went through the corne on the Sabbath day, that his disciples, as they went on their way, began to plucke the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharisees saide vnto him, Beholde, why do they on the Sabbath day, that which is not lawfull?

25 And he said to them, Haue ye neuer read what Dauid did, when he had need, and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with him:

26 How he went into the house of God, in the dayes of Abiathar the high priest, & did eate the shew bread, which were not lawfull to eate, but for the priests, and gaue also to them which were with him:

27 And he said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.

28 Wherefore the Sonne of man is Lord, euen of the Sabbath.

CHAP. III.

1 He healeth the man with the withered hand. 2 He chooseth his Apostles. 3 Christ is thought of the Iewes to be a Iew. 4 He casteth out the unclean spirit, which the Pharisees ascribe vnto the devil. 5 Blasphemie againt the holy Ghost. 35 The father, sister and mother of Christ.

AN D he entred againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might excuse him.

3 Then he saide vnto the man which had the withered hande, Arise: [stande forth] in the middes.

4 And he sayd to them, Is it lawfull to do a good deede on the Sabbath day, or to doe euill: to saue the life, or to kill: But they held their peace.

5 Then hee looked rounde about on them angrily, mourning also for the hardnesse of their hearts, and said to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored as whole as the other.

6 ¶ And the Pharisees departed, and the straight way gathered a counsell with the Herodians agaynst him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Iesus auoyded with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galile, and from Iudea,

8 And from Ierusalem, and from Idumea, and beyonde Iordan: and they that dwelled about Tyrys and Sidon, when they had heard what great things hee did, came vnto him in great number.

9 And hee commanded his disciples, that a shippe should waite for him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many, insomuch that they pressed vpon him, to touch him as many as had plagues.

11 And when the unclean spirits saw him, they fell downe before him, & cryed, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And he sharpely rebuked them, to the end they should not utter him.

13 ¶ Then he went vp into a mountaine, and called vnto him whome hee would, and they came vnto him.

14 And he appointed twelue that they should be with him, and that hee might send them to preach,

15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

16 And the first [was] Simon, and he named Simon, Peter.

17 Then James the sonne of Zebedeus, and John, James brother (and named them Boanerges, which is, the sonnes of thunder)

18 And Andrew, and Phillip, and Bartlemew, and Barthewe, and Thomas, & James, [the sonne] of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Cananite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him, and they came home.

20 And the multitude assembled a gaine, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his kinfolkes heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they thought hee had bene beside himselfe.

22 ¶ And the scribes which came from Ierusalem, saide, he hath Beelzebub, and through the prince of devils he casteth out devils.

2 By the parables of the seede, and the mustard coine, Christ sheweth the state of the kingdome of God. 11 A speciall gift of God to knowe the mysteries of his kingdome. 37 He stirreth the tempest of the sea which obeyed him.

March. 13. 1.
luke 8. 4.

¶ And hee beganne againe to teach by the sea side, & there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entred into a shippe, and sate in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the lande.

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken: Beholde, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, & some fell by the way side, and the fowles of the heauen came and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stonie grounde, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth,

6 But as soone as the sunne was by, it caught heate, and because it had not roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grew by and choked it, so that it gaue no fruite.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and did yeld fruite that sprang by, and grew, and it brought forth some thirtie folde, some fiftie folde, and some an hundred folde.

9 Then hee said vnto them, hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.

11 And he said vnto them, To you it is giuen to knowe the myserie of the kingdome of God: but vnto the & are with out, all things be done in parables,

12 That they seeing, may see, and not discern: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstande, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiven them.

13 Againe he said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable: how then should ye vnderstand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the worde.

15 And these are they that receiue the seede by the wayes side, in whome the worde is sown: but when they haue heard it, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the worde that was sown in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the seede in stonie grounde, are they, which when they haue heard the word, straight wayes receiue it with gladnes.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselves, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediately they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the worde:

19 But the cares of this worlde, & the deceitfulness of riches, and the lustes of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word & receiue it, and bring forth fruite, one, come, thirtie, another fiftie, & some an hundredth.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen, and from him that hath not, shall be taken away, yea, even that he hath.

26 And he said, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, & rise by night and day, and the seede should spring and grow vp, he not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that, full come in the eares.

29 And as soone as the fruite sheweth it selfe, anon hee putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 * He said moreover, Whereunto shall wee liken the Kingdome of God: or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 [It is] like a graine of mustard seed, which when it is sowne in the earth, is the lest of all seedes that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sowne, it groweth vp, and is greater of all herbes, and beareth great banches, so that the fowles of heauen may builde vnder the shadow of it.

34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them: but hee expounded all things to his disciples apart.

35 ¶ Now the same day when euen was come, hee sayde vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, & tooke him as he was in the shippe: and there were also with him other shipps.

37 And there arose a great storme of wind, & the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the sterne <sup>m</sup> a sleepe on a pillow: and they awoke him, and sayd to him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And hee rose vp, and rebuked the winde, and sayd vnto the sea, Peace, and be still. So the winde ceased, and it was a great calme.

40 Then hee saide vnto them, why are ye so fearefull: howe is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, what is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

20 So he departed, and began to publish in Cærapolis, what great thinges Iesus had done vnto him: and all men did maruella.

21 ¶ And when Iesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, a great multitude gathered to him, and he was nere vnto the sea.

30 And immediatly when Iesus dyd knowe in himselfe the vertue that went out of him, he turned him rounde about in the preale, and sayde, who hath touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples sayde vnto him,

Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for the kneiue what was done in her, and she came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole trueth.

35 While hee yet spake, there came from the [same] ruler of the Synagogues house [certaine] which sayde, Thy daughter is dead: why discatest thou the matter any further?

36 Asone as Iesus heard that word spoken, he said vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: onely beleue.

37 And hee suffered no man to followe him, save Peter and James, and John the brother of James.

38 So he came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saue the tumult, and them that wept and wayled greatly.

39 And he went in, and said vnto the, why make ye this trouble, and weepe: the childe is not dead, but sleepeeth.

40 And they laughd him to scorn: but he put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the childe, and them that were with him, and entered in where the childe lay.

41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and said vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Maiden, I say vnto thee, arise.

42 And straight way the maiden arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: and they were astonished out of measure.

3 Is not this the carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of James &amp; Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon: and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended in him.

4 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his olme countrye, &amp; among his olme kindred, and in his olme house.

5 And he coulde there doe no great workes, saue that he laide his hands vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them.

9 But that they should be shod with sandals, and that they should not put on two coats.

13 C* And they went out, &amp; preached, that men should amend their liues.

14 And they cast out many deuils: and they anoynted many that were sicke, with oyle and healed them.

15 C* Then King herode heard of him (for his name was spread abroad) and sayde, Iohn Baptist is risen againe from the dead, &amp; therefore great workes are wrought by him.

16 Other said, It is Elias: &amp; some said, It is a prophet, as one of the prophets.

17 So whē herode heard it, he said, It is Iohn whome I beheaded: hee is risen from the dead.

18 For herode himself had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, and bound him in prison for herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because hee had married her.

19 Therefore herodias had a quarell against him, and woulde haue killed him, but he coulde not:

20 For herode feared Iohn, knowing that he [was] a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when hee heard him, he did many thinges, and heard him gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when herode on his birth day made a banquet to his princes and captaines, and chiefe estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter of the same herodias came in and daunced, and pleased herode and them that late at table together, the King layd vnto the maid, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And he swore vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, [euen] vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 So she went forth, and laide to her mother, what shall I aske: And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then he came in straight way with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I woulde that thou shouldest giue me euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was verie forie: [yet] for his othes sake, &amp; for their sakes which late at table with him, he woulde not refuse her.

27 And immediately the King sent the hangman, and gaue charge that his head shoulde be brought. So he went and beheaded him in the prison.

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, and the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke by his bodie, and put it in a tombe.

30 C* And the Apostles gathered them selues together to Iesus, &amp; tolde him all thinges, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

32 So they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.

9 And he saide vnto them, well ye reiect the commandment of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

10 For Wholes said, * Honour thy father, and thy mother: and, * whosoever shall curse father or mother, let him die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gift that is offered by me, thou maiest haue profite, [he shall be free.]

14 Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, & said vnto them, hearken ye all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entrecth into him: but the things which procede out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into an house [away] from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said vnto them, what are ye without vnderstanding also: Doe ye not knowe that whatsoeuer thing from without entrecth into a man, cannot defile him,

19 Because it entrecth not into his heart, but into the bellie, and goeth out into the draught which is the purging of all meates:

20 Then he said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

21 * For from within, euen out of the heart of men, procede euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Theftes, couetousnes, wickednes, deceit, vnclannes, a wicked eye, backbiting, pride, foolishnes.

23 All these euill things come from within, and defile a man.

24 * And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyrys & Sidon, and entred into an house, & woulde that no man should haue knowen: but he could not be hid.

25 For a certaine woman, whose litle daughter had an vnclane spirit, heard of him, and came, and fell at his fecte.

26 [And the woman was a Greeke, a Syrophemissian by nation] and she sought him that he woulde cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

27 But Iesus said vnto her, Let the children first be fedde: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto whelpes.

28 Then she answered, and said vnto him, Truth, Lord: yet in deede the whelpes eate vnder the table of the childrens cronnes.

29 Then hee said vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come homie to her house, she found the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 And hee departed againe from the coastes of Tyrys and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galile, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

32 And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, & stabled in his speache, & prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

33 Then he tooke him aside from the multitude, & put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking vp to heauen, hee sighed, and said vnto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straight way his eares were opened, and the string of his tougue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

36 And hee commanded them, that they should tell no man: but how much soeuer he forbade them, the more a great deale they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, * He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deafe to heare, and the dumme to speake.

11 And the Pharises came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

12 Then hee<sup>d</sup> sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, why doeth this generation seeke a signe? Verely I say vnto you, if a signe shal not be giuen vnto this generation.

13 So he left them, & went into the ship againe, & departed to the other side.

14 And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them, but one loafe.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, & beware of the leaue of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herode.

16 And they thought among them selues, saying, [It is,] because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, he said vnto them, why reason you thus, because ye haue no bread? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstande: haue ye your hearts yet hardened?

22 And he came to Bethsaida, & they brought a blind man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

23 Then hee tooke the blinde by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spit in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, and asked him, if he sawe ought.

24 And he looked vp, and saide, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, & made him looke againe. And he was restored to his sight, & saue every man as farre off cleerly.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

28 And they answered, [Some say,] John Baptist: and some, Elias: & some, one of the prophets.

29 And he said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? The Peter answered and said vnto him, thou art the Christ.

30 And he sharply charged them that concerning him they should tel no man.

31 Then he began to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and should bee reproued of Elders, and of the chief Priests, and of the Scribes, and be slaine, and within three dayes rise againe.

32 And he spake that thing plainly. Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 Then he turned backe, and looked on his disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

2 * And sixe dayes after, Iesus tooke Peter, & James, and John, & brought them vp into an he mountaine out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment did shine, and was berie white, as snowe, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.

5 Then Peter answered, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 Yet he knewe not what he saide: for they were afraide.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them, & a voyce came out of the cloude, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne: heare him.

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and saide no moze any man saue Iesus onely with them.

9 * And as they came down from the mountaine, he charged them, that they should tell no man what they had seene, saue whē the Sonne of man were risen from the dead againe.

10 So they kept that matter to them selues, and demaunded one of another, what the rising from the dead againe should meane.

11 Also they asked him, saying, why say the Scribes, that * Elias must first come?

12 And hee answered, and saide vnto them, Elias verely shall first come and restore all things: and * as it is written of the Sonne of man, he must suffer many things, and be set at naught.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would) as it is written of him.

14 * And when he came to his disciples, he saide a great multitude about them, & the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straight way all the people, when they behelde him, were amazed, & ran to him, and saluted him.

16 Then he asked the Scribes, what dispute you among your selues:

17 And one of the rōpame answered, and said, Master, I haue brought my sone vnto thee, which hath a dōm spirit:

18 And wheresoeuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he someth, & gnatheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I shake to thy disciples that they shoulde cast him out, and they could not.

19 Then he answered him, and said, O faithles generation, how long now shall I be with you! how long now shall I suffer you! bring him vnto me.

20 So they brought him vnto him: and as soone as þ spirit saw him, he tare him, and he fell downe on the grounde, wallowing and foaming.

21 Then he asked his father, howe long time is it since he hath bene thus: And he said, Of a child.

22 And oft times he casteth him into the fire, & into the water to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, helpe vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

23 And Iesus said vnto him, If thou canst beleue it, al things are possible to him that beleueeth.

24 And straight way the father of þ child crying with teares, said, Lord, I beleue: helpe my vnbeleife.

25 When Iesus saide that the people came running together, he rebuked the vnleane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dōme & deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no moze into him.

26 Then the spirit cryed, & rent him sore, & came out, & he was as one dead, in so much that many said, he is dead.

27 But Iesus tooke his hande, and lift him vp, and he rofe.

28 And when hee was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, why could not we cast him out:

¶ And he arose from thence, & went into the coastes of Iudea by the farre side of Iordan, and the people resorted vnto him againe, and as hee was wont, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharisees came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And he answered, and said vnto the, what did Moses command you?

4 And they sayde, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowfull: for hee had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked rounde about, and said vnto his disciples, how hardly doe they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God!

24 And his disciples were astonied at his words. But Iesus answered again, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with them selues, who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpon the, and said, with men [it is] impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 C * Then Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I saye vnto you, there is no man that hath forsake house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospells,

30 But hee shall receiue an hundredfold more at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with * persecutions, and in the world to come, eternal life.

31 * But many [that are] first, shall be last, and the last first.

32 C * And they were in the way going vp to Ierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Iesus tooke the ribleue againe, and beganne to tell them what things shoulde come vnto him,

33 [Saying,] Behold, we go vp to Ierusalem, & the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the priests, & to the scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, & shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shal mocke him, & scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35 C * Then James and John the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, wee woulde that thou shouldest doe for vs that that we desire.

36 And he said vnto the, what wouldest thou I should doe for you?

37 And they said to him, Graunt vnto vs, that wee may sit one at thy ryght hande, and the other at thy left hande in thy glory.

38 But Iesus said vnto the, We knowe not what ye aske. Can ye * drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they saide vnto him, Wee can. But Iesus said vnto the, We shal drinke in deede of the cup that I shal drinke of, and be baptized with * baptisme wherewith I shalbe baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand, and at my left, is not * mine to giue, but [it shall be giuen] to the for whom it is prepared.

41 And whē the ten heard that, they began to murmure at James and John.

42 But Iesus called them vnto him, and said to them, * We knowe that they which desire to beare rule among the Gentiles, haue dominatio ouer them, & they that be great among them, exercise authoritie ouer them.

43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever wil be great among you, shalbe your seruant.

1 The vineyard is let out, 2 Obedience and tribute due to princes, 3 The resurrection of the dead, 28 The summe of the Lawe, 33 Christ the sonne of Dauid, 38 Hypocrites must be reiecte, 41 The offering of the poore wisdom.

¶ And he began to speake vnto them in parables. * A certaine man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the wine-press, and builded a towre in it, and let it out to husbandmen, & went into a strange country.

2 And at a time, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that hee might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant, & at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe he sent another, & him they slewe, and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his deare beloved: him also hee sent the last vnto the, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen laid among them selues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lord of the vineyard do: he will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Haue ye not read to much as this Scripture: * The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner.

11 This was done of the Lord, and it is maruelous in our eyes.

12 The they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceived that hee spake a parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees, & of the Herodians that they might take him in his talke.

14 And when they came they said vnto him, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly. Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shoulde we giue it, or shoulde we not giue it? But hee knewe their hypocrisy, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me: Bring me a penie, that I may see it.

16 So they brought it, and hee saide vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription: and they sayde vnto him, Cessars.

17 Then Jesus answered, & said vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that are Cessars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ Then came the Sadducees vnto him, which say, there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying,

5 And Iesus answered them, and began to say, * Take heede least any man deceyve you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am [Christ] and shall deceyve many.

7 Furthermore when yee shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, bee yee not troubled: for [such things] must needes be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall bee earthquakes in diuers quarters, & there shall bee famine & troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take ye heed to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Consuls, & to the Synagogues: ye shalbe beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimoniall vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 * But when they leade you, and de-liuer you vp, take yee no thought afoze, neither premeditate: what ye shall say:
but whatsoeuer is giuen you at the same time, that speake: for it is not yee that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise agaynst their parents, & shall cause them to die.

13 And ye shalbe hated of all men for my Names sake: but who soeuer shall endure vnto the end, he shalbe saued.

14 * Moreover, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) standing where it ought not, let him that readeth, consider it: then let them [that be] in Iudea, flee into the mountains,

15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the feldes, not turne backe againe vnto the things which hee left behinde him, to take his clothes.

17 Then wo shalbe to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For there shalbe in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shalbe.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh shoulde be saued: but for the electes sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 Then * if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or, loe, [he is] there, beleeue it not.

22 For false Christs shall rise, and false prophets, and shal shew signes and wonders, to deceyue if it were possible, the very elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I haue told you all things before.

24 * Moreover in those daies, after that tribulation, the Sunne shall waxe dark, & Moone shal not giue her light.

25 And the starres of heauen shall fall: and the powres which are in heauen, shall shake.

26 And then shal they see the Sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power and glorie.

27 * And he shall then sende his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, [and] from the vtmost parte of the earth to the vtmost part of heauen.

28 Now learne a parable of the figge tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, yee knowe that summer [is] nere.

29 So in like manner, when ye see these things come to passe, knowe that [the kingdome of God] is nere, [even] at the doores.

30 Clerly I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen & earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

32 But of that day & houre knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heauen, neither he: Sonne himselfe, saue the Father.

33 Take heede: watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 [For the Sonne of man is] as a man going into a strange countrey, & lea-ueth his house, & giveth authoritie to his servants, & to euery man his worke, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 Watch therefore, for yee knowe not when the Master of the house will come, at euē, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning.

36 Lest if he come suddenly, he shoulde finde you sleeping.

you, I say vnto all men, watch.

7 For ye haue the poore with you al-

10 * Then Judas Iscariot, one of d He tooke oc-

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought howe he might conveniently betray him.

Iuke 22. 7, 8.

12 * Nowe the first day of vbleaunened bread, when they sacrificed the Passeouer, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passouer?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said vnto them, Goe ye into the cittie, & there shall a man meete you bearing a picher of water: followe him.

14 And whithersoener hee goeth in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Passer sayeth, where is the lodging where I shall eate the Passouer with my disciples?

15 And he will shewe you an upper chamber [which is] large, trimmed and prepared: there make it readie for vs.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the citie, and founde as he had sayde vnto them, and made readie the Passouer.

17 And at euen he came with the twelue.

18 * And as they sate at table and did

20 And he answered and sayde vnto them, [It is] one of the twelue that eateth with me in the platter.

21 * Truly the Sonne of man goeth of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.

43 ¶ And immediately while hee yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staves from the hie Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

o It was the fashion then to greet with kissing: and also at their departure.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kisse, he it is: take him and leade him away safely.

p He expecteth it thus, as if he had bene moored with a certaine pittie in taking his last leave.

45 And alsoone as he was come, hee went straight way to him, & said, 'Master, Master, and kissed him.'

q To kiss, Peter.

46 Then they laide their handes on him, and tooke him.

r Called Galatibus.

47 And one of them f stood by, drew out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered & saide vnto them, We be come out as vnto a thiefe w swordes and with staves to take me.

49 I was daily with you teaching in the Temple, and ye took me not: but [this is done] that the scriptures should

50 Then they: al forsooke him, & fled.

51 And there followed him a certaine yong mā, clothed in linen vpon his bare bodie, and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ So they led Iesus away to f hie Priest, and to him came all the hie Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a farre off, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, and fate with the seruants, and warmed him selfe at the fire.

55 And the hie Priestes, and all the Council sought for: witnes against Iesus, to put him to death, but found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certaine, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, 'I will destroy this Temple made with handes, and within three dayes I will builde another, made without handes.'

59 But their witness yet agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stood by amongs them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing: what is the matter f these beare witness against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the hie Priest asked him, and sayde vnto him, Art thou Christ the Sonne of the Blessed?

62 And Iesus saide, I am he, and ye shall see the Sonne of man sit at the right hande of the powder of God, and come in the cloudes of heauen.

63 Then f hie Priest rent his clothes and said, what haue we any moze neede of witnesses?

64 ¶ He haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some beganne to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to beate him with fistes, and to say vnto him, Prophetic. And the sergeants smote him with [their] rodde.

CHAP. XV.

1 Iesus is leade to Pilate. 15 He is condemned, crucified and put to death. 45 And is buried by Ioseph.

ANd anon in dawning, the high Priestes helde a counsell with the Elders, and the Scribes, & the whole Councill, and bound Iesus, and ledde him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes: And he answered, and said vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the hie Priestes accused him of many things.

4 *Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing: behold howe many things they witnesse against thee.

5 But Iesus answered, no more at all, so that Pilate marvelled.

6 Nowe at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them, whomsoever they woulde desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his felowes, & had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cried aloude, and began to desire that he woulde doe as he had euer done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and saide, will ye that I let loose vnto you the King of the Iewes:

10 For he knewe that the hie Priestes had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the hie Priestes had moued the people to desire that he woulde rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and sayde againe vnto them, what will ye then that I doe [with him,] whome ye call the King of the Iewes:

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euill hath he done: And they cried the more frequently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hal, and called together the whole bande,

17 And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head.

18 And began to salute him, saying, Hail, King of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reede, and spate vpon him, and bowed the knees, & did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, and put his owne clothes on him, and ledde him out to crucifie him.

21 *And they compelled one to passe by, [called] Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, & was father of Alexander & Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 *And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulles.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrre: but he received it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lottes for them, what euery man should haue.

25 And it was the third houre, when they crucified him.

26 And of title of his cause was written above, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him thre other, the one on the right hande, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heades, and saying, He, thou that destroyest the Temple, and buiddest it in thre dayes,

30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the hie Priestes mocking, said among them selues with the Scribes, he saued other men, him selfe he can not saue.

CHAP. XVI.

h <sup>h</sup> Speaking the one of this that were crucified, i <sup>i</sup> Because this darkenes was only over the land of Canaan, when the rest of the world was light, the miracle was the greater.

k <sup>k</sup> Which was the third part of the day, and about three of the clocke after noone.

33 <sup>33</sup> And when the first houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 <sup>34</sup> And at the ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabachthani: which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 <sup>35</sup> And some of them that stode by, when they heard it, saide, Beholde, he calleth Elias.

36 <sup>36</sup> And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

37 <sup>37</sup> And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 <sup>38</sup> And the baile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the topp to the bottome.

39 <sup>39</sup> Now when the Centurion, which stode ouer against him, saide, he thus crying gaue vp the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Sonne of God.

40 <sup>40</sup> There were also women, which behelde afare off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses) and Salome, 41 <sup>41</sup> which also when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered vnto him, and many other women which came by with him vnto Ierusalem.

42 <sup>42</sup> And now when night was come (because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

43 <sup>43</sup> Ioseph of Arimathea, an honorable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus.

44 <sup>44</sup> And Pilate marvelled, if he were already dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether he had bene any while dead.

45 <sup>45</sup> And when he knewe the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the bodie to Ioseph,

46 <sup>46</sup> who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, & wrappd him in the linnen cloth, & laide him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre:

47 <sup>47</sup> And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses [mother] behelde where he shoulde be layde.

1 <sup>1</sup> The women came to the graue, 9 Chast being risen againe, appeared to Magdalene, 14 Also to the eleuen, and reprimed their unbelief, 16 He committed the preaching of the Gospell to the multitude of baptisme vnto them,

2 <sup>2</sup> When the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames, and Salome, bought sweete oymments, that they might come, and embaulme him.

3 <sup>3</sup> Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was yet rising,

4 <sup>4</sup> And they said one to another, who shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

5 <sup>5</sup> And when they looked, they saue that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

6 <sup>6</sup> So they went into the sepulchre, and saue a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were affraid.

7 <sup>7</sup> But he said vnto the, Be not afraid: ye seeke Iesus of Nazaret, which hath bene crucified: he is risen: he is not here: beholde the place, where they put him.

8 <sup>8</sup> But goe your way, and tell his disciples, and Peter, that he will go before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said vnto you.

9 <sup>9</sup> And they went out quickly, & fled from the sepulchre: for they trembled, and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any man: for they were affraid.

10 <sup>10</sup> And when Iesus was risen againe, in the morowe (which was the first day of the weeke) he appeared first to Marie Magdalene out of whome he had cast seven deuils.

11 <sup>11</sup> And she went and tolde them that had bene with him, which mourned and wept.

12 <sup>12</sup> And when they heard that he was aliuie, and had appeared to her, they beleued it not.

13 <sup>13</sup> After that, he appeared vnto two of them in another soone, as they walked, and went into the country.

14 <sup>14</sup> And they went and tolde it to the remnant, but they beleued them not.

15 <sup>15</sup> Finally, he appeared vnto the eleuen as they late together, and reprimed them of their unbeliefe and hardenesse of heart, because they beleued not them which had seene him, being risen by againe.

16 <sup>16</sup> And he saide vnto them, Goe ye into z Forwithstanding that Elisabet was married to one of the tribe of Leui, yet she was Marias cousin, which was of the stocke of Dauid. For the same why she forbare marriage out of their owne tribe, was onely that the tribes should not be mixt and confounded, which could not be in marrying with the kinred: for they had no portion assigned vnto them.

thou beleeuedst not my wordes, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21. Solve the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he taried so long in the Temple.

22. And when he came out, he coulde not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the Te-ple: for he made signes vnto them, and remained domine.

23. And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that he departed to his owne house.

24. And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceived, and hid her selfe five moneths, saying,

25. Thus hath the Lord delt with me, in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take fro me my rebuke among men.

26. And in the first moneth, the Angell Gabriel was sent from God vnto a cittie of Galile, named Nazaret,

27. To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, & y virgins name was Marie.

28. And the Angell went in vnto her, and saide, Hail thou that art freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, & thought what manner of salutation that shoulde be.

30. Then the Angell sayde vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast found favour with God.

31. For loe, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt cal his name IESVS.

32. He shalbe great, and shall be called the Sonne of the most high, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33. And he shal reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none end.

34. Then sayde Marie vnto the Angell, How shall this be, seeing I know not man?

35. And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most high shal ouershadow thee: therefore also y holy thing which shalbe borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God.

36. And beholde, thy cousin Elisabet, she hath also conceived a sonne in her olde age: and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37. For with God shall nothing be impossible.

38. Then Marie saide, Beholde, the seruaunt of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39. And Marie arose in those daies, and went into the hill countrey with haste to a citie of Iuda.

40. And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41. And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her bellie, and Elisabet was filled with the holy Ghost.

42. And she cryed with a loud voyce, and saide, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43. And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord shoulde

59 And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumsise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, & said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none of thy kindred, that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, howe he would haue him called.

63 So he asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is John, and they maruelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake and prayled God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt neere vnto them, and all these wordes were noyld abroad through out all the hill countrye of Iudea.

66 And all they that heard them, layd [them] vp in their hearts, saying, what manner child shall this be! and the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 Then his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

13 And straightway there was with the Angel a multitude of heavenly soldiers, praying God, and saying,

14 Glory be to God in the high heavens, and peace in earth, and towards men of good will.

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heaven, that the shepherds layd one to another, Let vs go then vnto Beth-lehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, & found both Marie and Ioseph, and the babe layed in the cratch.

19 But Marie kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praying God, for all that they had heard and seene, as it was spoken vnto them.

21 ¶ And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they should circumcise the childe, his name was then called IESVS, which was named of the Angel, before hee was conceived in the wombe.

25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was iust, & feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before hee had seene the Lordes Christ.

27 And he came by [the motion] of the Spirit into the Temple, and when the parents brought in the childe Jesus, to doe for him after the custome of the Lawe.

28 Then he tooke him in his armes, and prayed God, and sayd,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy worde:

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy salvation,

31 which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 A light to be reuelled to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph and his mother marvelled at those things, which were spoken touching him.

CHAP. IIL

3 The preaching, baptisme, and prisonment of John. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His age, and genealogie.

NOWE in the fiftenth yeeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herode being Tetrarch of Galile, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 When Annas & Caiaphas were the hie Priests the woorde of God came vnto John, the sonne of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 And he came into all the coastes about Iordan, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Elias the Prophet, which saith, The voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shalbe filled, & every mountaine, and hill shall be brought lowe, and crooked things shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluatioun of God.

7 Then sayd he to the people that were come out to be baptised of him, Generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore frutes worthy the amendement of life, and begin not to say with your selues, we haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the axe laid vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be hewen dolvne, and cast into the fire.

10 Then the people asked him, saying, what shall we doe then?

11 And he answered, and sayd vnto them, He that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none: and he that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to be baptised, and sayde vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And he sayd vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of John, if hee were not the Christ,

16 John answered, and sayd to them all, In deede I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, cometh, whose shooes latchet I am not worthy to vniiole: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

17 Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will make cleane his floore, and will gather the wheate into his garner, but the chaffe will he burne by with fire that neuer shall be quenched.

18 Thus then exhorting with many other things, he preached vnto people.

19 But when Herode the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philips wife, & for all the euils which Herode had done,

CHAP. II.

1 Iesus is led into the wilderness to be tempted. 13 He overcometh the deuil. 14 He goeth into Galilee. 16 Iherusalem at Nazaret, and Capernaum. 22 The Jewes despise him. 38 He cometh into Peters house, and healeth his mother in law. 41 The deuil acknowledge Christ. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

And Iesus full of the holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wilderness,

2 And was [there] fourtie dayes tempted of the deuil, and in those dayes he did eate nothing: but when they were ended, he afterward was hungry.

3 Then the deuil sayd vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, commaunde this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Iesus answered him, saying,
It is written, * That man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery worde of God.

5 Then the deuil tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the worlde, in the twinkeling of an eye.

6 And the deuil sayd vnto him, All this power will I giue thee, and the glorie of those [kingdomes]: for that is deliuered to me: and to whome so euer
I wil, I giue it,

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, they shall be all thine.

8 But Iesus answered him, and said, hence from me, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone thou shalt serue.

9 Then he brought him to Jerusalem, & set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and sayd vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe down from hence,

10 For it is written, * That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee:

11 And with [their] hands they shall lift thee vp, least at any time thou shouldest dash thy foote against a stone.

12 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, It is sayde, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 And Iesus returned by his power

27 Also many lepers were in Israel, in the time of Elishes the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 Then all [that were] in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cite was built, to cast him downe headlong.

30 But he passed through the mids of them, and went his way,

31 And came downe into Capernaum a cite of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 And they were affonied at his doctrine: for his worde was with authoritie.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an vncleane deuil, which cryed with a loude voyce, 34 Saying, Oh, what haue we to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret: art thou come to destroy vs: I knowe who thou art, [even] the holy one of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, holde thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuil throwing him in the middes [of them], came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselves, saying, What thing is this: for with authoritie and powber hee commaundeth the foule spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him spred abroad throughout all the places of the countrey round about.

44 And hee preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

En when it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the worde of God, that he stood by the lake of Gennesaret.

2 And saue two shippes stand by the lake side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

<sup>a</sup> To the intent that he might not be thought of the people, and also that he might be heard.

3 And he entred into one of the shippes, which was Simons, and required him that he would thrust off a litle from the land: and he satte downe, and taught the people out of the shippe.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he saide vnto Simon, Lanche out into the deepe, and let downe your nets to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and saide vnto him, Master, we haue trauailed all night, & haue taken nothing: neuer thelesse at thy word I will let downe the net.

6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them, who came then, and filled both the shippes, that they did sinke.

8 Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fel downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, go from me: for I am a sinfull man.

9 For he was betterly astomied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.

10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simon. Then Iesus saide vnto Simon, Feare not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought the shippes to land, they forooke all, and folloved him.

Matth. 8. 2.
marke 1. 40.

12 ¶ Nowe it came to passe, as hee was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie, and when he saue Iesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his hande, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commaunded him that he should tell it no man: but So, [saith he,] and he went thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as Moses hath commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

<sup>g</sup> Hereby he sheweth them that he would not transgresse the Lawe, and that they should be inexcusable, who seeing the miracle wrought, would not believe Christ.
Leuit. 14. 4.

15 But so much more went there a fame abroade of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But hee kept himselfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that the Pharisees and doctours of the Lawe satte by, which were come out of euery towne of Galile, and Iudea, and Ierusalem, and the power of the Lord was [in him] to heale them.

18 ¶ Then beholde, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palse, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

Matth. 9. 2.
marke 2. 3.

19 And when they coude not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the people, they went vpon the house, and let him downe through the tiling, bed & all, in the mids before Iesus.

20 And when he saue their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharisees began to thinke, saying, who is this that speaketh blasphemies: who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

22 But when Iesus perceiued their thoughtes, he answered, and saide vnto them, what thinke ye in your heartes?

23 whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

24 But that ye may knowe that the Sonne of man hath authoritie to forgive sinnes in earth (he said vnto the sick of the palse) I say to thee, arise: take vp thy bed, and go to thine house.

<sup>i</sup> Soasmuch as his divinitie was sufficient by this miracle, he gaue them thereby to understand that he had power to forgive sinnes.

25 And immediatly he rose vp before them, and tooke vp [his bed] whereon he lay, and departed to his owne house, praying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and praised God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse we haue seene strange things to day.

27 ¶ And after that, he went forth and saue a Publicane named Lem, sitting at the receite of custome, and saide vnto him, Follow me.

Matth. 9. 9.
marke 2. 14.
Or, Matthew.

28 And hee left all, rose vp, and folloved him.

29 Then Lem made him a great feast in his owne house, where there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that late at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharises among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, why eate ye and drinke ye with Publicanes and sinners?

31 Then Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the Physico, but they that are sicke.

32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 Then they said vnto him, why do the disciples of Iohn fast often, and pray, and the disciples of the Pharises also, but thine eate and drinke?

34 And hee saide vnto them, Can ye make the children of the wedding chamber to fast, as long as the bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come, euen when the bridegrome shall be taken away from them: then shall they faste in those dayes.

36 Again hee spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a newe garment into an olde besture: for then the newe renteth it, and the piece [taken] out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

37 Also no man putteth newe wine into olde vessels: for then the newe wine will breake the vessels, and it will runne out, and the vessels will perishe.

38 But newe wine must be put in newe vessels: so both are preserued.

39 Also no man that drinketh olde wine, straight way desireth newe: for he saith, the olde is better.

CHAP. VI.

3 Christ standeth in his disciples defence and his owne, as touching the breach of the Sabbath. 12 After watching and prayer he cleareth his Apostles. 18 He healeth & teacheth the people. 20 He sheweth who are blessed. 27 To loue our enemies. 37 Not to iudge rashly. 41 And to auoid hypocrisie.

40 As it came to passe on the second Sabbath after the first, that he went through the corne fieldes, and his disciples plucked the eares of corne, and did eate, and rubbe them in [their] hands.

41 And certaine of the Pharises saide vnto them, why do ye that which is not lawfull to do on the Sabbath dayes?

42 Then Jesus answered them, and said, Haue ye not read this, that Dauid did when he himselfe was an hungred, and they which were with him,

4 Holwe hee went into the house of God, and tooke, and ate the shew bread, and gaue also to them which were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the Priestes onely?

5 And he said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day. 6 It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that he entred into the Synagogue & taught, and there was a man, whose right hand was dyed vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughtes, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand vp in the middes. And he arose, and stode vp.

9 Then said Jesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill: to saue life, or to destroy it?

10 And hee behelde them all in compasse, and saide vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hande. And he did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of malice, and communed one with another, what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went into a mountain to pray, & spent the night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called his disciples, and of them he chose twelue, which also he called Apostles.

14 (Simon whom he named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philippe, and Bartolomeu:

15 Mattheu, and Thomas: James [the sonne] of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelous:

17 Then he came downe with them, and stode in a plaine place, with the companie of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea, and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were bered with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

e They that are humble and submit themselves willingly to obey God, Mat. 6. 13. March 5. 11.

21 * Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied: blessed [are] ye that weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 * Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile [you], and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of manns sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, & be glad: for beholde, your reward [is] great in heauen: for after this manner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 * But who [be] to you [are] rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 * Who [be] to you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Who [be] to you that now laugh: for ye shall waile and weepe.

26 Who [be] to you when all men speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 C * But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies: doe well to them which hate you.

28 Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 * And vnto him that smiteth thee on the [one] cheek, offer also the other: and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not [to take thee] coat also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy [goods], aske them not againe.

31 * And as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 * For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanke shall ye haue: for euery sinners loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye do good for them which doe good for you, what thanke shall ye haue: for euery sinners do the same.

34 * And if ye lend to [them] of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanke shall ye haue: for euery sinners lende to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue ye your enemies, and do good, and lende, looking for nothing againe, and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the most high: for he is kinde vnto the bin kinde, and to the euill.

36 Wee therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 C * Iudge not, and ye shall not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgieue, and ye shall be forgiven.

Mat. 7. 3. p He reprehendeth the hypocrite of such as wink at their owne horrible fautes, and yet are too curious to see out the least fault in their brother.

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou seeest not the beame that is in thine owne eye: hypocrite, cast out [the beame] out of thine owne eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly, to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

Mat. 7. 3. p He reprehendeth the hypocrite of such as wink at their owne horrible fautes, and yet are too curious to see out the least fault in their brother.

43 C * For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruit: neither an euill tree, that bringeth forth good fruite.

Mat. 7. 21. rom. 2. 13. james 1. 22.

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my wordes, and doth the same, I will helpe you to whom he is like.

r He speaketh not onely to the false prophets, but to all false pharisees, scribes and hypocrites.

48 Hee is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layde the foundation on a rocke: and when the waters arose, the flood beat vpon that house, and could not shake it: for it was grounden vpon a rocke.

49 But he that heareth and doth not, is like a man that built an house vpon the earth without foundation, against which the flood did beat, & it fell by and by: and the fall of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

2 He healeth the captaines seruant, 11 He rayseth by the wordes some from death to life, 19 He answereth the disciples whome John Baptist sent vnto him, 24 He commendeth Iohn, 31 And reproveth the Iewes for their vnfaithfullnes, 36 He eateth with the Pharisee, 37 The woman which his seruice with her teares, and he forgiveth her sinnes, when

Mat. 8. 5.

Vhen he had ended all his sayings in the audience of people, hee entered into Capernaum.

a It might be, that this captain dwelt with his garrison in Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions servant was sicke and ready to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when hee heard of Iesus, hee sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that hee was wortheie he should do this for him.

b In building this Temple for their assemblies, he shewed his zeale towards the true seruice of God.

5 For he loueth, sayd they, our nation, and he hath built vs a Synagogue.

c The seruants speake to Iesus in the captaines name.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when hee was nowe not farre from the house, Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not wortheie that thou shouldst enter vnder my roofo.

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe wortheie to come vnto thee: but say the worde, and my seruant shalbe whole.

d D. command by a voyce only that it to be,

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authoritie, & haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another Come, and he cometh: and to my seruant; Doe this, and hee doeth it.

e He comendeth this heauenly captain because he assuredly himselfe vpon Christes voyde alone, 9 When Iesus heard these things, hee marvelled at him, and turned him, and sayd to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

f Which was a towne of Galilee in the tribe of Zabulon, not farre from Tiberias,

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they founde the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that hee went into a citie called Nain, and many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Nowe when he came neere to the gate of the citie, beholde, there was a dead man caried out, [who was] the only begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widowe, and much people of the citie was with her.

10r, here.

13 And when the Lorde saue her, hee had compassion on her, and sayde vnto her, weep not.

g Christ calleth those things that are not, as if they were, and giueth life to them that be dead,

14 And he went and touched the coffin, and they that bare him, stode still, and hee sayde, vngodly man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat vp, and began to speake, and hee deliuered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, & they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raysed vp among vs, & God hath visited his people.

h That is, in establish, and reioyce them,

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou hee that shouldest come, or shall wee waite for another?

To wit, the messias, and redeemer,

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they saide, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou hee that shouldest come, or shall wee waite for another?

21 And at that time hee cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, & of euill spirits, and vnto many blinde men hee gaue sight.

k Hee declareth by the vertues, and power that were in him, that he was the Christ.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Go your wayes & shew Iohn what things ye haue seene and heard: that the blinde see, the halt goe, the Lepers are cleansed, & deafe heare, the dead rise againe, [and] the poore receiue the Gospell.

l Such as feede their owne miserie, and woe, as doo.

23 And blessed is hee, that shall not be offended in me.

m Or, the Gospel is preached to the poore.

24 And when messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people, of Iohn, what went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

n That shall persecute and not thinke backe for any thing that can come vnto them.

25 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? beholde, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courttes.

o Reade Mat. 11. 7.

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say to you, and greater then a Prophet.

p Or, Angel.

27 This is he of whom it is written, Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

q They prepared him as with, faithful, good mercifull, for the fruit of their bapisme appeared in them.

28 For I say vnto you, there is no greater Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuertheless, hee that is the least in the kingdom of God, is greater then he.

r This word comprehendeth the whole doctrine that Iohn taught, & meaning, to their owne condemnation, as is some reade, with them selves, because they durst not open.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes, & iustified God, being baptised with the bapisme of Iohn.

s I speake against Iohns doctrine: for they feared the people.

30 But the Pharisees and the expounders of the Lawe despised the counsell of God against themselves, and [were] not not baptized of him.

31 * And the Lorde layde, whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation: and what [thing] are they like vnto:

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, & ye haue not daunced: We haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For John Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, he hath the deuill.

34 The Sonne of man is come, and eateth and drinketh: and ye say, We holde, a man [which is] a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicans and sinners.

35 But wifedome is iustified of all her children.

36 * And one of the Pharises desired him that he would eate with him: and he went into the Pharises house, and late dovvne at table.

37 And beholde, a woman in the citie, which was a sinner, whe she knew that Iesus late at table in the Pharises house, she brought a borie of oymnt.

38 * And she stoode at his feete behind him weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, & did wipe them with the heares of her head, and kissed his feete, and anointed them with the oymnt.

39 Nowe when the Pharise which bade him, sawe it, he spake with him selfe, saying, If this man were a prophet, hee woulde surely haue knowne who, & what maner of woman this is which toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Simo, I haue some what to say vnto thee. And he saide, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two debtors: the one ought fure hundredth pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgave them both. which of the two, supposest thou, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and sayde, I suppose that he, to whome hee forgave most. And he said vnto him, Thou hast truly iudged.

44 Then hee turned to the woman, and saide vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feete: but shee hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the heares of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but shee since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feete.

46 Mine head with oyle thou didest not anoynt: but shee hath anoynted my feete with oymnt.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgiven her: for shee loued much. To whom a litle is forgiven, hee doth loue a litle.

48 And he said vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

49 And they that sate at table with him, began to say withim themselves, who is this that euen forgiveth sinnes?

50 And he layde to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: go in peace.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ with his Apostles goe from towne to towne, & preach. 2 The women minister vnto them of their goodes. 3 Hee sheweth the parable of the seer, 21 teller who is his mother and his brother. 24 Hee telleth the raging of the lake. 27 Hee delivereth the possessed. 33 The deuils enter into the heards of swine. 41 Hee healeth the sick woman, and Jairus daughter.

AND it came to passe afterward, that he himseife went through every citie & towne, preaching, & publishing the kingdome of God, and the rvelue [were] with him.

2 And certaine women, which were healed of euill spirites, and infirmities, [as] Marie which was called Magdalene, out of whom went seven deuils,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chyza herodes steward, and Sulanna, and many other which ministered vnto him of their substance.

4 * Nowe when much people were gathered together, & were come to him out of all citie, he spake by a parable.

5 A sower went out to sowe his seeede, and as hee sowde, some fell by the way side, and it was troden vnder feete, and the foules of heauen deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on the stoncs, & when it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnes.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good grounde, and sprang vp, and bare fruite, an hundredfold. And as he sayd these things, he cryed, he that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 Then his disciples asked him, demanding what parable that was:

10 And he said, Vnto you it is given to know the secrets of the kingdome of God, but but to other in parables, that when they see, they should not see, and when they heare, they should not vnderstand.

11 ¶ The parable is this, The seede is the worde of God.

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that heare: after ward cometh the deuill, and taketh away the worde out of their hearts, lest they should beleeue, and be saued.

13 But they that are on stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the worde with ioy: but they haue no rootes, which for a while beleeue, but in the time of tentation go away.

14 And which fell among thornes, are they which haue heard, and after their departure are choked with cares and with riches, & voluptuous liuing, and bring forth no fruite.

15 But which fell in good ground, are they which with an honest and good heart heare the worde, and keepe it, and bring forth fruite with patience.

16 ¶ No man when he lighteth a candle, couereth it vnder a vessel, neither putteth it vnder the table, but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that enter in, may see the light.

17 ¶ For nothing is secrete, that shall not be euident: neither any thing hid, that shall not be knowen, and come to light.

18 Take heede therefore howe ye heare: for whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen: and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken euē that, which he seemeth that he hath.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and couide not come neere to him for the prease.

20 And it was tolde him [by certaine] which sayd, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, & woulde see thee.

21 But he answered, & said vnto them, My mother, & my brethren are these which heare the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto y other side of the lake.

And they launCHED forth.

23 And as they sayled, he fell a sleepe, and there came downe a storme of wind on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in pericardie.

24 Then they went to him, & awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perishe. And hee aroose, and rebuked the winde, and the waues of water: & they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he sayd vnto them, where is your faith: and they feared, and wondered among themselves, saying, who is this that commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ So they sayled vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And as he went out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the cite, which had a deuill long time, & he ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he sawe Iesus, he cried out, and fell downe before him, and with a loude voyce saide, what haue I to doe with thee, Iesus the Sonne of God, the most high: I beseeche thee, to torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for oft times he had caught him: therefore hee was bound with chaynes, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bandes, and was caried of the deuill into wildernesses.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, what is thy name? And he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, & he woulde not comend them to go out into y deepe.

32 And there was thereby an heard of many swine, feeding on an hill, and the deuils besought him, that hee woulde suffer them to enter into them. So hee suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of y man, and entred into the swine: and the heard was caried with violence from a sleepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the hardemen sawe what was done, they fled: & when they were departed, they tolde it in the cite and in the country.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, & founde the man out of whom the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afrayde.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country about y Gadarenes, besought him, that he woulde depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man, out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shew what great things God hath done to thee. So he went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what great things Jesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe when Jesus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fell downe at Jesus feete, and besought him that hee would come into his house.

42 For he had but a daughter onely, about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay a dying (as he went, the people thronged him).

43 And a woman hauing an issue of blood, twelue yeeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physicians, and could not be healed of any:

44 When she came behind [him], she touched the hemme of his garment, & immediately her issue of blood stancheth.

45 Then Jesus sayde, who is it that hath touched me: when euery man denied, Peter said and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and treade on thee, and sayest thou, who hath touched me?

46 And Jesus saide, Some one hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saide that shee was not hid, shee came trembling, and fell downe before him, and tolde him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and howe she was healed immediately.

48 And he saide vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the Synagogue house, which sayde to him, Thy daughter is dead: discease not the master.

50 When Jesus heard it he answered him, saying, Feare not: beleeue onely, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he went into the house, he suffered no man to goe in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the maide.

52 And all wept, and sorrowed for her:

but he sayde, weep not: for shee is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laugh him to scozne, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he thrust them all out, & tooke her by the hand, & cried, saying, Daide, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and she rose straightway: and he commanded to giue her meate.

56 Then her parents were astonished: but hee commaunded them that they should tell no man what was done.

C H A P. IX.

2 Hee sendeth out the twelue Apostles to preach. 7 Herode beareth tell of him. 12 Hee feedeth foue thousand men with foue loaves, and two fishes. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 28 Hee transfigureth himselfe vpon the mount. 42 Hee denieth the possesors. 47 And teacheth his disciples to be lowly. 54 They desire vengeance, but hee reproueth them.

Then called he the twelue disciples together, and gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 And hee sent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to cure the sick.

3 And he said to them, Take nothing to your iourney, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, nor siluer, neither haue two coats.

4 And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye go out of that citie, shake off the berie: but from your feete for a testimonie against them.

6 And they went out, & went through euery towne preaching the Gospell, and healing euery where.

7 ¶ Nowe Herode the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he doubted, because that it was saide of some, that John was risen againe from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the old prophets was risen againe.

9 Then Herod said, John haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare such things: and hee desired to see him.

10 ¶ And when the Apostles returned, they tolde him what great things they had done. Then hee tooke them, and went aside into a solitarie place, [neere] to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knew it, they followed him: & hee receiued them, & spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed.

45 But they were vnderstoode not that worde: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that worde.

47 When Iesus sawe the thoughts of their hearts, he tooke a litle child, and set him by him,

48 And sayd vnto them, whosoever receiueth this litle child in my Name, receiueth me: and whosoever shall receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, he shall be great.

49 ¶ And John answered & sayd, Master, we haue one casting out devils in thy Name, and we forgoe him, because he followeth thee not with vs.

AND so it was, that as hee was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples sayd vnto him, Master, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 * And he sayd vnto them, when ye pray, say, Our Father, which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name: Thy kingdom come: Let thy Will be done euen in earth, as it is in heauen:

4 And forgive vs our sinnes: for euen we forgive euery man that is indebted to vs: And leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euill.

5 ¶ Whereouer hee sayd vnto them, which of you shall haue a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lende me three loanes:

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

7 And he withim should answere, and say, Trouble me not: the doore is now shut, & my children are with me in bed: I can not rise and giue them to thee.

8 I say vnto you, though he would not arise and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtles because of his importunitie, he would rise, and giue him as many as he needed.

9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, & ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

10 For euery one that asketh, receiuet: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

of you that is a father, wil he giue him a stone: or if [he aske] a fish, will he for a fish giue him a serpent?

13 If ye then which are euill, can giue good giftes vnto your children, howe much more shall your heavenly Father giue the holy Ghost to them, that desire him:

17 But he knew their thoughts, and sayd vnto them, * Euery kingdom deuided agai[nst] it selfe, shall be desolate, and an house deuided agai[nst] an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be deuided agai[nst] himselfe, how shall his kingdom stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub:

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out: Therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I by the finger of God cast out deuils, doubtles the kingdom of God is come vnto you.

18 And he saide, This will I do, I will pull downe my barnes, and builde greater, and therein will I gather all my fruites, and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods layde vp for many yeeres: lue at ease, eate, drinke, and take thy pastime.

20 But God saide vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himselfe, and is not rich in God.

22 And hee spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eate: neither for your body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: and the bodie [more] then the raiment.

24 Consider the rauen: for they neither sow nor reape: which neither haue storehouse nor barn, and yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better then fowles?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

39 Now vnderstand this, if the good man of the house had knowne at what houre the thiefe would haue come, he would haue watched, & would not haue suffered his house to be digged through.

40 Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man wil come at an houre when ye thinke not.

41 Then Peter saide vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen to all?

47 And that seruant that kneebe his masters will, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that kneebe it not, and yet did commit things worthe of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes: for vnto whom soeuer much is giuen, of him shall be much required, and to whome men much commit, the more of him will they aske.

49 I am come to put fire on the earth, and what is my desire, if it be already kindled:

50 Notwithstanding I must be baptized with a baptism, and howe am I grieved, till it be ended?

51 Thinke ye that I am come to giue peace on earth? I tell you, nay, but rather debate.

52 For from henceforth there shall be sune in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against her daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe, against her mother in lawe.

54 Then saide hee to the people, when ye see a cloude rise out of the west, straightway ye say, A thowre cometh: and so it is.

55 And when ye see the South winde blowe, ye say, that it will be hoate: and it cometh to passe.

56 Hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the earth, and of the heaue: but why discern ye not this time?

57 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is right?

58 While thou goest with thine aduersarie to the ruler, as thou art in the way, giue diligence in the way, that thou mayest be delivered from him, least he bring thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliver thee to the payler, and the payler cast thee into prison.

Here were certaine men presented at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were greater sinners then all other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

6 He spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard: and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then saide he to the dresser of his vineyarde, Beholde, this three yeeres haue I come and sought fruite of this figge tree, and finde none: cut it doolne: why keepeth it also the ground barren:

8 And hee answered, and saide vnto him, Lorde, let it alone this yere also, till I digge rounde about it, and dung it.

9 And if it beare fruite, Well: if not, then after thou shalt cut it doolne.

10 And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And beholde, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitee eightene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp [her selfe] in any wise.

12 When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy diseale.

13 And he layde his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight againe, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath [day,] and said vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doeth not eche one of you on the Sabbath day loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whome Satan had bounde, lo, eightene yeeres, be loosed from this bounde on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

18 Then saide hee, what is the kingdom of God like: or whereto shal I compare it:

19 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke & sowed in his garden, and it grewe, and waxed a great tree, and the fowles of the heauen made nestes in the banches thereof.

20 And againe he said, wherewith shal I liken the kingdom of God:

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in three peckes of flour, till all was leavened.

22 And he went through all cities and towines, teaching, and iourneying towards Ierusalem.

23 Then saide one vnto him, Lorde, are there seibe that shall be saued: And he said vnto them,

24 Strive to enter in at the straite gate: for many, I say vnto you, wil seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and ye begin to stand without, and to knocke at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he shall answer and say vnto you, I know you not whence ye are,

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We haue eaten and drunke in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 But hee shall say, I tell you, I knowe you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquitee.

28 There shall be weeping & gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdom of God, and your selues thrust out at doores.

29 Then shall come many from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at table in the kingdom of God.

30 And behold, there are last, which shall be first, and there are first, which shall be last.

31 The same day there came certaine Pharisees, and saide vnto him, Depart, and go hence: for herode will kill thee.

32 Then said he vnto them, Go ye and tell that fore, Behold, I cast out devils, and wil heale still to day, & to morowe, and the thirde day: I shal be perfected.

33 Neuertheles I must walke to day, and to morowe, and the day following, for it can not be, that a prophet should perish out of Ierusalem.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Jesus eateth with the Pharise, 4 Healeth the boye upon the Sabbath, 8 Teacheth to be lowly and to bid the poore to our table, 17 He telleth of the great supper, 28 He warneth them that will follow him, to lay their accounts before, what it will cost them, 34 The salt of the earth.

¶ Take his refection.

AND it came to passe that whe hee was entred into þ house of one of the chiefe Pharises on þ Sabbath day, to eate bread, they watched him.

2 And beholde, there was a certaine man before him, which had the dropie.

3 Then Jesus answering, spake vnto the reprobbers of þ Lawe, and Pharises, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. Then he tooke him, and healed him, & let him go.

5 And answered them, saying, which of you [shall haue] an asse, or an ore fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they could not answer him againe to those things.

7 ¶ Hee spake also a parable to the ghestes, when hee marked howe they chose out the chiefe roomes, and said vnto them,

8 * When thou shalt be bidden of any mā to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefe place, least a more honourable man then thou, be bidden of him,

9 And hee that bade both him & thee, come, and saye to thee, Sitte this man roome, & thou then beginne with shame to take the lowest roome.

Prou. 25.5.

10 * But when thou art bidden, go and sit downe in the lowest roome, that whe hee that bade thee, cometh, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sit vp hier: then shalt thou haue worship in þ presence of them that sit at table with thee.

Chap. 18.14, mat. 23.12.

11 * For whosoever exalteth himselfe, shall be brought lowe, and hee that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

b Shall receyue beneath onely the blinde affection of man, which regardeth nothing but a worldly recompence, Prou. 3.9, 27. 28. tob. 4.7.

12 ¶ Then hee also to him that had bidden him, * when thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor the riche neighbours, least they also bid thee againe, and a recompence bee made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, [and] the blinde,

14 And thou shalt be blessed, because they can not recompence thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the iust.

15 ¶ Nowe when one of them that sate at table, heard these things, he saide vnto him, Blessed [is] hee that eateth bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then saide he to him, * A certaine man made a great supper, & bade many, 17 And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 But they all with one minde began to make excuse: The first sayd vnto him, I haue bought a farme, & I must needes go out & see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another saide, I haue boughte five yoke of oxen, & I go to plow them: I pray thee, haue me excused.

20 And another saide, I haue married a wife, and therefore I can not come.

21 So that seruant returned, & shew- ed his master these things. Then was the good man of the house angry, and said to his seruant, Go out quickly into the places and streetes of the cite, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant saide, Lorde, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 Then the master sayde to the seru- ant, Go out into the hie wayes, and hedges, and compell them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went great multitudes with him, and he turned and saide vnto them,

26 * If any man come to me, & hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters: yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my discipule.

27 * And whosoever beareth not his crosse, and cometh after me, cannot be my discipule.

28 For which of you minding to build a towre, sitteth not downe before, and counteth the cost, whether he haue sufficient to performe it,

CHAP. XV.

2 The Pharisee murmure because Christ receiue sinners. 4 The louing mercie of God is openly set forth in the parable of the hundred sheepe. 7 Joy in heauen for one sinner. 12 Of the prodigall sonne.

When resorted vnto him all the publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

2 Therefore the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, He receiue sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake he this parable to the, saying,

4 What man of you hauing an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wilderness, and goe after that which is lost, vntill he finde it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he cometh home, hee calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue found my sheepe, which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine iust men, which neede none amendment of life.

8 Either what woman hauing ten pieces of siluer, if she lose one piece, doeth not light a candle, & sweep her house, and seeke diligently till she finde it?

9 And when she hath founde it, shee calleth her friends, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ He sayde moreouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

12 And the yonger of them sayd to his father, Father, giue me the portion of the goods that falleth to me. So hee deuinded vnto them [his] substance.

13 So not long after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all together, hee tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there he wasted his goods with riotous living.

14 Now when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then he went and claue to a citizen of that countrey, and hee sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And he would faine haue filled his belly with husks, that the swine ate: but no man gaue [them] him.

17 Then he came to himselfe, & saide, How many hired seruants at my fathers haue bread ynough, and I die for hunger!

18 I will rise and go to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.

20 So he arose and came to his father, and when he was yet a great way off, his father saide him, and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 Then the father sayde to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, & put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete,

23 And bring the fat calfe, & kill him, and let vs eate, and be merry.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but hee is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now the elder brother was in the field, and when he came & drew neere to the house, hee heard melodie, and dauncing,

26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And he saide vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angrie, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out and intreated him.

29 But he answered and said to his father, Loe, these many yeeres haue I done

30 But when this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goodes with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fat calf.

31 And he said vnto him, <sup>b</sup> Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue, is thine. It was meete <sup>c</sup> we should make merye, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliae againe: and hee was lost, but he is found.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Christ exhorteth vs to wisdom and liberallitie by the example of the steward. 13 None can serue two masters. 14 He reproveth the couetousnes and hypocricie of the Pharises. 16 Of the ende and force of the Lawe. 18 Of the holy state of marriage. 19 Of the rich man, and Lazarus.

A <sup>a</sup> D hee saide also vnto his disciples, <sup>a</sup> There was a certaine rich man, which had a steward, and he was accused vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

2 And hee called him, and sayde vnto him, howe [is it] that I heare this of thee: Give an accounts of thy stewardship: for thou maist be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himselfe, what shall I doe: for my master will take away from me my stewardship: I can not digge, [and] to begge I am ashamed.

4 I know what I will do, that when I am put out of the stewardship they may receiue me into their houses.

5 Then called he euery one of his masters debtors, and said vnto <sup>b</sup> the first, howe much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oyle. And he said to him, Take thy writing, & sit downe quickly, & write fiftie.

7 Then saide hee to another, howe much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheate. Then he said to him, Take thy writing, and write fourescore.

8 And <sup>c</sup> the Lord commended <sup>b</sup> the vnjust steward, because he had done wisely. Wherefore the children of this world are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends <sup>d</sup> with riches of iniquitie, that when ye shall want, they may receiue you into euerlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithfull in the least, he is also faithfull in much: and he that is vn-just in the least, is vnjust also in much.

11 If then ye haue not bene faithfull in <sup>e</sup> wicked riches, who will trust you in the true [treasures?]

12 And if ye haue not bene faithfull in another mans goods, who shall giue you that which is yours?

13 <sup>f</sup> No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye can not serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharises also which were couetous, and they mocked him.

15 Then he said vnto the Pharises, which <sup>g</sup> I wiske your selues before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 <sup>h</sup> The Law and the Prophets endured vntill John: and since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and euery man <sup>i</sup> prealeth into it.

17 <sup>j</sup> Now it is more easie that heauen and earth should passe away, then that one title of the Law should fall.

18 <sup>k</sup> Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adulterie: and whosoever marrieth her that <sup>l</sup> is put away from her husbande, committeth adulterie.

19 <sup>m</sup> There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple, and fine linnen, and fared wel and delicately euery day.

20 Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layed at his gate full of sores,

21 And desired to be refreshed with the crommes that fell from the riches mans table: yea, and the dogges came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger dyed, and was caried by the Angels into <sup>n</sup> Abrahams bosome. The rich man also died and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, hee lift vp his eyes, & saue Abraham as farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercie on mee, and sende Lazarus that he may dippe the tip of his finger in water, & coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

<sup>q</sup> As the fathers in the old Law, were said to be gathered into <sup>r</sup> Abrahams bosome. <sup>s</sup> Because they receiue the fruits of him: so faith is him: so in the new Testament we say that the members of Christ are ioyned to their head, or gathered vnto him.

<sup>a</sup> Christ teacheth hereby, that he which is in authority and hath riches, if he get friends in his prosperitie, may be relied vpon in his aduersitie: so our liberallitie towards our neighbour shal stand vs in such steade at the day of iudgement, that God will accept it as done vnto him.

<sup>e</sup> That is, rather wickedly gotten, or wickedly kept, or wickedly spent: and hereby we be warned to suspect riches which by the most part are an occasion to their possessors of great wickednes.

p In calling him some, he canntch his name boasting, who in his life baner himself to be the soune of Abraham: warning vs also hereby how litle glorious titles auale.

Or, good things.

Or, euill things.

Or, swallowing pit.

q Which declareth that it is too late to be instructed by the dead, if in their life time they cannot profite by the liuely woyle of God.

r As faith commeth by Gods woyle, so is it maintained by the same. So that neither we ought to looke for Angels from heauen, or the dead to confirme vs therein, but onely the woyle of God is sufficient to life eternall.

26 Besides all this, betweene you and vs there is a great gulfe set, so that they which would go from hence to you, can not, neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he saide, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house, 29 Abraham saide vnto him, They haue Moses & the prophets: let them heare them.

9 Woeth he thanke that seruant, because hee did that which was commanded vnto him: I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, whyle ye haue done all those things, which are commanded you, say, we are vnprofitable seruants: to haue done which was our duetie to doe.

11 And so it was when hee went to Ierusalem, that hee passed through the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as hee entred into a certaine towne, there met him tenne men that were lepers, which stood afare off.

13 And they lift vp their voyces & said, Iesus, Master, haue mercie on vs.

14 And when he saide them, he said vnto them, Go, shewe your felues vnto the priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 Then one of them, when hee saide that he was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voyce prayed God,

20 And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdome of God should come, hee answered them, and saide, The kingdome of God cometh not with obseruation.

21 Neither shall men say, Lo here, or loe there: for behold, the kingdome of God is within you.

22 And hee said vnto the disciples, The dayes wil come, when ye shall desire to see one of the dayes of Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 Then they shall say to you, Beholde here, or behold there: but go not thither, neither follow them.

30 After these <sup>1</sup>ensamples shall it bee in the day when the Sonne of man shall be reueiled.

31 At that day he that is vpon the house, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and he that is in the fielde likewise, let him not turne backe to that he left behind.

1 *He spake also a parable vnto them, [to this end,] that they ought alwayes to pray, and not to waile faint,

2 Saying, There was a iudge in a certaine cite, which feared not God, neither reuerenced man.

3 And there was a widow in that cite, which came vnto him, saying, Doe me iustice against mine <sup>1</sup>aduersarie.

4 And hee would not for a time: but afterwarde hee sayde with him selfe, Though I feare not God, nor reuerence man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will do her right, least at the last she come and make me wearie.

6 And the Lord sayd, heare what the vnrigheteous iudge saith.

7 Now shall not God auenge his elect, which crie day and night vnto him, yea, though he suffer long for them:

8 I tell you hee will auenge them quickly: but when the Sonne of man cometh, shall hee finde fayth on the earth:

9 Hee spake also this parable vnto certaine which trusted in themselves that they were iust and despised other.

10 Two men went vnto the Temple to pray: the one a Pharise, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee <sup>1</sup>stoode and prayed thus with himselfe, O God, I thanke thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, brynst, adulterers, or euil as this Publicane.

12 I fast twise in the weeke: I giue tithes of all that euer I possesse.

13 But the Publicane standing as farre off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes to heauen, but smote his brest, saying, O God, be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tel you, this man departed to his house iustified, I rather then the other: for euery man that exalteth himselfe, shall be brought lowe, and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

15 C *They brought vnto him also babes, that he should touch them. And when his disciples saide it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called <sup>1</sup>them vnto him, and said, Suffer the babes to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, whosoener receiveth not the kingdome of God as a babe, he shall not enter therein.

18 Then a certaine ruler asked him saying, Good master, what ought I to do, to inherite eternall life:

19 And Iesus said vnto him, why callest thou me good: none is good, save one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, *Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness: honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these haue I kept from my youth.

22 Nowe when Iesus heard that, he sayde vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing.

41 Saying, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receyue my sight.

4 Wherefore hee ranne before, and climed by into a wilde figge tree, that he might see him: for hee should come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked by, and saue him, and sayde vnto him, Zaccheus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

6 Then hee came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 And when al they saw it, they murmured, saying, that hee was gone in to lodge with a sinfull man.

8 And Zaccheus stood forth, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by forged cauallation, I restore him foure fold.

10 For the Sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, & said vnto them, Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, & sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that he commanded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased five pences.

17 And he saide vnto him, well, good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

23 Wherefore then gauest thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might haue required it with bantage?

28 And when he had thus spoken, he went forth before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 And it came to passe when hee was come nere to Bethphage, and Be-

30 Saying, Go ye to the towne which is before you, wherein, assoone as yee are come, ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him [hither.]

31 And if any man aske you, why ye loose him, thus shall yee say vnto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had sayde vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said vnto them, why loose ye the colt?

34 And they saide, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 So they brought him to Iesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as hee went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was now come nere to the going downe of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to praise God with a loude voice, for all great works that they had seene.

9 Whereby their destruction by a parable. 22 The autho-

46 He reproueth the ambition of the Scribes.

AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as hee taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came vpon him with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what authoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giue thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered, & said vnto them,
I also will aske you one thing: tell mee therefore:

4 The baptisme of John was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shal say, From heauen, he will say, why then beleueed ye him not?

6 But if we shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswa-ded that John was a prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you, by what authoritie I do these things.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, * A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen: and went into a strange country, for a great season.

10 And at a time he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard. But the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 Again he sent yet another seruant:
and they did beat him, and so vile increased him, and sent him away empty.

12 Moreover, he sent the third, & him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then saide the Lord of the vineyard, what shall I do: I will send my beloued Sonne: it may be that they will do reuerence, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saide him, they reasoned with themselves, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore do vnto them?

16 He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and wil giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they sayd, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, and sayde,
What meaneth this? that is written,
* The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner:

18 & whosoever shall fall vpon that stone shall be broken: & on whom soeuer it shal fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 Then the high Priests & the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him: (but they feared the people) for they perceyued that hee had spoken this parable agaynst them.

20 ¶ And they watched him, & sent forth spyes, which should keepe him selfe iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the powder and authoritie of the gouernour.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, We knowe that thou sayest, and tea-chest right, neyther doest thou accept mans person, but teachest the way of God truly.

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cesar

23 But he perceiued their craftines, & said vnto them, why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a pemie. whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesars.

25 Then he saide vnto them, ¶ Giue then vnto Cesar the things which are Cesars, & to God those which are Gods.

26 And they could not repone his saying before the people: but they maruel-led at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces (which denie that there is a-

35 But they which shall bee counted worthe to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wiues, neither are married.

4 For they all haue of their superfluitie cast into the offerings of God: but she of her penurie hath cast in all the litle thing that she had.

5 Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished wth goodly stones, and with consecrate things, he said,

6 Are these the things that yet looke vpon: the dayes will come, wherein a stone shall not be left vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.

7 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be: and what signe shall there be: when these things shall come to passe:

2 And the hie Priestes and Scribes sought howe they might kill him: for they feared the people.

4 And hee went his way, and communed with the hie Priestes and captaines, how he might betray him to the.

5 So they were glad, and agreed to giue him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 ¶ Then came the day of vbleauened bread when the Passouer must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go, and prepare vs the Passouer, that we may eate it.

9 And they saide to him, where wilt thou, that we prepare it?

10 Then he said vnto them, Behold, when yee be entred into the citie, there shall a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water: followe him into the house that he entreth in,

11 And say vnto the good man of the house, The Paster saith vnto thee, where is the lodging where I shal eate my Passouer with my disciples?

12 Then he shal shew you a great hie chamber trimmed: there make it ready.

13 So they went, and founde as hee had said vnto them, and made ready the Passouer.

15 Then hee said vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eate this Passouer with you before I suffer.

36 Then he said to them, But now he that hath a bagge, let him take it, and likewise a scrippe: and he & hath none, let him sell his coate, and bye a sworde.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is written, must be performed in me, * Euen with the wicked was he nombred: for doubtlesse those things which [ are ] written of me, haue an end.

43 And there appeared an Angell vnto him from heauen, comforting him.

44 But being in an agonie, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was like droppes of blood, trickeling downe to the grounde.

¶ Then * the whole multitude of them arose, and ledde him vnto * Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We haue founde this man peruerter the people, and forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes: And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 ¶ Then said Pilate to the Priests, and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, he moueth the people, teaching throughout al Iudea, beginning at Galile, euen to this place.

6 ¶ Nowe when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when he knewe that he was of Herods iurisdiction, he <sup>b</sup> sent him to Herode, which was also at Ierusalem in those dayes.

8 And when Herode sawe Jesus, he was exceedingly glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many thinges of him, and trusted to haue seene some signe done by him.

9 ¶ Then questioned he with him of many thinges: but he answered him <sup>d</sup> nothing.

10 ¶ The hie Priests also and Scribes stood forth, & accused him bellemently.

11 And Herode with his men of warre despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

2 And they founde the stone rolled away from the sepulchre,

4 And it came to passe, that as they were amazed thereat, behold, two men suddenly stood by them in shining vestures.

5 And as they were afraid, & bowed downe their faces to the earth, they said to them, why seeke ye him that liueth, among the dead:

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake vnto you, when hee was yet in Galile,

7 Saying, that the Sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of sinfull men, and be crucified, and the third day rise againe.

17 And he said vnto them, what manner of communications are these? ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad:

18 And the one [named Cleopas] answered, and said vnto him, Art thou only a stranger in Ierusalem, & hast not knowen the things which are come to passe therein in these dayes?

19 And he said vnto the, what things? And they saide vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazaret, which was a prophet, mighty in deede and in word before God, and all the people,

20 And how the hie Priests, and our rulers deliuered him to bee condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But wee trusted that it had bene he that should haue deliuered Israel, & as touching all these things, to day is the third day, that they were done.

22 Yea, and certaine women among vs made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre.

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angels, which said that he was aliue.

24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, & found it euen so as the women had said, but him they saue not.

25 The he said vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart to beleue all that the Prophets haue spoken, 26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glorie?

27 And he began at Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they dwell nere vnto the towne, which they went to, but hee made as though he would haue gone further.

lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, & the world he made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to the he gaue power to be sones of God, euen to the that beleue in his Name,

13 which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 And the word was made flesh, and dwelt among vs, (and we sawe the glorie thereof, as the glorie of the onely begotten Sonne of the Father) full of grace and truth.

15 Iohn bare witnes of him, and cryed, saying, This was he of whom I said, he that cometh after me, is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulnes haue all we receiued, and grace for grace.

17 For the Law was giue by Moses, but grace & truth came by Iesus Christ

18 No man hath seene God at any time: the onely begotten sonne, which is in the bosome of the Father, hee hath declared him.

19 The this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Ierusalem, to aske him, who art thou?

20 And he confessed and denied not, & said plainly, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, what then? Art thou Elias? And he said, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And hee answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, who art thou that wee may giue an answer to them that sent vs: what saiest thou of thy selfe?

23 He laide, I am the voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lorde, as saide the Prophet Elias.

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharises.

25 And they asked him, and said vnto him, why baptisest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whom ye know not.

27 He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before mee, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, and saith, Beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but because he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.

32 So Iohn bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit come down fro heauen, like a dove, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, hee saide vnto mee, Upon whome thou shalt see the Spirit come down, and tarry still on him, that is he which baptiseth with holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Sonne of God.

35 The next day, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples:

36 And he beheld Iesus walking by, and said, Beholde the lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake and followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned about, & saw them follow, and said vnto them, What seek ye? And they said vnto him, Rabbi (which is to say by interpretation, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He said vnto them, Come, and see. They came and saide where he dwelt, & abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth houre.

40 And Iohn, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard of Iohn, and that followed him.

41 The same found his brother Simon first, and laide vnto him, We haue founde the Messias, which is by interpretation, the Christ.

42 And hee brought him to Iesus. And Iesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon? some of Iona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 The day following, Iesus would go into Galilee, & found Philip, and said vnto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the cite of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip found Nathanael, & said vnto him, We haue found him, of whom

CHAP. III.

3 Christ instructed Nicodemus in the regeneration. 15 Of faith. 16 Of the love of God towards the world. 23 The doctrine and baptism of Iohn. 28 And the wickeſſe that he beareth of Christ.

Here was noth a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes.

2 Hee came to Iesus by night, & said vnto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man could do these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

3 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, he can not see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saide vnto him, Howe can a man be borne which is olde: can he enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of water and of the Spirit, he can not enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: and that that is borne of the Spirit, is Spirit.

7 Parueile not that I sayde to thee, He must be borne againe.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sounde thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every man that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, Howe can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that we knowe, and testifie, that wee haue seene: but yet receiue not our witnesse.

12 If I whē I tel you earthly things, ye beleeeue not, howe shoulde ye beleeeue, if I shall tell you of heavenly things?

13 For no man ascendeth vp to heauen, but hee that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 And as Moyses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp,

15 That whosoever beleeeueth in him, shal not perishe, but haue eternall life.

16 For God so loued the world, that he hath giuen his onely begotten sonne, that whosoever beleeeueth in him, shoulde not perishe, but haue eueralasting life.

17 For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should condemne the world, but that the world through him might be saued.

18 He that beleeeueth in him, shall not be condemned: but he that beleeeueth not, is condemned already, because he beleeeueth not in the name of the onely begotten Sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, & men loued darkenes rather the light, because their deedes were euill.

20 For every man that euill doth, hateth the light, neither cometh to light, least his deedes should be reprobated.

21 But he that doeth truth, cometh to the light, for his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought according to God.

22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the lande of Iudea, and there taried with them, and baptizeth.

23 And Iohn also baptizeth in Enon besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptizeth.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples & the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, & sayd vnto him, Rabbi, hee that was with thee beyonde Jordan, to whome thou barest witnesse, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered and saide, A man can receiue nothing, except it bee giuen him from heauen.

CHAP. IIII.

¶ The communication of Christ with the woman of Samaria, 34 His zeale towards his Father and his haue, 35 The commisio of the Samaritanes, 45 And Galileans, 47 How he healeth the rulers sonne.

NOW When the Lord knewe, howe Pharisees had heard, that Iesus made and baptized mo disciples then John,

2 Though Iesus him selfe baptized not: but his disciples)

3 He * left Judea, and departed again into Galile.

4 And hee must needs goe through Samaria.

5 Then came hee to a cite of Samaria called Sychar, neere vnto the possession that * Jacob gaue to his sonne Joseph.

6 And there was Jacobs well. Iesus then wearied in the iourney, sat * thus on the well: it was about the * sixt houre.

7 There came a woman of Samaria to drinke water. Iesus sayde vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the cite, to buy meate.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto him, howe is it, that thou being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria: For the Iewes medle not with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answered and sayde vnto her, If thou knewest the * gift of God, and who it is that sayeth to thee, Giue me drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, & he woulde haue giuen thee * water of life.

11 The woman saide vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothing to drinke with, & the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?

12 Art thou greater then our father Jacob, which gaue vs the well, and hee him selfe dranke thereof, & his children, and his cattell?

13 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, who soeuer drinketh of this water, shal thirst againe:

14 But who soeuer drinketh of the * water that I shal giue him, shal neuer be moze * a thirst: but the water that I shal giue him, shal be in him a well of water, springing vp into euermolde life.

15 The woman saide vnto him, Syr, giue mee of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hither to drinke.

16 Iesus said vnto her, Go, call thine husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, & saide, I haue no husbnde. Iesus sayde to her,
Thou hast well said, I haue no husbnd.

18 For thou hast had fve husbnds, & he whome thou nowest hast, is not thine husband: that saydest thou truly.

19 The woman saide vnto him, Syr,
I see that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye say, that in * Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worshippe.

21 Iesus saide vnto her, woman, beleeue me, the houre cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountaine, nor at Ierusalem, worship the Father.

22 We worship that which ye * know not: we worship that which we knowe:
for saluation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit, and truth: for the Father requireth euen such to worship him.

24 * God is a * Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and truth.

25 The woman sayde vnto him, I knowe wel * Messias shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus said vnto her, I am he, that speake vnto thee.

27 ¶ And vpon that came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with a woman: yet no man sayde vnto him, what askest thou: or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the cite, and sayde to the men,

29 Come, see a man which hath tolde me all thinges that euer I did: is not he the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the cite,
and came vnto him.

31 ¶ In y meane while, the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.

32 But hee sayde vnto them, I haue meate to eate, that ye knowe not of.

41 And many more beleued, because of his owne word.

42 And they sayde vnto the woman, Now we beleue, not because of thy saying: for wee haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is in deepe y Christ the Saviour of the world.

2 And there is at Jerusalem by y place of y sheepe, a poole called in Chibze y Bethesda, hauing foue portches.

l Or, the sheepe market.

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blinde, halt, & withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

a Where the sheepe were washed, that should be sacrificed.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever the first, after the stirring of y water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

b Which signifies y poole of pouring out, because the water ran out by conduites.

5 And a certain man was there, which had bene diseased eight & thirtie yeres.

6 When Iesus saw him lie, & knew y he now long time had bene diseased, he saide vnto him, Wilt y be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man, whē the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am coming, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus sayde vnto him, Rise: take vp thy bed, and walke.

c Christ was, to the ende that the miracle might be so euident, that no man coulde speake against it.

9 And immediately y man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, & walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Iewes therefore said to him, That was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: it is not lawfull for thee to carie thy bed.

Jerem. 17. 22.

11 He answered them, he that made me me whole, he said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, what man is that which sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, knew not who it was: for Iesus had conuened him selfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, & said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: <sup>a</sup> sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and told the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, & I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not only because he had broken the Sabbath: but sayd also that God was his Father, and made himselfe equall with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and saide vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The Sonne can do nothing of himselfe, save that he seeth the Father do: for whatsoever things hee doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.

20 For the father loneth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things, whatsoever he himselfe doeth, and he will shewe him greater workes then these, that yee should maruaile.

21 For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all iudgement vnto the Sonne,

23 Because that all men shoulde honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: he that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleueth in him that sent me, hath euermlasting life, & shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.

25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, the houre shall come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voice of the sonne of God: and they that heare it, shall liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so likewise hath hee giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe,

27 And hath giuen him power also to execute iudgement, in that hee is the Sonne of man.

28 Paruile not at this: for þe houre shall come in the which all that are in graues, shall heare his voyce.

29 And they shall come forth, that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 I can doe nothing of mine owne selfe: as I heare, I iudge: & my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne wil, but the wil of the Father who hath sent me.

31 If I should beare witness of my selfe, my witness were not true.

32 There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness, which he beareth of mee, is true, 33 ¶ He sent vnto John, and hee bare witness vnto the truth.

34 But I receiue not the recoorde of man: neuertheles, these things I say, that ye might be saued.

35 He was a burning, and a shining candle: and ye would for a lealon haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witness then the witness of John: for þe works which the Father hath giuen me to finish, the same workes that I do, beare witness of me, that the Father sent me.

37 And the Father him selfe, which hath sent me, beareth witness of me, & he haue not heard his voyce at any time, neither haue ye seene his shape.

38 And his worde haue yee not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleue not.

39 Search the Scriptures: for in them ye thinke to haue eternall life, and they are they which testifie of me.

40 But ye will not come to mee, that ye might haue life.

41 I receiue not prasse of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my Fathers Name, & ye receiue me not: if another shall come in his owne name, him wil ye receiue.

44 How can ye beleue, which receiue honour one of another, & seeke not the honour that cometh of God alone?

45 Do not thinke that I will accuse you to my Father: there is one that accuseth you, [eu]e I doles in whom ye trust.

CHAP. VI.

10 Iesus seereth fise thousand men with fise loaves and two fishes. 15 He departed away, that they should not make him king. 16 He requirith his disciples hearers of his word. 41 The carnall are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

After these things, Iesus wet his way ouer the sea of Galilee, of <sup>b</sup>Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

3 Then Iesus went by into a mountaine, & there he late with his disciples.

4 Now the Passouer, a feast of the Jewes, was neere.

5 *Then Iesus lift by [his] eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he saide vnto Philip, whence shall we buy bread, that these might eat:

6 (And this he saide to proue him: for he himselfe knew what he would do)

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred penn worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a litle.

8 Then said vnto him one of his disciples, Andreiw, Simon Peters brother,

9 There is a litle boy here, which hath fise barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit down. (Now there was much grasse in that place) Then the men late downe in number about fise thousand.

11 And Iesus tooke the bread, & gaue thanks, and gaue to the disciples, & the disciples to the that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And when they were satisfied, hee layde vnto his disciples, Gather by the broken meate which remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broke meate of the fise barley loaves, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then the men whē they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, sayde, This is of a tructh the Prophet that shoulde come into the world.

15 When Iesus therefore perceyued that they would come, and take him to make him a King, hee departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 When euen was now come, his disciples went downe into the sea,

17 *And entred into a ship, and went ouer the sea towarde Capernaum: & now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about fise and thientie, or thirtie <sup>h</sup>furloges, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, & drawing neere vnto the shippe: so they were afraied.

20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraied.

21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

22 C The day following, the people, which stood on the other side of the sea, saue that there was none other shippe there, saue that one, wherinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in <sup>i</sup>ship, but that his disciples were gone <sup>i</sup>alone.

23 And that there came other ships fro Tiberias neere vnto <sup>i</sup>place where they ate the bread, after the Lorde had given thanks.

24 Now when the people saue that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they saide vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and saide, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ye seeke me not, because ye saue the miracles, but because ye ate of <sup>i</sup>loaves, & were filled.

27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for <sup>i</sup>meat that endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of man shal giue vnto you: for him hath <sup>i</sup>God the Father <sup>i</sup>sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, what shall we doe, that wee might worke the <sup>i</sup>workes of God?

29 Iesus answered, and said vnto the, *This is the worke of God, that ye beleue in him, whom he hath sent.

30 They sayde therefore vnto him, what signe shewest thou then, that we may see it, and beleue thee: what dost thou worke?

31 Our Fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is <sup>i</sup>written, He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

32 The Jhesus said vnto the, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Wholes gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is hee which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then they saide vnto him, Lorde, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Jhesus saide vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger, and he that beleueth in me, shall neuer thirst.

36 But I said vnto you, that yee also haue seene me, and beleue not.

37 All that the Father giueth mee, shall come to me: and him that commeth to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but his which hath sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which hee hath giuen mee, I shoulde lose nothing, but shoulde raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent mee, that euery man which seeth the Sonne, & beleueth in him, shoulde haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayde, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they saide, * Is not this Jhesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know: howe then saith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Jhesus then answered, & saide vnto the, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except by father, which hath sent me, & draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in * Propheets, And they shal be al taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, & hath leaned of the Father, commeth vnto me,

46 * Not that any man hath seene the Father, saue he which is of God, he hath seene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth in mee, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 * Your fathers did eat Panna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread, which commeth downe from heauen, that hee which eateth of it, should not die.

51 I am the living bread, which came downe from heauen: if any man eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the worlde.

52 Then the Iewes strone among themselves, saying, howe can this man giue vs [his] flesh to eate?

53 Then Jhesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.

54 Whosoener eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat in deede, and my blood is drinke in deede.

56 he that eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, & I in him.

57 As the liuing Father hath sent me, so liue I by the Father, and he that eateth my flesh, shall liue by me.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers hath eaten Panna, and are dead. Hee that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) saide, This is an hard saying: who can heare it?

61 But Jhesus knowing in him selfe, that his disciples murmured at this, said vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

62 [what] then if ye shoulde see the Sonne of man ascende vp? where he was before?

63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speake vnto you, are spirit & life.

64 But there are some of you that beleue not: for Jhesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleued not, and who shoulde betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I vnto you, no man can come vnto me, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jhesus to the twelue, will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whome shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternal life:

69 And we beleue and knowe that thou art the Christ the Sonne of the liuing God.

70 Jhesus answered them, haue not I chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuill:

CHAP. VII.

6 Jesus repproeth the ambition of his coussins. 12 There are diuers opinions of him among the people. 17 He sheweth how to knowe the truth. 20 The iudges say vnto him. 47 The Pharisees rebuke the officers because they haue not take him. 52 And chide with Nicodemus for talking his part.

After these thinges, Iesus walked in Galile, and would not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

2 Nowe the Iewes<sup>a</sup> feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore said vnto him, Depart hence, and goe into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy woorkes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing secretly, and he himselfe seeketh to be famous. If thou doest these thinges, shewe thy selfe to the world.

5 For as yet his brethren beleueed not in him.

6 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway readye.

7 The worlde can not hate you: but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the woorkes thereof are euill.

8 Soe ye vp into this feaste: I wil not goe by yet vnto this feaste: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 The thinges he said vnto them, and abode still in Galile.

10 But as soon as his brethren were gone by, then went he also by vnto the feaste, not openly, but as if it were pryncely.

11 The Iewes sought him at the feaste, and said, where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some sayde, he is a good man: other sayde, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for feare of the Iewes.

14 Nowe when halfe the feaste was done, Iesus went by into the Temple and taught.

15 And the Iewes marvelled, saying, howe knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Iesus answered them, and sayde, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wil do his wil, he shal knowe of the doctrine, whether it bee of God, or whether I speake of any selfe.

18 He that speaketh of him selfe, seeketh his owne glorie: but he that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no surbrighte outlines is in him.

19 Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? why goe ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, & said to them, I haue done one woork, & ye all maruail.

22 Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Lawe of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 Iudge not according to appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 Then sayd some of them of Ierusalem, Is not this he, whome they goe about to kill?

26 And behold, he speaketh openly, & they say nothing to him: do the rulers know in dede? this is the very Christ.

27 Howbeit we knowe this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is.

28 Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whome ye knowe not.

29 But I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him, but no man layde handes on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Nowe many of the people beleueed in him, and sayde, when the Christ cometh, wil he doe mo miracles then this man hath done?

32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured these thinges of him, and the Pharisees and the priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then goe I vnto him that sent me.

34 Ye shall seeke me, & shall not find me, & where I am, can ye not come.

35 Then said the Iewes among themselves, whether wil he go, that we shall not finde him: wil he goe vnto them that are dispersed among the Grecians, and

18 I am

f Which place proueth Christ to be very God and man.

18 I am one that beare witnesse of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.

19 Then said they vnto him, where is thy Father? Iesus answered, he neither knoweth me, nor my Father. If ye had knowen me, ye shoulde haue knowen my Father also.

g That is, the place where the vessel and other things belonging to the Temple, were kept.

20 These wordes spake Iesus in the treasure, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laid hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

h Because of their rebellion wherein they dispersecute.

21 Then saide Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your sinnes. whither I goe, can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, will he kill himselfe because he saith, whither I goe, can ye not come?

i He toucheth
the difference betweene the Gospel, & the subtiltie of man.

23 And he said vnto them, he are fro beneath: I am from above: ye are of this worlde, I am not of this worlde.

24 I said therefore vnto you, That ye shall die in your sinnes: for except ye beleue, that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then saide they vnto him, who art thou? And Iesus saide vnto them, Euen the same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

j Or, From the beginning euen that I said
vnto you,
k That is, who he was, where he was, & wher
he came into this worlde.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the worlde.

27 They vnderstoode not that he spake to them of the Father.

l Their ende-uours & passions where by they thinke to destroy him,
shall serue to exalt and magnifie his glorie.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, wher ye haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye knowe I am he, & I do nothing of my self, but as my Father hath taught me, [so] I speake these things.

29 For he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I doe alwayes those things that please him.

m Not to be leeue in him, but to be con-uicted, n To witte, the spellmas.

30 As he spake these things, many beleued in him.

31 Then said Iesus to the Iewes which beleued in him, If ye continue in my worde, ye are verely my disciples, 32 And shall knowe the trueth, and the trueth shall make you free.

o For ye were slaves to sinne, p These were not the beleuing Iewes,
but the me-cures that answered thus,
Rom. 6. 20,
2. pet. 2. 19.

33 They answered him, We be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then, We shall be made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoever committeth sinne, is the seruāt of sinne.

35 And the seruāt abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If I Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free in deede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke to kill me, because my worde hath no place in you.

q De granteth their sayings in such sort,
that he toucheth
vnto them that their own deedes proue them liars.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye do that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and saide vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto the, If ye were Abrahams children, ye woulde doe the workes of Abraham.

r Which were his obedience, charite & such good workes which preceded of faith.

40 But nolue ye goe about to kill me, a man that haue tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this do not Abraham.

41 Ye doe the workes of your father. Then said they to him, we are not born of fornication: wee haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus said vnto them, If God were your Father, then woulde ye loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not vnderstand my talk: because ye can not heare my worde.

s For you are carnal and can not vnderstand spirituall things,
t John 2. 8,
Since the first creation of man.

44 We are of your father the deuill, & the lusts of your father ye will doe: he hath bene a murderer from the beginning, & abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him, when he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

u He followeth then that he was once in the cruelt: for he was not created euill.
x According to his wont & custome.

45 And because I tel you the trueth, ye beleue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne: and if I say the trueth, why doe ye not beleue me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

y John 4. 6.

48 Then answered the Iewes and said vnto him, Say we not well I thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praise: but there is one that seeketh it, and iudgeth.

z Which will e-uenge the iniurie that you do against me,
o rather against him, z For the faithfull euen life.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepe my worde, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then said I Iewes to him, Now know we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham

ham is dead, and the Prophets, and thou sayest, If a man keepe my worde, he shall neuer taste of death.

33 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead: & the Prophets are dead: Whom makest thou thy selfe:

34 Iesus answered, If I honour my self, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my father that honoureth me, who ye say, that he is your God.

35 Yet ye haue not knowne him: but I know him, & if I should say I know him not, I should be a lyar like vnto you: but I know him, & keepe his worde.

36 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my day, and he sawe it, & was glad.

37 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeere olde, and hast thou seene Abraham:

38 Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I am.

39 Then tooke they by stones, to cast at him, but Iesus hid him selfe, and went out of the Temple.

CHAP. IX.

1 Of him that was borne blinde. 11 The confessing of him that was borne blinde. 39 Of what blinde men Christ giveth sight.

As as Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde:

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but & the works of God shuld be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the worlde, I am the light of the worlde.

6 As soone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the grounde, and made clay of the spittle, and anoynted the eyes of the blinde with the clay,

7 And said vnto him, Go wash in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent) he went his way therefore, & washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Nowhe the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blinde, sayde, Is not this he that sate and begged:

9 Some said, This is he: and others sayde, He is like him: but he him selfe saide, I am he.

10 Therefore they sayde vnto him, howe were thine eyes opened:

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anoynted mine eyes, and said vnto me, Go to the poole of Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and receiued sight.

12 Then they saide vnto him, Where is he: he said, I can not tell.

13 They brought to the Pharises him that was once blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath [day.] When Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, howe he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, he laid clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Then saide some of the Pharises, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath [day.] Others sayde, howe can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles: and there was a division among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, what saiest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes: And he said, he is a prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleue him (that he had bene blinde, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whome ye say was borne blind: how both he now seeth their:

20 His parents answered them, and saide, we knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we knowe not: or who hath opened his eyes, we can not tell: he is old ynough: aske him: he shall answer for him selfe.

22 These wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeined already, that if any man did confesse that he was the Christ, he shoulde be [excommunicate] out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, he is olde ynough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bene blinde, and said vnto him, Give glory vnto God: we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 Then he answered, and sayde, whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: one thing I knowe, that I was blinde, and now I see.

26 Then saide they to him againe, what a Which was to see the coming of Christ in the flesh: which thing Abraham sawe farre off in the eyes of faith, Heb. 11. 10. b Not only God, but the appearance betweene God and man, appointed before all eternitie, Chap. 10. 31. c And he passed thorough the middes of them and so went his way.

d Herely was prefigured the Messiah, who should be sent into them.

f That is, Consider that no thing is hid from God: therefore tel be the truth that God may be glorified ther by.

h He spake this in mockery.

i They thought either to shame him from the truth, or to make him make him scarce by their estimates examining him: but his pacifical answers members were not so fervent in examining the Christians.

what did he to thee: howe opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you alreadie, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore woulde ye heare it againe: will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then checked they him, and said, Thou art his disciple: we be Moses disciples.

29 We knowe that God spake with Moses: but this man we knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and saide vnto them, Doubtlesse, this is a maruelous thing, that ye knowe not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Nowe we knowe that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, he coulde haue done nothing.

34 They answered, and sayde vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and dost thou teach vs: so they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had founde him, he said vnto him, Dost thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and said, who is he, Lorde, that I might beleue in him?

37 And Iesus saide vnto him, As thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he saide, Lorde, I beleue, and worshipped him.

39 And Iesus said, I am come vnto iudgement into this worlde, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these things, and said vnto him, Are we blinde also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye shoulde not haue sinne: but nowe ye say, we see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ is the true shepheard, and the doore. 2 Divers opinions of Christ. 24 He is asked if he be Christ. 32 His works declare that he is God. 34 The Diuines called gods.

Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that entreth not in by the doore into the shepefold, but climbeth by another way, he is a thiefe and a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and lea-

4 And when he hath sent forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe followe him: for they know his voyce.

5 And they will not followe a stranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto the: but they vnderstoode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto the againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All, that euer came before me, are theenes and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saued, and shall goe in and goe out, and finde pasture.

10 The thiefe commeth not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, & haue it in abundance.

11 I am the good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for his sheepe.

12 But an hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and he leaueh the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, & careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepheard, and knowe mine, and am knowne of mine.

15 As the father knoweth me, so knowe I the Father: and I lay downe my life for [my] sheepe.

16 Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this folde: them also must I bring, and they shall heare my voyce: and there shall be one shepefold, and one shepheard.

17 Therefore doth my Father loue me, because I lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this commaundement haue I receiued of my Father.

22 And it was at Ierusalem <sup>i</sup> feast of the <sup>j</sup> Dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Iesus walked in the Temple, in <sup>k</sup> Solomons porche.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and sayd vnto him, how long doest thou make vs doubt: If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleue not: the workes that I doe in my Fathers Name, they beare witness of me.

26 But ye beleue not: for ye are not of my sheepe, as I sayd vnto you.

27 By sheepe heare my voyce, and I knowe them, and they followe me.

28 And I giue vnto them eternal life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shall any plucke them out of mine hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 <sup>n</sup> Then the Iewes againe tooke by stones, to stone him.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my Father: for which of these workes doe ye stone me:

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For the good worke we stone thee not, but for blasphemie, and that thou being a man, makest thy selfe God.

34 Iesus answered them, Is it not written in your Lawe, <sup>o</sup> I sayd, ye are gods:

35 If he called them gods, vnto whom the worde of God was giuen, and the Scripture can not be broken,

36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the worlde, Thou blasphemest, because I sayd, I am the Sonne of God:

37 If I doe not the workes of my Father, beleue me not.

38 But if I doe, then though ye beleue not me, yet beleue the workes, that ye may knowe and beleue, that the Father [is] in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their hands,

40 And went againe beyonde Jordan, into the place where John first baptized, and there abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and sayde, John did <sup>o</sup> no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleueed in him there.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 47 The bie Priests and Pharisees gather a council against him. 50 Caiaphas propheseth. 54 Christ getteth him out of the way.

AND a certain man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, the towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 And it was that <sup>p</sup> Marie which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.

3 Therefore [his] sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, hee sayde, This sickness is not <sup>q</sup> vnto death, but for the glorie of God, that <sup>r</sup> the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Nowe Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 And after he had heard that he was sicke, yet abode he two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iudea againe.

8 The disciples sayd vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and doest thou go thither againe:

9 Iesus answered, Are there not <sup>s</sup> twelue houres in the day: if a man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after he sayd vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeeth: but I go to wake him vp.

12 Then sayd his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall be safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the <sup>t</sup> naturall sleepe.

14 Then sayde Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleue: but let vs go vnto him.

16 Then sayde Thomas (which is called <sup>u</sup> Didymus) vnto his felow disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may 17 ¶ Then came Iesus, and found that he had lien in the graue foure dayes alreadye.

18 (Nowe Bethania was neere vnto Ierusalem, about fiftene furlongs off.)

19 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Marie to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Iesus was coming, went to meete him: but Marie sate still in the house.

21 Then sayde Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

22 But nowe I knowe also, that whatsoeuer thou wilt of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus sayd vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha sayd vnto him, I knowe that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that beleeueth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And whosoever liueth, and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die. Seleeueth thou this?

27 She sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which should come into the world.

28 ¶ And when she had so sayd, she went her way, & called Marie her sister secretly saying, The master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and sawe him, she fell downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her weepe, & the Iewes also weepe which came with her, he groined in the spirit, and was troubled in himselfe,

34 And sayd, where haue ye layd him: They sayd vnto him, Lord, come, and see.

35 ¶ And Iesus wept.

36 Then sayd the Iewes, Beholde, holwe he loued him.

37 And some of them sayd, Could not he, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also, that this man should not haue died?

38 Iesus therefore againe groined in himselfe, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, & a stone was layd vpon it.

39 Iesus sayde, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, sayd vnto him, Lord, he stinketh already: for he hath bene [dead] foure dayes.

40 Iesus said vnto her, Sayd I not vnto thee, that if thou diddest beleeue, thou shouldst see the glorie of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone [from the place] where the dead was layd. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, & sayd, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I know that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by, I sayd it, that they may beleeue, that thou hast sent me.

43 As he had spoken these things, he cryed with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bound hand & foote with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Iesus sayd vnto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 ¶ Then many of the Iewes, which came to Marie, & had seene the things, which Iesus did, beleeued in him.

46 But some of them went their way to the Pharisees, and tolde them what things Iesus had done.

47 Then gathered the hee Priests, and the Pharisees a councill, and sayd, what shall we doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romanes will come and take awaye vs from our place, and the nation.

49 Then one of them [named] Caiaphas, which was the hee Priest that same yeere, sayd vnto them, We perceiue nothing at all,

50 For yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

k I erre not that his affections were so excessive that he kept no measure, as we doe in our sorowes, ioyes and other affections.

o God made him to speake, neither coulde hee Gods purpose, who caused this wicked man euen as he was Balsam, to be an instrument of his holy Ghost,

51 This spake he not of himselfe: but being his Priest that same yere, he prophesied that Iesus should dye for the nation:

52 And not for the nation onely, but that he should gather together in one his children of God, which were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence into a countrey neere to the wilderness, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Iewes Pascheouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey by to Jerusalem before the Pascheouer, to purifie themselves.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the Temple, what thinke ye, that he cometh not to the feast:

57 Now both the his disciples and the Pharisees had given a commandement, that if any man kneele where he were, he should sweile it, that they might take him.

7 Child crucified Baries fact, 13 The affection of some towards him, and the rage of others against him and Lazarus, 25 The commoditie of the croffe, 27 It is prayer, 28 The answere of the Father, 32 His death, and the fruite thereof, 36 He exhorteth to feare, 40 The blindness of some, and the infirmities of others.

8 Then Iesus sixe dayes before he was Pascheouer, came to Bethanias, where Lazarus was, which was dead, whome he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Marie a pound of ointment of spikenard very costly, & anointed Iesus' feete, and wiped his feete with her heare, and the house was filled with the fauour of the ointment.

4 Then sayde one of his disciples, [eue] Judas Iscariot Simons [sonne], which should betray him,

5 why was not this ointment solde for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he sayd this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thiefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore allwayes ye haue with you, but me ye shall not haue allwayes.

9 Then much people of the Iewes knew that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whome he had raised from the dead.

10 The his Priests therefore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleened in Iesus.

12 On the morrow a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus should come to Jerusalem, 13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meete him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed is [he] King of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus found a young asse, and sat thereon, as it is written,

15 * Feare not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh sitting on an asse colic.

16 But his disciples vnderstoode not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witness that he called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that hee had done this miracle.

19 And the Pharisees sayde among themselves, Perceiue ye howe ye persuade nothing: Beholde, the people goeth after him.

20 Nowe there were certaine Greekes among them that came by to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philippe, which was of Bethsaida in Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Iesus.

22 Philippe came and tolde Andrey: and againe Andrey and Philippe tolde Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, except the wheate come fall into the ground and die, it bideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruite.

this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, [sayglorifie it againe.

29 Then sayd the people that stood by and heard, that it was a thunder:
others sayd, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered, and sayd, This voyce came not because of mee, but for your sakes.

31 Nowe is the iudgement of this worlde: nowe shall the prince of this

32 *And I, if I were lift from the 34 The people answered him, we haue heard out of the * Lawe, that the Christ bideth for euer: and howe sayest thou that the Sonne of man must be lift up: who is that Sonne of man?

35 Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a little while is * the light with you: walke while ye haue light, least the darkenes come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither hee goeth.

36 While ye haue light, beleene in the light, that ye may be the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.

37 And though hee had done so many miracles before them, [yet] beleue-ued they not on him:

38 That the saying of Elaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he sayde,

* Lord, who beleueed our report: and to whom is the * arme of * Lord renewed:

39 Therefore could they not beleene, because that Elaias saith againe,

40 * He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should * heale them.

41 These things sayd Elaias when he sawe his glorie, and spake of him.

42 Reuerendeste euen among the chiefe rulers many beleueed in him: but because of the Pharisees, they did not confesse him, least they should be [cast] out of the Synagogue.

43 * For they loued the ° praise of men, more then the prayse of God.

44 And Iesus cryed, and sayd, Ye that beleueeth in me, beleueeth not in me, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoener beleueeth in me, should not abide in darkenes.

47 * And if any man heare my wordes, and beleue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiveth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: * the worde that I haue spoken, it shall iudge him in the ° last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe:
but the Father, which sent me, he gaue me a commaundement what I should say, and what I should speake.

8 Peter saide vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue no part with me.

9 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my feete onely, but also the handes and the head.

10 Iesus sayde to him, hee that is washed, needeth not, saue to wash [his] feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are cleane, but not all.

11 For hee kneelbe who should betray him: therefore saide hee, We are not all cleane.

12 So after hee had washed their feete, and had taken his garments, and was set down againe, he said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you:

13 We call one another, and Lord, and ye say well: for [so] am I.

14 If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one anothers feete.

15 For I haue given you an example, that ye should do, euen as I haue done to you.

16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, The seruant is not greater then his master, neither the ambassadour greater then he that sent him.

17 If ye knowe these things, blessed are ye, if ye do them.

18 I speake not of you all: I know whom I haue chosen: but it is that the Scripture might be fulfilled, *Hee that eateth bread with mee, hath lift vp his heele against me.

19 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleue that I am he.

20 * Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I sende any, hee that receiueth him, receiueth me, and he that receiueth me, receiueth him that sent me.

21 When Iesus had said these things, he was troubled in the Spirit, and testified, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 * Then the disciples looked one on another, douting of whom he spake.

23 Nowe there was one of his disciples, which leaned on Iesus' bosome, whom Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that hee should aske who it was of whome he spake.

25 Hee then, as hee leaned on Iesus, best said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, he it is, to whom I shall giue a soppe. When I haue dipped it: and he wet a soppe, and gaue it to Judas Iscariot, Simons [sorme.]

27 And after the soppe, Satan entered into him. Then saide Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew, for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Judas had the bagge, that Iesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue neede of against the feast: or that he should giue some thing to the poore.

30 Assoone then as hee had receiued the soppe, he went immediately out, and it was night.

31 When he was gone out, Iesus said, Now is the Sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in him selfe, and shall straight way glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while am I with you: ye shall seeke me, but as I saide vnto the Iewes, whither I goe, can ye not come: also to you say I now.

34 * A new commandment giue I vnto you, that ye loue one another: as I haue loued you, that ye also loue one another.

35 By this shall all men knowe that ye are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 Simon Peter sayde vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, whither I goe, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said vnto him, Lord, why can I not follow thee now? * I will lay downe my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered him, what thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I say vnto thee, The rocke shall not croube, till thou haue denied me thrise.

15 Henceforth, call I you not servants: for the servant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I have called you friends: for all things that I have heard of my Father, have I made known to you.

f So that there is nothing omitted that is necessary for vs, and concerning our salvation, Math. 13:19.

16 We have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordeined you, that ye go and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, that whatsoever ye shall aske of the Father in my Name, he may give it you.

17 These things commaunde I you, that ye love one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his owne: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

Chap. 13:16. marke 10:24. Math. 24:9.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater then his master. If they have persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they have kept my word, they will also keepe yours.

21 But all these things will they doe unto you for my Names sake, because they have not known him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, they should not have had sinne: but now they have no cloke for their sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done works among them which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now they have both scene, and have hated both me and my Father.

25 But [it is] that the world might be fulfilled, that is written in their Lawe, They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter shall come, whom I will sende unto you from the Father, [even] the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not knowne the Father, nor me.

4 But these things have I tolde you, that when þe hour shall come, ye might remember, that I tolde you them. And these things I tolde I not unto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent mee, and none of you asketh mee, whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.

7 Yet I tell you the truth, It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I goe not away, the Comforter will not come unto you: but if I depart, I will sende him unto you.

take of mine, and shewe it vnto you.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see mee: and againe a little [while,] and ye shall see me: for I go to my Father.

17 Then saide [some] of his disciples

he saith vnto vs, A little [while,] and ye shall not see me, & againe a little [while,] and ye shall see me, and, For I go to my Father:

18 They said therefore, what is this that he saith, A little [while,] we knowe not what he saith.

19 Nowe Iesus kneue that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues, of that I said, A little [while,] and ye shall not see me: and againe, a little [while,] and ye shall see me:

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall wepe and lament, and the 23 And in that day shall ye aske me

you, whatsoever ye shall aske the Fa-

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receiue,

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you.

27 For y<sup>e</sup> Father himselfe ioueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue be-lieued that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father,

the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples saide vnto him, Doe nowe speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now knowe we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleue, that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Do you beleue now:

32 Behold, the houre cometh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered every man into his owne, and shall leau me alone: but I am not alone: for the Father is with me.

4 Then Iesus knowing all things that should come vnto him, went forth, and said vnto them, whom hee seekte ye:

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazaret. Iesus saide vnto them, I am hee. Nowe Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Alsone then as hee had saide vnto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then he asked them againe, who hee seekte ye: And they layde, Iesus of Nazaret.

11 Then sayd Iesus vnto Peter, Put by thy sworde into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cuppe which [my] Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tooke Iesus, and bound him,

13 And led him away to <sup>d</sup> Annas first (for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest: that same yere)

14 And Caiaphas was he, that gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man shoulde die for the people.

15 C<sup>e</sup> Nowe Simon Peter folowed Iesus, and another discipule, and that discipule was knowen of the hie Priest: therefore hee went in with Iesus into the hall of the hie Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out the other discipule, which was knowen vnto the hie Priest, and spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maide that kept the doore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? hee sayde, I am not.

18 And the seruants & officers stoode there, which had made a fire of coles: for it was colde, and they warmed themselves. And Peter also stoode among them, and warmed himselfe.

19 C<sup>e</sup> The hie Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde: I euer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 why askest thou me? aske them which hearde me what I saide vnto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stood by, smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witness of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 C<sup>e</sup> Nowe Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the hie Priest.

25 And Simon Peter stoode and warmed himselfe, and they laide vnto him, Art not thou also of this disciples: he denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the hie Priest, his cousin whose eare Peter smote off, saide, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediately the cocke crewe.

28 C<sup>e</sup> Then led they Iesus fro Caiaphas into the common hall. Nowe it was morning, & they themselves went not into the common hall, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eate the Pascheeuer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and sayde, what accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we woud not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 [It was] that the worde of Iesus might be fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Iesus, and saide vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Saist thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the hie Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. what hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants woud surely fight, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Iewes: But nowe is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare it itnes vnto the truth: euery one that is of the truth, heareth my voyce.

38 Pilate sayde vnto him, what is truth? And when he had sayd that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and sayd vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 But you haue a custome, that I should deliuer you one looke at the Pasche: will ye then that I looke vnto you the King of the Iewes?

Psal. 69. 22.

28 After, when Iesus kneiwe that all things were performed, that the *Scripture might be fulfilled, he saide, I thirst.

29 And there was set a vessell full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it about an hyssope stalk, and put it to his mouth.

30 Now when Iesus had receiued of the vinegar, he said, <sup>10</sup> It is finished, and bowed his head, and gaue by the ghost.

31 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day:) for that Sabbath was at his day) besought Pilate that their legges might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

32 Then came the souldiers and brake the legges of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.]

33 But when they came to Iesus, and sawe that hee was dead already, they brake not his legges.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare pearced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he sayth true, that ye might beleue it.

36 For these things were done, that the *Scripture should be fulfilled, That a bone of him shalbe broken.

37 And againe another Scripture sayth, They shall see him whom they haue thrust through.

38 And after these things, Ioseph of Arimathea (who was a discipule of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the bodie of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence. hee came then & tooke Iesus bodie.

39 And there came also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrre and aloes mingled together about an hundred pound.

40 Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the manner of the Iewes is to burie.

41 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layed.

42 There then layed they Iesus, because of the Iewes Preparation (day,) for the sepulchre was nere.

2 Then shee ranne, and came to Simon Peter, & to the other discipule whom Iesus loued, and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we knowe not where they haue layd him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and the other discipule, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ranne both together, but the other discipule did outrunne Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And hee stouped downe, and sawe the linnen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

6 Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and sawe the linnen clothes lye.

7 And the kerchiefe that was vpon his head, not lying w the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also the other discipule, which came first to the sepulchre, and he sawe it, and beleued:

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture, That he must rise againe from the dead.

10 And the disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

11 But Marie stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

12 And sawe two Angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the fete, where the body of Iesus had layne.

13 And they saide vnto her, woman, why weepest thou? Shee saide vnto them, They haue take away my Lord, and I know not where they haue layd him.

14 When she had thus sayde, he turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and kneiwe not that it was Iesus.

19  $\text{C}$  The same day then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus and stood in the middes, and sayd to them,  $\text{h}$  Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so sayd, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they had seene the Lord.

21 Then sayd Jesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent me, so I send you.

22 And when he had sayd that, he breathed on them, and sayd vnto them, Receive the holy Ghost.

23 Whosoever sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them: [and] whosoever sinnes ye reteine, they are reteined.

24  $\text{C}$  But Thomas one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore sayd vnto him, We haue seene the Lord: but he sayd vnto them, Except I see in his hands the print of the naddes, and put my finger into the print of the naddes, and put mine hand into his side, I will not beleue it.

26  $\text{C}$  And eight dayes after againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Jesus, when the doores were shut, and stood in the middes, and sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 After sayd he to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and see mine hands, and put forth thine hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithles, but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou art my Lorde, and my God.

29 Jesus sayd vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou beleeuest: blessed are they that haue  $\text{not}$  seene, and haue beleueed.

30  $\text{C}$  And many other signes also did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 But these things are written, that ye might beleue, that Jesus is  $\text{p}$  Christ the Sonne of God, and that in beleueing ye might haue life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 He commaundeth Peter carefullly to feede his sheepe. 18 He sheweth him of his death. 25 Of Christes manifolde miracles,

After these thinges, Jesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himselfe.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter sayd vnto them, I go a fishing. They sayde vnto him, We also wil go with thee. They went their way, and entered into a shippe straight way, and that night taught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knewe not that it was Jesus.

5 Jesus then sayd vnto them, Sirs, haue ye any meate: they answered him, No.

6 Then he sayd vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall finde. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to drawe it, for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore sayd the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is  $\text{p}$  Lorde. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded his robe to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe in to the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by ship (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundred cubites) & they drew the net with fishes.

9 Assoone then as they were come to land, they saue hot coales, and fish layde thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus sayd vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now brought.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth, and drew

19 And this spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had sayd this, he sayd to him, Followe me.

20 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whome Jesus loued, following, which had also leane on his breast at supper, and had sayd, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therfore sawe him, he sayd to Jesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

22 Jesus sayd vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee: followe thou me.

23 Then went this worde abroad among the brethren, that this disciple should not dye. Yet Jesus sayde not to him, he shall not dye: but if I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is that disciple, which testified of these thinges, and wrote these thinges, and we knowe that his testimonie is true.

25 Nowe there are also many other thinges which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose the world could not contene the bookes that should be written. Amen.

8 But ye shall receiue power of the holy Ghost, when he shall come on you: and ye shall be witnesses vnto me, both in Ierusalem, and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the uttermost part of the earth.

23 For it shall be that euery person which shall not heare that prophet, shall be destroyed out of the people.

24 Also all the prophets from Samuel, and thenceforth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 We are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, Euen in thy seede shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 First vnto you hath God raised by his Sonne Jesus, and him he hath sent to bless you, in turning euery one of you from your iniquities.

And as they spake vnto the people, Priests, and the Captaine of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them, 2 Taking it grievously that they taught the people, and preached in Jesus name the resurrection from the dead.

7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what powder, or in what Name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 Forasmuch as we this day are examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, [to wit,] by what meanes he is made whole,

11 This is the stone cast aside of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other: for among men there is giuen none other name vnder heauen, where by we must be saved.

17 But that it be noised no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, & commanded them, that in no wise they should speake or teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter & John answered vnto them, and saide, whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, Iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake things which we haue seene and heard.

21 So they threatened them, and let them go, & found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboute fourtie yere olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then asloone as they were let go, they came to their felowes, and shewed all that the hie priestes and Elders had said vnto them.

29 And nowe, O Lord, beholde their threatenings, and graunt vnto thy seruants with all boldnesse to speake thy worde, 30 So that thou stretche forth thine hand, that healing and signes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holy Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that believed, were of one heart, & of one soule: neither any of them said, that any thing of which he possessed, was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them, that lacked: for as many as were possessours of landes or houses, sold them, and brought the price of the things that were sold,

10 Then she fell downe straight way at his feete, and yeclded by the ghost: and the yong men came in, and founde her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes & wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accorde in Solomons porch.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities rounde about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sick folkes, & them which were bered with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation,

19 But ¶ Angel of the Lord, by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Goe your way, and stande in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes<sup>m</sup> of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entered into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

24 Then when the [chiefe] Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the hie Priestes heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, least they should haue bene stoned)

27 And whē they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them,

28 Saying, Did not we straitly commaund you, that ye should not teach in this Name: and behold, ye haue filled Ierusalem with your doctrine, and ye would bring this mans<sup>p</sup> blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and saide, We ought rather to obey God then<sup>q</sup> men.

2 And he ſaide, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hear- ken. The God of <sup>b</sup> glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, while hee was in <sup>c</sup> Melopotania, before hee dwelt in Charran,

3 And ſaide vnto him, Come out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I ſhall ſhewe thee.

4 Then came hee out of the lande of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, [God] brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye now dwell,

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the breadth of a foote: yet he promiſed that he woulde giue it to him for a poſſeſſion, and to his ſeede after him, when as yet hee had no child.

6 But God ſpake thus, that his ſeed ſhoulde be a ſoiourner in a ſtrange lande, and that they ſhoulde keepe it in bond- dage, and entreate it euill <sup>d</sup> foure hun- dret yeeres.

8 *He gaue him also the couenant of circumcision: and so [Abraham] begate *Isaac, and circumcised him the eight day: and Isaac begate *Jacob, and Jacob the twelue *Patriarkes.

9 And the Patriarkes moued with enuie solde *Joseph into Egypt: but God was<sup>e</sup> with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and gaue him fauour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaos king of Egypt, who made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer<sup>e</sup> his whole house.

11 ¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, that our fathers founde no sustenance.

12 But whē *Jacob heard that there was come in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

13 *And at the seconde time, Joseph was knowen of his brethzen, and Josephs kindred was made knowne vnto Pharaos.

14 ¶ Then sent Joseph and caused his father to be brought, and all his kindred, euen<sup>s</sup> threescore and fiftene soules.

16 And were remoued into *Sychem, and were put in the sepulchre, that<sup>h</sup> Abraham had bought<sup>e</sup> for money of the sonnes of Emor, [sonne] of Sychem.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and euill entreated our fathers, & made them to cast out their yong children, that they should not remaine aliuē.

20 *The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished by in his fathers house thre moneths.

21 And when hee was cast out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mightie in wordes and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full fourtie yere olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 *And when he sawe one [of them] suffer wrong, hee defended him, & auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For he supposed his brethren would haue vnderstand, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 *And the next day, he shewed himselfe vnto them as they strone, & would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren: why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But hee that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yester day?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when fourtie yeres were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame<sup>e</sup> of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses sawe it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew nere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, [saying,]

32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled and durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord said to him, *Put off thy shooes from thy feete: for y place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groaning, and am come downe to deliuer them: & now come, and I will sende thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forlooke, saying, who made thee a prince and a iudge: the same God sent for a prince, & a deliuerer by y hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He<sup>e</sup> brought them out, doing wonders, and miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wilderness<sup>e</sup> fourtie yeres.

11 And they gaue heede vnto him, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sozerries.

12 But assoone as they beleueed Philippe, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe<sup>e</sup> beleueed also and was baptized, and continued with Philippe, and wondered, when hee sawe the signes & great miracles which were done.

14 Now when the Apostles, which were at Jerusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the worde of God; they sent vnto them Peter and John.

15 Which whe they were come dolvne, prayed for them, that they might receiue the<sup>e</sup> holy Ghost.

16 For as yet, he was come dolvne on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

17 Then layde they their handes on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw, y<sup>e</sup> through laying on of the Apostles handes the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money.

19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay the handes, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then saide Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be bought with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowshipp in this busines: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be<sup>e</sup> possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art<sup>m</sup> in the gall of<sup>e</sup> bitternes, & in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoke, come vpon me.

25 So they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the Gospell in many towncs of the Samaritanes.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philippe, saying, Arise, and go toward the South vnto the way that goeth dolvne from Jerusalem vnto Gaza, which is<sup>e</sup> waste.

30 And Philippe ranne thither, and heard him reade the Prophet Elaias, and said, But understandest thou what thou readeest?

31 And he sayd, howe can I, except I had a guide: And hee desired Philippe, that he would come by and sit with him.

32 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: & like a lambe dolvne before his hearer, so opened hee not his mouth.

34 Then the Eunuch answered Philippe, & said, I pray thee of whom speakest the Prophet this: of himselfe, or of some other man:

35 Then Philippe opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuch saide, See, [here is] water: what doth let me to be baptized?

37 And Philippe saide vnto him, If thou beleuest with<sup>e</sup> all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered, and saide, I beleuee that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if hee found any that were of that way (either men or women) hee might bring them bound vnto Jerusalem.

3 Nowe as he iourneyed, it came to passe that as he was come neere to Damascus, suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice, saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecuest thou me?

5 And he sayd, who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

6 He then both trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou that I do? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise and go into the cite, and it shall be tolde thee what thou shalt do.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stood amazed, hearing of his voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but saw no man. Then ledde they him by the hande, and brought him into Damascus,

9 where he was three dayes without sight, and neither ate nor dranke.

10 And there was a certaine discipule at Damascus named Ananias, & to him sayd the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he sayd, behold, I am here, Lord.

11 Then the Lord sayd vnto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Judas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, howe much euill hee hath done to thy Saints at Jerusalem.

14 Moreover here he hath authoritie of the hie priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, So thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, & kings, and the children of Israel. 16 For I will shewe him, how many things hee must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized,

19 And receiued meate, and was strengthened. So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straight way hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he, that destroyed them which called on this Name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bound vnto the hie Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming that this was the Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But their laying abait was knowe of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, and how he had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he was conuerfant with the at Jerusalem,

29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed with the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Celarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 He had the Churches rest through all Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, and were edified, & walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to Saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeres, and was sicke of the palsey.

34 Then saide Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and make by thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda, and Saron, saw him, & turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Joppa a certaine woman a disciple named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) shee was full of good workes and almes which shee did.

37 And it came to passe in those daies, that she was sicke and died: and when they had washed her, they laide her in an upper chamber.

38 Now for as much as Lydda was nere to Joppa, & the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that hee would not delay to come vnto them.

39 Then Peter arose and came with them: and when hee was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber, where all the widowes stood by him weeping, and shewing the coates and garments, which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the bodie, and saide, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, saide vp.

41 Then hee gaue her the hande and lift her vp, and called the saints and widowes, and restored her alme.

42 And it was knowne throughout all Joppa, & many beleued in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe that he taried many dayes in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

3 Cornelius admonished by the Angell, 7 he sendeth to Joppa, 11 The vision that Peter saw, 17 How he was sent to Cornelius, 24 The Gentiles also receiue the Spirit, & are baptized.

Furthermore there was a certaine man in Celarea called Cornelius, a captain of a band called the Italian band.

2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his household, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

3 He saide in a vision evidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angell of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when hee looked on him, hee was afraide, and said, what is it, Lord: And he saide vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 Nowe therefore send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angell which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his seruants, and a souldier that feared God, one of them that wayted on him,

8 And tolde them all things, and sent them to Joppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, and would haue eaten: but while they made something ready, he fell into a trance.

11 And he saide heauen opened, and a certaine vessel came downe vnto him, as [it had bene] a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 wherein were all manner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beasts and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eate.

For he was restored to life, rather that others might haue occasion to beleue, and glorifie God, then for her owne sake.
Or, currier,

A who had forsaken all superstitions and gaue himselfe to the true seruice of God.

That is, God did accept of: whereof it followeth that he had faith: for this is impossible to please God.

He shall speake wordes vnto thee whereby thou shalt be saved, and all thine house.

Which was midday.

As camels, hoxes, dogs, oren, heepe, swine, and such like which man nourisheth for his use.

4 Greeke, went in and out, n Which Peter and James, Gal. 1. 18, 19. o Spaking open profession of the Gospel. p Which were Jewes, but so called because they were dissipated through Grecia and other countries. q Because it was his owne country, and there he might haue some acquaintance.

Or, trusse thy couch together, r Spawning, the greatest part. f A place so called, and not a citie.

That is, a dier, or a bucke. Or, rich.

u To the intent that might burye her afterward: for this was their custome.

14 But Peter sayd, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

[Or, common.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the seconde time, The things that God hath purged, I pollute thou not.

16 This was to done thise: & the besell was dyauine by againe into heauen.

17 ¶ Nowe while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which he had seene meant, behold, the me which were sent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate,

18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and go with them, and doubt nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 ¶ Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and saide, Beholde, I am the whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherfore ye are come?

22 And they saide, Cornelius the centaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare thy wordes.

23 Then called he them in, & lodged them, and the next day, Peter went forth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 ¶ And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Nowe Cornelius waited for them, & had called together his kinemen, and speciall friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, & fell downe at his feete, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euē I my selfe am a man.

27 And as hee talked with him, hee came in, & found many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, We knowe that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed mee, that I should not call any man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me?

[Or, common.

30 Then Cornelius said, Foure dayes ago, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and beholde, a man stood before mee in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (he is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the seashide) who when hee cometh, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done to come. Nowe therefore are wee all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened [his] mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no acceptor of persons.

35 But in euery nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnes, is accepted with him.

36 We knowe the worde which God hath sent to the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all.

37 [Euen] the word which came through all Iudea beginning in Galile, after the baptism which Iohn preached,

38 To wit, how God anointed Iesus of Nazaret with the holy Ghost, & with power: who went about doing good, & healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which hee did both in the lande of the Iewes, and in Ierusalem: whom they slew, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised by the third day, and caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, [euen] to vs which did eate and drinke with him, after he arose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testifie, that it is hee that is ordeyned of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him also giue al the Prophets witness, that through his Name all that beleue in him, shall receiue remission of finnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the worde.

45 So they of the circumcision which beleueed, were astounded, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was polvized out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter,

47 Can any man forbid water, & these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost, as well as we:

CHAP. XI.

4 Peter heareth the cause wherefore he went to the Gentiles.

18 The Church appeareth it. 21 The Church increaseth.

22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophesieth dearth to come. 29 And the remedie.

NOwe the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard, that the Gentiles had also receiued & word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Ierusalem, they of the circumcisi<sup>o</sup> contended against him,

3 Saying, thou wentest in to men circumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded [the thing] in order to<sup>b</sup> them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I saue [this] vision, A certaine vessel comming downe as [it had bene] a great sheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to mee.

6 Towarde the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, & saue foure footed beasts of the earth, & wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: slay and cate.

8 And I saide, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauē, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, & all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediately there were three men alreadie come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit said vnto me, that I should go with the, without doubting: moreouer these six brethren came with me, and we entred into the mans house.

13 And hee shewed vs, how hee had seene an Angel in his house, which stood and sayde to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

14 He shall speake wordes vnto thee, whereby both thou and all thine house shalbe saued.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, *euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembered the worde of the Lord, how he said, *Iohn baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 For as much then as God gaue them a like gift, as [he did] vnto vs, when we beleeued in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God allo to the Gentiles granted *repentance vnto life.

19 And they which were scattered abroad because of the affliction that arose about Steuen, walked throughout til they came vnto Phenice and Cypzus, and Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Nowe some of them were men of Cypzus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number beleued & turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then sydings of those things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Ierusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go vnto Antiochia.

23 Who when he was come and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, & much people ioyned themselves vnto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:

26 And when hee had found him, he brought him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe that a whole yeere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, in so much, that the disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

27 In those daies also came prophets from Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stode vp one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit, n We ought not to delurre them of baptism whom God testifieth to be his: for seeing they haue the promise, that in Iesse, ought not to be denyed them, Iesus Christ, a For they could not yet comprehend this secret, which was hid from the Angels themselves, euen from the creation of the world, Ephes. 3. 8, 9, col. 1. 26 b We purgeth his fact before the Church.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders, by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAP. XII.

1 Herode persecuted the Christians. 2 Hee killeth James, 4 And putteth Peter in prison. 7 Whom the Lord deliuereth by an Angel. 23 The horrible death of Herode. 24 The Gospell flourisheth. 25 Barnabas and Saul returning to Antiochia, take Iohn Marke with them.

a Who was called Agrippa the foure of Antiochians: he was no pharisee vnto Herode the great, and brother of Herodias. b There was another so named which was the sonne of Alpheus. c It came then of no zeale nor religion, but onely to flatter the people. d The number being fixtene was divided by foures, to keepe diuers warres.

NOWE about that time, Herode the King stretched forth his handes to bere certaine of the Church.

2 And he killed James the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 And when hee saue that it pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further, to take Peter also, (then were the daies of vnleauened bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, hee put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quaternions of souldiours to keepe, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode would haue brought him out vnto the people, flame night slept Peter betwene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, & the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

Chap. xij.

7 And beholde, the Angell of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and he smote Peter on the side, and rayled him by, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fel off from his handes.

c Read Marke 6.9.

8 And the Angell sayde vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and binde on thy sandals. And so he did. Then he said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and followe me.

9 So Peter came out and folloved him, & knew not that it was true, which was done by the Angell, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Nowe when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the iron gate, that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by it owne accord, & they went out, & passed through one streete, and by and by the Angell departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he said, Nowe I knowe for a truerh, that the Lord hath sent his Angell, and hath deliuered mee out of the hand of Herode, and from all the wayting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Marie, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide came forth to hearken, named Rhode.

14 But when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the entrie doore, for gladnesse, but ran in, and tolde howe Peter stood before the entrie.

15 But they said vnto her, Thou art madde. Yet shee affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, & when they had opened it, and saue him, they were astonied.

17 And he beckened vnto them with the hand, to holde their peace, and tolde them howe the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, So shewe these things vnto James & to the brethren: and hee departed and went into another place.

18 Nowe alsoone as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and founde him not, hee examined the keepers, and commanded them to be led to bee punished. And hee went doo home from Iudea to Cesarea, and there labored.

20 Then Herode intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, and perswaded Blasius the Kings Chamberlaine, and they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the Kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herode araid him selfe in royall apparrell, and sate on the iudgement seat, & made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying, The voyce of God, & not of man.

23 But immediatly the Angell of the Lord smote him, because he gaue not glorie vnto God, so that he was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

f For they thought that Herode would haue put him to death, as he had purposed.

g For they did know by good word, that Angels were appointed to defend the faithful, and also in those dayes they were accustomed to see such sightes.

h Which was lesse suffer, by reason of the brethren.

i Both by flattering word, and also by hiserie.

CHAP. XIII.

2 Paul and Barnabas are called to preach among the Gentiles. 7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the forcerer. 13 The departure of Parke. 14 Paul preached at Antiochia. 42 The faith of the Gentiles. 46 The Iewes reſeered. 48 They that are opened to life, beleue. 52 The fruit of faith.

There were also in <sup>p</sup> Church that was at Antiochia, certaine Prophets & teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, & Manaben (which had bene brought by vnto herode the Tetrarch) and Saul.

2 Now as they<sup>b</sup> ministred to <sup>p</sup> Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost saide, Separate mee Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 Then fasted they and prayed, & laid their hands on them, and let them go.

4 And they, after they were* sent forth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the worde of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also John to their minister.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they found a certaine forcerer, a false prophet, being a Iew, named Bariefus,

7 which was with the Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. He called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the word of God.

8 But Elymas, the forcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, and sought to turne away the Deputie from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also [is called] Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtiltie & all mischiefe, the childe of the deuill, [and] enemie of all righteousnes, wilt thou not cease to peruert the straite wayes of the Lord:

11 Nowe therefore beholde, the hand of the Lord [is] vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, & not see the sunne for a season.
And immediately there fel on him a mist and a darkenes, and he went about, seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the Deputie when he sawe what was done, beleueed, & was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Nowe when Paul and they that were with him were departed by ship from Paphus, they came to Perga [a ci-tie] of Pamphylia: then John departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to<sup>d</sup> Antiochia [a ci-tie] of Pisidia, & went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and satte downe.

15 And after the lecture of the Lawe and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, We men & brethren, if ye haue any word of<sup>e</sup> exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckened with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, & exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of<sup>f</sup> Egypt, and with an<sup>g</sup> high arme brought them out thereof.

18 And about the time* of fourtie yeeeres, suffred he their<sup>h</sup> maners in the 27 For the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, & their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the wordes of the Prophets,

Which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they founde no cause of death in him, yet desired they pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all thinges that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him vp from the dead.

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galilee to Ierusalem, which are his witnesses vnto the people.

32 And wee declare vnto you, y<sup>e</sup> touching the promises made vnto y<sup>e</sup> fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he rayled vp Iesus, euen as it is writte in the second Psalme, *Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Nowe as concerning that he ray-led him vp from the dead, no more to returne to the graue, he hath said thus, *I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are faithfull.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another place, *Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 Holdbeit, Dauid after hee had ser-ued his time by the counsell of God, hee slept, and was layde with his fathers, and sawe corruption.

37 But he whom God raised vp, saw no corruption.

38 Be it knowne vnto you therefore, men [and] brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiuenesse of sinnes.

39 And from all thinges, from which ye coulde not be iustified by the Lawe of Moses, by him euery one that beleueth, is iustified.

40 Beware therefore, leaſt y<sup>e</sup> come vnto you, which is spoken of in the Prophets,

41 *Behold, ye despisers, & wonder, and banish alway: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye shal not beleue, if a man should declare it you.

42 And whē they were come out of the Synagogue of y<sup>e</sup> Jewes, y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles besought, that they woulde preach these wordes to them the next Sabbath day.]

43 Nowe when the Congregation was dissolved, many of the Jewes, and Proſelytes that feared God, followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabbath [day] came almost the whole cite together, to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Jewes sawe the people, they were full of enuie, and spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying [them], and rayling on [them.]

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldely, and sayde, *It was necessarie that the worde of God should first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it from you, andudge your selues vnworthy of euertlasting life, loe, wee turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord comanded vs, saying, *I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lord: and as many as were ordeined vnto eternall life, beleueed.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was published throughout y<sup>e</sup> whole coſtreyp.

50 But the Jewes stirred [certaine] denoute and honourable women, and the chief men of the cite, and rayled persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coaſtes.

51 But they hooke off the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioye, and with the holy Ghost.

1 When Paul had circumcised Timothee, he tooke him with him, 7 The Spirit called them from one countrey to another. 14 Lydia is converted. 18 Paul & Silas imprisoned, conuert the Tayles, 37 And are deliuered as Romanes.

Then came he to Derbe and to Lystra: and beholde, a certaine discipule was there named <sup>f</sup> Timotheus, a womanes sonne, which was a Jewesse & beleued, but his father was a Grecian.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.

3 Therefore Paul woulde that hee should goe forth with him, and tooke & circumcised him, because of the Jewes, which were in those quarters: for they knew all, that his father was a Grecian.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees to keepe, ordeined of the Apostles and Elders, which were at Ierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, & encreased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone through out Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were <sup>b</sup> forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia.

7 The came they to Mysia, & sought to goe into Bithynia: but the Spirit <sup>c</sup> suffered them not.

8 Therefore they passed through Mysia, and came downe to <sup>d</sup> Troas, 9 Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come in to Macedonia and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediately wee prepared to goe into Macedonia, being assured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and with a straight course came to Samothracia, & the next day to <sup>e</sup> Neapolis.

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe cite in the partes of Macedonia, and <sup>f</sup> whole inhabitantes came from Rome to dwell there, and we were in that cite abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the Sabbath day, we went out of the cite, besides a river, where they were wont to <sup>g</sup> pray: and wee sat downe, & spake vnto the women, which were come together.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the cite of Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that shee attended vnto the things which Paul spake.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, shee besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into mine house, and abide there: and the constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe that as wee went to prayer, a certaine maide hauing <sup>h</sup> a spirit of diuination, met vs, which gate her masters much bantage with dining.

17 Shee followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto vs the <sup>i</sup> way of saluation.

18 And this did the many dayes: but Paul being grieued, turned about, and said to the spirit, I command thee in the Name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And hee came out the same houre.

19 Nowe when her masters sawe that the hope of their game was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto <sup>k</sup> the Iudges.

20 And brought them to the Gouernours, saying, These men which are Jewes, trouble our cite,

21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 The people also arose by together against them, and the Gouernours rent <sup>l</sup> their clothes, and commanded [them] to be beaten with roddes.

earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by al word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

houre of the night, and washed [their] stripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him, straight way.

into his house, hee set meate before the,
and reioyced that hee with all his house hold beleued in God.

35. And when it was day, the gover-nours sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men goe.

36. Then the keeper of the prison tolde these wordes vnto Paul, [saying,] The governours haue sent to loose you: now therefore get you hence, & go in peace.

37. Then saide Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vi-condemned, which are Romanes, they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuily: nay verely: but let them come and bring vs out.

38. And y<sup>e</sup> sergeants told these wordes vnto y<sup>e</sup> Governours, who feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39. Then came they & prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the cite.

40. And they went out of the prison, and entred into the [house of] Lydia:
and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

5. But the Iewes which beleued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabondes, and wicked fellowes, and whe they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the ci-tie, and made assault against the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6. But when they founde them not, they dreeve Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of y<sup>e</sup> cite, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the world, and here they are, the heads of the cite, when they heard

these things.

receiued sufficient assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

12 Therefore many of them belceued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 But when the Jewes of Thel salonica knelve, that the worde of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren sent a way Paul to go as [it were] to y sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there stil.

15 And they that did conduct Paul, brought him into Athens: and when they had receiued a commendement vnto Silas & Timotheus that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 Nowe while Paul wayted for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when hee sawe the citie<sup>d</sup> subiect to idolatrie.

17 Therefore he disputed in the Synagogue with the Jewes, and with the that were religious, and in the market daily with whome soeuer he met.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of y Epicures, and of the Stoikes, disputed with him, and some said, what wilt thou babble say? Others said, we see meeth to be a letter forth of strange gods (because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into Mars streete, saying, May we not knowe, what this newe doctrine, whereof thou speakest is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: we would know therefore, what these things meane.

21 For all the Athenians, and strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselves to nothing els, but either to tell, or to heare some newes.

22 Then Paul stood in the middes of Mars streete, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things yee are to superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and behelde your deuotions, I found an altar where was written, VNTO THE VNKNOWN GOD. whome yee then ignorantly worshippe, him helve I vnto you.

24 God that made the world, and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heauen & earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 Neither is worshipped with mens handes, as though he needed any thing, seeing hee giveth to all life and bzeath and all things,

26 And hath made of one blood all mankind, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned times which were ordeined before, and the boundes of their habitation,

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if so be they might haue groped after him, and found him, though doubtles he be not farre from euery one of vs,

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as also certaine of your owne Poets haue said, For we are all of his generation.

29 Forasmuch the, as we are the generatio of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto golde, or siluer, or stone grauen by arte and the invention of man.

30 And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now he admonisheth all men euery where to repent,

31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousness, by that man whome hee hath appointed, whereof he hath giue an assurance to all men, in that hee hath raised him from the dead.

32 Nowe when they hearde of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other said, wee will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among them.

34 Holdest certaine men claue vnto Paul, and beleued: among whom was also Denis Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

3 And because hee was of the same craft, he abode with them & wrought (for their craft was to make tents.)

5 Now

5 Nowe When Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul burned in spirit, testifying to <sup>d</sup> Jewes that Jesus was the Christ.

6 And When they resisted and blasphemed, hee <sup>d</sup> shooke his rayment, and saide vnto them, <sup>d</sup> Pour blood [be] vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from hence forth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 So he departed thence, and entered into a certaine mans house, named Justus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

8 And <sup>d</sup> Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued in the Lord With all his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleued and were baptized.

9 Then saide the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this cite.

11 So he continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, & taught the word of God among them.

12 ¶ Now When Gallio was Deputie of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellowe perswadeth men to worshippe God contrarie to the Lawe.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, I would according to reason mainteine you.

15 But if it be a question of Words, and names, and of your Lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I will bee no iudge of those things.

16 And hee draue them fro the iudgement seate.

17 Then tooke all <sup>d</sup> Grecians <sup>d</sup> Sophenes <sup>d</sup> chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beate him before the iudgement seate: but Gallio cared nothing for those thinges.

18 But When Paul had taried there yet a good while, hee tooke leaue of the brethren, and sayled into Syria (with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that hee had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for hee had a <sup>d</sup> bovie.

19 Then hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Jewes.

20 Who desired him to tarie a longer time with them: but he woulde not consent,

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that cometh, in Jerusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, <sup>d</sup> if God will. So hee sayled from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And When hee came downe to Cesarea, hee went by [to Jerusalem]: and when hee had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Nowe When hee had taried [there] a while, he departed, and went through the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Iewe named <sup>d</sup> Apollon, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and <sup>d</sup> mightie in the Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, and hee spake feruently in the spirit, and taught diligently the thinges of the Lord, and knelwe but the <sup>d</sup> baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And hee begam to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whome When Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and <sup>d</sup> expounded vnto him the <sup>d</sup> waye of God more perfectly.

27 And When hee was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after hee was come thither, hee holpe the much which had beleued through grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publike-ly the Iewes with great behemicie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Jesus was the Christ.

5 So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And Paul layde his handes vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on the, and they spake the tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the me were about twelue.

8 <sup>c</sup> Moreover, he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of thre moneths, disputing and exhorting to the things that [appertayne] to the kingdom of God.

9 But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the way [of God] before the multitude, he departed from them, & separated the disciples, and disputed daily in the schole of one <sup>d</sup> Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that fro his body were brought vnto the sicke, kerchiefs, or handkerchiefs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spiritres went out of them.

13 Then certayne of the bagabonde Iewes, | exorcistes, tooke in hande to name ouer them which had euill spiritres, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, we <sup>e</sup> aduise you by Iesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were certaine sonnes of Sceua a Iewe, the Priest, [about] seuen which did this.

15 And the euill spiritres answered, and sayde, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I knowe: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, came on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against the, so that they fled out of that house, naked, and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleueed, came and confessed, & shewed their woakes.

19 Many also of them, which bled curious arts, brought their bookes, & burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and founde it <sup>f</sup> fiftie thousand [pieces] of siluer.

20 So the word of God grew mightily, and preuailed.

21 <sup>g</sup> Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed <sup>h</sup> by the spirit to passe through Macedonia and Achaia, and to go to Ierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of the that ministered vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, [but] he remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about that <sup>i</sup> way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius a siluer smith, which made siluer temples of Diana, <sup>j</sup> brought great gaines vnto the craftesmen:

25 Whome hee called together, with the workemen of like things, and sayde, Syrs, yee knowe that by this craft <sup>k</sup> we haue our goods.

26 Moreover yee see & heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with handes:

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, <sup>l</sup> that <sup>m</sup> state should be reproboued, but also that the <sup>n</sup> temple of the great goddesse Diana should be nothing esteemed, and that it woulde come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia & the <sup>o</sup> world worshippeth, shoulde be destroyed.

28 Nowe when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great [is] Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole cite was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, and caught <sup>p</sup> Gaius, and <sup>q</sup> Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companions of his journey.

30 And when Paul woulde haue entered in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

Paul goeth into Macedonia, and into Greece. 7 He celebrateth the Loyds supper and preacheth. 9 At Troas hee raysheth up Eutychus. 17 At Ephesus hee calleth the Elders of the Church together, committeth the keeping of Gods stocke unto them, warneth them of false teachers, maketh his prayer with them, and departeth by ship towards Jerusalem.

NOWE after the tumult was ceased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to go into Macedonia.

2 And when hee had gone through those partes, and had exhorted the with many words, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing taried there three moneths, because the Jewes layed wayte for him, as hee was about to sayle into Syria, hee purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth fro Philippi, after the daies of beleauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fine daies, where we abode seuen daies.

7 And the first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morowe, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there late in a winidolwe a certaine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, he ouercome with sleepe, fell downe from the thirde loft, and was taken by dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and layed him selfe vpon him, and embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 So when Paul was come by againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, he communed a long while till the dawning of the day, and so he departed.

12 And they brought the boye aliue, and they were not a litle comforted.

13 Then we went forth to ship, and sayled vnto the title<sup>d</sup> Assos, that wee might reseeue Paul there: for so had he appoynted, and woulde him selfe goe a foote.

14 Nowe when hee was come vnto ssos, and wee had receiued him, we came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, & the next day wee arrived at Samos, and taried at Trogyllum: the next day wee came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to sayle by Ephesus, because he woud not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted to be, if he could possible, at Jerusalem, at the day of Pentecost.

17 Wherfore from Miletum hee sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now beholde, I go bounde in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and know not what thinges shall come vnto mee there,

24 But I passe not at all, neyther is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfill my course with ioye, and the ministation which I haue receiued of the Lord Jesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now beholde, I know that henceforth ye al, through whom I haue gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure fro the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take herde therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, to feede the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I knowe this, that after my departing shall greivous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreover, of your owne selues shall men arise speaking peruerse things, to draue disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch and remember, that by [the space] of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

32 And now be brethren, I commend you to God, & to the worde of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to give you an inheritance, among al them which are sanctified.

33 I haue couetted no mans siluer, nor golde, nor apparell.

34 Yea, ye knowe, that these handes haue ministered vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all thinges, howe that so labouring, ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Jesus, howe that he saide, It is a blessed thing to give, rather then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with the all.

37 Then they wept all abundantly, & fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,

38 Being chiefly for the wordes which hee spake, That they shoulde see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the shippe.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feet, and said, * Thus sayeth the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Jerusalem bind the man that owberth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee had heard these things, both wee and other of the same place besought him that hee would not go vp to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and saide, What do ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am readie not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, wee ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those daies we trusted by our fardels, and went vp to Jerusalem.

16 There went with vs also [certaine] of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Gnason of Cyprus, an olde discipule, with whome wee shoulde lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when he had embraced them, he told by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 So when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, & saide vnto him, Thou feest, brother, how many thousande Iewes there are which beleene, & they are all zealous of the Law.

21 Nowe they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and sayst, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to lue [after] the customes.

22 What is then [to bee done]? the multitude must needs come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that wee say to thee. Wee haue foure men, which haue made a vowe.

24 Them take, and purifie thy selfe with them, and contribute with them, & they may haue their heads: & all shall knowe that those things, whereof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy self also walkest and keepest the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleene, we haue written, and determined: & they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from that that is strangled, and fro fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, * declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia [when they sawe him in the Temple] moued all the people, and laide handes on him,

28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the law, & this place: moreover, hee hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 For they had scene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the cite, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the cite was moued, and the people ran together: and they tooke Paul, and drue him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 But as they wet about to kill him, crydngs came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Jerusalem was on an vproare.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers and Centurions, and came downe vnto them: and when they sawe the chiefe Captaine & the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere and tooke him, and commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what hee had done.

34 And one tryed this, another that, among the people. So when he could not knowe certaintie for the tumult, he commanded him to be led into the castle.

YE men, brethren and fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 And when they heard that hee spake in the Hebrew tongue to the, they kept the more silence, & he said

3 I am verely a man, which am a Iewe, borne in *Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this cite at the feete of Gamaliel, & instructed according to the perfect maner of the lawe of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and delivering into prison both men and women.

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth beare me witness, and all the state of the Elders: of *whome also I receyued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring the which were there, bound vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 And so it was, as I iourneyed & was come nere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voyce, saying vnto mee, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me:

8 Then I answered, who art thou, Lord: And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whom thou persecutest.

9 Whereouer they that were with me, saw in deed a light and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I saide, what shall I doe, Lord: And the Lord said vnto mee, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall be tolde thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to do.

11 So when I could not see for the glorie of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came in to Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a godly man, as pertaining to the Lawe, hauing good reporte of all the Iewes which dwelt there,

13 Came vnto me, & stood, & said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: & that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he saide, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and shouldest see that <sup>d</sup>Just one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness vnto all men of the things, which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarrest thou: Arise, & be baptized, & wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, & prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance,

18 And sawe him saying vnto mee, Wake haste, and get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they wil not receiue thy witness concerning me.

19 Then I saide, Lord, they knowe that I *prisoned, & beat in euery Synagogue them that beleued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also *stood by, and consented vnto his death, and kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto me, Depart: for I wil sende thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they heard him vnto this worde, but then they lift vp their voyces, and said, Away with such a fellowe from the earth: for it is not meete that he should live.

23 And as they cried and cast off their clothes, and threwe dust into the aire,

24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the Castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined, that he might know wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bounde him with thongs, things, Paul saide vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, & sayde to him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? And he saide, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, with a great summe obtayned I this burgethipe. The Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 And the next day, because he would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he looked him from his bonds, and commanded the hie Priestes and all their Councill to come together: and he brought Paul, and set him before them.

3 The answer of Paul being finite, and the overthrow of his enemies. 11 The Loyd encourageth him. 23 And because the Iewes liked waite for him, he is sent to Cesarea.

AND Paul besyde earnestly the Councill, and saide, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vnto this day.

2 Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded the that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then saide Paul to him, God will smite thee, thou whited wal: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Lawe, and commandest thou mee to be smitten contrarie to the Lawe?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I knew not, brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, *Thou shalt not speake euill of the Ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceived that one part were of the Sadduces, & the other of the Pharises, he cried in the Councill, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And when hee had saide this, there was a dissention betwene the Pharises and the Sadduces, so that multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angell, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 Then there was a great cry: & the Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, & strone, saying, We find none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angell hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great dissention, the chiefe captaine, fearing least Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go dolvne, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castel.

11 And the night following the Lorde stood by him, and saide, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assemblie, and bounde them selues with an othe, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, & said, We haue bounde our selues with a solemne othe, that we will eate nothing, till we haue slaine Paul.

15 Nowe therefore, ye & the Councill signifie to the chiefe captaine, that hee bring him forth vnto you to morowe, as though ye would knowe some thing more perfectly of him, and we: or euer he come neere, will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying abayt, he went, & entered into the castel, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, & saide, Bring this young man vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shewe him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this young man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hande, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, what hast thou to shewe me?

20 And he saide, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morowe into the Councill, as though they woulde inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

22 The chiefe captayne then let the young man depart, and charged him to speake it to no man, that he had shewed him these things.

23 And hee called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make readie two hundred souldiers, that they may goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threefore and ten, and two hundred with darters, at the third houre of the night,

25 And hee wrote an Epistle in this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias vnto y most noble Governour Felix sendeth greeting.

27 As this man has bene taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, perceiving that he was a Roman.

28 And when I would haue knowlede the cause, wherfore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsell.

29 [There I perceived he was accused of questions of their lawe, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And whe it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laide waite for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, & commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Fare well.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left y horsemen to go with him, and returned vnto the Castle.

33 Now when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the Governour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So whe the Governour had read it, hee asked of what province hee was: and when hee vnderstood that he was of Cilicia,

35 I will heare thee, saide hee, when thine accusers also are come, and commanded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

10 Paul being accused, and swerth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 25 Felix prospereth him, thinking to haue a byde, 28 And after leaueing him in prison,

Nowe after five dayes, Ananias the high priest came down with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine Oratour, which appeared before the Governour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus beganne to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnesse through thee, and that many wortheie things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 we acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix with all thanks.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courtlie a fewe wordes.

5 Certainly we haue found this man a pestilent fellowe, and a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the worlde, and a chiefe maintainer of the secte of the Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore we tooke him, and woulde haue iudged him according to our Lawe:

7 But the chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whome thou mayest (if thou wilt inquire) knowe all these things wherof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the governour had beckened vnto him that hee shoulde speake, answered, I doe the more gladly answere for my selfe, for as much as I know that thou hast bene of many yerres a iudge vnto this nation,

11 Seeing that thou mayest knowe, that there are but twelue dayes since I came by to worshipping in Jerusalem.

12 And they neither founde me in the Temple disputing with any man, neither making bwpore among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the city.

13 Neither can they proue the things, wherof they nowe accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way (which they call hereticke) so worshipping I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Lawe and the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towarde God, that the resurrection of the dead which they them selues looke for also, shall be both

22 Except [it be] for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, Of the resurrection of the dead am I accused of you this day.

23 Nowe when Felix heard these things, he deferred them, and sayd, vnto I shall more perfectly knowe the things which concerne this way, by the coming of Lysias the chiefe Captaine, I will deale your matter.

24 Then he commanded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that he shoulde haue ease, & that he shoulde fordo none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine dayes, came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, [and] he called forth Paul, & heard him of the faith in Christ.

26 And as he disputed of righteousnesse and temperance, and of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, See thy way for this time, and when I haue convenient time, I will call for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bene giue him of Paul, & he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

28 When two yerres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix roome: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bounde.

CHAP. XXV.

When Festus was then come vnto the pounce, after three dayes he went by from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then the hie Priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he wold send for him to Ierusalem: & they laid waite to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, & that he him selfe woulde shortly depart [thither.]

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come do wne with vs: and if there be any wickednesse in the man, let them accule him.

6 Nowe when he had taried among them no more then ten dayes, he went do wne to Cesarea, and the next day late in the iudgement seat, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, & Iewes which were come from Ierusalem, stood about him, and layde many and greiuous complaints against Paul, which they coude not proue,

8 For as much as he answered, that he had neither offended any thing against the Lawe of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

9 Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and said, wilt thou goe by to Ierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stande at Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things wherof they accule me, no man can deliuer mee to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with the Councill, he answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar: vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came do wne to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus propoed Pauls cause vnto King, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix.

15 Of whome when I came to Ierusalem, the hie Priestes and the Elders of the Iewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, that it is not my manner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to the death, before he which is accused, haue accusers before him, & haue place to defend himselfe concerning

2 I thinke my selfe happie, King Agrippa, because I shall answer this

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, & questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore, I beseech thee, to heare me patiently.

8 Why shoulde it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God shoulde raise againe the dead:

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, I sought to doe many contrary thinges against the name of Iesus of Nazaret.

10 Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Saintes I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the hie Priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue [my] sentence.

28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 The Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also al that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bōds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, & Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene them selues, saying, This man doeth nothing worthe of death, nor of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue bene loosed, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

C H A P. XXVII.

NOW when it was concluded, that we shoulde saile into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, and certaine other prisoners vnto a Centurion named Julius, of the band of Augustus.

2 And * We entred into a shippe of Adramyttium purposing to saile by the coastes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

3 And the next day we arrived at Sidon: and Julius curteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friendes, y they might refresh him.

4 And from thence we laſched, and sailed hard by <sup>a</sup> Cyprus, because the windes were contrary.

5 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, [a citie] in Lycia.

6 And there the Centurion founde a shippe of Alexandria, sailing into Italie, and put vs therein.

7 And when we had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sailed hard by Candie, neere to <sup>b</sup> Salmone,

8 And with much a do sailed beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called the Faire hauens, neere vnto the which was the citie Lalea.

9 So when much time was spent, and sailing was nowe ieopardous, because also the <sup>c</sup> Fast was nowe passed, Paul exhorted [them,]

10 And saide vnto them, Sirs, I see that this voyage will be with hurte and much damage, not of the lading and shippe onely, but also of our liues.

11 Neuerthelesse the Centurion beleued rather the gouernour and the master of the shippe, then those thinges which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsel to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, [there] to winter, which is an haven of Candie, and lyeth toward the Southwest and by west, and Northwest and by west.

13 And when the southerne winde blew softly, they supposing to obtaine their purpose, loosed neerer, and sailed by Candie.

<sup>a</sup> From Sidon to Myra they shoulde haue sayled North, and by West: but the windes caused them to saile to Cyprus plaine North: thence to Cilicia North and by East, and so to Pamphylia and Myra plaine West. Or, Creta.

<sup>c</sup> This fast the Jewes obserued about the moneth of October in the Feast of their expiation, Leuit. 23. 37. So that Paul thought it better to winter there, then to saile in the deepe of winter which was at hande.

14 But

14 But anon after, there arose by it a stormie winde, called<sup>d</sup> Euroclydon.

15 And when the shippe was caught, and could not resist the wind, we let her goe, and were caried away.

16 And we ranne vnder a litle Ile named<sup>e</sup> Claudia, and had much a doe to get the boate.

17 Which they tooke vp and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the shippe, fearing least they shoulde haue fallen into Syrtes, and they let downe the<sup>f</sup> bestell, and so were caried.

18 The next day when we were tossed wth an exceeding tempest, they<sup>g</sup> lightened the shippe.

19 And the third day we cast out with our owne hands the takling of the ship.

20 And whē neither sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Sirs, ye should haue hearkened to me, & not haue loosed from Candie: so should ye haue<sup>h</sup> gained this hurt & losse.

22 But now I exhorte you to be of good courage: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, saue of the shippe onely.

23 For there stood by me this night the Angell of<sup>i</sup> God, whose I am, and whome I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and loe, God hath giuen vnto<sup>j</sup> thee all that saile with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good courage: for<sup>k</sup> I beleue God, that it shal be so as it hath bene tolde me.

26 Howbeit we must be cast into a certaine Ilande.

27 And when the fourtenth night was come, as wee were caried to and fro in the<sup>l</sup> Adriaticall [sea] about midnight, the shipmen deemed that some countrey approached vnto them,

28 And sounded, and founde it twentie fathoms: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and founde fiftene fathoms.

29 Then fearing least they shoulde haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

30 Nowe as the mariners were about to flee out of the shippe, and had let downe the boate into the sea vnder a colour as though they woulde haue cast ankers out of the foreshippe, 31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and the souldiers, Except these abide in the shippe, ye can not be safe.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the ropes of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when it beganne to be day, Paul exhorted them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourtenth day that ye haue taried, and continued<sup>m</sup> fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhorte you to take meate: for this is for your safegarde: for there shal not<sup>n</sup> an heare fal from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they also tooke meate.

37 Now we were in<sup>o</sup> the ship in all two hundreth, threescore and sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lightened the shippe, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certain creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the shippe.

40 So when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed [the ship] vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bondes, and hoysed vp the maine saile to the winde, and drewe to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place, where two seas met, they thrust in the ship: and the fore part stucke fast, & could not be moued, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 Then<sup>p</sup> the souldiers counsel was<sup>o</sup> to kill the prisoners: lest any of them, when he had swomme out, should flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, stayed them from [this] counsell, and commanded that they that coulde swimme, should cast themselves first into the sea, and goe out to lande:

44 And the other, some on boardes, and some on certaine [pieces] of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to lande.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Paul with his companie are gently intreated of the barbarous people. 5 The viper hurteth him not. 8 He healeth Publius father and others, and being furnished by them of things necessarie, he fared toward Rome. 15 Where being receiued of the brethren, he declareth his businesse. 30 And there preacheth two yeeres.

l Paul would vse such means as God had ordeined, least he shuld seeme to haue tempted him.

m He meaneth an extraordinary abstinence, which came of the feare of death, and so tooke away their appetite. n By this he sheweth phrase is ment that they shoulde be in all points safe and sound.

o 1. Sam. 14. 45
1. King. 1. 52.
Mat. 10. 30.

o This declarereth the greas & barbarous ingratitude of the wicked, which can not be wonne by any benefites.

And

a Now called Malta,

And when they were come safe, then they knew that the Isle was called <sup>a</sup> Melita.

2 And <sup>b</sup> Barbarians shewed vs no little kindenes: for they kindled a fire, & receiued vs euery one, because of the present shoure, & because of the colde.

|| Or, heape.

3 And when Paul had gathered a number of sticks, and layde them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and lept on his hand.

b Such is the peruerse indgement of men, that they condemn such as they see in any affliction.

4 Now when the Barbarians sawe the worme hang on his hand, they sayd among themselves, This man surely is <sup>a</sup> mutherer, whome, though he hath escaped the sea, yet <sup>c</sup> Vengeance hath not suffred to liue.

c Whom they made a goddesse and called her Dice, or Remedis.

5 But he shooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

d Beholde the extremitie of these infidels, and how much they are bent to superstition: for after one rage & error they fall into another.

6 Howbeit they wayted when hee should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and sawe no inconuenience come to him, they changed their mindes, and sayd, That he was a <sup>d</sup> God.

7 In <sup>e</sup> same quarters, the chiefe man of the Isle (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, and of a bloodie fire: to whome Paul entred in, and when he prayed, he layd <sup>f</sup> his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the Isle, which had diseases, came to him and were healed,

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when we departed, they laded vs with things necessarie.

e These the Paimins sayned to be Jupiters children and goddesses of the sea.

11 Now after three moneths we departed in a shippe of Alexandria, which had wintred in the Isle, whose badge was <sup>g</sup> Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we arrived at Syracuse, we taried <sup>h</sup> there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South Winde blew, and we came the second day to Putioli, 14 Where we found brethren, & were desired to tarie with them seuen dayes, and so we went toward Rome.

f These places were distant from Rome a dayes iourney or thereabout, || Or, shoppes,

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at the Market of Appius, and at the <sup>i</sup> Three <sup>j</sup> tauerns, whome when Paul saw, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the generall Captaine: but Paul was <sup>g</sup> suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Jewes together: and when they were come, he sayd vnto them, Men <sup>h</sup> and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against <sup>i</sup> people, or Lawes of the fathers, <sup>j</sup> yet was I deliuered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jewes spake contrarie, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see <sup>k</sup> you, and to speake with <sup>l</sup> you: for <sup>m</sup> hope of Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they sayd vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any euill of thee.

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into <sup>n</sup> his lodging, to whome he expounded and testified the <sup>o</sup> kingdome of God, and preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Lawe of Moyses, & out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded with the things, which were spoken, & some beleueed not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one worde, <sup>p</sup> [to wit,] well spake the holy Ghost by <sup>q</sup> Esaias the Prophet vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, <sup>r</sup> Go vnto this people, and say, By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing ye shall see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fat, & their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, lest they should see with <sup>s</sup> their eyes, and heare with <sup>t</sup> their eares, and vnderstand with <sup>u</sup> their hearts, and should returne that I might <sup>v</sup> heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you,

g No dout the captaine vnder stood both by Festus letters, and also by the report of the vnder captaine that Paul had committed no fault.

h That is, for Iesus Christs cause, whome they had long looked for as he that should be the redeemer of the worlde.

i That this kingdome, which was spoken of by the Prophets, was offered vnto them by the coming of Christ.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great mercie of God is declared toward man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousness is made ours through fayth. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the Lawe, yea, committed most abominable, both against the Law of God and nature, the infinite bountie of God, mindfull of his promise made to his seruant Abraham, the father of all beleeuers, ordeined that mans saluation should onely stand in the perfect obedience of his sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles should be saued by fayth in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iust only through faith, and yet afterward receiued circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousness by fayth. And to the intent that none should thinke that the couenant which God made to him, and his posteritie, was not perfourmed: either because the Iewes receiued not Christ, (which was the blessed seede) or els beleued not that he was the true redeemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notablie preferue the Iewes, the examples of Ismael & Esau declare, that all are not Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the very strangers & Gentiles grafted in by fayth, are made heyres of the promes. The cause whereof is the onely will of God: forasmuch as of his free mercie he electeth some to be saued, and of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Iewes should not be too much beaten downe, nor the Gentiles too much puffed vp, the example of Elias proueth, that God hath yet his elect euen of the naturall posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to mans eye: and for that preferment that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberall mercie of God, which he at length will stretch toward the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them both. This groundworke of fayth and doctrine layde, instructions of Christian maners follow: teaching euery man to walke in roundnes of conscience in his vocation, with all patience and humblenes, reuerencing and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting off the olde man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weake, and louing one another according to Christes example. Finally, saint Paul after his commendations to the brethren exhorteth them to vnitie, and to flee false preachers and flatterers, & so concludeth with a prayer.

Wise men and vnto the vnwise.

15 Therefore, as much as in me is, I am readie to preache the Gospel to you also that are at Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God vnto saluation to euery one that beleeueth, to the Jewe first, and also to the Grecian.

17 For by it the righteousness of God is reueiled, from faith to faith: as it is written, * The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against all vngodlines, and vnrightheousnes of men, which withholdeth the trueth in vnrightheousnes,

19 Forasmuch as that, which may be knowne of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For invisible things of him, that is, his eternall power and Godhead, are seene by the creation of the world, being considered in [his] workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 * Because that when they knewe God, they glorified him not as God, neyther were thankfull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darkenes.

22 When they professed themselves to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glorie of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, & of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gaue them by to their heartes lustes, vnto vncleanes, to defile their owne bodies betwene themselves:

25 Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped & serued the creature, || forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for ever, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them by vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the natural vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthines, and receiued in themselves such recompense of their errour, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to knowe God, [euen so] God deliuered them by vnto a reprobate minde, to doe those things which are not conuenient,

29 Being full of all vnrightheousnes, fornication, wickednesse, couetousnesse, maliciousnesse, full of enuie, of murder, of debate, of deceite, taking all things in the euill part, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proude, boasters, inuentors of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, mercilesse.

31 Which men, though they knewe the Lawe of God, how that they which commit such thinges, are worthe of death, [yet] not onely do the same, but also fauour them that do them.

CHAP. II.

1 He feareth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement, 7 And comforteth the faithfull. 12 To beate downe all vaine pretence of ignorance, holines, and of alliance with God, he proueth all men to be sinners. 15 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 The Jewes by the Lawe written.

Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that iudgest: * for in that that thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that iudgest, doest the same things.

2 But we know that the iudgement of God is according to trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that iudgest them which doe such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God:

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifullnes, and patience, & long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifullnes of God leadeth thee to repentance:

5 But thou, after thine hardnes, and heart that cannot repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

6 * Who will rewarde euery man according to his workes:

7 [That is,] to them which by continuance in wel doing seeke glorie, and honour, and immortallitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the trueth, and obey vnrightheousnes, [shall be] indignation and wrath.

10 But to euery man that doth good, [shalbe] glorie, and honour, and peace, to the Iewe first, and [also] to the Grecian.

11 For there is no *respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as haue sinned without the Law, shall perish also without the Law: and as many as haue sinned in the Law, shall be iudged by the Law, 13 (* For the hearers of the Lawe [are] not righteous before God: but the doers of the Lawe shall be iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Lawe, doe by nature the things [conteyned] in the Lawe, they hauing not the Lawe, are a Lawe vnto themselves,

15 which shew the effect of the Law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts accusing one another or excusing,)

16 At the day when God shall iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the Lawe, and *gloriest in God,

18 And knowest [his] Will, and allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Lawe:

19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenes,

20 An instructor of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the Lawe.

21 Thou therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe: thou that preacheest, A man should not steale, dost thou steale?

22 Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adulterie, dost thou commit adulterie: thou that abhorrest idols, committest thou sacriledge?

23 Thou that gloriest in the Lawe, through breaking the Lawe dishonourest thou God:

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, *as it is written.

25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Lawe: but if thou be a transgressor of the Law, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Lawe, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Law) iudge thee, which by the letter and circumcision [art] a transgressor of the Lawe?

28 For he is not a Jewe, which is one outward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But hee is a Jewe which is one within, and the *circumcision [is] of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Hauing graunted some prerogative to the Iewes, because of Gods free and stable promises, 10 He prooueth by the Scriptures, both Iewes and Gentiles to be sinners, 21. 24 And to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by workes, 31 And so the Lawe to be established.

What is then the preferment of the Jewe: or what is the profite of circumcision?

2 Much euery maner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what, though some did not beleue: shall their *vnbellefe make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, and *euery man a liar, as it is written, *That thou mightest be iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, when thou art iudged.

5 Now if our vnrighteousnes commend the righteousness of God, what shall wee say: Is God vnrighteous which punisheth: (I speake as a man)

6 God forbid: els howe shall God iudge the world?

7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as we are blamed, and as some affirme that we say) why doe we not euill, that good may come [thereof:] whose damnation is iust.

9 What then: are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already proued, that all, both Iewes and Gentiles are *vnder sinne, signifieth them that is to euerlasting life, which here is called the glorie of God.

k D<sup>i</sup> fidelitie in performing his promes.

l The Lawe of faith is the Gospel which offereth saluation with condition (if thou belieuest)

which condition also Christ freely giueth to vs. So the condition of the Lawe is (if thou doest all these things)

the which only Christ hath fulfilled for vs.

m Meaning that they are all iustified by one meanes,

and if they will haue any difference, it one-ly standeth in wordes: for in effect there is none.

n The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Lawe: for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Lawe: so that the Lawe which coulde not bring vs to saluation by reason of our owne corruption, is nowe made effectuell to vs by Christ Iesus,

14 * whose mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse.

15 * Their feete are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and calamitie [are] in their wayes,

17 And the way of peace they haue not knowen.

18 * The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 Nowe we know that whatsoeuer the Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Lawe, that euery mouth may be stopped, and all the worlde be culpable before God.

20 * Therefore by the workes of the Lawe shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Lawe [commeth] the knowledge of sinne.

21 But nowe is the * righteousness of God made manifest without the Lawe, hauing witnesse of the Lawe and of the Prophets,

22 [To wit,] the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are <sup>i</sup>deprived of the glorie of God,

24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

25 Whom God hath set forth [to be] a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his <sup>k</sup> righteousness, by the for-giuenesse of the sinnes that are passed through the patience of God,

26 To shewe at this time his righteousnesse, that hee might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.

27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Lawe: of workes?
Nay: but by the <sup>l</sup> Lawe of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Lawe.

29 [God,] is he the God of the Jewes onely, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, even of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God who shall iustifie circumcision <sup>m</sup> of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 Doe we then make the Lawe of none effect through faith? God forbid:
yea <sup>n</sup> we establish the Lawe.

C H A P. IIII.

1. 17 He declareth that iustification is a free gift, euen by them themselves, of whom the Jewes most boasted, as of Abraham and of David, 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith,

Vhat shall we say then, that Abraham our father hath found <sup>a</sup> concerning the flesh?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath wherein to reioyce, but not with God.

3 For what saith the Scripture? * Abraham beleueed God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

4 Nowe to him that <sup>c</sup> worketh, the wages is not counted by fauor, but by det,

5 But to him that <sup>d</sup> worketh not, but beleueeth in him that <sup>e</sup> iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righte-ousnesse.

6 Euen as David declareth the bles-sednes of the man, vnto whom God im-puteth righteousness without workes,

[saying,]

7 * Blessed [are] they, whose iniquities are forgiven, & whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed [is] the man, to whome the Lord imputeth not sinne.

9 [Came] this blessednes then vpon the <sup>f</sup> circumcision [onely,] or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousnes.

10 How was it then imputed? When hee was circumcised, or vncircumcised?
not when he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.

11 * After he receiued the signe of circumcision, [as] the seale of the righteousnes of the faith which he had, when hee was vncircumcised, that hee should be the father of all them that beleue, not being circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed to them also,

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them only which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the <sup>g</sup> steppes of the faith of our father Abraham, [which he had] when he was vncircumcised.

13 For the promes that hee should be the heire of the world, was not [given] to Abraham, or to his seede, through the <sup>h</sup> Lawe, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which <sup>i</sup> are of the Law, [be] <sup>k</sup> heires, faith is made voyde, and the promes is made of none effect.

15 For the Lawe causeth <sup>l</sup> wrath: for where no Lawe is, there [is] no <sup>m</sup> transgression.

16 Therefore [it is] by faith, that [it might come] by grace, and the promises might be sure to<sup>n</sup> all the seed, not to that onely which is of the Lawe: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is writtē, *I haue made thee a father of many nations) [euen] before God whome hee beleueed, who quickeneth the<sup>p</sup> dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 which [Abraham] aboue hope, beleueed vnder hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken [to him,] * So shall thy seede be.

19 And hee<sup>q</sup> not weake in the faith, considered not his owne bodie, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yere olde, neither<sup>r</sup> the deadnes of Saras wombe.

20 Neither did hee doute of the promises of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue<sup>f</sup> glorie to God,

21 Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to do it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed to him for righteousness,

24 But also<sup>r</sup> for vs, to whome it shall be imputed [for righteousness], which beleue in him that rayled by Jesus our Lord from the dead.

25 who was deliuered [to death] for our sinnes, and<sup>u</sup> is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

1 He declareth the fruite of faith, 7 And by comparison setteth forth the loue of God and obedience of Christ, which is the foundation and ground of the same.

When being iustified by faith, we haue<sup>a</sup> peace toward God through our Lorde Jesus Christ.

2 * By whome also we haue accessethrough faith vnto this grace, wherein we stand, and reioyce vnder the hope of the glorie of God.

3 Neither [do we so] only, but also we* reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, and experience hope,

5 And hope maketh not<sup>b</sup> ashamed, because the<sup>c</sup> loue of God is shed abroad in our heartes by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For Christ when we were yet of no strength, at [his] time, dyed for the* vngodly.

7 Doubtlesse one will scarce die for a<sup>d</sup> righteous man: but yet for a<sup>c</sup> good man it may be that one dare die.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saued from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were<sup>e</sup> enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, we shall be saued by his life.

11 And not onely [so,] but we also reioyce in God through our Lorde Jesus Christ, by whom we haue now receiued the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entered into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer all men: forasmuch as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the<sup>s</sup> time of the Lawe was sinne in the worlde, but sinne is not imputed, while there is no Lawe.

14 But death reigned from Adam to Moles, euen ouer them also that sinned not<sup>h</sup> after the like maner of the transgression of<sup>i</sup> Adam, which was the figure of<sup>k</sup> him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if through the offence of one, many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Jesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Neyther is the gift [so,] as [that which entered in] by one that sinned: for the faulte [came] of one [offence] vnto condemnation: but the gift [is] of many offences to iustification.

17 For if by<sup>p</sup> offence of one, death reigned through one, much more shall they which receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of<sup>m</sup> righteousness, reigne in life through one, [that is,] Jesus Christ.

18 Likewise then as by the offence of one, [the fault came] on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, [the benefit abounded] toward<sup>n</sup> all men to the iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many also be made righteous.

20 Whereouer the<sup>o</sup> Law entered thereupon that the offence should<sup>p</sup> abound: neuertheneuerthelesse, Where sinne abounded, [there] grace abounded much more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousness vnto eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man shoulde glory in the flesh, but rather seeke to subdue it to the Spirit, 3 He sheweth by the vertue and end of Baptisme, 5 That regeneration is ioyned with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to goodly life, 21 Setting before mens eyes the reward of sinne and righteousness.

What shall we say then? Shall we continue still in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 How shall we, that are <sup>a</sup> dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

3 Know ye not, that <sup>a</sup> all wee which haue bene baptized into <sup>b</sup> Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized into his death?

4 <sup>a</sup> We are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that like as Christ was raysed vp from the dead by the glorie of <sup>c</sup> Father, so we also should <sup>a</sup> walke in newnes of life.

5 <sup>a</sup> For if we be <sup>c</sup> grafted with him <sup>d</sup> to the similitude of his death, even so shall we be [to the similitude] of his resurrection,

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the <sup>e</sup> body of sinne might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is <sup>f</sup> freed from sinne.

8 Wherefore, if wee be dead with Christ, we beleue that we shall liue also with him,

9 Knowing that Christ being raysed from <sup>g</sup> dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he died, he died once <sup>h</sup> to sinne: but in that he liueth, he liueth to God.

11 Likewise thinke ye also, that ye are dead to sinne, but are alieue <sup>k</sup> to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall bodie, that ye should obey it in the <sup>l</sup> lustes thereof.

13 Neither giue ye your members [as] weapons of unrighteousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are alieue from the dead, and [giue] your members [as] weapons of righteousness vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you: for ye are not vnder <sup>m</sup> Law, but vnder <sup>n</sup> grace.

15 What then? shall we sinne, because we are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 <sup>a</sup> Knowe ye not, that to whom so euer ye giue your selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey, whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of <sup>b</sup> obedience vnto righteousness?

17 But God [be] thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but ye haue obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, whereunto ye were <sup>c</sup> deliuered.

18 Being then made <sup>d</sup> free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousness.

19 I speake <sup>e</sup> after the maner of man, because of the infirmitie of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to uncleannesse and to iniquitie, to [commit] iniquitie, so nowe giue your members seruants vnto righteousness in holinesse.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were freed from righteousness.

21 What fruite had ye then in those things, whereof ye are nowe ashamed? For the <sup>f</sup> ende of those things [is] death.

22 But nowe being freed from sinne, and made seruants vnto God, ye haue your fruite in holinesse, & the ende, everlasting life.

23 For the <sup>g</sup> wages of sinne is death: but <sup>h</sup> gift of God [is] eternal life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

<sup>i</sup> We may gather that we are dead to sin, when sinne beginneth to die in vs: which is by the participation of Christes death, by whom also being quickened, we liue to God, that is, to righteousness.

<sup>k</sup> In that ye are led with the spirit of God.

1 The minde first ministereth euill motions, whereby mans will is entised: thence burst forth the lustes, by them the body is prouoked, and the body by his actions doth sollicit the minde: therefore he commandeth at <sup>l</sup> least <sup>l</sup> we rule our bodies, || Or, instruments or armour.

not an adultresse, though thee take an other man.

4 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the lawe by the body of Christ, that ye should be vnto an other, [euē] vnto him that is raysed by from the dead, that we should bring forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were<sup>d</sup> in the flesh, the motions of sinnes, which were by the Lawe, had force in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But now we are delivered from the Law, being dead<sup>e</sup> vnto it, wherein we were holden, that we should serue in newnesse of Spirit, and not in y<sup>e</sup> oldenes of the letter.

7<sup>f</sup> What shall we say then: [Is] the Law sinne: God forbid. Nay, I knew not sinne, but by the Lawe: for I had not known<sup>g</sup> lust, except the Lawe had sayd, *Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the commandement, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence: for without the Lawe sinne [is] dead.

9 For I once<sup>h</sup> was aloue, without the Lawe: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued,

10 But I died: and the same commandement which was [ordained] vnto life, was found [to be] vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the commandement, and deceyued me, & thereby slewe [me].

12 Wherefore the Law [is] <sup>a</sup>holy, and the commandement [is] holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which is good, made death vnto me: God forbid: but sinne, that it might<sup>i</sup> appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that sinne might be out of measure sinfull by the commandement.

14 For we know that the Lawe<sup>k</sup> is spirituall, but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 For I allow not that which I doe: for what I<sup>l</sup> would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I do then that which I would not, I consent to the Law, y<sup>e</sup> [it is] good.

17 Now then, it is no more I that do<sup>m</sup> it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me, that is, in my<sup>n</sup> flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me: but I finde no meanes to perfourme that which is good.

19 For I do not the good thing, which

I would,<sup>n</sup> but the euil, which I would not, that do I.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by<sup>p</sup> the Law, that when I would doe good, euil is present with me.

22 For I delite in the Lawe of God, concerning the<sup>o</sup> inner man:

23 But I see another<sup>q</sup> lawe in my members, rebelling against the law of my minde, and leading me captiue vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer me from the<sup>r</sup> body of this death:

25 I thanke God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Then I my selfe in my<sup>s</sup> mind serue the Law of God, but in my<sup>t</sup> flesh the law of sinne.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The assurance of the faythfull, and of the fruites of the holy Ghost in them, 2 The weakenes of the Lawe, and who accomplished it, 3 And wherefore, 4 Of what sort the faithfull ought to be, 5 The fruite of the Spirit in them. 17 Of hope, 18 Of patience vnder the crosse, 28 Of the mutuall loue betwixt God and his children, 29 Of his foreknowledge.

3 For (that that was impossible to the lawe, in as much as it was<sup>e</sup> weake, because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne, in the<sup>f</sup> similitude of sinful flesh, and for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh,

4 That the<sup>g</sup> righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, sa- uour the<sup>h</sup> things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

r Which shal-be in the resurrection,

when we shalbe made confozmable to our head Christ.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 Nowe ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the bodie is dead, because of sinne: but the Spirit [is] life for righteousness sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Jesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that rayled vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortall bodyes, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are debtors not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh:

13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye mortifie the deedes of the body by the Spirit, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receyued the spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receyued the Spirit of adoption, whereby we crye Abba, Father.

16 The same Spirit beareth witnes with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

17 If [we be] children, [we are] also heires, euen the heires of God, and heires annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him.

18 For I count that the afflictions of this present time [are] not worthe of the glory, which shalbe shewed vnto vs.

19 For the feruent desire of the creature wayteth when the sonnes of God shalbe reueiled,

20 Because the creature is subiect to vanitie, not of it owne will, but by reason of him, which hath subdued it vnder hope,

21 Because the creature also shalbe deliuered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we know that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine together vnto this present.

23 And not onely [the creature,] but we also which haue the first frutes of the Spirit, eue we do sigh in our selues, wayting for the adoption, [euen] the redemption of our body.

24 For wee are saued by hope: but hope that is seene, is not hope: for howe can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, we do with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what to pray as we ought: but the spirit it selfe maketh request for vs with sighs, which can not be exprest.

27 But he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for he maketh request for the Saintes, according to [the will of] God.

28 Also we knowe y all things worke together for y best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of [his] purpose.

29 For those which he knew before, he also predestinate to be made like to the image of his Sonne, that he might be the first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreouer whom he predestinate, them also he called, and whom he called, them also he iustified, and whom he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall wee then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all [to death,] howe shall he not with him giue vs all things also?

33 Who shall lay any thing to y charge of Gods chosen? [it is] God that iustifieth, 34 Who shall condemne? [it is] Christ, which is dead, yea or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of y Christ? shall tribulation or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

36 As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed all day long: we are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.

37 Neuertheles, in all these things we are more then conquerours through him that loued vs.

38 For I am perswaded that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principalties, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shalbe able to separate vs from y loue of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

b That is, wherewith God loueth vs in his Sonne Christ Jesus.

f By hope is meant that thing which we hope for.

Brethren, mine hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue<sup>a</sup> the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they, being ignorant of the righ-teousnes of God, and going about to stablish their owne righteousness, haue not submitted themselves to the righteousnes of God.

4 * For Christ [is] the<sup>b</sup> ende of the Lawe for righteousness vnto every one that beleueeth.

5 For Moses [thus] describeth<sup>c</sup> righ-teousnes which is of the Lawe, * That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.

6 But the righteousness which is of fayth, speaketh on this wise, * Say not in thine heart, who shall ascend into heauen: (that is to bring Christ from aboue)

7 Or, who shall descende into the deepe: (that is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

8 But what saith it: * The worde is neere thee, [euen] in thy mouth, and in thine heart. This is the<sup>d</sup> worde of fayth which we preach.

9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lorde Jesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart, that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the heart man beleueeth vnto righteousness, & with<sup>e</sup> the mouth man confesseth to saluation.

11 For the Scripture saith, * whosoeuer beleueeth in him, shall not be ashamed.

12 For there is no difference betweene the Jewe and the Grecian: for he that is Lorde ouer all, is rich vnto all, that call on him.

13 * For whosoever shall call vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 But how shall they call on him, in whom they haue not beleueed: and how shall they beleue in him, of whom they haue not heard: and howe shall they heare without a preacher:

15 And howe shall they preach, except they be sent: as it is written, * Howe beautifull are the<sup>f</sup> feete of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, * Lorde, who hath beleueed our<sup>g</sup> report.

17 Then saith [is] by hearing, & hearing<sup>g</sup> by the worde of God.

18 But I demaunde, haue<sup>h</sup> they not heard: * No dout their sound went out through all the earth, and their wordes into the ends of the<sup>k</sup> world.

19 But I demaund, Did not Israel know [God:] First Moses saith, * I wil prouoke you to enuie by a nation that is not [my] nation, and by a foolish [nation]
I wil anger you.

20 * And Esaias is bolde, and saith,
I was found of them that sought me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

21 And vnto Israel he saith, * All the day long haue I stretched forth mine hand vnto a<sup>i</sup> disobedient, and gaine saying people.

there a remnant through the election of grace.

6 And if [it be] of grace, it is no more of works: or els were grace no more grace: but if it be of works, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that he sought: but the election hath obtained it, and the rest haue bene hardened,

8 According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirite of slumber: eyes that they should not see, and eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

9 And David saith, * Let their d table be made a snare, and a net, & a stumbling block, euen for a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and c bowe downe their backe alwayes.

11 I demaund then, haue they stumbled, that they f should fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation [cometh] vnto the Gentiles, to s prouoke them to follow them.

12 Wherefore if the fall of them [be] the riches of the worlde, and the diminishing of them the h riches of the Gentiles, howe much more shall their abundance [be:]

13 For [in that] I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office,

14 [To trie] if by any meanes I might prouoke them of my flesh to followe them, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them [be] the reconciling of the world, what [shall] the receiuing [be,] but k life from the dead?

16 For if l the first fructes [be] holy, so [is] the whole lump: and if the m roote be holy, so [are] the branches.

17 And though some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde oliue tree, wast grafted in for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnes of the n oliue tree,

18 Boast not thy selfe against p branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: through vnbelieve they are broken off, and thou standest by faith: be not o hie minded, but o feare.

21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, [take heede,] lest he also spare not thee.

22 p Beholde therefore the bountifulnes, and seueritie of God: toward them which haue fallen, seueritie: but toward thee, bountifulnes, if thou continue in [his] bountifullnes: or els thou shalt also be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in vnbelieve, shalbe grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wast cut out of the oliue tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast grafted contrarie to nature in a right oliue tree, howe much more shall they that are by nature, be grafted in their owne oliue tree:

25 For I would not brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this secret (least ye should be arrogant in your selues) that partly q obstinacie is come to Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so r all Israel shall be saued, as it is written, * The deliuerer shall come out of Sion, and shall turne away the vngodlines from Jacob.

27 And this is my covenant to them, * when I shall take away their sinnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, [they are] enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloued for the fathers sakes.

29 For the s giftes and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For euen as ye in time past haue not beleued God, yet haue nowe obtained mercie through their vnbelieve, 31 Euen so nowe haue they not beleued t by the mercie [shewed] vnto you, that they also may obtaine mercie.

32 For God hath shut vp u all in vnbelieve, that hee might haue mercie on all.

33 v O the deepenes of the riches, both of the wisdom, & knowledge of God! how vnsearchable are his iudgements, and his wayes past finding out!

34 * For w who hath knowen y minde of the Lorde: or who was his counseller:

35 Or who hath x giuen vnto him first, and he shalbe recompensed:

1 The obedience to the rulers. 4 Why they haue the sword, 8 Charitie ought to measure all our doings. 11 An exhortation to innocencie and puritie of life.

Et<sup>a</sup> euery soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: for there is no power but of God: and the powers that be, are ordeined of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to them selues<sup>a</sup> iudgement.

3 For Princes are not to be feared [for] good workes, but [for] euill. wilt thou then be without feare of the power: Doe well: so shalt thou haue prayse of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou doe euill, feare: for he beareth not the sword for nought: for he is the minister of God<sup>b</sup> to take vengeance on him that doeth euill.

5 Wherefore ye must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for<sup>b</sup> conscience sake.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The weake ought not to be despised, 10 No man should offende anothers conscience, 15 But one to support another in charitie and fayth.

Im that is weake in <sup>a</sup> faith, receiue vnto you, [but] not <sup>b</sup> for controuerxies of disputations.

2 One beleueth that he may eate of all things: & another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath receiued him.

4 * Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant: he standeth or falleth to his owne <sup>c</sup> master: yea, he shall be established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike: let euery man be <sup>d</sup> fully perswaded in his minde.

6 He that <sup>e</sup> obserueth the day, obserueth it to the <sup>f</sup> Lord: and he that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. He that eateth, eateth to <sup>g</sup> the Lord: for he giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, <sup>h</sup> eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thanks.

7 For none of vs liueth <sup>i</sup> to himselfe, neither doeth any die to himselfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether we die, we die vnto to the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore died and rose againe, & reuiued, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou iudge thy brother: or why doest thou despise thy brother: * for we shall all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ.

11 For it is written, * I <sup>k</sup> liue, saith the Lord, & euery knee shall bowe to me, and all tongues shall <sup>l</sup> confesse vnto God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue accounts of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but vse [your] iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling blocke before [his] brother.

14 <sup>m</sup> I knowe, and am perswaded through the Lorde Jesus, that there is nothing vnclane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vnclane, to him [it is] vnclane.

15 But if thy brother be grieved for the meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: * destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ dyed.

16 Cause not your <sup>n</sup> commoditie to be euill spoken of.

17 For the <sup>o</sup> kingdome of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousness, and peace, and ioye in the holy Ghost.

18 For whosoever <sup>p</sup> in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approued of men.

19 Let vs then followe those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: * all thinges in deede are pure: but [it is] euill for the man which eateth with offence.

21 * [It is] good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, where by thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

22 Hast thou <sup>q</sup> sayth: haue it with thy selfe before God: blessed is he that <sup>r</sup> condemneth not him selfe in that thing which he alloweth.

23 For he that douteth, is condemned if he eate, because [he eateth] not of faith: and whatsoeuer is not of <sup>s</sup> faith, is sinne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Paul exhorteth them to support and loue one another by the example of Christ, 9 And by the onely mercie of God which is the cause of saluation both of the one and the other, 14 We sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church, 30 And requirerh the same of them.

1. Cor. 8. 13.

q Faith here is taken for a full perswasion of the Christian libertie in things indifferent as the Apostle interpreteth it in the 14. verse.

r Which hath none euill remorse of conscience in his doing.

s Meaning, of a right conscience.

b Lett he shuld depart either more ignorant then he came, or els with a greater scruple of conscience.

James 4. 12.

c It is the Lords matter and not thine.

d We must be assured in our conscience by Gods worde in all things that we doe: that if we be strong, we may knowe what is our libertie: & if we be weake, we may learne to profite dayly.

e That counteth one day more holy then another.

f Who iudgeth whether he doe well or no.

g Because he thinketh the meates vnclane by the Lawe.

h Here we must note three things: first, that he speaketh of things which of themselves are indifferent, albeit in the law they were not: next, that he reppoueth not <sup>i</sup> condemning of the act, but of the persons: thirdly, that he meaneth not the stubburne & malicious, whom he calleth dogs & concision, but the weake & infirme, to whom as yet God had not reucaled <sup>j</sup> perfect libertie.

We

Vhich are strong, ought to beare <sup>p</sup> infirmities of the weake, and not to please our selues.

2 [Therefore] let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to <sup>a</sup>edification.

3 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, fell <sup>b</sup>on me.

4 For whatsoever things are written afore time, are written for our learning, that we through patience, and comfort of the Scriptures might haue hope.

5 Now the God of <sup>c</sup>patience and consolation giue you that ye be *like minded one to wardes another, according to Christ Jesus,

6 That ye with one minde, [and] with one mouth may praise God, euen the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the <sup>d</sup>glorie of God.

8 Now I say, that Jesus Christ was a <sup>e</sup>minister of the circumcision, for the <sup>f</sup>trueth of God, to confirme the promises [made] vnto the fathers.

9 And let the Gentiles praise God for [his] mercie, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among <sup>g</sup>Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he saith, * Reioyce, ye Gentiles with his people.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laude ye him, all people together.

12 And againe Esaias saith, * There shall be a roote of Jesse, and <sup>h</sup>hee that shall rise to reigne ouer <sup>i</sup>the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all ioye, and peace in beleeuing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 And I my selfe also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, & filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

15 Neuerthelesse brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen me of God,

16 That I should be the minister of his Fathers glorie, they ought by his example to loue together,

Jesus Christ towarde the Gentiles, ministering the Gospell of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable <sup>i</sup>being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Jesus in those things which [pertaine] to God.

18 For I dare not <sup>k</sup>speake of any thing, which Christ hath not wrought by me, [to make] the Gentiles obedient in word and deede,

19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Jerusalem, and rounde about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospell of Christ.

20 Yea, so I enforced my selfe to preache the Gospell, not where Christ was named, least I shoulde haue built on another mans foundation.

21 But as it is written, * To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see [him,] and they that heard not, shall vnderstand [him.]

22 Therefore also I haue bene *oft let to come vnto you.

23 But now seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue *bene desirous many yeeres agoe to come vnto you,

24 When I shall take my iourney into Spaine I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my way thitherwarde by you, after that I haue bene somewhat filled with your [companie.]

25 But now we go I to Jerusalem, to <sup>l</sup>minister vnto the Saintes.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine distribution vnto the poore Saintes which are at Jerusalem.

27 For it hath pleased them, and their detters are they: *for if the Gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall thinges, their duetie is also to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue therefore performed this, and haue <sup>m</sup>sealed them this <sup>n</sup>fruite, I will passe by you into Spaine.

29 *And I know when I come, that I shall come to you with <sup>o</sup>abundance of the blessing of the Gospell of Christ.

30 Also brethren I beseech you for our Lorde Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye *would strue ming shall be profitable vnto them: for God wil giue him abundant knowledge of diuine mysteries, to communicate vnto them. 2. Corinth. 1. 11.

The first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that S. Paul had preached at Corinthus a yeere and an halfe, he was compelled by the wickednes of the Iewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed vp with vaine glorie, and affectate eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospel. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang vp in the Church, that from opinions in policies and ceremonies, they fell to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doubt the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefe points of Christian religion. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians heartes, and cares with gentle salutations: but soone after he reproveth their contentions and debates, their arrogancie and pride, and exhorteth them to concorde and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spirituall vertue, and heauenly wisdom of the Gospell, which cannot be perswaded by worldly wit and eloquent reasons, but is reueiled by Gods Spirit, and so sealed in mens hearts. Therefore this saluation may not be attributed to the ministers, but onely to God, whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein S. Paul behaued himselfe skilfully, building according to the foundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the ende proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent heede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which doubted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgement, albeit hee had declared by manifest signes that hee neuer sought his owne glorie, neither yet howe he might liue, but onely the glorie of Christ: which thing at his comming hee woulde declare more amply, to the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought themselues onely, and therefore suffered most horrible vices vnreprooued and unpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infidels, fornication, and such like, to the great slander of the Gospell. This done, hee answereth to certaine points of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, ductie of mariage, of discorde and dissension among the married, of virginite, and second marriage. And because some thought it nothing to be present at idole seruice, seeing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose faith by that dissembling was hindered, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then hee would doe, hee woulde neuer vse that libertie which God had giuen him. But forasmuch as pride, and selfe will was the cause of those great euils, hee admonisheth them by the example of the Iewes not to glorie in these outwarde giftes, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to followe Christ vprightly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behauour of men, and women in the assemblies: of the Lordes supper, the abuse of the spirituall giftes, which God hath giuen to maintaine loue and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospell serueth to no vse. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to perseuere in the loue of Christ, and well doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

12 Nowe this I say, that euery one of you saith, I am Pauls, and I am * Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christes.

13 Is Christ denided: Was Paul crucified for you: either were ye baptized into the name of Paul:

14 I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus, and Gains,

15 Least any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the householde of Stephanas: furthermore know I not, whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with * wil-dome of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs, which are saued, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, I * will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise: Where is the scribe: Where is the disputer of this worlde: hath not God made the wise-dome of this worlde foolishnes:

21 For seeing the world by wisedome knew not God in the wisedome of God, it pleased God by the foolishnes of preaching to saue them that beleue:

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a * signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisedome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grecians, foolishnes:

24 But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grecians [we preach] Christ, the power of [God,] and the wisedome of God.

25 For the foolishnes of God is wiser then men, and the weakenes of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mightie, not many noble [are called.]

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the worlde to confounde the wise, and God hath chosen the weake things of the worlde, to confounde the mightie things.

28 And vile things of the worlde and things which are despised, hath God chosen, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 That no * flesh should reioyce in his presence.

30 But ye are of him in Christ Iesus, who of God is made vnto vs * wisedome and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption,

31 That, according as it is written, * Hee that reioyareth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

r He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel. s Which Gospel was contemptible and hid to the carnall, 10 And againe honourable and manifest to the spirituall.

And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with * excellencie of wordes, or of wise-dome, shewing vnto you the testimonie of God.

2 For I esteemed not to knowe any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 * And I was among you in weaknes, and in feare, & in much trembling,

4 Neither [stoode] my word, and my preaching in the entiling speech of mans wisedome, but in plaine euidence of the Spirit and of power,

5 That your faith should not be in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisedome among them that are perfect: not the wisedome of this worlde, neither of the princes of this worlde, which come to nought.

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a mysterie, [euen] the hid [wisedome,] which God had determined before the worlde, vnto our glorie.

8 Which none of the princes of this worlde hath knowen: for had they knowen it, they would not haue crucified the Lord of glorie.

9 But as it is written, * The things which eye hath not seene, neither eare hath heard, neither came into mans heart, [are,] which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reueiled [them] vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

is in him: euen so the things of God

CHAP. III.

3 Paul rebuketh the sectes and authours thereof. 7 Roman ought to attribute his saluation to the ministers, but to God.
10 That they beware erroneous doctrines. 11 Christ is the foundation of his Church. 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers, and also of all the faithfull.

a Being in-grafted in Christ by faith, we begin to moue by his spirit, and as we profite in faith, we grow
vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he giue
popps: for milke and strong meate in effect are one, but only differ in maner and forme.

And I could not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spirituall men, but as vnto car-nall, [euen] as vnto a babes in Christ.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meate: for ye were not yet able [to beare it,] neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnall: for where as [there is] among you enuying, & strife, and diuisions, are yee not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For when one sayth, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnall?

5 Who is Paul then? and who is Apollos, but the ministers by whome ye beleueed, and as the Lord gaue to euery man?

6 I haue planted, Apollos watred, but God gaue the encrease.

b He chargeth them with two fautes, the one that they attributed to much to the ministers, and the other, that they preferred one minister to another.
Psal. 62. 12.
gal. 6. 5.

7 So then, neither is hee that plan-teth, any thing, neither he that watreth, but God that giueth the encrease.

8 And he that planteth, and hee that watreth, are <sup>b</sup> one, *and euery man shal receiue his wages, according to his labour

9 For we together are Gods labourers: ye are Gods husbandry, [and] Gods building.

c So made by his grace,

10 According to the grace of God giue to me, as a skilfull master builder, I haue laide the foundation, and another buildeth thereon: but let euery man take heede how he buildeth vpon it.

11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is layde, which is Jesus Christ.

12 And if any man build on this foundation, golde, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, [or] stubble,

13 Euery mans worke shalbe made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shalbe reueiled by the fyre: and the fire shall trie euery mans worke of what sort it is.

14 If any mans worke, that hee hath built vpon, abide, hee shall receiue wages.

15 If any mans worke burne, hee shal lose, but he shall be safe himselfe: ne-uertheles yet as it were by the fire.

16 Knowe ye not that ye are y<sup>e</sup> Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man destroy the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.

18 Let no man deceiue himselfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this worlde, let him be a foole, that hee may be wise.

19 For the wisdom of this worlde is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, *Hee catcheth the wise <sup>k</sup> in their owne craftinesse.

20 *And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.

22 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death:
whether they be things present, or things to come, [euen] all are yours,

23 And ye Christes, and Christ Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

1 After that hee had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement, 7 Beating downe their glory which hindered them to prayse that, which they displayed in him. 16 Hee sheweth what he requirerh on their part, and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

Et a man so thinke of vs, as of the <sup>a</sup> ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, that euery man be founde

5 Therefore I iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten things that are hid in darkenes, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shall euery man haue prayse of God.

6 Nowe these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne selfe & Appollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne by vs, that no man presume aboue that which is written, that one shall not against another for any mans cause.

7 For who separateth thee: & what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued: if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou haddest not receiued it:

8 Now ye are full: now ye are made riche: ye reigne as Kings without vs, and woulde to God ye did reigne, that wee also might reigne with you.

9 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the last Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a galling stock vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men.

10 We are fooles for Christes sake, and ye are wise in Christ: wee are weake, and ye strong: ye are honourable, and we are despised.

11 Vnto this houre wee both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, & haue no certaine dwelling place,

12 And labour, working with our owne hands: we are reuiled, & yet we blesse: we are persecuted, and suffer it.

13 Wee are euill spoken of, and wee pray: wee are made as the filth of the worlde, the offscouring of all things vnto this time.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonish you.

15 For though ye haue ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithfull in the Lord, which shall put you in remembrance of my waies in Christ as I teach euery where in euery Church.

18 Some are puffed vp as though I would not come to you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, * if the Lord will, and will knowe, not the speach of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God [is] not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye: shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenes:

CHAP. V.

1 He repproueth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 Willing them to excommunicate him, 7 To embrace puritie, 9 And flee wickednesse.

It is heard certainly [that there is] fornication among you, and such fornication as is not once named among the Gentiles, * that one shoulde haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp and haue not rather sorowed, that hee which hath done this deede, might be put from among you.

3 For I verely as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue determined already as though I were present, that hee that hath thus done this thing,

6 Your reioycing is not good: know ye not that a litle leauen, leaueneth the whole lumpe:

7 Purge out therefore the old leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, as ye are vnleauened: for Christ our Pascheouer is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not with old leauen, neither in the leauen of maliciousnes and wickednes: but with the vnleauened bread of synceritie and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, * that ye shoulde not companie together with fornicatours,

CHAP. VI.

1 He rebuketh them for going to law together before the Heathen. 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproveth the abusing of Christian libertie. 15 And sheweth that wee ought to serue God purely, both in body, and in soule.

Are any of you, hauing business against another, be iudged vnder the vniust, and not vnder the Saints:

2 * Doe ye not knowe, that the Saints shall iudge the worlde: If the worlde then shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters:

3 Knowe ye not that we shall iudge the Angels: howe much more things that pertaine to this life:

4 If then ye haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, let by them which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you: no not one, that can iudge betweene his brethren:

6 But a brother goeth to Law with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.

7 Now therefore there is vtterly a fault among you, because ye goe to lawe one with another: * Why rather suffer ye not wrong: Why rather susteine ye not harme:

8 * Nay, ye your selues doe wrong, and do harme, & that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vnrightheous shall not inherite the kingdome of God: Be not deceiued: * neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, nor bouggerers,

10 Nor thieues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall inherite the kingdome of God.

11 And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Lorde Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 * All things are lawfull vnto me: but all things are not profitable. I may doe all things, but I will not be brought vnder the power of any thing.

13 Meates [are ordeyned] for the belly, and the bellie for the meates: but God shall destroy both it, and them. Now the body [is] not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lorde for the body.

14 And God hath also raised by the Lord, & shall raise vs by his power.

15 Know ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ: shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot: God forbid.

16 Doe ye not knowe, that he which coupleth himselfe with an harlot, is one body: * for two, saith he, shalbe one flesh.

17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

18 Flee fornication: euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 Knowe ye not, that * your body is the temple of the holy Ghost, [which is] in you, whom ye haue of God: and ye are not your owne.

20 * For ye are bought for a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit: for they are Gods.

15 But if the vnbelleuing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in<sup>l</sup> such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband:
Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lorde hath <sup>m</sup> called euery one, so let him walke: and so or-deine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised: let him not <sup>n</sup> gather [his vncircumcision:] is any called vncircumcised: let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vn-circumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

20 * Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called [being] a seruant: care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the <sup>q</sup> Lorde [being] a seruant, is the Lords freeman: likewise also hee that is called [being] free, is Christes seruant.

23 * We are bought || With a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man, wherein he was called, therein abide: With God.

25 Nowe concerning || virgines, I haue no <sup>r</sup> commandement of the Lord:
but I giue mine aduice, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lord to be || faith-full.

26 I suppose then: this to be good for the present <sup>u</sup> necessitie: [I meane] that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife: seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife: seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sin-nest not: and if a virgine marie, she sinneth not: neuertheles, such shall haue <sup>x</sup> y trouble in the flesh: but I <sup>z</sup> spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, || hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that <sup>a</sup> weepe, as though they wept not: and they that <sup>b</sup> reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this worlde, as though they v<sup>s</sup>ed it not: for the <sup>c</sup> facion of this world goeth away.

32 And I woulde haue you without care. The vnmarrried careth for the things of the Lord, howe he may please
the Lord.

33 But hee that is married, careth for the things of the <sup>d</sup> worlde, howe he may please [his] wife †.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgine and a wife: the vnmarrried woman careth for the things of y Lord, that she may be <sup>e</sup> holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of y world, howe she may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne comoditie, not to <sup>f</sup> tangle you in a snare, but that [ye followe] that, which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgine, if she passe the floure of [her] age, & <sup>g</sup> neede so require, let him doe what he will, he sinneth not:
let them be married.

37 Neuertheles he <sup>h</sup> y standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no neede, but fornication. <sup>h</sup> Meaning, hee that is fully perswaded that he

CHAP. VIII.

i He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the flader of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices, 9 And sheweth howe men ought to behaue them toward such as be weake.

As touching things sacrificed vnto idols, we know that wee all haue knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue edifieth.

2 Nowe, if any man thinke that hee knoweth any thing, hee knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is known of him.

4 Concerning therefore meate sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that an idole [is] nothing in the worlde, and that there [is] none other God but one.

5 For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there bee many gods, and many lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there [is] but one God, [which is] the Father, of whome are all things, and we in him: and * one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom [are] all things, and we by him.

7 But every man hath not knowledge: for some hauing conscience of the idole, vntil this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meate maketh not vs acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue wee the more: neither if wee eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this power of yours bee an occasion of falling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weake, bee boldened to eate those things which are sacrificed to idoles:

11 And through thy knowledge shall the * weake brother perish, for whome Christ died.

12 Now when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 * Wherefore if meate offend my brother, I will eate no fleshe while the world standeth, that I may not offende my brother.

CHAP. IX.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of other. 24 To runne on forth in the course that they haue begunne.

I am not an Apostle: am I not free: haue I not seene Jesus Christ our Lord: are yee not my worke in the Lord?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtles I am vnto you: for ye are y seal of mine Apostleship in the Lord.

3 My defence to them that examine me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate, and to drinke?

5 Or haue we not power to leade about a wife being a sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I onely and Barnabas haue not we power not to worke?

7 Who goeth a warrefare any time at his owne cost: who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof: or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 Say I these things according to man: saith not the Law the same also?

9 For it is written in the Law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ore that treadeth out the corne: doeth God take care for oxen?

10 Either sayeth hee it not altogether for our sakes: For our sakes no doubt it is written, that he which eareth, should eare in hope: and that hee that thresheth in hope, shoulde bee partaker of his hope.

11 * If we haue sowed vnto you spirituall things, [is it] a great thing if wee reape your carnall things?

12 If others with you bee partakers of [this] power, [are] not we rather: nevertheless, we haue not vled this power: but suffer all things, that we should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13 Do ye not knowe, that they which minister about the * holy things, eate of the things of the Temple: and they which wayte at the altar, are partakers

14 So also hath the Lorde ordeyned, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should bee so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my reioycing baine.

k For now you
haue no iust cause agaynst me, seeing that I preached the Gospel freely
vnto you.

16 For though I preach the Gospel,
I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is layd vpon me, and wo is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.

17 For if I do it willingly, I haue a rewarde: but if I do it against my will, [notwithstanding] the dispensation is committed vnto me.

l Seeing he is charged to preach, he must willingly and earnestly follow it: for if he do it by constraint, he doth not his due tie.

18 What is my reward then: verely that whē I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I abuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

m That I be not chargeable to them vnto whom I preach, seeing that they thinke that I preach for gaires.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the mo.

n As touching the ceremonies,

20 And vnto the Jewes I become as a Jew, that I may win the Jewes:
to them that are vnder the Lawe, as [though I were] vnder the law, that I may win them that are vnder the law:

21 To them that are without Law, as [though I were] without law (whē
I am not without law as perterning to God, but [am] in the Lawe through Christ) that I may winne them that are without Law.

o In things indifferent, as eating of meates, obseruatiō of feasts and dayes, and such like, he factioned himselfe to men in such sort as hee might best gaire them to Christ.

22 To the weake I become as weake, that I may win the weake: I am made all things to al men, that I might by al meanes saue some.

p That is, keepe a straight diet, and refraine from such things as might dissemper his bodie.
q Or, old man which rebel-leth agaynst
the spirit.

23 And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not, that they which run in a race, runne all, yet one receyueth the prize: so runne, that ye may obtaine.

25 And euery man that proueth masteries, abstaineth from all things: and they [do it] to obtain a corruptible crowne:
but we for an vncorruptible.

26 I therefore so runne, not as vncer-tainly: so fight I, not as one that beateth the aire.

r Least hee should be re-proued of men when they should see him do contrarie, or contemne that thing which he taught others to doe.

27 But I beat downe my body, and bring it into subiectiō, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be reprovēd.

the intent that wee should not lust after

7 Neither be ye idolaters as [were]

8 Neither let vs commit fornication,

19 What say I then: that the idole is any thing: or that that which is sacrificied to idoles, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not vnto God: and I woulde not that ye should haue fellowship with the devils.

21 We cannot drinke the cuppe of the Lord, and the cup of the devils. Wee can not bee partakers of the Lordes table and of the table of devils.

22 Do we prouoke the Lord to anger: are we stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for mee, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for mee, but all things edifie not.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificied vnto idoles, eate it not, because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth [is] the Lordes, and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience I say, not thine, but of that other: for why should my libertie bee condemned of another mans conscience?

30 For if I through Gods benefite bee partaker, why am I euill spoken off, for that wherefore I giue thanks?

31 Whether therfore ye eat or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, doe all to the glorie of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Jewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but [the profit] of many, that they might be saved.

He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministring the Lordes supper, 23 Bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

BE ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Nowe, brethren, I commend you, that ye remember all my things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I wil that ye know, that Christ is the head of every man: and the man is the womans head: & God is Christes head.

4 Every man praying or prophesying hauing any thing on his head, dishonoureth his head.

5 But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one verie thing, as though she were shauen.

6 Therefore if the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: and if it bee shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

7 For a man ought not to couer his head: forasmuch as he is the image & glory of God: but the woman is the glorie of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue power on her head, because of the Angels.

11 Neuerthelesse, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 Judge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncouered?

14 Doeth not nature it selfe teach you, that if a man haue long heare, it is a shame vnto him?

15 But if a woman haue long heare, it is a praise vnto her: for her heare is giuen her for a couering.

16 But if any man lust to be contentious, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

17 Nowe in this that I declare, I praye [you] not, that ye come together, not with profite, but with hurt.

CHAP. XII.

The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy Ghost ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christs Church, 12 As the members of mans bodie serue to the vse one of another.

NOwe concerning spirituall [gifts,] brethren, I woulde not haue you<sup>a</sup> ignorant.

2 We knowe that ye were Gentiles, & were caried away vnto the<sup>b</sup> domme idoles, as ye were<sup>c</sup> led.

3 Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man<sup>d</sup> speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Iesus<sup>e</sup> execrable: also no man can say that Iesus is the Lorde, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to euery man, to<sup>f</sup> profite withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the worde of wisdom: and to another the worde of<sup>g</sup> knowledge, by the same Spirit:

9 And to another<sup>h</sup> [is giuen] sayth, by the same Spirit: & to another the giftes of healing by the same Spirit:

10 And to another<sup>i</sup> the operations of great workes: and to another, <sup>j</sup>prophecie: and to another, <sup>k</sup>the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 *And all these things worketh euen the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man severally as he will.

12 For as the bodie is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the bodie, which is one, though they be many, [yet] are [but] one bodie: euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into<sup>l</sup> one bodie, whether [wee bee] Jewes or Grecians, whether [wee bee] bond, or free, and haue beene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the bodie also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the bodie, is it therefore not of the bodie?

16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eie, I am not of the bodie, is it therefore not of the bodie?

17 If the whole body [were] an eye, where ther in the Church, I heare that there are dissensions among you: and I beleeue it [to be true]<sup>m</sup> in some part.

19 For there must be<sup>n</sup> heresies euen among you, that they which are approved among you, might be knowne.

20 When yee come together therefore into one place, [this] is not to eate the Lords supper.

21 For euery man when they shoulde eate, taketh his owne supper afoze, & one is hungrie, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eate and to drinke in: despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not: what shall I say to you: shall I prayse you in this: I prayse you not.

23 For I haue receyued of the<sup>o</sup> Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, [to wit,] That the Lorde Iesus in the night that he was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 *And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eate: this is my body, which is<sup>p</sup> broken for you: this do ye in remembrance of me.

25 After<sup>q</sup> same maner also [he tooke] the cuppe, when hee had supped, saying, This cuppe is the Newe Testament in my blood: this doe as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup, ye shewe the Lords death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoever shall eate this bread, and drinke the cuppe of the Lord<sup>r</sup> vnworthily, shall be guiltie of the bodie and blood of the Lord.

28 *Let a man therefore examine himselfe, and so let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth & drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, [because] hee discerneth not<sup>s</sup> the Lords bodie.

30 For this cause many [are] weake, & sicke among you, and many<sup>t</sup> sleepe.

31 For if wee would iudge our selues, we should not be iudged.

32 But when wee are iudged, wee are chastened of<sup>u</sup> Lord, because we shoulde not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when yee come together to eate, tarie one for another.

34 And if any man be hungry, let him eate at home, that yee come not together vnto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

m Not that all were so, but the most part. n Gods church is not onely subiect to dissension as touching orders & maners, but also to heresies as touching doctrine.

n That we might be one bodie with Christ, and the whole Church

one Christ: of the which communion, baptism and the Lords supper are effectually signes: for by baptism, we are regenerate into one spirit, and by the Lords supper

we are incorporate into

Christs bodie to be gouerned

by the same spirit.

Where [ Were ] the hearing : If the whole [ Were ] hearing, Where [ Were ] the smelling :

18 But now we hath God disposed the members every one of them in the bodie at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were all one member, Where [ Were ] the bodie :

m And therefore whatsoeuer the diuerſitie is, per the profite ought to bee common and ſerue to the edification of the Church. n Whole vſe ſeemeth to be more vile.

20 But now we [ are ] there many members, yet but <sup>m</sup> one bodie.

21 And the eye cannot ſay vnto the hande, I haue no neede of thee : nor the head againe to the feete, I haue no need of you.

22 Yea, much rather thoſe members of the bodie, which ſeeme to be <sup>m</sup> more feeble, are neceſſarie.

o Wee are more carefull to couer them.

23 And vpon thoſe [ members ] of the bodie, which wee thinke moſt vnhoſte, put we more <sup>o</sup> honeſtie on : and our vncomely [ partes ] haue more comelyneſſe on.

24 For our comely [ partes ] neede it not : but God hath tempered the bodie together, and hath giuen the more honour to that [ part ] which lacked,

25 Leſt there ſhould be any diuiſion in the bodie : but that the members ſhould haue the ſame care one for another.

p Every one in his office for the preſeruatiō of the bodie.

26 Therefore if one member ſuffer, all ſuffer with it : if one member bee had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Chriſt, and members <sup>q</sup> for your part.

q For all Churches diſperſed through out the world are diuerſe members of one bodie. || Or, euery one for his part. Ephes. 4. 11. r As Deacons. s As Elders.

29 Are al Apoſtles : are al Prophets : are all teachers :

30 Are all doers of miracles : haue all the gifts of healing : doe all ſpeake with tongues : do all interpret :

|| Or, doe you then deſire the beſt gifts.

31 But || deſire you the beſt giſtes, and I will yet ſhewe you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he ſetteth forth the nature, office and prayſe thereof.

a If the Angels had tongues, and I had the vſe thereof, and did not beſtowe them to profit my neighbor, it were nothing but vaine babbling.

U though I ſpeake with the tongues of men and <sup>a</sup> Angels, and haue not loue, I am [ as ] ſounding braſſe, or a tinkling cymball.

2 And though I had the [ gift ] of propheticie, and knewe all ſecretes and all knowledge, yea, if I had <sup>b</sup> all ſayth, ſo that I could remoue * mountaines and had not loue, I were nothing.

b Sayth is here taken for the gift of doing miracles, which the wicked may haue, as Mat. 7. 22. and alſo for that ſayth (called hiſtorically) which beleeueth the mightie power of Chriſt, but cannot apprehende Gods mercie through him: and this deuils haue, Iam. 2. 19: and therefore is ſeperated from charitie, but ſayth that iuſtifieth in effect cannot, as 1. Ioh. 2. 9. Mat. 17. 20. luke. 17. 6. c Not that it ſufferech it ſelf to be abuſed, but iudgeth others by all loue and humanitie. d Which may be without offence of Gods word. e Knowledge it ſelfe ſhall be perfected in the world to come, and not aboliſhed: but the manner of knowing and teaching ſhall ceaſe when we ſhall be before Gods preſence where we ſhall

3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my body, that I be burned, & haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Loue ſuffreth long: it is boũtiful: loue enuieth not: loue doeth not boaſt it ſelfe: it is not puffed vp:

5 It diſdaineth not: it ſeeketh not her owne things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euill:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 It ſuffreth all things: it beleueth <sup>c</sup> all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth <sup>d</sup> all things.

8 Loue doth neuer fal away, though <sup>f</sup> propheryings be aboliſhed, or <sup>f</sup> tongues ceaſe, or knowledge baniſh away.

9 For <sup>e</sup> we know <sup>f</sup> in part, & we || propheticie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in part, ſhall be aboliſhed.

11 When I was a childe, I ſpake as a childe, I vnderſtoode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childiſh things.

12 For now we ſee <sup>g</sup> through a glaſſe darkely: but then [ ſhall we ſee ] face to face. Now I know in part: but then ſhall I know euen as I am || known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope [ and ] loue, [ euen ] theſe three: but the <sup>h</sup> chiefest of theſe [ is ] loue.

neither neede ſcholes nor teachers. f That is, imperfectly. || Or, taught of God. h Because it ſerueth both here and in the life to come: but faith and hope appertaine onely to this life.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other ſpirituall giſtes, 5 But chiefly propherying. 34 He commendeth womē to keepe ſilence in the Church, 40 And ſheweth what good order ought to be obſerued in the Church.

Follow after loue, and couet ſpirituall [ giſtes ], and rather that ye may <sup>a</sup> propheticie.

a That is, to expound the word of God to the edification of the Church. b Underſtandeth him. c By the ſpirituall giſte, which he hath receiued.

2 For hee that ſpeaketh a [ ſtrange ] tongue, ſpeaketh not vnto me, but vnto God: for no man <sup>b</sup> heareth [ him ]: howbeit in <sup>c</sup> the ſpirit he ſpeaketh ſecret things.

3 But he that propheticie, ſpeaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

4 He that ſpeaketh [ ſtrange ] language, edifieth <sup>d</sup> himſelfe: but he that propheticie, edifieth the Church.

d For he profiteth none ſauing himſelfe.

5 I would that ye all ſpake [ ſtrange ] languages, but rather that yee prophesied: for greater is hee that prophesieth, then he that speaketh [diuers] tongues, except hee expound it, that the Church may receiue edification.

6 And nowe, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking [diuers] tongues, what shall I profit you, except I speake to you, eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine:

7 Moreouer things without life which giue a sound, whether [it be] a pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is pyped or harped:

8 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to battell:

9 So likewise you, by the tongue, except ye utter wordes that haue signification, how shall it be vnderstand what is spoken: for ye shall speake in the<sup>e</sup> aire.

10 There are so many kinds of voices (as it commeth to passe) in the worlde, and none of them is domine.

11 Except I know then the power of the voice, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, a barbarian, & hee that speaketh, shall be a barbarian vnto me.

12 Euen so, for as much as ye couet spirituall gifts, seeke that ye may excel vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh a [strange] tongue, pray, that hee may interpret.

14 For if I pray [in] a [strange] tongue, my spirit prayeth: but mine vnderstanding is without<sup>k</sup> fruit.

15 What is it then: I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Els, when thou blestest with the spirit, howe shall hee that occupieth the roome of the vnlearned, say<sup>m</sup> Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest:

17 For thou verely giuest thanks wel, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake<sup>n</sup> five wordes with mine vnderstanding, than ten thousande wordes in a [strange] tongue.

20 Brethren, bee not* children in vnderstanding, but as concerning malitiousnes be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

21 In the Lawe it is written, * By men of other tongues, and by other languages will I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, sayth the Lord.

22 Wherefore [strange] tongues are for a<sup>p</sup> signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but prophesying [serueth] not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake [strange] tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wittes:

24 But if all prophesie, & there come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of<sup>r</sup> all men, and is iudged of all.

25 And so are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so he will fall downe on his face and worship God, and saye plainly that God is in you in deede.

26 What is to be<sup>q</sup> done then, brethren: when ye come together, [according as] every one of you hath a psalme, [or] hath doctrine, [or] hath a tongue, [or] hath reuelation, [or] hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake a [strange] tongue, [let it be] by two, or at the<sup>r</sup> most, by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, [which] speaketh languages, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two, or three, and let the other iudge.

30 And if any thing be reueiled to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For yee may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, & all may haue comfort.

32 And the<sup>r</sup> spirits of the Prophets are<sup>n</sup> subiect to the Prophets.

33 For God is not [the authour] of confusion, but of peace, as [we see] in all the Churches of the Saintes.

CHAP. XV.

He proueth the resurrection of the dead, 3 And first that Christ is risen: 22 Then that wee shall rise, 52 And the manner howe.

Galat. 1. 11.

Moreouer, * brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospell, which I preached vnto you, which yee haue also received, and wherein yee continue,

2 And whereby yee are saued, if yee keepe in memorie, after what manner I preached it vnto you, <sup>a</sup> except yee haue beleued in vaine.

3 For first of al, I deliuered vnto you that which <sup>b</sup> I received, how that Christ dyed for our sinnes, according to <sup>c</sup> * scriptures,

4 And that hee was buried, and that he arose the thirde day, according to the * Scriptures,

5 * And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the <sup>c</sup> twelue.

6 After that, he was seene of mo then fise hundred brethren at once: Whereof many remayne vnto this present, and some also are a sleepe.

7 After that, he was seene of James: then of all the Apostles.

8 * And last of all he was seene also of me as of one, borne out of due time.

9 For I am <sup>d</sup> the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to bee called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 * But by the <sup>d</sup> grace of God, I am that I am: & his grace which is in mee, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Wherefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, & so haue ye beleued.

12 C Nowe if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 For if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not rise, the is our preaching vaine, and your <sup>f</sup> faith is also vaine.

15 And we are founde also false witnesses of God: for we haue testified of God, that he hath rayled by Christ: Whome he hath not raised by, if so be the dead be not raised.

16 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised,

17 And if Christ bee not raised, your faith is <sup>g</sup> vaine: ye are yet in your <sup>h</sup> sinnes.

18 And so they which are a sleepe in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life <sup>h</sup> onely we haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, [and] was made the <sup>i</sup> * first fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man [came] death, by man <sup>j</sup> [came] also the resurrection of <sup>k</sup> dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, euen so in <sup>k</sup> Christ shall <sup>l</sup> all be made alieue,

23 But euery man in his <sup>m</sup> * owne order: the first fruites [is] Christ, afterwarde, they that are of Christ, at his coming [shal rise againe.]

24 Then [shall be] the ende, when he hath <sup>n</sup> deliuered by the kingdome to God, euen the Father, when he hath put downe all rule, and all authoritie and power.

25 For he must reigne <sup>o</sup> * till he hath put all his enemies vnder his feete.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, [is] death.

27 * For he hath put downe al things vnder his feet. (And when he saith that all things are subdued [to him], it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put downe all things vnder him.)

28 And when all things shall be subdued vnto him, then shal the Sonne also him selfe be subiect vnto him, that did subdue all things vnder him, that God may be <sup>p</sup> all in all,

e Christs death is not effecti- all, except he rise fro death. f For if Christ be swallowed by of death, there remaineth no hope of life any more.

g As mortification and remission of sinnes depende on Christs death: so our quickening and restoring to life stand in his resurrection.

h You are not forgiven nor sanctified.

i As by the offering of the first fruite the whole fruite is sanctified, so by Christ which is the first <sup>j</sup> is raised, all haue assurance of <sup>k</sup> resurrection.

k Who rose first from the dead to take possession in our flesh for his members. l To wit, the faithful.

1. Thess. 4. 15. m Christ as he is man and head of the Church, is said to be subiect to God: but in respect of the worlde, is king of heauen and earth. This kingdome standeth in gouerning the faithful, and ouercomming the aduersaries, euen death the chiefest: which done, Christ being perfected, with all his members, shall as he is man and head of the Church, with his fellowe heires deliuer his kingdome, and be subiect to God to whom and the holy Ghost in Godhead he is equal. Psal. 110. 1. act. 2. 34, 35. heb. 1. 13. & 10. 13. Psal. 8. 6. hebr. 2. 8. n We shal be perfectly fulfilled with his glory & felicity.

29 Els what shall they do which are baptized <sup>o</sup> for dead: if <sup>p</sup> dead rise not at al, why are they then baptized for dead: 30 Why are we also in iopardy euery houre:

31 By our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought wth beastes at Ephesus after the maner of men, what aduantage it me, if the dead be not raised vp: * let vs eat and drinke: for to morrowe we shall die.

33 Be not deceiued: * euill speakings corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to [liue] righteously, & sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God. I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, Howe are the dead raised vp: and with what body come they forth:

36 O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that bodie that shall be, but bare corne, as it falleth, of wheate, or of some other.

38 But God giueth it a bodie at his pleasure, euen to euery seede his owne bodie.

39 All flesh [is] not the same flesh, but there is one<sup>f</sup> flesh of men, and another flesh of beastes, and another of fishes, and another of birdes.

40 There [are] also heauenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but the glory of the heauenly [is] one, and [the glory] of the earthly [is] another.

41 There is another glory of <sup>p</sup> sunne, and another glory of the moone, & another glory of <sup>p</sup> starres: for one starre differeth from [another] starre in glory.

42 So also [is] the resurrection of the dead. [The body] is sown in corruptio[n], [and] is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sowne in <sup>u</sup> dishonour, [and] is raised in glory: it is sowne in weaknes, [and] is rayled in power.

44 It is sowne a natural body, [and] is raised a <sup>s</sup> spirituall body: there is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 As it is also written, The first man <sup>a</sup> Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Ada [was made] a <sup>y</sup> quickening Spirite.

46 Howbeit <sup>p</sup> [was] not first [made] which is spirituall: but that [which is] naturall, and after ward that [which is] spirituall.

47 The first man [is] of the earth, earthly: the seconde man [is] the Lorde from heauen.

48 As [is] the earthly, such [are] they that are earthly: & as [is] the heauenly, such [are] they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the <sup>a</sup> image of the earthly, so shall we beare <sup>p</sup> image of the heauenly.

50 This say I, brethren, that <sup>b</sup> flesh and blood can not inherite the kingdom of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shewe you a secrete thing, we shal not all sleepe, but we shal all be <sup>c</sup> changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkeling of an eye at the last * trumpet: for the trumpet shall blowe, and the dead shall be raised vp incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption: and this mortall [must] put on immortallitie.

54 So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, and this mortall hath put on immortallitie, then shall be brought to passe <sup>p</sup> saying that is writte, * Death is swallowed vp into victorie.

55 * O death, where [is] thy sting: O graue, where [is] thy victorie:

56 The sting of death [is] sinne: and the <sup>d</sup> strength of sinne [is] the Lawe.

57 * But thanks [be] vnto God, which hath giuen vs victorie through our Lorde Iesus Christ.

58 Therefore my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, abundant alwayes in the worke of the Lorde, for as much as ye knowe, that your labour is not in <sup>e</sup> vaine in the Lorde.

of God against vs: or else the chiefe cause of our destruction is in our selues. 1. John 5. 5. <sup>c</sup> The hope of resurrection causeth the faithfull to surmount all difficulties.

The second Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

As nothing can be written, either so perfectly, or with so great affection and zeale, which is not vnprofitable to many, and resisted by some: so the first Epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the puritie and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue toward them farre passing all naturall affections: which did not onely not profite all, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their stubbornnes, & contemne the Apostles authoritie. By reason whereof S. Paul, being let with iust occasions to come vnto them, wrote this Epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplish the worke which he had begonne among them. First therefore he wisheth them well in the Lord, declaring that albeit certain wicked persons abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his authoritie, yet they were necessarie scholings, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And where as they blame his long absence it came of no inconstancie, but to beare with their inhabilitie and imperfection, lest contrarie to his fatherly affection, he should haue bene compelled to vse rigour and seueritie. And as touching his sharpe wryting in the former epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident both in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seeing he doeth repent: and also in that he was vnquiet in his minde, til he was certified by Titus of their estate. But forasmuch as the false apostles wet about to vndermine his authoritie, he confuteth their arrogant bragges, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which see not the brightnes of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect wherof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorowe which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy and compassion towards our brethren: also wisdom to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the trueth, sought onely to fill their bellies, where as he contrariwise, sought them, and not their goodes, as those ambitious persons slandered him: wherefore at his coming he menaceth such as rebell against his authoritie, that he will declare by liuely example, that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

But forasmuch as the false apostles wēt about to vndermine his authoritie, he confuteth their arrogant bragges, and cōmendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which see not the brightnes of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect wherof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorowe which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy and compassion towards our brethren: also wisdom to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the trueth, sought onely to fill their bellies, where as he contrariwise, sought them, and not their goodes, as those ambitious persons slandered him: wherefore at his coming he menaceth such as rebell against his authoritie, that he will declare by liuely example, that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

CHAP. I.

4 He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions. 15. 17. And because they should not impute to lightnes, that he deferred his coming contrary to his promes, he proueth his constancie, both by the sinceritie of his preaching, and also by the immutable trueth of the Gospel. 21 Which trueth is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holy Ghost.

Paul an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, by the wil of God, and [our] brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus with all the Saintes, which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace [be] with you, & peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lorde Jesus Christ.

3 *b Blessed [be] God, eue the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort,

4 which comforteth vs in all our tribulatio, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, [it is] for your consolation, and saluation, which is wrought in the induring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, [it is] for your consolation and saluation.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we know that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so [shall ye be] also of the consolation.

8 For brethren, we would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether doubted, euen of life.

9 Yea, we received the sentence of death in our selues, because we should not trust in our selues, but in God, which raiseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, & doth deliuer [vs:] in whom we trust, yet hereafter he wil deliuer [vs,]

11 * So that yee labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift [bestowed] vpon vs for many, thankes may be giue by many persons for vs.

12 For our reioycing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly purenes, [and] not in fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God we haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to you wardes.

13 For we write none other things vnto you, then that ye reade, or els that ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as yee haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioycing, euen as ye are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that ye might haue had a double grace,

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth toward Judea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnes: or minde I those things which I minde, according to the flesh, that with me shoulde bee, Yea, yea, and Nay, nay:

18 Yea, God is faithfull, that our word toward you was not Yea, & Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Jesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, [that is,] by me, and Siluanus, & Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him [are] Yea, and [are] in him Amen, vnto the glorie of God through vs.

21 And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, & hath anoynted vs.

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Nowe, I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we haue dominion ouer your faith, but we are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stande.

u In that I saie I came not because I would spare you, I meane not that I haue authoritie to alter true religion, or to binde your consciences: but that I am Gods minister to confirme and comfort you, x And faith is not in subiection to man.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towards them, 7 Requiring likewise that they would bee fauourable to the incestuous adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reioycech in God for the efficacy of his doctrine, 17 Confuting thereby such quarellers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but the overthrow of his doctrine.

But I determined thus in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heavinesse.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he then I should make me glad, but the same which is made sorie by me:

3 And I wrote this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heavines of them, of whom I ought to reioyce:

l We know partly my constancie both by my dwelling with you, and also by my writing vnto you: and I trust ye shall know me to be the same to the very end, m In that we haue taught you the Gospel so sincerely, n Because we haue wonne you to Christ, o Which shall abolish all worldly glory, p Which is rashly to promise and not to performe, q How to as firme one thing and then to deny it, which is a signe of inconstancie, r We takech God to witness, that he preacheth the trueth, s We preached nothing vnto them but onely Jesus Christ, who is the most constant and infallible trueth of the Father,

t They are made and perfected, and we are partakers onely by him, who is our Amen, in that he hath fulfilled them for vs, Ephe. 1. 13. & 4. 30. Ephe. 1. 14. chap. 5. 5.

c Which I suffer for Christ, or which Christ suffereth in me, Rom. 7. 5. & 8. 5. col. 1. 24.

d For seeing him indure so much, they had occasion to be confirmed in the Gospel.

e As God onely worketh all things in vs: so doth he also our saluation by his free mercy, and by such means as he hath here left in this life for vs to be exercised in.

f Whereby he sheweth his own infirmity, that it might appeare how wonderfully Gods graces wrought in him.

g I was utterly resolved in my selfe to die.

h So many dangers of death, Rom. 15. 30. i He rendereth a reason why they ought to pray to God for his recovery.

k Thing that will come which God gaue me from heauen, reioyce : this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the [ioy] of you all.

4 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares : not that ye should be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue <sup>p</sup> loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 And if any haue caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly (least I should <sup>d</sup> more charge [him]) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwyle yee ought rather to forgiue [him,] and comfort [him] least the same <sup>c</sup> shoulde bee swallowed by with ouermuch heaviness.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you woulde <sup>f</sup> confirme your loue towarde him.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might knowe the prooue of you, whether ye would be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I [forgiue] also: for verily if I forgave any thing, to whome I forgave it, for your sakes [forgave I it] in <sup>p</sup> sight of Christ,

11 Lest Satan should <sup>b</sup> circumuēt vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas [to preach] Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord,

13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 <sup>i</sup> Nowe thanks [bee] vnto God which alwayes maketh vs <sup>k</sup> to triumph in Christ, & maketh manifest the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ, in them that are saued, and in them which perish.

16 To the one [we are] the <sup>l</sup> sauour of death, vnto death, * and to the other the sauour of life, vnto life, and who is sufficient for these things:

17 * For we are not as many, <sup>m</sup> which make marchandise of the word of God: but as of synceritie, but as of God in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

<sup>c</sup> After this adulterer did repent and amend, Paul did so utterly cast off all sorowe, that he denieth that in manner he was any whit sorie.

<sup>d</sup> And so shuld increase his sorowe which I would diminish.

<sup>f</sup> That at my intercessio you would declare by the publike consent of the Church that you imbrace him againe as a brother: seeing he was excommunicate by the common consent.

<sup>g</sup> That is, truly, and from mine heart, even as in the presence of Christ.

<sup>k</sup> he increaseth onely of the ministers, saue he sometime intermedleth that which appertaineth to the whole Church, as chap. 3. 17. and 18. verses, and not onely to the ministers.

<sup>m</sup> The preaching of the crosse bringeth death to the which onely consider Christs death as a common death, and be thereat offended, or els thinke it folly: and bringeth againe life to them, who in his death behold their life. Ro. 11. 15. 16. Rom. 16. 18. chap. 4. 2. m

<sup>q</sup> That is, which preach for gaine, and corrupt it to serue mens affections. Or, through Christ, or of Christ.

<sup>r</sup> He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of the trueth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the brags of the false apostles. 7. 13 He maketh comparison betwixt the Law and the Gospel.

De <sup>a</sup> We begin to prayse our selues againe: or neede we as some other, epistles of recommendation vnto you, or [letters] of recommendation from you?

2 Bee are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstand and read of all men,

3 In that ye are manifest, to be the epistle of Christ, <sup>b</sup> ministred by vs, and written, not with inke, but with the spirit of the living God, not in <sup>c</sup> tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue wee through Christ to God:

5 Not that wee are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie [is] of God.

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the newe testament, not of the <sup>d</sup> letter, but of the <sup>e</sup> spirit: for the letter killeth, but the <sup>f</sup> spirit giueth life.

7 If then the ministrations of death [written] with letters, and ingrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the childe of Israel could not beholde the face of Moses for the <sup>h</sup> glorie of his countenance (which [glorie] is done away)

8 Howe shall not the ministrations of the Spirit be more glorious?

9 For if the ministerie of <sup>i</sup> condemnation [was] glorious, much more doeth the ministrations of <sup>k</sup> righteousness exceede in glorie.

10 For euē that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, [that is,] as touching the exceeding glorie.

11 For if that which shoulde bee abolished, [was] glorious, much more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

12 Seeing then that wee haue such trust, we ble <sup>l</sup> great boldnes of speech.

13 * And [we are] not as Moses, [which] <sup>m</sup> put a baile vpon his face, that the children of Israel should not looke vnto the ende of that which should be abolished.

14 Therefore their mindes are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vntaken away in the reading of the Olde Testament, which [baile] in Christ is put away.

15 But euē vnto this day, when Moses is read, the baile is layde ouer their heartes.

16 Neuertheles when their [heart] shalbe turned to the Lord, the baile shalbe taken away.

<sup>h</sup> Thus he nameth the Law, in comparison of the Gospell.

<sup>m</sup> Moses shewed the Lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Jewes eyes were not lightened, but blinded, and so could not come to Christ, who was the ende thereof: againe the Gospell seeth teach forth the glorie of God cleerely, not couering our eyes, but driving the darkenes away from them.

n Christ is our mediator, and author of the new testament, whose doctrine is spirituall and giueth life to the lawe.
John. 4. 24.

17 Now the <sup>n</sup> Lorde is the * Spirit, there [is] libertie.

18 But We all beholde as in a <sup>o</sup> mirfrom glorie to glorie, as by the Spirit of

CHAP. IIII.

<sup>1</sup> He declareth his diligence and roundnes in his office, <sup>8</sup> And that which his enemies tooke for his disadvantage, to wit, the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great advantage. <sup>11.</sup> <sup>17</sup> Shewing what profite commeth thereby.

Herfore, seeing that we haue this ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, <sup>a</sup> we faint not:

<sup>2</sup> But haue cast from vs the <sup>b</sup> clokes of shame, and * walke not in craftines, neither handle we the worde of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the trueth we approue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

<sup>3</sup> If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

<sup>4</sup> In whome the <sup>c</sup> god of this world hath blinded the mindes, [that is,] of <sup>p</sup> infidels, that the light of <sup>p</sup> glorious Gosshould not shine vnto them.

<sup>5</sup> For we preache not our <sup>c</sup> selues, but

<sup>6</sup> For God that * commanded <sup>p</sup> light to shine out of darkenes, [is hee] which hath shined in <sup>f</sup> our hearts, to giue the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

<sup>7</sup> But we haue this <sup>b</sup> treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

<sup>8</sup> We are afflicted on euery side, yet [are we] not in distresse: in pouertie, but not overcome of pouertie.

<sup>9</sup> [we are] persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

<sup>10</sup> Euery where we beare about in our bodie the <sup>i</sup> dying of the Lord Jesus, that <sup>p</sup> life of Jesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

<sup>11</sup> For we which liue, are alwayes de-liuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortall flesh.

<sup>12</sup> All the faith-full, and chiefly the ministers must drinke of this cup, because the worlde hatech Christ: and also that the members should be conformable to Christ their head, yet by the mightie power of Christ, who overcame death, they are made conquerours.

<sup>12</sup> So then <sup>k</sup> death worketh in vs, & life in you.

<sup>13</sup> And because we haue <sup>p</sup> same <sup>i</sup> Spirit of faith, according as it is written, * I beleueed, and therefore haue I spoken, we also beleue, and therefore speake,

<sup>14</sup> Knowing that hee which hath railed by the Lorde Jesus, shall <sup>m</sup> raise vs by also by Jesus, & shall set vs with you.

<sup>15</sup> For all things [are] for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by <sup>p</sup> thankes-giuing of <sup>n</sup> many, may redounde to the prayse of God.

<sup>16</sup> Therfore we faint not, but though our outward man || perish, yet the inward man is <sup>o</sup> renewed dayly.

<sup>17</sup> For our <sup>p</sup> light affliction which is but for a momēt, causeth vnto vs a farre most excellent [and] an eternall waight of glorie:

<sup>18</sup> While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on <sup>p</sup> things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, [are] temporall: but the things which are not seene, [are] eternall.

|| Or, be corrupted. <sup>o</sup> Groweth stronger. <sup>p</sup> Which is so called in respect of the euerlasting life.

CHAP. V.

<sup>1</sup> Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse. <sup>4</sup> How we ought to prepare our selues vnto it. <sup>5</sup> By whom, <sup>9</sup> And for what end. <sup>14.</sup> <sup>19</sup> He setteth forth the grace of Christ, <sup>20</sup> And the office of ministers, and all the faithfull.

We knowe <sup>p</sup> if <sup>a</sup> our earthly house of this tabernacle be destroyed, we haue a building [giuen] of God, [that is,] an house not made with handes, [but] eter-nall in the heauens.

<sup>2</sup> For therefore we sighe, desiring to be clothed with our house, which is fro heauen.

<sup>3</sup> || Because that if we be clothed, we shall not be founde * naked.

<sup>4</sup> For in deede we that are in this tabernacle, sigh & are burdened, || because we would not be vnclothed, but woulde be clothed by <sup>o</sup>, that mortalitie might be swallowed by of life.

<sup>5</sup> And he that hath created vs for this thing, [is] God, who also hath giuen vn-guyded by the spirit of God.

q He doe not lent man: but as he was the rally: and doe

you thinke, that I will flatter my selfe or any man in setting forth his gifts?

Dea, when I prayse my ministerie, I commende the power of God: when I commende our worthe facts, I prayse the mightie power of God, set forth by vs woymes and wretches. r Let him be regenerate, and renounce him selfe, els all the rest is nothing. Isa. 43. 19. reuel. 21. 5. f Therefore without Christ wee can not enioye euerlasting life nor come to God.

z That is, a sacrifice for sinne. u By imputation, when wee shall bee clad with Christes iustice.

9 Wherefore also we couet, that both dwelling<sup>d</sup> at home, & remouing<sup>e</sup> from home, we may be acceptable to him.

10 * For we must all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ, that euery man may receiue the things which are<sup>done</sup> in his bodie, according to that hee hath done, whether<sup>f</sup> [it be] good or euill.

11 Knowing therefore the sterour of the Lorde, we<sup>h</sup> perswade men, and we are made manifest vnto God, & I trust also that wee are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, & yee may haue<sup>i</sup> [to answer] against them, which reioyce in the<sup>k</sup> face, and not in the heart.

13 For whether we be<sup>l</sup> out of our wit, [we are it]<sup>m</sup> to God: or whether we be in our right minde, [we are it]<sup>n</sup> vnto you.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one be dead for all, then were<sup>o</sup> all dead,

15 And he died for al, that they<sup>p</sup> which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto the selues, but vnto him which died for the, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore, henceforth know we no man<sup>q</sup> after the flesh, yea though we had known Christ after the flesh, yet nowe henceforth<sup>r</sup> know we [him] no more.

17 Therefore if any man<sup>s</sup> [be] in Christ, [let him bee] a<sup>t</sup> new creature. * Olde thinges are passed awaye: beholde, all thinges are become newe.

18 And all things<sup>u</sup> [are] of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto him selfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

19 For God was<sup>v</sup> in Christ, and reconciled the worlde to him selfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the worde of reconciliation.

20 Now then are we ambassadours for Christ: as though God dyd beseeche [you] through vs, wee praye you in Christes stead, that yee bee reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him<sup>w</sup> [to be] sinne for vs, which knewe no sinne, that wee should be<sup>x</sup> made by righteousness of God in him.

1 An exhortation to Christian life, 11 And to heare him like affection, as he doeth them: 14 Also to keepe themselves from all pollution of idolatrie both in body, and soule, and to haue none acquaintance with idolaters.

So wee therefore as workers together beseech [you,] that ye receiue not grace of God in vaine.

2 For he saith, * I haue heard thee in a time accepted, & in the day of saluation haue I succoured thee: behold now the<sup>a</sup> accepted time, beholde now the day of saluation.

3 Wee giue no occasion of offence in a-ny thing, that [our] ministerie shoulde not be<sup>b</sup> reprehended.

4 But in all thinges we approue our selues as<sup>c</sup> the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in prisons, in tumultes, in labours,

6 By<sup>d</sup> watchings, by fastings, by pu-ritie, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnesse, by the<sup>e</sup> holy Ghost, by<sup>f</sup> loue vnfeined,

7 By the word of trueth, by<sup>g</sup> power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour, and dishonour, by euill report & good report, as deceiuers, and [yet] true:

9 As vnknown, and [yet] known: as dying, and behold, we liue: as chastened, and [yet] not killed:

10 As sorrowing, and [yet] alway reioycing: as poore, and [yet] make many riche: as hauing nothing, and [yet] possessing all thinges.

11 O Corinthians, our<sup>h</sup> mouth is open vnto you: our heart is made large.

12 We are not kept strait in vs, but ye are kept strait in your owne<sup>i</sup> bowelles.

13 Nowe for the same recompence, I speake as to [my] children, i We you also enlarged.

14 Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for<sup>j</sup> * what fellowshipe hath righteousness with vnrightheousnesse: and what communion hath light with darkenesse:

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial: or what part hath the beleener with the infidell:

CHAP. VII.

<sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them by the promises of God to keepe themselves pure, 3. 7 Assuring the of his loue, 8. 13 And doth not excuse his seueritie toward them, but reioycest thereat, considering what profit came thereby, 10 Of two sorts of sorowe,

<sup>a</sup> Consider this well, ye that serue Idoles with your bodies, and yet thinke your consciences pure toward God: God will one day smite you for your halting.

<sup>b</sup> Of body and soule.

<sup>c</sup> That we may teach you.

<sup>e</sup> He had neither rest in body nor spirit: & it seemeth he alludeth to that which is written, Deu. 32.

<sup>g</sup> Whole hart Gods Spirit doeth touch, he is ioy for his sinnes committed against so merciful a Father: and these are the fruites of his repentance, as witnesseth Dauid & Peters teares: others which are ioy for their sinnes onely for feare of punishment & Gods vengeance, fall into desperation, as Cain, Saul, Achitophel and Judas.

Seeing the we haue these promises, dearly beloved, let vs cleanse our selues from all filthines of the flesh and spirit, and growe by vnto full holines in the feare of God.

2 <sup>c</sup> Receiue vs: We haue done wrong to no man: we haue consumed no man: we haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue said before, that ye are in our hearts, to die and liue together.

4 I vse great boldnesse of speache toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, & am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side, fightings without, and terrors within.

6 But God, that comforteth the afflicted, comforted vs at the coming of Titus:

7 And not by his coming onely, but also by the consolation wherewith hee was comforted of you, when he tolde vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to mewarde, so that I reioyced much more.

8 For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same epistle made you sorie, though [it were] but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that yee sorowed to repentance: for yee sorowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 * For godly sorowe causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to bee repented of: but the worldly sorow causeth death.

11 For behold, this thing that ye haue byn godly sorie, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, [what] indignation: yea, [what] feare: yea, [how] great desire: yea, [what] a zeale: yea, [what] punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I dyd not it for his cause that had done wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the sight of God myght appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted, because ye were comforted: but rather we reioyced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you al.

14 For if I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not byn ashamed: but as I haue spoke vnto you all things in trueth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, when hee remembereth the obedience of you al, [and] howe with feare and trembling yee receiued him.

16 I reioyce [therefore] that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

<sup>1</sup> By the example of the Macedonians, 9 And Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning, 23 After he commendeth Titus and his fellowes vnto them.

We doe you also to witte, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie abounded vnto their rich liberalitie.

3 For to [their] power (I beare record) yea, and beyonde their power, they were willing,

4 And prayed vs with great instance that we woulde receiue the grace, and fellowship of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

5 And [this they did,] not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lorde, and [after] vnto vs by the Will of God,

6 That we should exhort Titus, & as he had begun, so hee woulde also accomplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therefore, as yee abounded in euery thing, in faith & worde, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue toward vs, [euen so see] that ye abound in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, but <sup>i</sup> For in iudging & chastising your selues, you preuented Gods anger.

[Or, heart.]

<sup>k</sup> The Greeke word signifieth his bowels, whereby is meant most great loue and tender affections.

<sup>l</sup> Both in thinking & reporting wel of you,

<sup>a</sup> This benefite of God appeared in two things: first, the Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to help others: & next that being in great pouerty, were very liberal toward others.

<sup>b</sup> So a most abundant riuer of riches flowed out of their pouertie, <sup>c</sup> So he calleth their liberality, either because they were the bestowers of Gods graces, or because they receiued them of God freely, and so they desired Paul to see to distribution thereof.

Chap. 9. 12.

but because of the diligence of others: therfore proue I y naturalnesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that yee through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I shewe [my] minde herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to do onely, but also to <sup>d</sup> Will, a peere a goe.

11 Nowe therefore perforce to doe it also, that as [there was] a readinesse to Will, euen so ye may perforce it of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a Willing minde, it is accepted according to y a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Neither [is it] y other men should be eased and you grieved.

14 But vpon like condition, at this time your <sup>e</sup> abundance [supplieth] their lacke, that also their abundance may bee for your lacke that there may be <sup>f</sup> equalitie:

15 As it is written, * Hee that [gathered] much, had nothing ouer, & hee that [gathered] litle, had not the lesse.

16 And thanks [be] vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

17 Because he accepted the <sup>g</sup> exhortation, yea, hee was so carefull, that of his owne accord he went vnto you.

18 And we haue sent also with him y brother, whose praise [is] <sup>h</sup> in the Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a fellowe in our journey concerning this grace that is ministered by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and [declaration] of your prompt minde)

20 Auoyding this, that no mā should blame vs in this abundance that is ministered by vs,

21 * Prouiding for <sup>i</sup> honest things, not only before y Lord, but also before men.

22 And wee haue sent with them our brother whome we haue oft times proued to bee diligent in many thinges, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence, which [I haue] in you.

23 Whether [any doe enquire] of Titus, [he is] my fellow and helper to you: warde: or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, [and] the <sup>k</sup> glorie of Christ.

24 Wherefore shewe towarde them, and before the Churches the prooue of your loue, and of the reioycing that wee haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them, 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cherefully, 7 Shewing what fruite will come thereof.

E As touching y ministring to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I knowe your readines of minde, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, [and say,] that Achaia was prepared a peere a goe, and your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Now haue I sent the brethren, least our reioycing ouer you shoulde bee in vaine in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue saide) be readie:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come to me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I neede not to say, you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appoynted afore, that it might be readie, [and come] as of beneuolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yet [remember,] y he which soweth sparingly, shal reape also sparingly, & he that soweth liberally, shal reape also liberally.

7 As euery man wisheth in his heart, [to let him giue,] not * grudgingly, or of necessitie: * For God loueth a cheerefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make al grace to abounde towarde you, that ye alwayes hauing <sup>a</sup> al sufficiencie in all thinges, may abound in euery <sup>b</sup> good worke,

9 * As it is written, c he hath sparred abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

10 Also he y findeth seed to the sower, wil minister like wise bread for food, and multiplie your seed, and increase y fruits of your beneuolence,

11 That on all parts ye may be made riche vnto all liberalitie, which causeth through vs thanksgiuing vnto God.

12 For the ministracion of this seruice not onely supplieth the necessities of the Saintes, but also is abundant by the thanksgiuing of many vnto God,

13 (which by the experiment of this ministracion praise God for your voluntarie submission to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to the, and to all men)

<sup>d</sup> Every man may doe good that hath ability thereunto: but to will, and haue a minde to doe good, cometh of perfect charity.

<sup>e</sup> That as you helpe others in their neede, so others shall relieue your want.

<sup>f</sup> That both you & others, as occasion shal serue, may relieue y godly according to their necessities.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false Apostles and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 13 And howe he useth it.

NOW I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenesse, & gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you,

[am] <sup>a</sup> base, but am bold toward you being absent:

2 And [this] I require you, that I neede not to be bolde whē I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bold against some, which esteeme vs as though wee walked <sup>b</sup> according to the flesh.

3 Neuerthelesse, though we walke in the flesh, yet wee doe not warre after the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mightie through God, to cast downe holdes)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie euery thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing ready the vengeance against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke yee on thinges after the appearance: If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christs, let him consider this againe of him self, that as he [is] Christs, euen so [are we] Christs.

8 For though I shoulde boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lorde hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.

9 [This I say] that I may not seeme as [it were] to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, <sup>c</sup> saith he, are soze & strong, but his bodily presēce is weake, and his speech is of no value.

11 Let such one thinke this, that such as we are in worde by letters when we are absent, such [will we be] also in deed, when we are present.

12 For wee dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to them, which prayse themselves: but they vnderstand not that they <sup>d</sup> measure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves with themselves.

13 But we will not reioyce of things, which are not within [our] measure, * but according to <sup>p</sup> <sup>c</sup> measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For wee stretch not our selues beyond [our] measure, as though we had not attained vnto you: for euen to you also haue we come [in preaching] the gospel of Christ,

15 Not boasting of things which are without [our] measure: [that is,] of other mens labours: and we hope, when your faith shall increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preach <sup>p</sup> Gospel in those [regions] which [are] beyonde you: not to reioyce in <sup>f</sup> another mans line, [that is,] in the things that are prepared alreadie.

17 * But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

2 He declareth his affection toward them, 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same, 13 The fetches of the false apostles, 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne prayles.

WOULD to God, ye could suffer a litle my <sup>a</sup> foolishnes, and in deede, <sup>b</sup> ye suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with godly ielousie: for <sup>c</sup> I haue prepared you for one husbände, to present you [as] a pure virgine to Christ:

3 But I feare least as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes should be corrupt from the simplicitie that is in Christ.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth another <sup>d</sup> Jesus then him whome wee haue preached: or if yee receiue another <sup>e</sup> spirit thē that which ye haue receiued: either another Gospel, thē that yee haue receyued, yee might well haue suffered [him].

5 Verely I <sup>f</sup> suppose that I was not inferiour to the very chiefe Apostles.

6 And though [I be] <sup>g</sup> rude in speaking, yet [I am] not [so] in knowledge, but among

Gen. 3. 4. <sup>d</sup> That is more perfect doctrine concerning Christ Jesus. <sup>e</sup> More excellent giftes of the Spirit by other mens preaching. <sup>f</sup> They did not preach Christ more purely then I did: for in this behalfe I was nothing inferiour to the chiefe Apostles. <sup>g</sup> That is, vse no worldly eloquence.

you

d He that measureth any thing, must haue some line or measure to mete by, and not to measure a thing by it selfe: so these boasters must measure them selues by their worthy actes: and if they will compare with others, let the shewe what countreys, what Cities, & people they haue wonne to the Loyde: for who will prayse that souldier, which onely at the table can finely talke of the warres, and when he cometh to the hunt, is neither valiant nor expert? Ephe. 4. 7.

<sup>c</sup> That is, the giftes and vocation, which God had gi-

uen him to winne others by. <sup>f</sup> God gaue the whole worlde to the Apostles to preach in, so that Paul here meaneth by the line, his portion of the countreyes where he preached, Iere. 9. 24. 1. cor. 1. 31.

2 He declareth his affection toward them, 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same, 13 The fetches of the false apostles, 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne prayles.

<sup>a</sup> He calleth the praying of him selfe dotage, to the which thing the arrogancie of the false apostles compelled him, who sought nothing els, but to ouerthrowe the Church by diminishing the authoritie of his ministerie.

<sup>a</sup> These words his backbiters vsed, thinking thereby to diminish his authoritie, as ver. 10

you we haue bene made manifest to the vtmost, in all things.

7 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my selfe, that yee might bee exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely:

8 I<sup>h</sup> robbed other Churches, & tooke wages<sup>h</sup> of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, I was<sup>i</sup> not slouthfull to the hinderance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto mee, the brethren which came from Macedonia, supplied, and in all things I kept and will keepe my selfe, that I should not* bee grieuous to you.

10<sup>k</sup> The trueth of Christ is in me, that this reioicing shal not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore: because I loue you not: God knoweth.

12 But what I doe, that will I doe: that I may cut away occasion fro them which desire<sup>l</sup> occasion, that they might bee founde like vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce.

13 For such false<sup>m</sup> apostles are deceitful workers, and transforme themselves into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no maruaile: for Sata himselfe is transformed into an Angell of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme themselves, as though [they were] the ministers of righteousness, whose ende shalbe according to their workes.

16 I say againe, let no man thinke, that I am foolish: or els take me euen as a foole, y<sup>i</sup> I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the<sup>n</sup> Lord: but as [it were] foolishly, in this [my] great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce<sup>o</sup> after the flesh, I will reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 For yee suffer euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure [you], if a man take [your] goodes, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21<sup>p</sup> I speake as concerning the reproch: as though that wee had bene<sup>q</sup> weake: but wherein any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also.

22 They are Hebrewes, so am I: they are Israelites, so am I: they are the seede of Abraham, so am I:

23 They are the ministers of Christ,

(I<sup>r</sup> speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes above measure: in prison more plenteously: in death oft.

24 Of the Jewes<sup>r</sup> five times receiued I fourtie [stripes]* saue one.

25<sup>u</sup> I was thrise* beaten with rods: I was* once stoned: I suffered thrise* shipwracke: night & day haue I bene in the deepe sea.

26 In iourneying [I was] often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Gentiles, in perils in the citie, in perils in wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren,

27 In wearines and painefulnes, in watching often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in colde and in nakednes.

28 Beside the things which are outward, I am combred dayly, [and haue] the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weake, & I am not weake: who is offended, and I burne not:

30 If I must needes reioyce, I will reioyce of mine<sup>x</sup> infirmities.

31 The God, euen the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In* Damascus the gouernour of y<sup>e</sup> people vnder king Aretas, laide watch in the citie of the Damascens, & would haue caught me.

33 But at a windowe was I let downe in a basket through the wall, and escaped his handes.

Is not expedient for me no doubt to reioyce: for I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2* I know a man<sup>a</sup> in Christ aboute fourtene yeeres agoe, (whether [hee were] in the bodie, I cannot tell, or out of the bodie, I cannot tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the<sup>b</sup> third heauen.

(which doubtles, they would haue growen vnto) but such as were vaine glorious, and

Phil. 3. 5.

d The Greeke word signifieth a sharpe piece of wood as a pale, or stake, and also a litle spilde or sharpe thing which pricketh one as he goeth through bushes and thicke places, and entering into the flesh, cannot be taken out without cutting of the flesh: and this was the rebelling of the flesh against the spirit, and warned him that Satan was at hand.

e That is to say, often times.

g He doth not onely patiently beare his afflictions, but also ioyfully, and as one that taketh pleasure therein for Christs sake.

Chap. 11. 9. Or, chargeable.

h For first, he was minded to depart from Ephesus into Macedonia, and so to Corinthus, 1. Cor. 16. 5. Then when the Lord letted this purpose, he appointed to go straight from Ephesus to Corinthus, Chap. 1. 15. which intent being changed, he went to Macedonia, from whence now he appointeth the third time to come vnto the.

i Which declarerth his fathers affection.

Or, your cause or persons, k Thus said his aduersaries, that though he tooke it not by himselfe, yet he did it by the meanes of others.

l To go to you,

mine infirmities.

6 For though I would reioyce, I should not bee a foole: for I will say the trueth, but I refraine, least any man should thinke of me aboute that he seeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

7 And least I should be exalted out of measure through the abundance of revelations, there was giue vnto me a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord, that it might depart from me.

9 And he saide vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect through weakenes. Very gladly therefore wil I reioyce rather in mine infirmities, that y power of Christ may dwell in me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christs sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I was a foole to boast my selfe: ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you: for in nothing was I inferiour vnto the very chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 The signes of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signes, and wonders, and great workes.

13 For what is it, wherein yee were inferiours vnto other Churches, except that I haue not bene slouthfull to your hinderance: forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be slouthfull to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay by for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will most gladly bestowe, and will bee bestowed for your soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am loued.

16 But be it that I charged you not: yet forasmuch as I was craftie, I tooke you with guile.

17 Did I pil you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I haue desired Titus, and with him I haue sent a brother: did Titus pill you of any thing? Walked we not in the selfe same spirit: [walked we] not in the same steppes?

19 Againe, thinke yee that we excuse our selues vnto you: wee speake before

God in Christ. But [we doe] all things, dearly beloued, for your edifying.

20 For I feare least when I come, I shal not finde you such as I would: and that I shalbe founde vnto you such as ye would not, & lest [there bee] strife, enuying, wrath, contentions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings [and] discorde.

21 [I feare] lest when I come again, my God abase me among you, & I shal bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of vncleannes, and fornication, and wantonnes, which they haue committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He threatneth y obstinate, 5 And declarerth what his power is by their owne testimonie. 10 Also he sheweth what is the effect of this epistle. 11 After hauing exhorted them to their due tie, he wisheth them all prosperitie.

This [is] the third time that I come vnto you. * In the mouth of two or three witnesses shal every word stand.

2 I told you before, and tell you before: as though I had bene present the seconde time, so write I now being absent to them which heretofore haue sinned, and to all others, that if I come againe, I will not spare.

3 Seeing that yee seeke experience of Christ, I speake in me, which towarde you is not weake, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified concerning [his] infirmitie, yet liueth hee through the power of God. And wee no doubt are weake in him: but wee shall liue with him, through y power of God toward you.

5 * Prove your selues whether ye are in the faith: examine your selues: know yee not your owne selues, howe that Iesus Christ is in you, except yee bee reprobates?

6 But I trust that yee shall knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray vnto God that ye do none euill, not y we should seeme approved, but that ye should do that which is honest: though we be as reprobates.

8 For we cannot [do] any thing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and that ye are strong: this also we wish for: [euen] your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these things being absent, least when I am present, I should vse sharpnes, according to the power which the Lord hath giuen me, to edification, and not to destruction.

f Hauing abundance of the grace of God, g Commit not by your negligence, that that which is ordeined to saluation, turne to your destruction.

THe Galatians after they had bene instructed by S. Paul in the truth of the Gospel, gaue place to false apostles, who entring in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Lawe must bee necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the graunting thereof is the ouerthrowe of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the testaments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false teachers did pretende, as though they had bene sent of the chiefe Apostles, and that Paul had no authoritie, but spake of him selfe, he proueth both that he is an Apostle ordeined by God, and also that he is not inferiour to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he proceedeth to his purpose, prouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their vse and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the truth and the ende thereof is come: wherefore men ought now to embrace that liberty, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences snared in the grennes of mans traditions: finally hee sheweth wherein this libertie standeth, and what exercises appertaine thereunto.

18 Then after three yeres I came againe to Jerusalem to visite Peter, and abode with him fifteene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles saw I, save James the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, beholde, [I witnes] before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coasts of Syria & Cilicia: for I was vnknown by face vnto the Churches of Judea, which were in Christ.

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleshippe to be of God, 3 He sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6 And that he is nothing inferiour to other Apostles: 11 Yea, and that he hath reproved Peter the Apostle of the Jewes. 16 After he cometh to the principal scope, which is to proue that iustification only cometh of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the workes of the Lawe.

When fourteene yeres after, I went by againe to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went by by reuelation, and communicated with the of the Gospel which I preache among the Gentiles, *but particularly with them that were the chiefe, lest by any meanes I shoulde runne, or had runne+ in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with mee, though hee were a Grecian, was<sup>b</sup> compelled to be circumcised,

4 For all the falsse brethren y<sup>e</sup> crept in: who came in priuily to spie out our libertie, which we haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome wee<sup>c</sup> gaue not place by subiection for an houre, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 And of them which seemed to bee great, [I was not taught] (what they were in time passed, it maketh no matter to me: *God accepteth no mans person) neuertheles, they that are y<sup>e</sup> chiefe, did communicate nothing with me.

7 But contrariwise, whē they sawe y<sup>e</sup> the Gospel over the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as [the Gospel] ouer the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie by Peter in the Apostleshippe ouer the circumcision, was also mightie by me towarde the Gentiles)

9 And when James, and Cephas, and John knewe of the grace that was giuen vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they gaue to me and to Barnabas the<sup>f</sup> right handes of fellowshipe, that we [shoulde preach] vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the Circumcision,

10 * [warning] onely that we should remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstoode him<sup>g</sup> to his face: for he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from James, he ate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated him selfe, fearing them which were of the Circumcision.

13 And the other Jewes dissembled likewise w<sup>h</sup> him, in so much y<sup>e</sup> Barnabas was brought into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I saw, that they went not y<sup>e</sup> right way to y<sup>e</sup> trueth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before al men, If thou being a Jew, liuest as y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles, & not like the Jewes, why<sup>h</sup> constrainest thou the Gentiles to do like the Jewes?

15 We [which are] Jewes by nature, and not<sup>i</sup> sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Know y<sup>e</sup> a man is not iustified by y<sup>e</sup> workes of the Lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: euē we, [I say,] haue beleued in Iesus Christ, y<sup>e</sup> we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, & not by the workes of y<sup>e</sup> Lawe, because y<sup>e</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> workes of the Lawe no flesh shall be iustified.

17 * If the while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are founde<sup>k</sup> sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne: God<sup>l</sup> forbid.

18 For if I builde againe the things that I haue destroyed, <sup>m</sup>I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Lawe am dead to the Lawe, [and] that I might liue vnto God, I am<sup>n</sup> crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue [yet,] <sup>o</sup>not I now, but Christ liueth in me: and in that that I now liue in the<sup>p</sup> flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen him selfe for me.

21 I doe not abrogate the<sup>q</sup> grace of God: for if righteousness [be] by y<sup>e</sup> Lawe, then Christ dyed<sup>r</sup> without a cause.

CHAP. III.

1 He rebuketh them sharply, 2 And proueth by diuers reasons that iustification is by faith, 6 As appeareth by the example of Abraham, 10. 19. 24. And by the office, and the ende, both of the Lawe, 11. 25 And of faith.

O Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you that yee shoulde not obey the trueth, to whome Jesus Christ before <sup>a</sup> was described in your sight, [and] among you crucified:

2 This only would I learne of you, Received ye the <sup>b</sup> Spirit by the workes of the Lawe, or by the hearing of <sup>c</sup> faith [preached:]

3 Are ye so foolish, that after ye haue begunne in the Spirit, ye woulde nowe <sup>d</sup> be made perfect by the <sup>e</sup> flesh:

4 Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine: if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministrereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, [doeth he it] through the workes of the Lawe, or by the hearing of faith [preached:]

6 [Yea rather] as Abraham beleued God, and it was * imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Knowe yee therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospell vnto Abraham, [saying,] * In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the <sup>f</sup> workes of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euery man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Law, to do them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the <sup>g</sup> lawe is not of faith: but * the man that shall doe those things, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Lawe, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Jesus, that we might receiue the <sup>h</sup> promes of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speake as men doe, * Though it be but a mas couenant whē it is confirmed, [yet] no man doeth abrogate it, or <sup>k</sup> addeth any thing thereto.

<sup>i</sup> I will vse a common example y<sup>e</sup> you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to such covenants, which one man maketh to another.

Heb. 9. 17. <sup>k</sup> No more is the promise or couenant of God abrogate by the Lawe, nor yet is the Lawe added to the promise to take any thing away that was superfluous, or to supply any thing that wanted.

16 Nowe to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He sayeth not, And to the seedes, as [speaking] of many: but, And to thy seede, as of one, which <sup>l</sup> is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Lawe which was foure hundred and thirtie yeeres after, can not disanull the covenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, that it shoulde make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance [be] of the Law, [it is] no more by the promise, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then [serueth] the Lawe: It was added because of the <sup>m</sup> transgressions, till the seede came vnto the which the promise was made: and it was ordeined by <sup>n</sup> Angels in the hand of a Mediatour.

20 Nowe a Mediatour is not [a Mediatour] of <sup>o</sup> one: but God is <sup>p</sup> one:

21 [Is] the Lawe then against the promise of God: God forbid: for if there had bene a Lawe giuen which coulde haue giuen life, surely righteousness should haue bene by the Lawe.

22 But the Scripture hath * concluded <sup>q</sup> all vnder sinne, that the promes by the faith of Jesus Christ shoulde be giuen to them that beleue.

23 But before <sup>r</sup> faith came, we were kept vnder the Lawe, and shut vp vnto the faith, which shoulde afterwarde be reuelled.

24 Wherefore the * Lawe was our scholemaster [to bring vs] to Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder <sup>s</sup> a scholemaster.

26 For ye are all the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Jesus.

27 * For all ye that are <sup>t</sup> baptized in to Christ, haue put on Christ.

28 There is neither Jewe nor Grecian: there is neither bonde nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all <sup>u</sup> one in Christ Jesus.

29 And if [ye be] Christs, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires by promise.

CHAP. IIII.

them which haue receiued the sweete libertie of the Gospell, and thrust them backe into superstitious slavery. <sup>m</sup> So friendfull to me, as I am affectioned turne you from me, that you might followe them.

2 But is vnder <sup>b</sup> tutours and gouer-nours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so, we when we were childre, were in bondage vnder the <sup>c</sup> rudiments of the worlde.

4 But when the fulnes of time was come, God sent forth his Sone made of a woman, [<sup>d</sup>] made vnder the Lawe,

5 That he might redeeme the which were vnder the Lawe, that we <sup>e</sup> might receiue the adoption of the sonnes.

6 And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the <sup>e</sup> Spirit of his Sonne into your heartes, which cryeth, <sup>f</sup> Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore, thou art no more <sup>g</sup> a seruant, but a sonne: nowe if [thou be] a sonne, [thou art] also the heire of God through Christ.

8 But euen then, when ye <sup>h</sup> knewe not God, ye did seruice vnto the, which by <sup>i</sup> nature are not gods.

9 But now seeing ye know God, yea, rather are knowne of God, howe turne ye againe vnto impotent and beggerly rudiments, wherunto [as] from the beginning ye will be in bondage againe:

10 Ye obserue <sup>l</sup> dayes, and moneths, and times, and peeres.

11 I am in feare of you, least I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Be ye as <sup>m</sup> I: for I am euen as you: brethren, I beseech you: ye haue not hurt <sup>n</sup> me at all.

13 And ye knowe, how through <sup>o</sup> infirmities of the flesh I preached the Gos-pell vnto you at the first.

14 <sup>p</sup> And the trial of me which was in my flesh, ye despised not, neither abhorred: but ye receiued me as an <sup>q</sup> Angell of God, [yea,] as Christ Iesus.

15 What was then your felicitie: for I beare you record, <sup>r</sup> if it had bene possible, ye woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your ene-mie, because I tell you the trueth:

17 They are ielous ouer you amisse:
yea, they woulde exclude <sup>s</sup> you, that ye shoulde altogether loue them.

18 But it is a good thing to loue earnestly allwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you,

19 My litle children, of whom I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be <sup>t</sup> formed in you.

20 And I woulde I were with you nowe, that I might change my voyce:
for I am in doute of you.

21 Tell me, ye that will be vnder the Lawe, doe ye not heare the Lawe:

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, <sup>* one by a seruant, and</sup> <sup>* one by a free woman.</sup>

23 But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the flesh: and he which was of the free woman, [was borne] by promises.

24 By the which thinges an other thing is meant: for these [mothers] <sup>u</sup> are the two Testaments, the one which is <sup>x</sup> Agar of mount Sina, which gendereth vnto bondage,

25 (For Agar [<sup>o</sup>] Sina is a moun-taine in <sup>y</sup> Arabia, and it answereth to Jerusalem which nowe is) and she is in bondage with her children.

26 But Jerusalem, which is || aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou <sup>z</sup> barren that bearest no children: breake forth, and crie, thou that trauestest not:
for the desolate hath many mo children,
then she which hath an husband.

28 * Therefore, brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of the promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that [was borne] after the spirit, euen so [it is] now.

30 But what sayeth the Scripture:
* Put out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruāt shall not be heire with the sonne of the free woman.

31 Then brethren, we are not childre of the seruant, but of the † free woman.

6 For in Jesus Christ neither Circumcision auailleth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

16 The<sup>i</sup> I say, * walke in the<sup>j</sup> Spirit, & ye shall not fulfil the lustes of the flesh.

17 For the<sup>k</sup> flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not doe the same thinges that ye woulde.

23 Meekenesse, temperancie: against such there is<sup>m</sup> no Lawe.

24 For they that are Christes,<sup>n</sup> haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lustes.

25 If we live in the Spirit, let vs also walke in the<sup>o</sup> Spirit.

26 Let vs not be desirous of baine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

3 For if any man seeme to him selfe, & he is somewhat, when he is nothing, he deceiueth himselfe in his imagination.

4 But let every man proue his owne work, & then shall he haue<sup>d</sup> reioycing in himselfe onely and not in another.

8 For he that<sup>f</sup> soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but he that soweth to the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euermlasting.

9 * Let vs not therefore be wearie of well doing: for in due season we shall<sup>g</sup> reape, if we faint not.

The Epistle of Paul to the Ephesians.

THE ARGUMENT.

WHile Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which he had taught them, by reason whereof he wrote this Epistle to con-firme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, he assureth them of saluation, because they were thereunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed vp to this eternall life by the holy Ghost, giuen vnto them by the Gospell, the knowledge of the which myserie he prayeth God to confirme towarde them. And to the intent they shoulde not glorie in them selues, he sheweth them their extreme miserie, wherein they were plunged before they knew Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to whome the promises were not made, and yet by the free mercie of God in Christ Jesus, they were saued, and he appointed to be their Apostle, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perfite vnderstanding of his Sonne, and exhorteth them likewise to be mindful of so great benefites, neither to be moued with the false apostles, which seeke to ouerthrowe their faith, and treade vnder foote the Gospell, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternall counsell of God: who by this meanes preserueth onely his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministerie, forasmuch as God thereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring forth most plentifull frutes, as innocencie, holinesse, with all such offices appertaining to godlinesse. Last of all, he declareth not onely in general, what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly, what things concerne euery mans vocation.

22 And hath made all things subiect vnder his feete, and hath appointed him ouer all things [to be] the head to the Church,

23 which is his body, [even] the fulnes of him that filleth all in all things.

CHAP. II.

5 To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onely cause of saluation, 11 He sheweth them what manner of people they were before their conuersion, 18 And what they are now in Christ.

AND you [hath he quickned,] that were dead in trespasses and sinnes,

2 wherein, in time past ye walked, according to the course of this worlde, [and] after the prince that ruleth in y<sup>e</sup> aire, [even] the spirit, that now we worketh in the children of disobedience,

3 Among whom we also had our conuersion in time past, in the lustes of our flesh, in fulfilling the wil of the flesh, and of the minde, and were by nature the children of wrath, as wel as others.

4 But God which is rich in mercy, through his great loue wherewith hee loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together in Christ, [by whose] grace ye are saued,

6 And hath raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Jesus,

7 That he might shewe in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindenesse toward vs in Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace are ye saued through fayth, and that not of your selues: it [is] the gift of God,

9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast himselfe.

10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined, that we should walke in them.

11 Wherefore remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, [and] called vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in y<sup>e</sup> flesh, made with hands,

12 That ye were, [I say,] at that time without Christ, and were aliens from the common wealth of Israel, & were strangers from the covenants of promise, & had no hope, and [were] without God in the world.

13 But now in Christ Jesus, ye which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stoppe of the partition wall,

15 In abrogating through his flesh the hatred, [that is,] the Lawe of commandements [which standeth] in ordinances, for to make of twaine one newe man in himselfe, [so] making peace,

16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by [his] crosse, and slay hatred thereby,

17 And came, and preached peace to you which were as farre off, and to them that were neere.

18 For through him we both haue an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.

19 Nowe therefore ye are no more strangers & forreners: but citizens with the Saints, & of the household of God,

20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himselfe being the chiefe corner stone,

21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord, c Both Jewe and Gentile, Or, with Christ. d We that are the members, are raised vp from death & reigne in our head Christ in heauen by faith.

e Here he meaneth, as concerning grace, & not by nature.

f He sheweth here y<sup>e</sup> further the Gentiles were off from the grace of God, the greater betters they are now to the same.

1. Sam. 17. 26. ezek. 44. 7.

Rom. 9. 4.

g It was but one covenant, but because it was diuerse times confirmed and established, therefore here he calleth the covenants.

h Where no promise is, there is no hope.

i Or, Athiests. That is, the cause of the diuision that was betwene the Jewes and the Gentiles.

k For in Christ all things were accomplished, which were prefigured in the Lawe.

l For of the Jewes and the Gentiles he made one flocke.

Or, death. Rom. 5. 2.

22 In Whome ye also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 Desireth them not to faint because of his trouble, 14 And prayeth God to make them stedfast in his Spirit.

a He reioyced in that he suffered imprisonment for the maintenance of Christ's glory.

b Which was his vocation to preach unto the Gentiles.

c That is, in y<sup>e</sup> first Chap. of this Epistle, verse 9.

e The Angels.

f The Church being gathered of so many kinds of people, is an example, or a glasse for the Angels to beholde the wisdom of God in, who hath turned their particular discords into an universal concord, and of the synagogue of bondage, hath made the Church of freedom.

g He that is not of the body of Christ, is in death.

h The faithful which dyed before Christ came, were adopted by him and made one familie with the Saints which yet remaine alive.

In this cause, I Paul [am] the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to youwarde,

3 [That is,] that [God] by reuelation hath shewed this myserie vnto me (as I wrote<sup>c</sup> aboue in fewe wordes,

4 whereby when ye reade, ye may know mine vnderstanding in the myserie of Christ)

5 which in other ages was<sup>d</sup> not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reuelled vnto his holy Apostles & Prophets by the Spirit,

6 That the Gentiles should be inheritors also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel,

7 whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto me<sup>e</sup> through the working of his power.

8 *Euen vnto me y<sup>e</sup> least of all Saints is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the<sup>f</sup> Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the<sup>g</sup> myserie is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, who hath created all things by Jesus Christ,

10 To the intent, that now vnto<sup>h</sup> principalities and powers in heavenly [places] might be known<sup>i</sup> by the Church the manifolde wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternall purpose, which he wrought in Christ Jesus our Lorde.

12 By Whom we haue boldenes & entrance with confidence, by faith in him.

13 wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glorie.

14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the Father of our Lorde Jesus Christ,

15 (Of whome is named the whole familie in<sup>j</sup> heauen and in earth)

16 That he might graunt you according to the riches of his glorie, that ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the<sup>k</sup> breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all<sup>l</sup> fulnes of God.

20 *Vnto him therefore that is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in<sup>m</sup> vs,

21 [We] praye in the Church by Christ Jesus, throughout all generations for euer. Amen.

CHAP. IIIL.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenes, long suffering, vnto loue and peace, 3 Every one to serue and edifie another with the gift that God hath giuen him, 14 To beware of strange doctrine, 22 To lay aside the olde conuersation of grieuie lustes, and to walke in a newe life.

ETherefore, being prisoner in the<sup>n</sup> Lorde, pray you that ye walke worthy of y<sup>e</sup> vocation whereunto ye are called,

2 With all humblenes of minde, and meekenes, with long suffering, supposing one another through loue,

3 Endeavouring to keepe the vnitie of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 There[is]<sup>b</sup> one body, & one<sup>c</sup> Spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.

5 [There is] one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,

6 *One God and Father of all, which is<sup>d</sup> aboue all, and<sup>e</sup> through all, and in you all.

7 *But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the<sup>f</sup> gift of Christ.

13 Till we all meete together (in the vnitie of fayth and knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a<sup>1</sup> perfecte man, [and] vnto the measure of the age of the fulnes of Christ,

14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering and carped about with euery winde of doctrine, by the deceite of men, and with craftines, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue.

15 But let vs followe y<sup>e</sup> trueth in loue, and in all thinges growe vnto him, which is the<sup>m</sup> head, [that is] Christ,

16 By whome all the body being coupled and knit together by euery ioyn, for the furniture [thereof] (according to the effectuall power, [which is] in the measure of euery part) receyue the increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.

17 This I say therefore and testifie in the Lorde, that ye henceforth walke not as* other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their<sup>n</sup> minde,

18 hauing their cogitation darkened, and being strangers from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the<sup>p</sup> hardness of their heart:

19 which being || past* feeling, haue given themselves vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vncleannes, [euene] with grinedes.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If so be ye haue heard him, and haue bin taught by him, as the<sup>q</sup> trueth is in Iesus,

22 [That is,] *that ye cast off, concerning the conuersation in time past, the<sup>r</sup> olde man, which is corrupt through the deceiueable lustes,

23 And be renewed in the spirite of your minde,

24 *And put on the newe man, which after God is created in righteousness, and true holinesse.

25 *Wherefore cast off lying, & speake euery man trueth vnto his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 *Be<sup>t</sup> angrie, but sinne not: let not the sunne go downe vpon your wrath, 31 Let all bitterness, and anger, and wrath, crying, and euill speaking be put away from you, with all malitiousnes.

32 *Be ye courteous one to another, and tender hearted, forgiving one another, euene as God for Christes sake forgaued you.

CHAP. V.

1 He exhorteth them vnto loue, 3 Warneth them to beware of vncleannes, couetousnes, foolish talking, & false doctrine, 17 To be circumspect, 18 To auoide drunkennes, 19 To reioyce and to be thankful toward God, 21 To submit them selues one to another, 22 He entreateth of corporall marriage and of the spirituall betwixt Christ and his Church.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as deare children,

2 *And walke in loue, euene as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, [to be] an offering & a sacrifice of a sweete<sup>a</sup> smelling sauour to God.

3 *But fornication, and all vncleannes, or couetousnesse, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth Saints,

4 Neither filthinesse, neither foolish talking, neither<sup>b</sup> iesting, which are things not comely, but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye knowe, that no whoremonger, neither vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is<sup>c</sup> an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 *Let no<sup>d</sup> man deceiue you with bayne wordes: for, for such things cometh the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not therefore companions with them.

8 For ye were once darkened, but are nowe light in the Lord: walke as<sup>e</sup> children of light,

9 (For the fruite of the Spirit [is] in all goodnesse, and righteousness, and trueth)

10 Approouing that which is pleasing to the Lord.

11 And haue no fellowship with the vnfruitfull workes of darkenesse, but euene<sup>f</sup> reprove them rather.

17 * Wherefore, be ye not vnwise, but vnderstand what the wil of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunke with wine, wherein is excesse: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in psalmes, and <sup>l</sup> hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your <sup>l</sup> hearts,

20 Giuing thanks alwayes for all things vnto God euen the Father, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, 21 Submitting your selues one to another in the <sup>m</sup> feare of God.

22 * <sup>n</sup> Wives submit your selues vnto your husbands, as vnto the Lord.

23 * For the husband is the Wives head, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and the same is the sauour of <sup>n</sup> his <sup>n</sup> body.

24 Therefore as the Church is in subiection to Christ, euen so <sup>o</sup> let <sup>o</sup> Wives <sup>o</sup> be to their husbands in euery thing.

25 * <sup>p</sup> Husbands, loue your Wives, euen as Christ loued the Church, and gaue himselfe for it,

26 That he might sanctifie it, & cleanse it by the <sup>o</sup> washing of water through the worde,

27 That he might make it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing <sup>p</sup> spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it shoulde bee holy and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their Wives, as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth & cherisheth it, euen as the Lord <sup>q</sup> doeth the Church.

30 For we are members of his body, <sup>q</sup> of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, & shall cleaue to his wife, and they twaine shalbe one flesh.

32 This is a great secret, but I speake concerning CHRIST, and concerning the Church.

33 Therefore euery one of you, <sup>q</sup> doe ye so: let euery one loue his wife, euen as himselfe, and <sup>q</sup> let the wife <sup>q</sup> see that she feare her husband.

3 That it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest liue long on earth.

4 And ye, fathers, prouoke not your children to <sup>b</sup> wrath: but bring them vp in <sup>c</sup> instruction and information of the Lord.

5 * Seruants, be obiect vnto them that are <sup>d</sup> your masters, according to the flesh, with feare and trembling in singlenes of your hearts as vnto Christ,

6 Not with seruice to the eye, as men pleasers, but as the seruants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,

7 With good will seruing the Lord, and not men.

8 And knowe ye that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, that same shall he receiue of the Lord, whether <sup>e</sup> he be bond or free.

9 And ye masters, doe the same things vnto them, putting away threatening: and knowe that euen <sup>e</sup> your master also is in heauen, neither is there <sup>e</sup> respect of person with him.

The Epistle of Paul to the Philippians.

THE ARGUMENT.

Paul being warned by the holy Ghost to go to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a citie of the same countrey: but because his charge was to preach the Gospel vniuersally to all the Gentiles, he trauielled from place to place, till at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, whereof the Philippians being aduertised, sent their minister Epaphroditus with reliefe vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein he commendeth them that they stood manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good will toward them, and exhorteth them that his imprisonment make them not to shrink: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed and not diminished: especially he desireth them to flee ambition, and to embrace modestie, promising to sende Timotheus vnto them, who should instruct them in matters more amply: yea, and that he himselfe would also come vnto them, adding likewise the cause of their ministers so long abode. And because there were no greater enemies to the crosse then the false apostles, he confuteth their false doctrine, by proouing onely Christ to be the ende of all true religion, with whome we haue all thing, and without whome we haue nothing, so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this followe certaine admonitions both particular and generall, with testification of his affection toward them, and thankfull accepting of their beneuolence.

that the things which [haue come] vnto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel,

13 So that my bandes in <sup>i</sup> Christ are famous throughout all the <sup>k</sup> iudgement hall, and in all other [places,]

14 In so much that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankly speake the <sup>l</sup> word.

15 Some preach Christ euen through enuie and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one part preacheth Christ of contention [and] not <sup>m</sup> purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bandes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I <sup>n</sup> am set for the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then: yet Christ is preached all maner wayes, whether [it <sup>n</sup> be] vnder a pretence, or sincerely: and I therein ioy: yea, and will ioy.

19 For I knowe that this shall turne to my saluation, through your prayer, and by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ,

20 As I heartily looke for, and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes, so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether [it be] by life or by death.

21 For Christ [is] to mee both in life, and in death aduantage.

22 And whether to <sup>o</sup> liue in the flesh [were] profitable for mee, and what to choose I knowe not.

23 For I am greatly in doubt on both sides, desiring to be loosed and to be with Christ, which is best of all.

24 Neuerthelesse, to abide in <sup>p</sup> flesh, [is] more needefull for you.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and ioy of [your] faith,

26 That ye may more abundantly reioyce in Iesus Christ for me, by my coming to you againe.

27 * Onely let your conuersation be, as it becometh the Gospell of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may heare of your matters that ye <sup>q</sup> continue in one Spirit, [and] in one minde fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.

28 And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them <sup>p</sup> a token of perdition, and to you of saluation, and <sup>q</sup> that of God.

29 For vnto you it is giuen for <sup>r</sup> Christ, <sup>s</sup> Or, Christes cause, that not onely ye should beleue in him, but also suffer for his sake,

30 Hauing the same fight, which ye saue in me, and now heare [to be] in me.

CHAP. II.

3 I see exhorteth them about all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly maintained, 19 Promising that he and Timotheus will speedily come vnto them, 27 And exhorteth the long tarrying of Epaphroditus.

If [there be] therefore any <sup>a</sup> consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of <sup>b</sup> Spirit, if any compassion and mercie,

2 Fulfill my ioye, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accorde, and of <sup>b</sup> one iudgement,

3 That nothing [be done] through contention or vaine glorie, but that in meeknesse of minde <sup>c</sup> every man esteeme other better then himselfe.

4 Looke not every man on his owne things, but every man also on the things of other men.

5 Let the same minde be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,

6 Who <sup>c</sup> being in the forme of God, thought it no <sup>d</sup> robberie to be equal with God:

7 * But he made himselfe of no reputation, and tooke on him the <sup>e</sup> forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, and was founde in <sup>f</sup> shape as a man.

8 * He humbled himselfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse.

9 Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name aboue every name,

11 * And that every tongue should confesse that Iesus Christ [is] the Lord, vnto the glorie of God the Father.

12 Wherefore my beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence onely, but now much more in mine absence, [so] <sup>h</sup> make an ende of your owne saluation with <sup>i</sup> feare and trembling.

25 But I supposed it necessarie to sende [my] brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in labour, and fellow souldier, euen your messenger, and hee that ministred vnto me such things as I wanted.

26 For hee longed after all you, and was full of heavinesse, because ye had heard that he had bene sicke.

27 And no doubt he was sicke, very neere vnto death: but God had mercie on him, and not on him onely, but on me also, lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.

29 Receiue him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, & make much of such:

a Which ye haue often heard of me,

2 Beware of <sup>b</sup> dogges: beware of euil workers: beware of the <sup>c</sup> concision.

b Which barke against the true doctrine to fill their bellies.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reioyce in Christ Jesus, and haue no confidence <sup>d</sup> in the flesh:

c The false apostles glorie in their circumcision,

4 Though I might also haue confidence in the fleshe. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, much more I:

d Whereunto S. Paul here alludeth, calling them concision, which is cutting off and tearing asunder of the Church.

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, *an Ebrewe of the Ebrewes, *by the <sup>e</sup> lawe a Pharise.

6 Concerning zeale, I persecuted the Church: touching <sup>f</sup> righteousness which is in the Lawe, I was vnbukeable.

f Or, profession.

7 But the things that were vantage vnto mee, the same I counted losse for Christes sake.

8 Yea, doubtlesse I thinke all things but losse for <sup>g</sup> excellent knowledge sake of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whome I haue counted all things losse, and doe iudge [them] to be dongue, that I might winne Christ, g As one gratified in him by faith.

9 And might be <sup>h</sup> founde in him, [that is,] not hauing mine own righteousness, which is of the Lawe, but that which is through <sup>i</sup> faith of Christ, [euen] the righteousness which is of God through faith, h That is, to life euertlasting.

10 That I may knowe him, and the vertue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his afflictions, and be made conformable vnto his death, i Or, have now taken full possession thereof, not that he doubted to attaine vnto it, but because he would declare the excellencie thereof.

11 If by any meanes I might attaine vnto the <sup>j</sup> resurrection of the dead:

j We can runne no farther then God giueth vs strength, and sheweth vs the way.

12 <sup>k</sup> Not as though I had already attained [to it,] either were already perfect: but I followe, if that I may comprehend [that] for whose sake also I am <sup>l</sup> comprehended of Christ Jesus.

k That is, to obtaine the crowne of glory in the heauens.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe, that I haue attained [to it,] but one thing [I do:] I forget that which is behinde, and endenour my selfe vnto that which is before, l Or, have more profited then others.

14 And followe harde toward the marke, for the prise of the hie calling of God in Christ Jesus.

m This perfection standeth in forsaking sinne, and to be renewed through faith by him which is only perfect.

15 Let vs therefore as many as <sup>k</sup> be <sup>l</sup> perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwise minded, God shall reuel euen the <sup>m</sup> same vnto you.

m That is, that this is the true wisdom, and straight rule of liuing.

20 But our <sup>d</sup> conuersation is in heauen, from whence also we looke for the * Saviour, [euen] the Lorde Iesus Christ,

21 who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working, whereby hee is able euen to subdue all things vnto himselfe.

CHAP. IIII.

<sup>e</sup> He exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, <sup>f</sup> And thanketh them, because of the prouision that they made for him being in prison, <sup>g</sup> And so concludeth with salutations.

Herefore, my brethren, beloved and longed for, [my] ioye and my crowne, so continue in the Lord, ye beloved.

2 I pray Eudias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of one accorde in the Lord.

3 Bea, and I beseeche thee, faithful yokefellow, helpe those [women] which laboured with mee in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow labourers, whose names [are] in the *<sup>a</sup> booke of life.

4 Reioyce in the Lord alway, againe I say, reioyce.

5 Let your patient minde be knowne vnto all men. The Lord [is] <sup>b</sup> at hand.

6 * Bee nothing carefull, but in all things let your requestes be shewed vnto God in prayer, and supplication with giuing of thanks.

7 And <sup>c</sup> peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall <sup>d</sup> preserue your heartes and minds in Christ Iesus.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things [are] honest, whatsoever things [are] iust, whatsoever things [are] pure, whatsoever things pertaine to loue, whatsoever things [are] of good report, if there [be] any vertue, or if there [be] any praise,

thinke on these things,

9 which ye haue both learned and received, and heard, and seene in me: those things doe, and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 Nowe I reioyce also in the Lord greatly, that nowe at the last ye are <sup>d</sup> reuiued againe to care for me, wherein notwithstanding ye were carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of <sup>e</sup> want: for I haue learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12 And I can be abased, and I can abound: euery where in all things I am instructed both to be full, and to be hungry, and to abound, and to haue want.

13 I am able to [do] all things through the helpe of <sup>f</sup> Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding yee haue well done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.

15 And ye Philippians knowe also that in the <sup>g</sup> beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me concerning the <sup>h</sup> matter of giuing and receiving, but ye onely.

16 For euen [when I was] in Thessalonica, ye sent once, and afterwarde againe for my necessitie, 17 not that I desire a gift: but I desire the fruite which may <sup>i</sup> further your reckoning.

18 Nowe I haue received all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled, after that I had received of Epaphroditus that which [came] from you, an odour that smelleth sweete, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasant to God.

19 And my God shall fulfill all your necessities through his riches with glorie in Iesus Christ.

20 Vnto God euen our Father [be] praise for euermore, Amen.

The Epistle of Paul to the Colossians.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Epistle S. Paul putteth difference betweene the liuely, effectuell and true Christ, and the fained, counterfaite and imagined Christ, whom the false apostles taught. And first, hee confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them increase of faith, to esteeme the excellencie of Gods benefite toward them, teaching them also that saluation, and whatsoever good thing can be desired, standeth onely in Christ, whom onely we embrace by the Gospell. But forasmuch as the false brethren would haue mixed the Lawe with the Gospell, he toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to stay only on Christ, without whom all things are but meere vanitie. And as for Circumcision, abstinence from meates, externall holines, worshipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, hee vtterly condemneth, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that nowe the exercises of the Christians stand in mortification of the flesh, newnesse of life, with other like offices appertaining both generally and particularly to all the faythfull.

CHAP. I.

3 We giueth thanks vnto God for their faith, 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Prayeth for the increase of their faith, 13 He sheweth vnto them the true Christ, and discovereth the counterfaite Christ of the false apostles, 25 Hee approueth his authoritie and charge, 28 And of his faithfull executing of the same.

PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the Will of God, and Timotheus [our] brother,

2 To them, which are at Colosse, Saintes and faithfull brethren in Christ: Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lorde Jesus Christ.

3 Wee giue thanks to God euen the Father of our Lorde Jesus Christ, alwayes praying for you:

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ I E S V S, and of [your] loue toward all Saints,

5 For the hopes sake, which is layde vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the worde of trueth, [which is] the Gospell,

6 which is come vnto you, euen as [it is] vnto all the worlde, and is fruitefull, as [it is] also among you, from the day that ye heard and truly knew the grace of God,

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

8 who hath also declared vnto vs your loue, [which ye haue] by his Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day wee heard [of it,] cease not to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his Will, in all wisdom, and spirituall vnderstanding,

10 That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, and please [him] in all things, being * fruitefull in all good workes, 1. Cor. 1.5.

and increasing in knowledge of God, 11 Strengthened w al might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, and long suffering with ioyfulness,

12 Giuing thanks vnto the Father, which hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saintes in light,

13 who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkenesse, and hath translated vs into the kingdome * of his deare Sonne,

14 In whom wee haue redemption through his blood, [that is,] the forgiveness of sinnes, 15 who is the * image of the invisible God, the first borne of euery creature.

16 For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and invisible: whether [they be] Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him and for him,

17 And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18 And hee is the head of the body of the Church: hee is the beginning, * [and] the first borne of the dead, that in all things hee might haue the preeminence.

19 For it pleased [the Father,] that in him should all fulnes dwell,

20 And by him to reconcile all things vnto himselfe, & to set at peace through the blood of his crosse both the things in earth, and the things in heauen.

21 And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because [your] mindes [were set] in euill workes, hath he now also reconciled,

The first Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had bene well instructed in the fayth, persecution, which perpetually fol-loweth the preaching of the Gospell, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet
S. Paul (as most carefull for them) sent Timothie to strengthen them, who soone after admonishing him of their estate, gaue occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in fayth, and to suffer whatsoeuer God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospell, exhorting them to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheate, so there were among them wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious questions to ouerthrowe their fayth, taught falsly, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead: whereof he briefly instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the times, willing them rather to watch least the sudden comming of Christ come vpon them at vnwares: and so after certaine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, hee endeth.

<sup>g</sup> For idols are dead things & onely feined fantasies.

9 For<sup>f</sup> they themselves shewe of you what maner of entring in we had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from idoles, to serue the <sup>g</sup> liuing and true God,

<sup>1</sup> To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, <sup>2</sup> He commendeth his diligence in preaching, <sup>13</sup> And theirs in obeying. <sup>18</sup> He excuseth his absence, that he could not come and open his heart to them.

E Or ye your selues knowe, Brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in <sup>a</sup> baine,
2 But euen after that we had suffred before, and were shamefully entreated at * Philippi (as ye know) we were bolde <sup>b</sup> in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much struiuing.

<sup>a</sup> Not in outward shew and in pompe, but in trauell and in the feare of God.
Act. 16, 12, 23.
<sup>b</sup> By his helpe and grace.

3 For our exhortation was not by de- ceite, nor by vncleannes, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel should be committed [vnto vs,] so we speake, not as they that please men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

<sup>c</sup> Which declar- eth a naughty conscience,

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flatter- ing wordes, as ye knowe, nor coloured coue- tousnes, God [is] recorde.

6 Neither sought we prayse of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue bin || charge- able, as the Apostles of Christ: but we were gentle among you, euen as a nourse cherisheth her children.

<sup>d</sup> He humbled himself to sup- port all things without all re- spect of lucre: euen as the tender mother which nour- ceth her chil- dren, and thin- keth no office too vile for her childrens sake.
Act. 24, 34.

2. thes. 3, 8.

8 Thus being affectioned towarde you, our good wil was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, * our la- bour and trauaile: for we laboured day and night, because we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, and pre- ched vnto you the Gospel of God.

10 We [are] witnesses, and God [also,] howe holily, and iustly, and blame- ably we behaued our selues among you that beleene.

<sup>e</sup> For it is not possible to a- uoide the re- proches of the wicked, which euer hate good doings.

11 As ye knowe howe that we exhor- ted you, and comforted, & besought euery

one of you (as a father his children)

12 That ye * would walke worthe of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glorie. Ephe. 4, 1, phil. 1, 27. col. 1, 10.

13 For this cause also thanke we God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the word of the preaching of God, ye receiued it not as the worde of men, but as it is in deede the worde of God, which also worketh in you that beleene.

14 For brethren, ye are become fol- lowers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in <sup>f</sup> Christ Jesus, because ye haue also suffered the same things of your owne countrey men, euen as they [haue] of the Jewes,

15 Who both killed the Lorde Jesus and their owne Prophets, and haue per- secuted vs, and God they please not, and are contrarie <sup>g</sup> to all men,

16 And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to <sup>h</sup> fulfill their sinnes alwayes: for the wrath [of God] is <sup>i</sup> come on them, to the vtmost.

<sup>i</sup> He meaneth not this of all the Jewes in general: but of certaine of the particularly, which ceased not after they had put Christ to death to per- secute his word and his mini- sters.
Rom. 1, 11.

17 Forasmuch, Brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning sight, but not in the heart, we * enfor- ced the more to see your face with great desire.

18 Therefore we would haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twice) but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope or ioy, or crowne of reioycing: are <sup>k</sup> not enen you it in the presence of our Lorde Jesus Christ at his coming:

<sup>k</sup> Therefore I could not for- get you except I would for- get my selfe.

20 Yes, ye are our glorie and ioy.

no longer forbear, I sent [him] that I might knowe of your fayth, least the tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

6 But now lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your fayth and loue, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also [doe] you,

7 Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessitie through your fayth.

8 For now we are we<sup>d</sup> aloue, if ye stand fast in the Lorde.

9 For what thanks can we recompence to God againe for you for all the ioye wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God,

10 Night and day * praying exceedingly that we might see your face, & might accomplish that which is lacking in your fayth:

11 Nowe God himselte, euen our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, guide our iourney vnto you,

12 And the Lorde encrease you, and make you abounde in loue one towarde another, and towarde all men, euen as we [doe] toward you:

13 * To make your hearts stable & blameable in holines before God euen our Father, at y<sup>e</sup> comming of our Lorde Jesus Christ with all his Saints.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Hee exhorteeth them to holinesse, 6 Innocencie, 9 Loue, 11 Labour, 13 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the ende of the resurrection.

AND furthermore we beseech you, Brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke, and to please God.

2 For ye knowe what<sup>b</sup> commandments we gaue you by the Lord Jesus.

3 * For this is the will of God [euen] your sanctification, [and] that ye should abstaine from fornication,

4 That euery one of you should knowe, howe to possesse his<sup>d</sup> vessel in holines and honor,

5 [And] not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which knowe not God:

6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord [is] auenger of all such things, as we also haue tolde you beforetime, & testified.

7 * For God hath not called vs vnto uncleannes, but vnto holines.

8 He therefore that despiseth<sup>e</sup> [these thinges,] despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen * you his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: * for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verely ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are thowout all Macedonia: but we beseech you, Brethren, that ye increase more & more,

11 * And that ye studie to be quiet, and to meddle with your owne busines, and to worke with your<sup>f</sup> owne hands, as we commanded you,

12 That ye may behaue your selues honestly towarde them that<sup>g</sup> are without, & that nothing be<sup>h</sup> lacking vnto you.

13 I would not, brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them which are a sleepe, that ye<sup>i</sup> sorowe not euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleue that Jesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in<sup>k</sup> Jesus, will God<sup>l</sup> bring with him.

15 For this say we vnto you by the<sup>m</sup> worde of the Lorde, * that we which liue, and are remaining in the comming of the Lorde, shall not preuent them which sleepe.

16 For the Lorde himselte shall descend from heauen with a shoute, [and] with the voyce of the Archangel, and * with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

17 Then shall<sup>n</sup> we which liue and remaine, be<sup>o</sup> caught vp with them also in the cloudes, to meete y<sup>e</sup> Lord in the aire: and so shall we euer be with the Lorde.

18 Wherefore, comfort your selues one another with these wordes.

The second Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians.

Least the Thessalonians should thinke that Paul neglected them, because he went to other places rather then came to them, he writeth vnto them and exhorteth them to patience and other fruites of fayth, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the coming of Christ was at hand, forasmuch as before that day there should be a falling away from true religion, euen by a great part of the world, and that Antichrist should reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending himselfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he willet them to correct such sharply, as liue idly of other mens labours, whom, if they doe not obey his admonitions, he commandeth to excommunicate.

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleued) in that day.

11 Wherefore, we also pray alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthe of [his] calling, and fulfill <sup>e</sup> all the good pleasure of [his] goodnes, and the <sup>f</sup> worke of fayth with power,

The first Epistle of Paul to Timotheus.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN writing this Epistle Paul seemed not onely to haue respect to teache Timotheus, but chiefly to keepe other in awe, which would haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And therefore he doth arme him against those ambitious questionistes, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Law, disquieted the godly with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Lawe, they knew not what was the chiefe ende of the Lawe. And as for himselfe, he so confesseth his vnworthines, that he sheweth to what worthines the grace of God hath preferred him: and therefore hee willet prayers to be made for all degrees and sortes of men, because that God by offering his Gospel and Christ his sonne to them all, is indifferent to euery sort of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witnesseth. And forasmuch as God hath left ministers as ordinarie meanes in his Church to bring men to saluation, he describeth what maner of men they ought to be, to whome the mysterie of the Sonne of God manifested in flesh is committed to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church at all times shall sustaine, but specially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion men shall teache things contrary to the word of God. This done, he teacheth what widowes should be receiued or refused to minister to the sick: also what elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him neither to be hastie in admitting, nor in iudging any: also what is the duetie of seruants, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of couetousnes, of rich men, and aboue all things he chargeth him to beware false doctrine.

5 For

Rom. 13. 10.
b Because these questionists preferred their curious fables to all other knowledge, & beautified them with the Lawe, as if they had bene the very Lawe of God, S. Paul sheweth that the ende of Gods Lawe is loue, which cannot be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the word of God: so their doctrine which is an occasion of contention, is worth nothing. || Or, of the Lawe, Rom. 7. 12.
c Whose heartes Gods spirit doeth direct to doe that willingly which the Law requireth: so that their godly affection is to them as a lawe without further constraint.
d Such as onely delight in sinning.
e Which steale away children or seruants, Chap. 6. 15.
f He declareth to Timothee the excellent force of Gods spirit in them whome he hath chosen to beare his word, although before they were Gods bitter enemies, to encourage him in this battell that he should fight against all infidels and hypocrites.
g Not knowing that I fought against God.
h Which chased away infidelitie.
i Which overcame crueltie. || Or, faithfull and assured, Matth. 9. 13. marke 2. 17.
k He brasteth forth into these godly affections, considering Gods great mercie toward him.
l It appeareth that the vocation of Timothee was approued by notable prophecies which then were reueiled in the primitive Church as Paul and Barnabas by the oracle were appointed to go to the Gentiles, Chap. 6. 12.

5 For<sup>a</sup> the<sup>b</sup> ende of the || commande- ment is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfayned.

6 From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling.

7 They would bee doctours of the Lawe, & yet vnderstand not what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

8 * And we know, that the Lawe is good, if a man vse it lawfully,

9 Knowing this, that the Lawe is not giuen vnto a<sup>c</sup> righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to<sup>d</sup> sinners, to the vnholly, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whoremongers, to buggers, to<sup>e</sup> menstealers, to liars, to the periured, and if there be any other thing, that is contrarie to wholesome doctrine,

11 [Which is] according to the glorious Gospell of the * blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

12 Therefore<sup>f</sup> I thanke him, which hath made me strong, [that is,] Christ Jesus our Lorde: for hee counted mee faithfull, and put me in [his] seruice:

13 When before I was a blasphemers, and a persecuter, and an oppresser: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with<sup>h</sup> faith and<sup>i</sup> loue, which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This [is] a || true saying, and by all meanes worthie to bee receiued, that * Christ Jesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whome I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was I receiued to mercie that Jesus Christ should first shewe on me all long suffering vnto the ensample of them, which shall in time to come beleue in him vnto eternall life.

17<sup>k</sup> Now vnto the King euerlasting, immortall, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, [be] honour [and] glorie for euer, and euer, Amen.

18 This commandement commit I vnto thee, sonne Timotheus, according to the<sup>l</sup> prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shouldest * fight a good fight,

19 Hauing<sup>m</sup> faith and a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

20 Of whome is Hymeneus, and Alexander, * whome I haue<sup>n</sup> deliuered vnto Satan, that they might learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, 4 Wherefore, 8 And how, 9 As touching the apparell and modestie of women.

Exhort therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions, [ & ] giuing of thanks be made for<sup>a</sup> all men,

2 For<sup>b</sup> Kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godlines and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4 * Who will that<sup>c</sup> all men shalbe saved, and come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

5 For there is one God, and one<sup>d</sup> Mediatour betweene God and man, [which is] the<sup>e</sup> man Christ Jesus,

6 Who gaue himselfe a<sup>f</sup> ransom for all men, [to be] a<sup>h</sup> testimonie in due time,

8 I will therefore that the men pray, euery where lifting vp<sup>i</sup> pure handes without wrath, or doubting.

11 Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.

k Having the true doctrine of the Gospel and the feare of God.

l Of the Bishops and Deacons.

m The good report of all men. n To serue God with greater assurance, because they haue alway a good conscience. o This is spoken in respect of men, forasmuch as in this world the truth onely remaineth in the Church, by reason of Gods worde: for otherwise Christ is the foundation and the corner stone, which both beareth, and mainteyneth his Church.

His [is] a true saying, * If any man <sup>a</sup> desire the office of a <sup>b</sup> Bishop, he desireth <sup>c</sup> a worthy worke.

2 A Bishop therefore must be unreproueable, the husbando of <sup>d</sup> one wife, watching, sober, modest, harberous, apt to teache,

3 Not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthie lucre, but gentle, no fighter, not couetous,

4 One that can rule his owne house honestly, hauing children vnder obedience with all <sup>honestie</sup>.

5 For if any can not rule his owne house, how shall he <sup>e</sup> care for the Church of God?

6 He may not be a yong <sup>f</sup> scholar, lest he being puffed vp fall into the <sup>condemnation</sup> of the deuill.

7 He must also be wel reported of, euen of them which are <sup>h</sup> without, least he fall into <sup>i</sup> rebuke, and the snare of the deuill.

8 Likewise [must] Deacons [be] honest, not double tongued, not giuen vnto much wine, neither to filthie lucre,

9 <sup>k</sup> Having the myserie of the faith in pure conscience.

10 And let them first be proued: then let them minister, if they be found blameles.

11 Likewise their <sup>l</sup> wiues [must be] honest, not euill speakers, [but] sober, [and] faithfull in all things.

12 Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, & such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.

13 For they that haue ministred well, get themselves a <sup>m</sup> good degree, & great <sup>n</sup> libertie in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I vnto thee, trusting to come very shortly vnto thee.

15 But if I tarie long, & thou mayest yet know, how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the <sup>o</sup> pillar and ground of trueth.

16 And without controuersie, great is the myserie of godlines, [which is,]

God is manifested in the flesh, <sup>p</sup> iustified in the Spirit, <sup>q</sup> seene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleueed on in the world, [and] receiued vp in <sup>r</sup> glorie.

Angels marueyled at his excellencie. <sup>r</sup> To the right hand of God the Father.

CHAP. IIII.

2 He teacheth him what doctrine he ought to see, 6. 8. 11 And what to follow, 15 And wherein he ought to exercise himselfe continually.

Nowe the Spirit speaketh evidently, that in the * latter times some shal depart from the faith, and shall giue heed vnto <sup>a</sup> spirites of errour, and doctrines of deuils,

2 Which speake lyes through hypocrisie, and haue their <sup>b</sup> consciences burned with an hote yron,

3 Forbidding to marrie, [and commanding] to abstaine fro meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thankes of them which beleue and knowe the trueth.

4 For euery creature of God [is] good, and nothing [ought] to be refused, if it be receiued with thankesgiuing.

5 For it is <sup>c</sup> sanctified by the worde of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, which hast bene nourished vp in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.

7 * But cast away prophane, and olde wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe vnto godlynesse.

8 For <sup>d</sup> bodily exercise profiteth little: but <sup>e</sup> godlynesse is profitable vnto all thinges, which hath the promes of the life present, and of that that is to come.

9 This [is] a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued.

10 For therefore we labour and are rebuked, because we trust in the liuing God, which is the <sup>f</sup> Saviour of all men, specially of those that beleue.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be vnto them that beleue, an ensample in word, in conuersation, in loue, in <sup>g</sup> spirit, in faith, [and] in purenesse.

13 Till I come, giue attendace to reading, to exhortation, [and] to doctrine.

1 He teacheth him how he shall behaue himselfe in rebuking all degrees. 3 An order concerning widowes. 17 The establishing of Ministers. 23 The gouernance of his bodie, 24 And the iudgement of sinnes.

Rebuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, [and] the yonger men as brethren, 2 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters, with all purenesse.

3 Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.

4 But if any widowe haue children or nephewes, let b them learne first to shewe godlines towarde their owne house, and to recompense their kinred: for that is an honest thing and acceptable before God.

5 And she that is a widowe in deede, and left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications & prayers night and day.

6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is d dead, while she liueth.

7 These things therefore commande, that they may be blamelesse.

8 If there be any that prouideth not for his owne, and namely for them of his householde, hee denieth the faith, and is worse then an infidel.

9 Let not a widowe be taken into the number vnder threescore yere olde, that hath bene the wife of e one husband,

10 And well reported of for good workes: if she haue nourished her children, if she haue lodged the strangers, if she haue washed the Saints feete, if she haue ministred vnto them which were in aduersitie, if she were continually giuen vnto every good worke.

11 But refuse f yonger widowes: for when they haue begun to ware f wanton against Christ, they will marrie, 12 Having g damnation, because they haue broken the h first faith.

13 And likewise also being ydle they learne to go about from house to house: yea, [they are] not onely ydle, but also prattlers & busibodies, speaking things which are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the yonger women marrie, & beare children, and gouerne the house, [and] giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake euill.

15 For certaine are already turned backe after Satan.

16 If any faithfull man, or faithfull woman haue widowes, let them minister vnto them, and let not the Church be charged, that there may be sufficient for them that are widowes in i deede.

17 The Elders that rule well, are worthy of double honour, specially they which labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the Scripture saith, * Thou shalt not mouell the mouth of the ore that treadeth out the corne: and, * The labourer is worthy of his wages.

19 Against an Elder k receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sinne, l rebuke openly, that the rest also may feare.

21 I charge [thee] before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou obserue these things without || preferring one to another, and do nothing partially.

22 Lay handes suddenly on no man, m neyther bee partaker of other mens sinnes: keepe thy selfe n pure.

23 Drinke no longer water, but vse a little wine for thy stomackes sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 Some mens sinnes are open o before hande, & go before vnto iudgement: but some mens p followe after.

25 Likewise also the good workes are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Apostle being nowe ready to confirme that doctrine with his blood, which hee had professed and taught, encourageth Timotheus (and in him all the faithfull) in the faith of the Gospell, and in the constant and sincere confession of the same: willing him not to shrink for feare of afflictions, but patiently to attend the issue, as do husbandmen, which at length receyue the fruites of their labours, and to cast off all feare and care, as souldiers doe which seeke onely to please their captaine: shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospell, which hee preached, commanding him to preache the same to others, diligently taking heede of contentions, curious disputations and vaine questions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether edifie. Considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subuerted the true doctrine of the resurrection, were so horrible: and yet to the intent that no man should be offended at their fall, being men of authoritie and in estimation, hee sheweth that all that professe Christ, are not his, and that the Church is subiect to this calamitie that the euill must dwell among the good till Gods tryall come: yet he reserueth them whom hee hath elected, euen to the ende. And that Timotheus shoulde not be discouraged by the wicked, he declareth what abominable men, and dangerous times shall followe, willing him to arme himselfe with the hope of the good issue that God will giue vnto his, and to exercise himselfe diligently in the Scriptures, both against the aduersaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, desiring him to come to him for certaine necessarie affayres, and so with his and others salutations endeth.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to steadfastnes & patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine, that he had taught him, 12 Whereof his bondes and afflictions were a gage, 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

Paul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, <sup>a</sup> according to <sup>y</sup> promes of life, which is in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timotheus [my] beloued sonne: Grace, mercie [ & ] peace from God the Father, and [from] Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 I thanke God, *whom I serue frō [mine] <sup>b</sup> elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Desiring to see thee mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained fayth that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that [it dwelleth] in thee also.

6 Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance, that thou <sup>c</sup> stirre vp the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of <sup>d</sup> mine hands.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the Spirit of <sup>e</sup> feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde minde.

8 Be not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, neither of me his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 who hath saued vs, and called vs with an * holy calling, not according to our * workes, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was giuen to vs through Christ Jesus before the * world was,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortallitie vnto light through the Gospel.

11 * Whereunto I am appointed a preacher and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed: for I knowe whom I haue beleued, and I am perswaded <sup>f</sup> hee is able to keepe that which I haue <sup>g</sup> committed to him against that day.

13 Keepe the true paterne of <sup>h</sup> whole some wordes, which thou hast heard of me in fayth and loue which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That <sup>h</sup> worthie thing, which was committed to thee, keepe through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto <sup>i</sup> house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when hee was at Rome, hee sought me out very diligently, & founde [me.]

18 The Lord graunt vnto him, that he may finde mercie with the Lord at that day, and in howe many things hee hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

2 Hee exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, and to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Jesus Christ, 11 Shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19 And the marke thereof.

Thou therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And what things thou hast heard of me, || by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithfull men, which shalbe able to <sup>a</sup> teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with <sup>b</sup> the affaires of [this] life, because he woulde please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if any man also strue for a masterie, he is not crowned, except he strue as he ought to do.

6 The husbandman <sup>c</sup> must labour before he receiue the fruites.

7 Consider what I say: & the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember <sup>d</sup> Jesus Christ [made] of the seede of David, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospell:

9 wherein I suffer trouble as an euil doer, euen vnto bondes: but the worde of God is not <sup>d</sup> bound.

10 Therefore I suffer all things, for the * electes sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternall glory.

11 It [is] a true saying, For if we be * dead with him, we also shall liue with him.

12 If wee suffer, we shall also reigne with him: * if we denie him, he also will deny vs.

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to be ashamed, <sup>f</sup> diuiding the worde of trueth aright.

16 * Stay prophane, and vaine babblings: for they shall increase vnto more vngodlinesse.

17 And their word shall fret as a canker: of which sort is Hymeneus and Philetus, 19 But the foundation of God remaineth sure, and hath this seale, <sup>g</sup> The Lord knoweth who are his, and, Let every one that calleth on the Name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

20 Notwithstanding in a <sup>h</sup> great house are not onely vessels of golde & of siluer, but also of wood and of earth, and some for honor, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore purge himselfe from <sup>i</sup> these, he shall be a vessel vnto honour, sanctified, & meete for the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 Flee also from the lusts of youth, and followe after righteousness, faith, loue, [and] peace, with them that <sup>j</sup> call on the Lord with pure heart.

his knowe also, that in the * last dayes shall come perilous times.

2 For <sup>a</sup> men shall be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proude, cursed speakers, disobedient to parents, vnthankfull, vnholly,

3 Without naturall affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, intemperate, fierce, despisers of them which are good,

4 Traitors, headie, high minded, louers of pleasures more then louers of God,

5 Having a shewe of godlines, but haue denied the power thereof: turne away therefore from such.

6 For of this sort are they which <sup>b</sup> creepe into houses, and leade captiue simple women laden with sinnes, and led with diuers lustes,

7 [which women are] euer learning, and are neuer able to come to the knowledge of the trueth.

8 * And as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so doe these also resist the trueth, men of <sup>c</sup> corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the fayth.

9 But they shall preuaile no longer: for their madnes shall be euident vnto all men, as theirs also was.

10 But thou hast fully knowen my doctrine, maner of liuing, <sup>d</sup> purpose, faith, long suffering, loue, patience,

The Epistle of Paul to Titus.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Titus was left in Creta to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begun, Satan stirred vp certaine which went about not onely to ouerthrowe the gouernement of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition woulde haue thrust in themselues to bee pastours: others, vnder pretext of Moses Law brought in many trifles. Against these two sortes of men Paul armeth Titus: first teaching him what maner of ministers he ought to choose, chiefly requiring that they be men of sounde doctrine to the intent they might resist the aduersaries, and amongs other things hee noteth the Lewes which put a certaine holines in meates and such outward ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercises of a Christian life, and what things appertaine to euery mans vocation. Against the which if any man rebell or els doth not obey, hee willeth him to be auoided.

The Epistle of Paul to Philemon.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witness, and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the basenesse of his matter, he fleeth as it were vp to heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whome Paul hauing wonne to Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardon, with most weightie arguments prouing the duetie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

4 He reioyceth to heare of the fayth and loue of Philemon, 9 Whom he desireth to forgive his seruant Onesimus, and lo- uingly to receiue him againe.

Paul a prisoner of IESVS CHRIST, and [our] brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deere friende and fellowe hel- per,

3 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lorde

IESVS Christ.

4 I <sup>a</sup> giue thanks to my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 (when I heare of thy loue & fayth, which thou hast toward the Lorde Ie- sus, and toward all Saints)

6 That the fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoever good thing is in you through Christ Ie- sus, may be knowen.

The Epistle of Paul to Philemon.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witness, and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the basenesse of his matter, he fleeth as it were vp to heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whome Paul hauing wonne to Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardon, with most weightie arguments prouing the duetie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

4 He reioyceth to heare of the fayth and loue of Philemon, 9 Whom he desireth to forgiue his seruant Onesimus, and lo- uingly to receiue him againe.

Paul a prisoner of IESVS CHRIST, and [our] brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deere friende and fellowe hel- per,

2 And to [our] deere [sister] Apphia, and to Archippus our fellowe souldier, and to the Church that is in thine house:

3 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lorde

IESVS Christ.

4 I <sup>a</sup> giue thanks to my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 (when I heare of thy loue & fayth, which thou hast toward the Lorde Ie- sus, and toward all Saints)

6 That the fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoever good thing is in you through Christ Ie- sus, may be knowen.

7 For we haue great ioy and consolati- on in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saints hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore,

Col. 4. 9.

10 I beseech thee for my Sonne * Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bondes,

13 whom I would haue reteined with me, that in thy stead he might haue ministered vnto me in þ bōds of the Gospell.

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing, that thy benefit should not bee as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

d He fled away from thee.
e For he is thy seruant by condition, and also now þ Lords: so that both for thine own sake & for þ Lords, thou oughtest to loue him.

15 It may be that he therefore<sup>d</sup> departed for a season, that thou shouldst receiue him for ever,

16 <sup>e</sup> Not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, [euen as] a brother beloued, specially to me: how much more thē vnto thee, both in the flesh, & in the Lord:

17 If therefore thou count our things<sup>f</sup> common, receiue him as my selfe.

18 If he hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on mine accounts.

19 I Paul haue written [this] with mine owne hand: I will recompence it, albeit I do not say to thee, þ thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe.

20 Yea, brother, let mee obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my bowels in the Lord.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt do euen more then I say.

22 Moreover also prepare me lodging: for I trust through your prayers I shall be giuen vnto you.

THE ARGUMENT.

Forasmuch as diuers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines witnesse, that the writer of this Epistle for iust causes would not haue his name knowne, it were curiositie of our part to labour much therein. For seeing the spirit of God is the authour thereof, it diminisheth nothing the authoritie, although we know not with what pen he wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chiefe purpose is to perswade vnto the Hebreues (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, and vnder them all the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redeemer, but also that at his comming all ceremonies must haue an end: forasmuch as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the propheties, and therefore not onely Moses was inferiour to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord, but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, and is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through himselfe: for he is that eternall Priest, whereof all the Leuiticall Priestes were but shadowes, and therefore at his comming they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proueth from the 7. 1 He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Lawe which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to be offended at the infirmities and low degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessarie that for our sakes he should take such an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

so great saluation, which at the first began to be preached by the Lord, and [afterwarde] was confirmed vnto vs by <sup>d</sup> them that heard him,

4 * God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles, & gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will:

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the <sup>c</sup> world to come, whereof we speake.

6 But * one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, <sup>f</sup> what is man, that thou shouldest be mindefull of him! or the sonne of man that thou wouldest consider him!

7 Thou madest him a little inferiour to the Angels: thou crownedst him with <sup>g</sup> glorie and honour, and hast set him aboue the workes of thine hands.

8 * Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. <sup>h</sup> But we yet see not all things subdued vnto him.

9 But wee see Jesus <sup>k</sup> crowned with glorie and honour, which was made a little inferiour to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whom [are] all things, and by whom [are] all things, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glorie, that he should consecrate the <sup>l</sup> Prince of their saluation through <sup>m</sup> afflictions.

11 For he that sanctifieth, & they which are sanctified, are all <sup>n</sup> of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12 Saying, * I will declare thy Name vnto my <sup>o</sup> brethren: in the middes of the Church will I sing prayles to thee.

13 And againe, * I will put my <sup>p</sup> trust in him. And againe, * Behold, here am I, and the children, which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, hee also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, that hee might destroy <sup>q</sup> through death, him that had the power of death, that is the deuill,

15 And that he might deliuer all them,

18 For in that he suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

<sup>2</sup> Who is more worthe then Moses. <sup>3</sup> The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not beleue, that they might haue eternall rest.

<sup>a</sup> Take heede to his wordes & receiue him
<sup>b</sup> Of that doctrine which we beleue, and ought to confesse.

Nom. 12. 7.

<sup>d</sup> Moses was but part of the house, that is, of the Church whereof the pastours are p liuely stones, but Christ builded it, and laide the stones: therefore he deserueth more prayse.

<sup>e</sup> That is, Christ: for Christ is the foundation, and head of his Church: he is our brother, & Lord: he is the sonne of God, and verie God working all thinges by his owne power.

<sup>f</sup> For in obeying the Sonne we are made the house of God.
Psal. 95. 7, 8.

<sup>g</sup> As when he prouoked Gods anger in Passa and Meriba, Exod. 17. 7.

<sup>i</sup> As disobeying God, they in old time were debarred from the quietnes of the land of Chanaan: so they which do not obey Christ, shall not enter into the heauenly rest.

Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession, Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed him, euen as Moses [was] in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthe of more glorie then Moses, inasmuch as hee which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, and hee that hath built all things, [is] God.

5 Nowe Moses verely was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of the things which should bee spoken after.

6 But Christ [is] as the Sonne, ouer his owne house, whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence and the reioicing of the hope vnto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, To day if ye shall heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, according to the day of the tentation in the wilderness,

9 Where your fathers tempted mee, proued me, and sawe my workes fourtie yeeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They erre euer in [their] heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heede, brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euil heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhorde one another dayly, while it is called <sup>k</sup> To day, least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For wee are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the end the beginning, wherewith we are vpholde, 15 So long as it is said, To day if yee heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourty yeeres: was hee not displeased with them that sinned, whose carkeises fell in the wilderness:

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that obeyed not:

19 So we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

CHAP. IIII.

Et vs feare therefore, least at any time by forsaking <sup>p</sup> promises of entering into his rest any of you should seeme to be deprived.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached as also vnto them: but the worde that they heard, profited not them, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleened, do enter into rest, as he said [to the other,] * As I haue sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certaine place of the seventh day on this wise, * And God did rest the seventh daye from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therfore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whome it was first preached, entred not therein for vnbeliefes sake:

7 Againe he appointed in <sup>d</sup> Dauid a certaine day by To day, after so long a time, saying, as it is sayd, * This day if yee heare his voyce, harden not your heartes.

8 For if Iesus had giuen them rest, then would hee not after this day haue

<sup>a</sup> He compareth the preaching of the Gospell, as it were, to wine, whereof if we will taste, that is, heare and vnderstande with profite, we must temper or mixe it with faith.

<sup>b</sup> Although that God by his rest, after the creation of his works, signified the spiritual rest of the faithful, yet he sware to giue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of y heauenly rest, and dured but for a time.

spoken of another.

9 There remaineth therfore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath also ceased from his owne works, as God [did] from his.

11 Let vs studie therfore to enter into that rest, least any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 For the word of God [is] liuely, and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sworde, and entreth through, euen vnto the deuinding asunder of the h soule and the i spirite, and of the ioynts, and the marow, and is a discerner of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight: but all things [are] naked & k open vnto his eyes, With Whom we haue l to do.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great high Priest, which is entred into heauen, [euen] Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an hie Priest, which cannot bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all thinges tempted in like sort, [yet] without sinne.

16 Let vs therfore goe boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may receiue mercie, and find grace to helpe in time of neede.

CHAP. V.

5 He compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuitical Priests, shewing wherein they eether agree or dissent. 11 Afterward he reuoluech the negligence of the Iewes.

Euerie hie Priest is taken from among men, and is a ordained for men, in thinges perteyning to God, that hee may offer both b gifts and c sacrifices for sinnes,

2 which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them d that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that he also is compassed with infirmitie,

3 And for the sames sake he is bounde to offer for sinnes, as well for his owne part, as for the peoples.

4 * And no man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, but hee that is called of God, as [was] Aaron.

5 So likewise Christ tooke not to himselfe this honour, to bee made the hie Priest, but he that said vnto him, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, [gaue it him.]

6 As hee also in an other place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the e order of Melchi-seder.

7 which in the f dayes of his flesh did offer by prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to saue him from death, and was also heard h in that which hee feared.

8 And though hee were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered.

9 And being consecrate, was made the authour of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchi-seder.

11 Of Whom we haue many things to say, which are hard to be vttered, because ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye need againe that we teach you the first i principles of the word of God: and are become such as haue neede of k milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For every one that bseth milke, is inexperience in the l word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custome haue their wittes exercised, to discerne both good and euill.

CHAP. VI.

1 He proceedeth in reprobating them, and exhorteth them not to faint. 12 But to be steadfast and patient. 18 Forasmuch as God is sure in his promes.

Therfore, leauing y doctrine of the a beginning of Christ, let vs be led forwarde vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation b of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of c baptisnes, and laying on of handes, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternal iudgement.

3 And this wil we do, d if God permit.

4 * For it is impossible y they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenly gifte, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the powers of the worlde to come,

chap. 1.5.

<sup>e</sup> They which are apostates, and sinne against the holy Ghost, hate Christ, crucifie & mocke him, but to their owne destruction, and therefore fall into desperation, and cannot repent.

crucifie againe to them selues the sonne of God and make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in raine that cometh oft vpon it, & bringeth forth herbes meete for them by whome it is dressed, receiveth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes & briars, [is] reprobued, and is neere vnto cursing, whose ende [is] to be burned.

9 But beloued, wee haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompanie saluation, though wee thus speake.

10 For God [is] not vnrighteous, that he should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which yee shewed towarde his Name, in that yee haue ministered vnto the Saints, and [yet] minister.

11 And we desire that euery one of you shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende.

12 That ye bee not slothfull, but followers of them, which through fayth and patience, inherit the promises.

13 For when God made the promises to Abraham, because hee had no greater to sweare by, he sweare by himselfe,

14 Saying, * Surely I will abundantly blesse thee & multiplie thee marvellously.

15 And so after that he had taried patiently, he enioyed the promises.

16 For me verely sweare by him that is greater [then themselves,] and an oth for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.

17 So God willing more abundantly to shew vnto the heires of promises the stableness of his counsel, bound himself by an othe,

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is impossible that God should lie, wee might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to holde fast the hope that is set before vs,

19 which we haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure & stedfast, and it k<sup>e</sup>ntreth into that which is within the baile,

20 whether the forerunner is for vs entered in, [euē] Iesus that is made an hie Priest for ever after the order of Melchi-sedec.

from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

2 To whome also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things: who first is by interpretation King of righteousness: after that, [he is] also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

3 Without father, without mother, without kinred, and hath neither beginning of [his] dayes, neither ende of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for ever.

4 Nowe consider howe great this man [was,] vnto whom euē the Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of his spoyle.

5 For verely they which are the children of Levi, which receiue the office of the Priesthoode, haue a * commande-ment to take, according to the Lawe, tythes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kinred is not counted among them, receiued tythes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men die, receiue tythes: but there he [receiveth them,] of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth.

9 And to say as the thing is, Levi also which receiveth tythes, payed tythes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father [Abraham,] when Melchi-sedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection had bene by the Priesthoode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to the people) what needed it further more, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron:

12 For if the Priesthoode be changed, then of necessitie must there be a change of the Lawe.

13 For he of whome these things are spoken, pertemeth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.

14 For it is euidēt, that our Lorde sprong out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthoode.

15 And it is yet a more euidēt thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp another Priest,

16 which is not made [Priest] after the Lawe

<sup>a</sup> So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kinfolkes, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christ our euēlasting Priest, & shortly taken out of the worlde againe, so Christ as touching his humanitie had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

<sup>e</sup> The Leuites receiued tythes of their brethren, but Melchi-sedec of Abraham the Patriarke: therefore his Priesthoode is more excellent then the Leuiticall.

<sup>g</sup> The Lawe and the Priesthoode are both of one condition: so that both Aarons and Moses office pertemeth to Christ, which is Priest and lawe maker.

<sup>f</sup> Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully persuaded of life euēlasting.

n Not that it was first made because the de-that eternall oath was then reueiled to the

Lawe <sup>h</sup> of the carnall commandement, but after the power of the endless life.

17 For he testifieth [thus,] *Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Mel-chi-seduc.

18 For the commandement that went afore, is disannulled, because <sup>i</sup> of <sup>h</sup> weake-nesse thereof, and vnprofitablenesse.

19 For the Lawe made nothing perfite, but || the bringing in of a better hope [made perfite,] whereby we draw neere vnto God.

20 And forasmuch as it is not without an othe (for these are made Priestes without an othe:

21 But this, he [is made] with an othe by him that saide vnto him, *The Lord hath sworne, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-seduc)

22 By so much is Jesus made a sure-tie of a better || Testament.

23 And among the many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure by the reason of death.

24 But this man, because hee endu-reth euer, hath an <sup>k</sup> euerlasting Priestthoode.

25 Wherefore, he is able also <sup>l</sup> perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high Priest it became vs to haue, [which is] holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:

27 Which needed not daily as those high Priestes to offer by sacrifice, *first for his owne sinnes, and the for the peoples: for that did he <sup>m</sup> once, when he offered by himselfe.

28 For <sup>p</sup> law maketh men hie priests, which haue infirmitie: but the worde of the othe that was <sup>o</sup> since the lawe, [ma-keth] the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

CHAP. VIII.

<sup>6</sup> He proueth the abolishing as wel of the Leuitical Priestthoode, as of the olde Couenant by the spiritual & euerlasting Priestthoode of Christ, <sup>8</sup> And by the newe Couenant.

NOWE of the thinges which we haue spoken, [this is] the summe, that we haue such an hie Priest, that sitteth at the right hande of the throne of the maiestie in heauens,

2 And [is] a minister of the <sup>a</sup> Sanctuarie, and of the true <sup>b</sup> Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not <sup>c</sup> man.

3 For <sup>d</sup> euery hie Priest is ordeined to offer both gistes and sacrifices: Wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man shoulde haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priestes that according to the Lawe offer gistes,

5 who serue vnto the paterne and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moyses was warned by God, when he was about to finish the Tabernacle. * See, sayde he, that thou make all things according to the <sup>e</sup> paterne, shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But nowe [our hie Priest] hath ob-teined a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediatour of a better || Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 For if that first [Testament] had bene faultlesse, no place shoulde haue bene sought for the seconde.

8 For in rebuking them he sayeth, *Beholde, the dayes will <sup>f</sup> come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house <sup>g</sup> of Juda a newe Testament:

9 Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that I tooke them by the hande, to leade the out of the lande of Egypt: for they <sup>h</sup> continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lorde.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my lawes in their mind, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people,

11 And they shall not <sup>i</sup> teach euery mahis neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lorde: for all shall knowe me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will bee mercifull to their vnrightheousnesse, and I will remember their sinnes & their iniquities no more.

13 In that he sayeth a newe [Testament,] he hath abrogate the olde: nowe that which is disannulled and waxed olde, is readie to vanish away.

and the table, and the shewbread, which [Tabernacle] is called the holy places.

3 And after the <sup>b</sup> second baile [was] the Tabernacle, which is called the holiest of all,

4 which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament overlaid round about with golde, wherein the golden pot which had Manna, [was,] and *Aarons rodde that had budded, & the *tables of the Testament.

5 *And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the mercy seate: of which things wee will not now speake particularly.

6 Nowe when these thinges were thus ordeined, the Priests went always into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the *hie Priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood which he offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet y first Tabernacle was standing,

9 which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offered giftes and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, him that did the seruice,

10 which onely stood in meates and drinckes, & diuers washings, and carnall rites, vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an hie Priest of good thinges to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with handes, that is, not of this building,

12 Neither by the blood of goates & calues: but by his owne blood entred he in once vnto the <sup>h</sup> holy place, and obtained eternall redemption [for vs.]

13 *For if the <sup>k</sup> blood of bulles and of goates and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the <sup>l</sup> flesh,

14 How much more shall the * blood of Christ which through y eternall Spirit offered him self without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, *to serue the liuing God:

15 And for this cause is he the Mediator of y new Testament, that through *death which was for the redemption of the transgressions [that were] in the former Testament, they which were called, might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament [is,] there must be the death of him that made the Testament.

17 *For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is aliue.

18 Wherefore neither was the first ordeined without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to the people, according to the Lawe, he tooke the blood of calues and of goates, with water and purple wolfe and hyssope, and sprinkled both y booke, and all the people,

20 *Saying, This is the blood of the Testament which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreover, hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministring vessels.

22 And almost all thinges are by the Lawe purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessarie, that the similitudes of heauenly thinges shoulde bee purified with such thinges: but the heauenly thinges themselves [are purified] with better sacrifices the are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, which are similitudes of the true [Sanctuarie:] but [is entred] into very heauen, to appeare nowe in the sight of God for vs,

25 Not that he should offer him selfe often, as the hie Priest entred into the holie place euery yeere with other blood,

26 (For then must he haue often suffered since the foundation of the world) but now in the ende of the worlde hath he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him selfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall once die, and after that [commeth] the iudgement,

28 So *Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of many, and vnto them that looke for him, shall hee appeare the second time without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

i Where there remaine no sinnes to be forgiven, there is no more sacrifice: seeing therefore that cruelly Christes death hath washed away all sinnes, and doth ever a fresh when sinners do repent

there can be none other sacrifice but that,

and it can be no more reiterated.

Or the * Lawe hauing the shadowe of good things to come & not the very image of y things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yeere by yeere continually, sanctifie the comers thereunto.

2 For would they not then haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 But in those [sacrifices] there [is] a remembrance againe of sinnes euery yeere,

4 For it is impossible that the blood of bulles and goates should * take away sinnes.

5 Wherefore when hee commeth into the world, hee saith, * Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not: but a body hast thou ordeined me.

6 In burnt offerings, & sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I sayd, Lo, I come (In the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I should doe thy Will, O God.

8 Aboue, when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure [therein] (which are offered by the Law)

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy Will, O God, he taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which Will we are sanctified, [euen] by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once [made.]

11 And euery Priest appeareth daily ministring, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sinnes, sitteth for ever at the right hand of God,

13 And from henceforth tarieth, * till his enemies be made his footestool.

14 For with one offering hath hee consecrated for ever them that are sanctified.

15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs recorde: for after that he had said before,

16 * This [is] the Testament that I will make vnto them after those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will write them.

17 And their sinnes & iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Nowe where remission of these things [is,] there [is] no more offering for sinne.

19 Seeing therefore, Brethren, that by the blood of Jesus we may be bolde to enter into the holy place,

20 By the newe and liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vaille, that is, his flesh:

21 [And seeing wee haue] an high Priest, [which is] ouer the house of God,

22 Let vs drawe neere with a true heart in assurance of faith, sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

23 Let vs keepe the profession of our hope, without wauering (for [hee is] faithfull that promised)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, & to good workes,

25 Not forsaking the fellowship that we haue among our selues, as the manner of some [is:] but let vs exhorde one another, and that so much the more, because yee see that the day draweth neere.

26 * For if we sinne willingly after that we haue receiued the knowledge of the trueth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes, 27 But a fearful looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.

28 He that despiseth Moses lawe, dieth without mercy vnder two, or three witnesses.

29 Of howe much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he bee worthy, which treadeth vnder foote the Sonne of God, and counteth the blood of the Testamēt as an unholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth despite the Spirit of grace:

30 For we know him that hath said, * Vengeance [belongeth] vnto mee: I will recompence, saith the Lorde. And againe, The Lorde shall iudge his people.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the handes of the liuing God.

32 Nowe call to remembrance the daies that are passed, in the which, after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions, reward of his promises, and not of our deserts, Gen. 6. 13, ecclus. 44. 17.

2 For by it [our] Elders were well reported of.

3 * Through faith we vnderstand that the world was ordeined by the word of God, so that the things which wee see, are not made of things, which<sup>b</sup> did appeare.

4 By faith Abel<sup>a</sup> offered vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, <sup>c</sup> by* the which he obtained witnes that hee was<sup>d</sup> righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by the which [faith] also he being dead, yet<sup>e</sup> speaketh.

5 By faith was<sup>f</sup> Enoch taken away, that he should not see death: neither was he found: for God had taken him away: for before hee was taken away, hee was reported of, that hee had pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please [him:] for hee that cometh to God, must beleue that [God] is, and that hee is<sup>g</sup> a rewarder of them that seeke him.

7 By faith* Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the saving of his household, through the which [Arke] he condemned the world, and was made heire of the righteousness, which is by faith.

8 By faith* Abraham, when he was called, obeyed [God,] to goe out into a place, which hee should afterward receiue for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

Gen. 12. 4.

9 By faith he abode in the land of promises, as in a strange countrey, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac and Jacob heires with him of the same promises.

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a<sup>h</sup> foundation, whose builder and maker [is] God.

11 Through faith* Sarra also receiued strength to conceiue seede, and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because shee iudged him faithfull which had promised.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, euen of one which was dead, [so many] as* the starres of the skie in multitude, and as the sand of the sea shore which is innumerable.

13 All these died in faith, and<sup>k</sup> receiued not the promises, but sawe them<sup>l</sup> as farre off, and beleueed [them,] and receiued [them] thankfully, and confessed that they were<sup>m</sup> strangers & pilgrimes on the earth.

<sup>k</sup> Which was the inuoying of the land of Canaan.

their confidence in things of this world.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seeke a countrey.

15 And if they had bene mindefull of<sup>n</sup> that [countrey,] from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned.

16 But now they desire a better, that is an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them to bee called their God: for hee hath prepared for them a citie.

17 By faith* Abraham offered by Isaac, when he<sup>o</sup> was tried, and he that had receiued the promises, offered his onely begotten sonne.

borne, was hid three moneths of his parents, because they saw he was a proper childe, neither feared they the kings *commandement.

24 By fayth *Moses when hee was come to age, refused to be called the sone of Pharaos daughter,

25 And chose rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enjoy the pleasures of sinnes for a season,

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompence of the rewarde.

27 By fayth he forsooke Egypt, and feared not the fiercenesse of the king: for he endured, as he that saw him which is invisible.

28 Through fayth hee ordained the *Pascheouer and the effusion of bloude, least hee that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

29 By fayth they *passed through the red sea as by drie land, which when the Egyptians had assayed to doe, they were drowned.

30 By fayth the *walles of Jericho fell downe after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

31 By faith *harlot Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, when she had receiued the spies peaceably.

32 And what shall I more say: for the time would be to short for me to tell of *Gedeon, of *Barac and of *Samson, and of *Jephthe, also of *David, and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

33 Which through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of Lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sworde, of weakes were made strong, waxed valiant in battell, turned to flight the armies of the aliants.

35 The women receiued their dead raised to life: other also were racked, & would not be deliuered, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others haue bene tried by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreouer by bondes and prisonment.

37 They were stoned, they were hewed asunder, they were tempted, they were slaine with the sworde, they wandered by and downe in sheepes skinnies, and in goates skinnies, being destitute, afflicted, [and] tormented:

38 Whome the world was not worthy of: they wandered in wildernesses and mountaines, and dennes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these al through faith obtained good report, & receiued not the promises, 40 God prouiding a better thing for vs, that they without vs should not be made perfite.

CHAP. XII.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlasting rewarde. 25 A commendation of the newe Testament aboue the olde.

Wherefore, *let vs also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloude of witnesses, cast away euery thing that presseth down, and the sinne that hangeth so fast on: let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs,

2 Looking vnto Iesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, least ye should bee wearied and faint in your mindes.

4 He haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striving against sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, *My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whome the Lord loueth, hee chasteneth: & he scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth him self vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whome the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore ye bee without correction, wherof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

9 Moreover wee haue had the fathers of our bodies which corrected vs, and wee gaue them reuerence: shoulde we not much rather be in subiectio vnto the father of spirits, that we might liue?

10 For they verely for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he [chasteneth vs] for our profite, & we might be partakers of his holines.

11 Now no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grievous: but afterwarde, it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousness, vnto them which are thereby exercised.

12 Where-

✠ The * generall Epistle of James.

THE ARGUMENT.

James the Apostle and sonne of Alpheus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were conuerted to Christ, but dispersed throughout diuers countreys, and therefore he exhorteth them to patience and prayer, to embrace the true word of God, and not to be partiall, neither to boast of an idle faith, but to declare a true faith by liuely fruits, to auoyde ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble and loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to vter their faults when they haue offended, to pray one for another, and to bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP. I.

2 He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 To be seruent in prayer with stedfast beliefe, 17 To looke for all good things from aboue, 21 To forsake all vice, and thankfully to receiue the word of God, 22 Not only hearing it, and speaking of it, but to do thereafter in deede, 27 What true religion is.

2 My brethren, count it exceeding ioy, when ye fall into diuers tentations,

3 * Knowing that the <sup>a</sup> trying of your faith bringeth forth patience.

4 And let patience haue [her] <sup>b</sup> per-him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shalbe giuen him.

<sup>g</sup> Or, moued to euill.
<sup>g</sup> He meaueth now of the inward tentati-ons as of our disordered ap-

<sup>h</sup> Seeing, all good things come of God, we ought not to make him
the authoz of euill.

<sup>i</sup> He alludeth vnto <sup>h</sup> Sunne which in his course & turning sometime is cleare and bright, some- time darke and cloudie: but Gods liberalitie is euer like it selfe, bright &

<sup>l</sup> For we can not heare God except we be peaceable, and modest.

<sup>m</sup> But his- deth Gods worke in vs.

Matth. 7. 21.
Rom. 2. 13.

<sup>o</sup> So Gods worde is a glasse wherein we must behold our selues and become like vnto him.
<sup>p</sup> In so behaving himselfe.

13 Let no man say whē he is <sup>g</sup> tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither temp-teth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted whē he is drawen away by his owne concupis-cence, and is entised.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Erre not, my deare brethren.

17 Euery good <sup>h</sup> giuing, & euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadowing by turning.

18 Of his owne wil begat he vs with the word of trueth, that we should be as the first frutes of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, * let euery man bee <sup>k</sup> swift to heare, slowe to speake, [and] <sup>l</sup> slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doth not accomplish the <sup>m</sup> righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluitie of maliciousnesse, [and] receiue with meekenesse the worde that is <sup>n</sup> graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 * And be ye doers of the word, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.

23 For if any heare the word, and doe it not, he is like vnto a man, that behol-deth his naturall face in a <sup>o</sup> glasse.

24 For when he hath considered himselfe, hee goeth his way, and forgetteth immediately what manner of one hee was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect Lawe of libertie, and continueth [therein,] he not being a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shall be blessed <sup>p</sup> in his deede.

26 If any man among you seemeth religious, & refrayneth not his tongue, but deceiueh his own heart, this mans religion [is] bayne.

27 Pure religiō and vndefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to visite the fatherles, and widowes in their ad-uersitie, [and] to keepe him selfe vnspon-ted of the world.

CHAP. II.

<sup>1</sup> He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, <sup>5</sup> But to re-garde the poore as well as the rich, <sup>8</sup> To bee louing and mercifull, <sup>14</sup> And not to boast of faith, where no deedes are: <sup>17</sup> For it is but a dead sayth, where good woorkes followe not.

M brethren, haue not the faith of our glorious Lorde Iesus Christ <sup>a</sup> in respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your companie a man with a gold ring, and in goodly apparell, and there come in also a poore man in vile raiment,

3 And yee haue a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place, and say vnto the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoolle,

4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, & are become iudges of euill <sup>b</sup> thoughts.

5 Hearken my beloued brethren, hath not <sup>c</sup> God chosen the poore of this world, [that they shoulde bee] rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome which he promised to them that loue him:

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Do not the riche oppresse you by tyrannie, & do not they drawe you before the iudge-ment seates:

7 Do not they blaspheme the <sup>d</sup> worthie Name after which ye be named:

8 But if yee fulfill the <sup>e</sup> royall Lawe according to the scripture, [which saith,] * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye doe well.

9 * But if yee regarde the persons, ye commit sinne, & are rebuked of the lawe, as transgressours.

10 For * whosoener shall keepe the whole Lawe, [and] yet fayleth in one [poynt,] he is guiltie of all.

11 For he that saide, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, saide also, Thou shalt not kill. Nowe though thou doest none adulterie, yet if <sup>f</sup> thou killest, thou art a trans-gressour of the Lawe.

12 So speake yee, and <sup>g</sup> doe, as they that shall bee iudged by <sup>h</sup> the Lawe of libertie.

13 For there shall be iudgement mercilesse to him that sheweth no mercy, and mercy <sup>i</sup> reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What auayleth it, my brethren, though a man saith he hath <sup>j</sup> faith, whē he hath no woorkes: can the sayth saue
him:

15 For if a brother or a sister be * naked, and destitute of daily foode,

16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace: warme your selues, & fill your bellies, notwithstanding yee giue

<sup>a</sup> As effecting faith and religion by the outwarde appearance of men.

<sup>b</sup> Or, acceptation.

<sup>c</sup> That is, are ye not euill af-fectioned?

<sup>d</sup> Seeing God esteemeth them we may not contemne them.

<sup>e</sup> The name of God and Christ, whereof you make profession: and in that they dishonour God, it is not meete that you his children shoulde honour them.

<sup>f</sup> Which is here taken prouerbially, for the hie or broad way, wherein there is no turnings & euery man can go it:
so euery mā is our neighbour as well the poore as rich.

them not those things which are neede-full to the bodie, what helpeth it?

17 Euen so f faith, if it haue no works, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man might saye, Thou hast the faith, & I haue workes: shewe me thy faith out of thy workes, & I wil shewe thee my faith by my workes.

19 Thou beleuest that there is one God: thou doest well: the deuils also beleeue it, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou vnderstand, O thou baine man, that f faith [which is] without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when hee offered Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?

22 Seest y not that f faith wrought with his workes: and through f workes was the faith made perfect.

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, * Abraham beleued God, & it was imputed vnto him for righteous-nesse: & he was called the friend of God.

24 We see then how that of workes, a man is iustified, & not of faith onely.

25 Likewise also was not * Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, whe-shee had receiued the messengers, & sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, eue so the faith without workes is dead.

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth al ambition to seeke honour aboute our brethren.
3 He describeth the propertie of the tongue, 15. 16 And what difference there is betwixt the wisdom of God, and the wis-dome of the world.

a Urge not through ambition authoritie ouer your brethren.

My brethren, be not many masters, knowing that wee shal receiue the greater condemnation.

2 For in many thinges wee sinne all. * If any man sinne not in worde, hee is a perfect man, and able to bridle all the bodie.

3 Behold, we put bits into the horses mouthes that they shoulde obey vs, and we turne about all their bodie.

4 Behold also f ships, which though they bee so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, whithersoever the gouernour listeth.

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great thinges: be-holde, howe great a thing a litle fire kindleth.

|| Or, matter.

6 And f tongue is fire, [yea,] a world of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole bodie, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For the whole nature of beasts, & of birdes, and of creeping things, & things of the sea is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.

8 But f tongue can no man tame. [It is] an vnruely euill, full of deadly poyson.

9 Therewith blesse we God euen the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing & cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountaine send forth at one place sweete [water] and bitter?

12 Can f figge tree, my brethren, bring forth oliues, either a byne figges: so can no fountaine make both salt water and sweete.

13 Who is a wise man & endued with knowledge among you: let him shewe by good conuersation his workes in meekenesse of wisdom.

14 But if ye haue bitter enuying, and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither be lyers against the trueth.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from aboue, but [is] earthly, sensuall, and deuillish.

16 For where enuying and strife [is], there [is] sedition, and all maner of euill workes.

17 But the wisdom that [is] from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be entreated, full of mercy and good frutes without iudging, & without hyppocrisie.

18 And the fruite of righteousness is sown in peace, of the that make peace.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Having shewed the cause of all wrong, and wickednesse, and also of al graces & goodnes, 4 He exhorteth the to loue God, of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depende on Gods providence.

and cotentions among you:
are they not hence, [euen] of your lusts, that fight in your members?

2 Your riches are corrupt: and your garments are motheaten.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an ensample of suffering aduersitie, & of long patience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, wee count them blessed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and haue knowen what end the Lord [made.] For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 But before al things, my brethren, *sweare not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other othe: but let your yea, be yea, and [your] nay, nay, least ye fall into condemnation.

THE ARGUMENT.

He exhorteth the saythfull to deny themselves, and to contemne the world, that being deliuered from all carnall affections and impediments, they may more speedily attaine to the heauenly kingdome of Christ, whereunto we are called by the grace of God reueiled to vs in his Sonne, and haue already re-ceiued it by fayth, possessed it by hope, and are therein confirmed by holines of life. And to the intent this faith should not faint, seeing Christ contemned and reiected almost of the whole worlde, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures which testifie that hee should bee the stumbling stone to the reprobate and the sure foundation of saluation to the faithfull: therefore he exhorteth them courageously to go forward, considering what they were, & to what dignitie God hath called them. After, he entreateth particular poynts, teaching subiects how to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, and howe married folkes ought to behaue themselves. And because it is appointed for all that are godly, to suffer persecutions, he sheweth them what good yssue their afflictions shall haue, & contrariwise what punishment God reserueth for the wicked. Last of all he teacheth how the ministers ought to behaue themselues, forbidding them to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church: also that yong men ought to be modest, and apt to learne, and so endeth with an exhortation.

Or, doctrine,

2 True witness of the euerlasting worde of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

That which was <sup>a</sup> from the beginning, which we haue <sup>b</sup> heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, and our hands haue handled of <sup>c</sup> worde <sup>e</sup> of life,

2 (For the life appeared, and we haue seene it, and beare witness, and shew vnto you the eternall life, which was <sup>d</sup> with the Father, and appeared vnto vs)

3 That, [I say,] which we haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye may also haue fellowship with vs, & that our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these thinges write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 This then is the message, which we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God <sup>f</sup> is light, and in him is no darkenes.

6 If we say that we haue fellowship with him, and walke in <sup>g</sup> darkenes, we lie, and doe not truly:

7 But if we walke in the light as he is in the light, we haue fellowship <sup>h</sup> one with another, and the * blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanse vs from all sinne.

8 * If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and trueth is not in vs.

9 If we <sup>i</sup> acknowledge our sinnes, he is faythfull and iust, to forgive vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnes.

10 If we say we haue not sinned, we make him a liar, and his || worde is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ is our Aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tried. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

M babes, these thinges write
I vnto you, that ye sinne not:
and if any man sinne, we haue an <sup>a</sup> Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the Iust.

2 And he is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for [the sinnes] of <sup>b</sup> the whole world.

3 And hereby we are sure that we knowe him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 He that sayth, I knowe him, and there is no saluation without Christ. c That is, by sayth and so obey him: for knowledge can not be without obedience.

a Christ is our onely Aduocate & atonement: for the office of intercession and redemption are ioyned together.

b That is, of them which haue embraced the Gospel by faith in al ages, degrees, and places: for there is no saluation without Christ. c That is, by sayth and so obey him: for knowledge can not be without obedience.

keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the trueth is not in him.

5 But he that keepeth his worde, in him is <sup>d</sup> the loue of God perfect in deede:
hereby we knowe that we are in him.

6 He that sayth he remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as hee hath walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe || commandement vnto you: but an olde commandement, which ye haue had from the <sup>e</sup> beginning: the <sup>f</sup> olde commandement is the worde, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a newe commandement I write vnto you, that which is true in him, and also in you: for the darkenes is past, and the true light nowe shineth.

9 He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenesse vntill this time.

10 * He that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkenes, & walketh in darknes, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkenes hath blinded his eyes.

12 <sup>g</sup> Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you, yong men, because ye haue overcome the || wicked.

14 I write vnto you, babes, because ye haue knowen the Father. I haue written vnto you, Fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, yong men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue overcome the || wicked.

15 Loue not the <sup>i</sup> world, neither the thinges that are in the worlde. If any man loue the * world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the worlde ([as] the lust of the <sup>k</sup> flesh, the <sup>l</sup> lust of the eyes, and the <sup>m</sup> pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the worlde.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.

18 Babes, it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shall come, euen nowe are there many Antichrists:
whereby we knowe that it is the last time.

d Whereby he loueth God: so that to loue
God is to obey his worde.

Or, doctrine,

uen.

dement taught

o The grace of the holy ghost, p Which is Christ,

q In this Epistle which I now write unto you.

r He that taketh away or diminisheth either of the natures in Christ, or he that confoundeth or separateth them, els he that putteth not difference betweene the person of the Sonne, & also he that belieueth not to haue remission of sinnes by his onely sacrifice, denieth Christ to be the true Messiah.

s Then the infidels worship not the true God, t But he that confesseth the Sonne, hath also the Father, u Christ communicateth himselfe unto you, and teacheth you by the holy ghost and his ministers.

|| Or, in Christ, u By this name he meaneth the whole Church of Christ in generall.

19 <sup>n</sup> They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they would haue continued with vs. But [this commeth to passe,] that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

20 But ye haue an oymntment from him, that is <sup>p</sup> Holy, and ye haue knowen all things.

21 I <sup>q</sup> haue not written vnto you, because ye knowe not the trueth: but because ye knowe it, and that no lie is of the trueth.

22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Iesus is <sup>r</sup> Christ: the same is the Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Whosoever denieth the Sonne, the same <sup>t</sup> hath not the Father.

24 Let therefore abide in you that same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shall remaine in you, ye also shall continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, [euen] eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 But the anoynting which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye neede not that any man teache you: but as the same <sup>u</sup> Anointing teacheth you of all things, & it is true, & is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide <sup>v</sup> in him.

28 And now, <sup>w</sup> little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed before him at his comming.

22 If ye knowe that he is righteous, knowe ye that he which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

<sup>x</sup> The singular loue of God towards vs, 7 And howe we againe ought to loue one another.

Behold, what loue the Father hath shewed on vs, that we should be <sup>y</sup> called <sup>z</sup> sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

2 Dearely beloved, now we are we the sonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we shall be: and we knowe that when <sup>b</sup> he shall appeare, we shall be <sup>c</sup> like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as hee is pure.

4 Whosoever <sup>d</sup> committeth sinne, transgresseth also the Lawe: for sinne is the transgression of the Lawe.

5 And ye know that he appeared that he might <sup>e</sup> take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seene him, neither hath knowen him.

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 He that <sup>f</sup> committeth sinne, is of the deuill: for the deuill sinneth from the <sup>g</sup> beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that he might loose the workes of the deuill.

9 Whosoever is borne of God, sinneth not: for his <sup>h</sup> seede remaineth in him, neither can he <sup>i</sup> sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuill: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that <sup>j</sup> loueth not his brother.

11 For this is <sup>k</sup> message that ye heard from the beginning, that <sup>l</sup> we should loue one another.

12 Not as <sup>m</sup> Cain which was of the wicked, & slew his brother: and wherefore slew he him: because his owne workes were euil, & his brothers good.

13 Marueile not, my brethren, though the world hate you.

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto life, because we <sup>n</sup> loue the brethren: <sup>o</sup> he that loueth not [his] brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother, is a manslayer: and ye knowe that no manslayer hath eternall life abiding in him.

16 <sup>p</sup> Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that he layde down his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe [our] liues for the brethren.

17 <sup>q</sup> And whosoever hath this worlds good, and seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him, howe dwelleth the loue of God in him:

18 My little children, let vs not loue in worde, neither in tongue [onely,] but in <sup>r</sup> deede and in trueth.

19 For thereby we know that we are of the trueth, and shal before him assure our hearts.

20 For if our <sup>s</sup> heart condemne vs, God

Saint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which go about to drawe away the hearts of the simple people from the trueth of God, and willet them to haue no societie with such, whome hee setteth forth in their liuely colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally hee comforteth the faithfull, and exhorteth them to perseuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

Iude a seruant of Iesus Christ, and brother of James, to them which are called and sanctified of God the Father, and b reserued to Iesus Christ:

2 The faithful are sanctified of God the Father in the Sonne by the holy Ghost.

destroyed, but the Lambe Christ shall defend them, which beare witnesse to the trueth, who in despite of the beast and Satan will reigne ouer all. The liuely description of Antichrist is set forth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limited, and albeit that hee is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no farther then to the hurt of their bodies: and at length hee shalbe destroyed by the wrath of God, when as the elect shall giue praise to God for the victorie: neuerthelesse for a season God will permit this Antichrist, and strumpet vnder colour of faire speach and pleasant doctrine to deceiue the world: wherefore he aduertiseth the godly (which are but a small portion) to auoide this harlots flatteries, and bragges, whose ruine without mercie they shall see, and with the heavenly companies sing continual praises: for the Lambe is married: the worde of God hath gotten the victorie: Satan that a long time was vntied, is now cast with his ministers into the pit of fire to be tormented for euer, whereas contrarywise the faithfull (which are the holy Citie of Ierusalem, and wife of the Lambe) shall enioy perpetuall glorie. Reade diligently: iudge soberly, and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

<sup>i</sup> This is thought to be Polycarpus, who was minister of Smyrna, 86, yeres as he himselfe confessed before Herodes, when as he was led to be burned for Christs cause.

10 Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: behold, it shall come to passe, that the<sup>o</sup> deuill shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be<sup>p</sup> tryed, and ye shall haue tribulation<sup>q</sup> ten dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee the crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saith to the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the<sup>r</sup> seconde death.

12 And to the Angell of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This saith he which hath the sharpe<sup>s</sup> sword with two edges.

13 I knowe thy workes and where thou dwellest, [euen] where Satans throne is, and thou keepest my Name, and hast not denied my faith, <sup>u</sup> euen in those dayes when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a fewe things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the<sup>x</sup> doctrine of* Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

15 Euen so hast thou them, that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent thy selfe, or els I wil come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saith vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the Manna that is<sup>y</sup> hid, & will giue him a<sup>z</sup> white stone, and in the stone a<sup>a</sup> newe name written, which no man knoweth sauing he that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the Angell of the Church which is at Thyatira write, These things saith the Sonne of God, which hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete like|| fine brasse.

19 I know thy workes and thy loue, and<sup>b</sup> seruice, and faith, and thy patience, and thy workes, and that [they are] mo at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a fewe things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman<sup>*c</sup> Jezabel, which calleth

<sup>o</sup> Here he nameth the author of all our calamities, encouraging vs manfully to fight against him, in promising vs the victorie.

<sup>p</sup> The ende of affliction is, that we may be tryed and not destroyed.

<sup>r</sup> The first death is the naturall death of the body, the second is the eternall death: from the which all are free that belieue in Iesus Christ, <sup>John</sup> 5, 24.

<sup>t</sup> All townes and countries whence Gods word and good liuing is banished, are the throne of Satan, and all those places where the word is not preached sincerely, nor maners aright reformed.

<sup>x</sup> All such are like counsellours to Balaam, which for lucre perswade to idolatrie or whoredome.

<sup>a</sup> Such a stone was wont to be giuen to them that had gotten any victorie or prize, in signe of honour, and therefore it signifieth here a token of Gods fauour and grace: also it was a signe that one was cleared in iudgement. <sup>a</sup> The new name also signifieth renowne and honour. || Or, Alcumine. <sup>b</sup> To helpe the Saints. <sup>1</sup> King. 16, 31. <sup>c</sup> As that harlot Jezabel maintained strange religion, and exercised crueltie against the seruants of God, so are there among them that doe the like.

which is at Sar-

These things
sayeth hee
that hath the seuen spirits of God,

and the seuen
starres, I knowe
thy woakes:

for thou hast a name that thou livest,

but thou art
dead.

2 Bee awake and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready for I haue

4 [Notwith-

haue not defiled their

and they shall walke

ouercommeth,
shall be clo-

and before

6 Let him that hath an what the Spirit sayeth vnto the Churches.

7 C And write vnto the Angell of the Church which is of Philadelphia,

These things
sayeth hee
that is Holpe and True, which hath the * keye
of Dauid, which openeth and no man
shuteth, and shutteth

and no man
openeth,

8 I knowe
thy woakes:
beholde, I haue let before thee an open<sup>d</sup> dooze, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength and hast kept my woze, and hast not denied my name.

9 Beholde,
I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call them seulues Iewes and are not,
but doe lie:
beholde, [I say,] I will make them,
that they shall come and worship before thy feete, and shall knowe that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the woze of my patience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of tenta-
tion, which will come vpon all the wozde, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Behold,
I come shortly: hold thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth,
will I make

God, and he shall go no more out:
and I will

15 I knowe
thy woakes,
that thou art
neither colde

would thou werest colde

16 Therefore, because thou art like

creased with goods, and haue<sup>k</sup> neede of nothing, and knowest not howe thou art wretched and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to buie of me golde tryed by the fire, that thou mayest be made riche, & white rayment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that thy filthie nakednes do not appeare: and<sup>l</sup> anoint mayest see.

19 As many as I loue, I* rebuke and chasten: be<sup>m</sup> zealous therefore and 20 Beholde, I stand at the doore, and knocke. If any man heare my voyce and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will suppe with him, and hee with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, will I grant to sitte with me in my<sup>n</sup> throne, euen as I ouercame, and sitte with my Father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit sayth vnto the Churches.

CHAP. III.

1 The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 Hee seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it, 3 And xliiii. seates about it with xliiii. elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes prayling God day and night.

After this I looked, and be-holde, a<sup>a</sup> doore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I heard, was as [it were] of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I wil shew thee things which must be done hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was<sup>b</sup> rauished in the spirit, and beholde, a throne was set in heauen, & one sate vpon<sup>c</sup> y throne.

3 And<sup>b</sup> he that sate, was to looke vpon, like vnto a iasper stone, and a sar-dine, & there<sup>c</sup> [was] a rainebowe rounde about the throne in sight like to an emeraude.

4 And round about y throne [were] foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe<sup>c</sup> foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, & had on their heads crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne<sup>d</sup> proceeded lightnings, and thundrings, & voyces, and there were seven lampes of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seven spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there [was] a<sup>f</sup> sea of glasse like vnto<sup>g</sup> cryshall: and in the<sup>h</sup> mids of the throne, and rounde about the throne [were] foure<sup>h</sup> beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast [was] like a lyon, and the second beast like a calfe, and the thirde beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast [was] like a flying egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eche one of them sixe winges about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they ceased not day nor night, saying, i* Holy, holy, holy Lord God almightie, which was,
and which is, and which is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glorie, and honour, and thanks to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sate on y throne, and worshipped him, that liueth for euermore, & cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art* worthe, O Lorde, to receiue glory and honour, and power:
for thou hast created all things, and for thy willes sake they are, and haue bene created.

CHAP. V.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 2 And therefore the foure beastes, the xliiii. elders, and the Angels prayle the Lambe, and doe him worship 3 For their redemption and other benefites.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne, a<sup>a</sup> Booke written within, and on the backside, sealed with<sup>b</sup> seven seales.

2 And I sawe a strong Angel, which preached with a loude voyce, who is worthe to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof.

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthe to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the elders said vnto me, weepe not: beholde, the* Lyon which is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Da-uid, hath obtained to open the Booke, and to loose the seven seales thereof.

6 Then I beheld, and lo, in the mids of the throne, and of the foure beastes, and in the middes of the Elders, stood a<sup>c</sup> Lambe as though he had bene killed, that taketh a-

of the worlde.

<sup>e</sup> Signifying the fulnes of the Spirit, which Christ powreth vpon all,

Which had <sup>d</sup> seven hornes, and <sup>e</sup> seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God, sent into all the worlde.

7 And he came, and tooke the Booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when hee had taken <sup>f</sup> Booke, the foure beastes, and the foure & twentie Elders fell <sup>f</sup> downe before <sup>f</sup> Lambe, hauing euery one harpes and golden vialles full of odours, which are the <sup>g</sup> prayers of the Saints.

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, Thou art worthe to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast <sup>h</sup> redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our God * Kings and Priestes, & we shal <sup>i</sup> reigne on the earth.

11 Then I behelde, & heard the voyce of many Angels rounde about the throne, and [about] the beastes and the Elders, and there [were] * thousande thousands,

12 Saying With a loude voyce, Worthe is the * Lambe that was killed to receiue power and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glorie, and prayse.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Prayse and honour, and glory, and power [be] vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes sayd, Amen, and the foure and twentie Elders fell downe, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things followe the opening thereof, so that this containeth a generall prophesie to the ende of the worlde.

After, I behelde when the Lambe had opened one <sup>a</sup> of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as [it were] the <sup>b</sup> noyse of thunder, Come and see.

2 Therefore I behelde, and lo, there [was] a <sup>c</sup> white horse, and he that <sup>d</sup> sate on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and hee went forth conquering that hee might overcome.

3 And when hee had opened the seconde seale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, [that was] <sup>e</sup> red, and power was giuen to him that <sup>f</sup> sate thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. Then I behelde, & lo, <sup>g</sup> a blacke horse, and hee that sate on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A <sup>h</sup> measure of wheate for a <sup>i</sup> penie, and thre measures of barley for a penie, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behelde, <sup>k</sup> a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was Death, and Hell followed after him, and power was giuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the <sup>l</sup> fift seale, I saw vnder the altar <sup>m</sup> the soules of them, that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they maintained.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long, Lorde, holy and true! doest not thou iudge and auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto euery one, and it was sayde vnto them, that they should rest for a litle season vntill their fellowe seruaunts, and their brethren that should be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I behelde when hee had opened the sixt seale, and lo, there was a great <sup>n</sup> earthquake, and the <sup>o</sup> sunne was as blacke as <sup>p</sup> sackcloth of heare, and the <sup>q</sup> moone was like blood.

13 And the <sup>r</sup> starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her greene figs, when it is shaken of a mighty winde.

14 And <sup>s</sup> heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, and euery mountaine and yle were moyed out of their places.

and marked with the blood of the Lambe, and lightened in faith by the worde of God, so that they make open profession of the same, are exempted from euill. <sup>g</sup> Though that this blindness be brought into the worlde by the malice of Satan, yet the mercies of God referue to him selfe an infinite number which shall be saved, both of the Jewes and Gentiles through Christ. <sup>h</sup> Hee omitteth Dan, and putteth Levi in, whereby he meaneth the twelue Tribes, <sup>17</sup> For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

CHAP. VII.

<sup>4. 9</sup> Hee seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads out of all nations and people, <sup>15</sup> Which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, <sup>17</sup> And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

And after that, I sawe foure Angels stande on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure <sup>a</sup> Windes of the earth, that y<sup>e</sup> Windes should not blowe on the earth, neither on the <sup>c</sup> sea, neither on any <sup>d</sup> tree.

<sup>2</sup> And I sawe another Angel come by from the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, and he cryed with a loud voyce to the foure Angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth, and the sea,

<sup>4</sup> And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, & there [were] sealed an hundred & foure & fourtie thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

<sup>7</sup> Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

<sup>8</sup> Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelue thousand.

<sup>9</sup> After these things I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man coulde number, of all nations and kinreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long <sup>k</sup> white robes, and <sup>l</sup> palmes in their handes.

<sup>10</sup> And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, <sup>m</sup> Saluation [commeth] of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

<sup>11</sup> And all the Angels stood rounde about the throne, and [about] the Elders, and the foure beastes, and they fel before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, <sup>12</sup> Saying, Amen. Praise and glorie, and wisdom, and thanks, & honour, and power, and might, [be] vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

<sup>13</sup> And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, what are these which are arrayed in long white robes: and whence came they?

<sup>14</sup> And I sayd vnto him, Lord, thou knowest. And he sayde to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and haue made their long robes white in <sup>n</sup> the blood of the Lambe.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore are they in the presence of the throne <sup>o</sup> of God, and serue him day and <sup>p</sup> night in his Temple, and hee that sitteth on the throne, will dwell among them.

<sup>17</sup> For the <sup>s</sup> Lambe, which is in the middes of the throne, shall gouerne them, and shall leade them vnto <sup>u</sup> the liuely fountaines of waters, and * God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

And when he had opened the <sup>a</sup> seuenth seale, there was <sup>b</sup> silence in heauen about halfe an houre.

they ought to doe. <sup>r</sup> These are plagues for the contempt of the Gospell.

2 And I saw the seven Angels, which stoode before God, and to them were giuen seven trumpets.

3 Then another Angel came & stoode before the altar having a golden censer, and much odours was giuen vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon a golden altar, which is before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went by before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth, and there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 Then the seven Angels, which had the seven trumpets, prepared them selues to blowe the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel blew the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the second Angel blew the trumpet, and as it were a great moun-taine, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of shippes were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, and there fell a great starre from heauen burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood: therefore the third part of the waters became Wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, & the third part of the sunne was smitten, and the third part of the moone, & the third part of the starres, so that the third part of them was darkened: and the day was smitten, that the third part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I behelde, and heard one Angel flying through the mids of heauen, saying, With a loude voyce, wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the sounds to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blowe the trumpets.

CHAP. IX.

1 The first and sixt Angel blowe their trumpets: the starre falleth from heauen. 3 The locustes come out of the smoke.
12 The first wo is past. 14 The foure Angels that were bound, are loosed. 18 And the third part of men is killed.

And the first Angel blew the trumpet, & I sawe a starre which was fallen from heauen vnto the earth, & to him was giuen the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and there arose the smoke of the pit, as the smoke of a great fornace, and the sunne, and the aire were darkened by the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locustes vpon the earth, & vnto them was giuen power, as the scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them, that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those men which haue not the seale of God in their fore-heads.

5 And to them was commanded that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed five moneths, and that their paine should be as the paine that commeth of a scorpion, when he hath stung a man.

6 Therefore in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shall not finde it, and shall desire to dye, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the forme of the locustes was like vnto horses prepared vnto battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes, like vnto golde, and their faces were like the faces of men.

8 And they had heare as the heare of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lyons.

9 And they had habbergions, like to habbergions of yron: and the sound of their wings [was] like the sound of charrets when many horses runne vnto battell.

10 And they had tailles like vnto scorpions, and there were stings in their tailles, and their power was to hurt men fve moneths.

11 And they haue a King ouer them, which is the Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in hebrewe [is], Abaddon, and in Greeke hee is named Apollyon.

12 One wo is past, [and] beholde, yet two woes come after this.

13 Then the sixth Angel blew the trumpet, and I heard a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth Angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the foure Angels, which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yeere, to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of horsemen of warre were twenty thousand times ten thousand: for I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in a vision, and them that sate on them, ha-ving fierie habbergions, and of Jacinth, and of brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of Lyons: and out of their mouthes went forth fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 Of these three was the third part of men killed, [that is,] of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone which came out of their mouthes,

19 For their power is in their mouthes, and in their tayles: for their tayles were like vnto serpents, & had heads, where- with they hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the workes of their hands that they should not worship devils, and idoles of golde, & of siluer, and of brasse, and of stone, and of wood, which neither can see, neither heare nor goe.

21 Also they repented not of their murther, and of their sorcerie, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

1 The Angel hath the booke open. 6 He sweareth there shall be no more time. 9 He giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

And I saw another mightie Angel come downe from heauen, clothed w a cloude, and the rainebowe vpon his head, and his face was as the sunne, and his feete as pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a litle booke open, and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and [his] left on the earth,

3 And cryed with a loude voyce, as when a Lyon roareth: and when he had cryed, seven & thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seven thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: But I heard a voyce from heauen saying vnto me, Seale vp those things which the seven thunders haue spoken, and write them not.

5 And the Angel which I sawe stand vpon the sea and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, & the earth, and the thinges that therein are, and the sea, & the things which therein are, that time should be no more.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seventh Angel, when he shall beginne to blowe the trumpet, euen the mysterie of God shalbe finished, as he hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe and said, Go, & take the litle booke which is open in the hand of the Angel, which standeth vpon the sea and vpon the earth.

9 So I went vnto the Angel, and sayde to him, Giue me the litle booke. And he said vnto me, Take it, & eate it vp, & it shall make thy bellie bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweete as homie.

10 Then I tooke the litle booke out of the Angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as homie: but when I had eaten it, my God with whom Christ by his diuinitie is equall. k The faithfull shall under-stand and see this mysterie of the last iudgement, the damnation of Antichrist and infidels, and also the gloire of the iust at the resurrection. l As Saint Iohn vnderstood this by reuelation, so is the same reuelled to the true preachers to discouer the Pope, and Antichrist. m Meaning Christ. n That is, the ho-ly Scriptures: which declareth that the minister must receiue them at the hand of God, before he can preach them to others. Exo. 3. 1. o Which signifieth that the ministers ought to receiue the word into their hearts, & to haue graue & deepe iudgement, & diligently to studie it, & with zeale to bitter it. p Signifying that albeit that the minister haue consolation by the worde of God, yet shall he haue soze, and grieuous enemies, which shall be troublesome vnto him.

1 The temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses raised vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beast, 11 But after receiued to glorie. 15 Christ is exalted, 16 And God prayes by the foure and twentie Elders.

a Which declareth that Christ Iesus will build his Church and not haue it destroyed: for he measureth out his spirituall Temple.

b The Jewish Temple was deuised into three partes: the holy of holies, the holie place, and the holie of holies: where the Leuites were: and the holiest of all, wherein to y<sup>e</sup> Priest once a yeere entred: in respect therefore of these two latter, the first is sayde to be cast out, because as a thing profane it is neglected where the Temple is measured, and yet the aduersaries of Christ boast that they are in the temple, and that none are of the Temple but they.

c That is, the Church of God.

d Meaning a certaine time: for God hath limited the times of Antichristes tyrannie. e By two witnesses he meaneth all the preachers that should build vp Gods Church, allowing to Zorubabel & Iehoshua which were chiefly appointed for this thing, & also to this saying, in the mouth of two witnesses standeth euery worde. f Signifying a certaine time: for when God giueth strength to his ministers, their persecutions seeme, as it were but for a day or two. g In poore and simple apparell. h Whereby are signified the excellent graces of them which beare witnesse to the Gospel. i Who hath dominion ouer the whole earth. k By Gods worde, whereby his ministers discomfit the enemies. l They denounce Gods iudgment against the wicked, that they cannot enter into heauen. m Which is to declare & procure Gods vengeance. n That is, the Pope which hath his power out of hell, & cometh thence. o He sheweth how y<sup>e</sup> Pope gaineth y<sup>e</sup> victorie, not by Gods word, but by cruell warre. p Meaning y<sup>e</sup> whole iurisdiction of y<sup>e</sup> Pope, which is compared to Sodom for their abominable sinne, & to Egypt because the true liberty to serue God is taken away from the faithful: & Christ was condemned by Pilate who represented the Romane power which should be enemy to the godly.

Then was giuen me a reede, like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise & mete the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the Temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holie citie shall they treade vnder foote two and fourtie moneths.

3 But I will giue [power] vnto my two witnesses, and they shall propheticke a thousand, two hundred, and threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two olue trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and deuoureth their enemies: for if any man would hurt them, thus must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying, and haue power ouer waters to turne them into blood, and to smite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that cometh out of the bottomles pit, shall make warre against them, & shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their corpses shall lye in the streetes of the great citie, which spirituallly is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kindreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three dayes and an halfe, & shall not suffer their carkeises to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon earth, shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall send giftes one to another: for these two Prophets bered them that dwell on the earth.

11 But after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life [comming] from God, shall enter into them, & they shall stand vpon their feete: and great feare shall come vpon them which sawe them.

12 And they shall heare a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they shall ascende vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enemies shall see them.

13 And the same houre shall there be a great earthquake, & the tenth part of the citie shall fall, and in the earthquake shall be slaine in number seven thousand: and the remnant shall be afraide, and giue glorie to the God of heauen.

14 The second wo is past, [and] behold the third wo wil come anon.

15 And the seventh Angel blew the trumpet, and there were great voyces in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this world are our Lords, & his Christs, and he shall reigne for evermore.

16 Then the foure and twentie Elders, which sate before God on their seates, fel vpon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We giue thee thanks, Lorde God almightie, which art, and which wast, and which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obtained thy kingdome.

18 And the Gentiles were angrie, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be iudged, & that thou shouldest giue rewarde vnto thy seruants the Prophets, & to the Saints, and to them that feare thy Name, to small and great, and shouldest destroy them, which destroy the earth.

19 Then the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his Temple the Arke of his covenant: and there were lightnings, and voyces, and thundrings, and earthquake, and much haile.

CHAP. XII.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne, 7 Michael fighteth with the dragon, which persecuteth the woman, 11 The victorie is gotten to the comfort of the saythfull.

q The infidels are tormented by hearing the trueth preached.

r Which shall be at the last resurrection.

s For it seemed that Antichrist had chased them out of the earth.

t Of y<sup>e</sup> power of Antichrist.

u When they shall vnderstand by Gods worde the glorie of his, and the punishment of his enemies, they shall fall from the Pope and glorifie God.

x Albeit Satan by y<sup>e</sup> Pope, Turke and other instruments troubleth the world neuer so much, yet Christ shall reigne.

y Iesus Christ. z This declareth the office of the godly which is to giue God thanks for the deliuerance of his, & to praye his iustice for punishing of his enemies.

a Which signifie the destruction of the enemies.

a In this third vision is declared howe the Church which is compassed about with Iesus Christ the sonne of righteousness, is persecuted of Antichrist.

b The Church treadeth vnder foote whatsoeuer is mutable and inconsistent, with all corrupt affections and such like.

c Which signifieth God and his word.

d The Church euer in a most feruent desire longed that Christ should be borne, and that the faithful might be regenerate by his power.

e The deuill, and all his power which burneth with furie, and is red with the blood of the faythfull.

f For he is the prince of this world, and almost hath the vniuersall gouernment.

g By his flatteries and promises he gaineth many of the excellent ministers and honorable persons, and bringeth them to destruction.

h Which is Iesus Christ the first borne among many brethren, who was borne of the virgin Marie, as of a special member of the Church.

i The Church was remoued from among the Jewes to the Gentiles, which were as a barren wilderness, and so it is persecuted to and fro.

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with sunne, and the moone [was] vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres.

2 And she was with childe and cried traouailing in birth, and was pained ready to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for beholde, a great red dragon hauing seven heads, and ten hornes, and seven crownes vpon his heads:

4 And his tayle drew the thirde part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to be deliuered, to deuoure her childe when she had brought it forth.

5 So she brought forth a man childe, which should rule all nations with a rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vnto God and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into wilderness where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand, two hundred and thre score dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen. Michael & his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his Angels.

8 But they preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuill & Satan, was cast out, which deceiueth all the worlde: he was [euen] cast into the earth, and his Angels were cast out with him.

10 Then I heard a loud voyce, saying, Nowe is saluation in heauen, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 But they ouercame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the worde of their testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce, ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you which hath great wrath, knowing that hee hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man [childe].

14 But to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might flie into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman like a flood, that he might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 But the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christ.

18 And I stood on the sea sand.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate. 2. 4. 12 And is confirmed by another beast. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

And I sawe a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seven heads, and ten hornes, & vpon his hornes [were] ten crownes, and vpon his heads the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leopard, & his feete like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gaue him his power and his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heads as [it were] wounded to death, but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered [and] followed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, who is like vnto the beast: who is able to warre with him:

5 And there was given vnto him a mouth, that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was given vnto him, to doe two and fourtie moneths.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

i Antichristes time and power is limited.

o And was overcome of Christ, then he fought against his members.

p Which the Lord had appointed for her.

q God giueth meanes to his Church to escape the furie of Satan, making his creatures to serue to the support thereof. r Satan was not able to destroy the head nor the body, and therefore sheweth his rage against the members.

a Here is the description of the Romane empire which standeth in crueltie and tyrannie.

b Meaning Rome, because it was first gouerned by seuen Kings or Emperors after Nero, and also is compassed about with seuen mountaines.

c Which signifie many prouinces.

d By these beasts are signified the Macedonians, Persians and Caldeans, whom the Romanes ouercame.

e That is, the Deuill.

n As God ordained from before all beginning, and all the sacrifices were as signes and sacraments of Christs death, o They which led soules captiues, go themselves into captiuitie.

p As the kingdom of Christ is from heauen, & bringeth men thither: so the Popes kingdom is of the earth & leadeth to perdition, and is begun and established by ambition, couetousnes, beastlines, craft, treason and tyrannie.

q Which signifie the priesthood and the kingdom, and therefore he giueth in his armes two keyes, and hath two swordes carried before him.

So Boniface the viii. which first ordained the Iubile, shewed himselfe one day in apparell as a Pope, and the next day in harnesse as the Emperour, and the two hornes in the Bishopps Mitre are signes hereof.

r He spake diuillish doctrine, accused Gods worde of imperfection, set vp mans traditions, and spake things contrary to God and his worde. s For the Pope in ambition, crueltie, idolatrie, and blasphemie did followe and imitate the ancient Romanes.

t Brought them to idolatrie and astonished them with the name of that holy Empire (as he termeth it.) u The man of sinne according to the operation of Satan shalbe with all power, signes and miracles of lyes, 2. Thess. 2. 9, 10.

a The same thinges which the Pope, or false prophets instruct him in. b Receiue the ordinances and decrees of the seate of Rome, and to kille the bileins foote, if he were put thereunto. c Whereby he renounceth Christ: for as faith, the worde and the Sacraments are the Christians markes: so this Antichrist will accept none but such as will approue his doctrine: so that it is not ynough to confesse Christ, and to beleue the Scriptures, but a man must subscribe to the Popes doctrine: moreouer, their chysmatozies, greasings, bowes, othes, and shauings are signes of this marke, in so much as no nation was excepted that had not many of these marked beastes.

d He that is not sealed with the Antichrists marke, cannot be suffered to liue among men. e Such as may be understood by mans reason: for about 666. yeeres after this reuelation the Pope or Antichrist began to be manifested in the worlde: for these characters xxiij. signifie 666: and this number is gathered of the small number, lxxviij. which in the whole make 666. and signifie Laccinus, or Latin, which noteth the Pope or Antichrist who bleseth in all things the Latin tongue, and in respect thereof he contemne the Hebrew and Greeke wherein the word of God was first and best written: and because Italie in olde time was called Latium, the Italians are called Latini, so that hereby he noteth of what countrey chiefly he should come.

17 And that no man might bye or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, & his number is sixe hundredeth, threescore and sixe.

1 The notable companie of the Lambe. 6 One Angel announceth the Gospell, 8 Another the fall of Babylon, 9 And the thirde warneth to flee from the beast. 13 Of their blessednesse which die in the Lord. 18 Of the Lords harvest.

When I looked, & lo, a Lambe stood on mount Sion, and with him an hundredeth, fourtie and foure thousande, having his Fathers Name written in their foreheades.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sounde of many waters, and as the sounde of a great thunder: and I heard y voyce of harpers harping with their harpes,

3 And they sung as [it were] a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders, and no man coulde learne that song, but the hundredeth, fourtie and foure thousande, which were bought from the earth.

4 These are they, which are not defiled with women: for they are virgins: these followe the Lambe & whither so ever hee goeth: these are bought from men, being the first fruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouthes was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 Then I sawe another Angel flie in the middes of heauen, hauing an euerlasting Gospell, to preach vnto them, that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kinred, and tongue, and people,

7 * Saying with a loud voyce, Feare God, & giue glorie to him: for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worship him that made heaven and earth, and g For their whole delight is in the Lambe Jesus, and they loue none but him.

h Which declareth that the faithfull ought to liue iustly and holpy, that they may be the first fruites, and an excellent offering of the Lord.

i For as much as their sinnes are pardoned, and they are clad with the iustice of Christ. k By this Angel are meant the true ministers of Christ which preache the Gospell faithfully. 8 And there folowed another Angel, laying, * It is fallen, it is fallen, <sup>m</sup> Babylon the great citie: for she made all nations to drinke of the wine of the <sup>n</sup> wrath of her fornication.

9 ¶ And the thirde Angell followed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue [his] marke in his forehead, or on his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, yea, of the <sup>o</sup> pure wine, which is powred into the cuppe of his wrath, and hee shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe.

11 And <sup>p</sup> smoke of their torment shall ascende euermore: and they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast and his image, and whosoener receiue the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of <sup>p</sup> Saintes: here are they that keepe the commandments of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 Then I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto mee, Write, <sup>q</sup> Blessed [are] the dead, which hereafter die <sup>r</sup> in the <sup>r</sup> Lorde. Euen so saith the spirit: for they rest from their labours, and their workes follow them.

14 ¶ And I looked, and beholde, a white <sup>r</sup> cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the Sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angell came out of the Temple, crying with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloude, * Thrust in thy sickle, and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And hee that sate on the cloude, <sup>u</sup> thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Then another Angell came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the <sup>x</sup> altar, which had power ouer fire, and cryed with a loude crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, and said, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vines of the vineyarde of the earth, and cast them into the great wine presse of the wrath of God.

20 And the <sup>y</sup> wine presse was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the wine presse, vnto the <sup>z</sup> horse bridles by the space of a thousande and sixe hundred furlongs.

in nothing but warres, slaughters, persecutions and effusion of blood.

CHAP. XV.

AND I saw another <sup>a</sup> signe in heauen, great & marueilous, <sup>b</sup> seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as [it were] a <sup>c</sup> glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God,

3 And they sung the song of Moyses the <sup>d</sup> seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous [are] thy workes, Lord God almighty: true and true [are] thy <sup>e</sup> wayes, King of Saintes.

4 * Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name: for thou onely [art] holy, and all nations shal come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

6 And <sup>f</sup> seuen Angels came out of the Temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and <sup>g</sup> bright linen, and hauing their <sup>h</sup> breastes girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the <sup>i</sup> foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials full of the wrath of God, which lieth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoke of the glorie of God and of his power, and no man was able to <sup>j</sup> enter into the Temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

And I hearde a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seven Angels, Goe your wayes, and powze out the [seven] vials of the Wrath of God vpon the earth.

<sup>2</sup> And the first went, and powzed out his viall vpon the earth: and there fell a noysome, and a grienous <sup>a</sup> soze vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

<sup>6</sup> For they shedde the blood of the Saintes, and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

<sup>7</sup> And I heard another out of the Sanctuarie say, Euen so, Lord God almighty, <sup>f</sup> true and righteous are thy iudgements.

<sup>8</sup> And the fourth Angell powzed out his viall on the sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with <sup>g</sup> heate of fire,

<sup>9</sup> And men boyled in great heate, and <sup>h</sup> blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glorie.

<sup>11</sup> And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sozes, and repented not of their workes.

<sup>12</sup> And the sixt Angel powzed out his viall vpon the great riuer <sup>1</sup> Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the Kings of the East should be prepared.

<sup>a</sup> This was like the first plague of Egypt, which was sozes and boyles or pockes: and this reigneth commonly among Canons, Donkes, Fryers, Runnes, Priestes, and such filchy vermine which beare the marke of the beast.

<sup>e</sup> He bringeth forth these two Angels: the one which is gouernour of the waters, and the other from vnder the altar, as witnesses and commendours of Gods iust iudgements.

<sup>i</sup> This answereth to the ninth plague of Egypt, which signifyeth that the Popes doctrine is an horrible plague of God which keepeth men still in darke ignorance and errors.

<sup>k</sup> They shall shewe their furie, rage and blasphemie against God, when the light of his Gospell shall shine.

<sup>1</sup> By Euphrates which was the strength of Babylon, is meant the riches, strength, pleasures, and commodities of Rome the second Babylon, which the faithfull which are the true Kings and Priestes in Christ haue taken away by disclosing their wicked deceite.

<sup>13</sup> And I sawe three <sup>m</sup> vncleane spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false Prophet.

<sup>14</sup> For they are the spirits <sup>n</sup> of deuils, working miracles, to go vnto the <sup>o</sup> kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almighty.

<sup>18</sup> And there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mighty an earthquake.

<sup>19</sup> And the great <sup>s</sup> citie was deuided into three partes, and the <sup>t</sup> cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, <sup>u</sup> to giue vnto her the cuppe of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

<sup>20</sup> And euery yle fled away, and the mountaines were not found.

<sup>21</sup> And there fell a great haile, like talents, out of heauen vpon the men, and men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

4 And the <sup>f</sup> woman was arrayed in purple & skarlet, and gudded with gold, and precious stones, and pearles, & had a cup of golde in her hande, full of <sup>g</sup> abominations, and filthines of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead [was] a name written, <sup>h</sup> A mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whozedomes, and abominations of the earth.

6 And I sawe the woman drunken with the blood of Saintes, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Jesus: and when I sawe her, I wondered with great marueile.

7 Then the Angell sayde vnto mee, wherefore marueilest thou? I wil shew thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast, that beareth her, which hath seven heads, and tenne hornes.

8 The <sup>i</sup> beast <sup>j</sup> thou hast seene, was, and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and shal go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth, shall wonder (whose names are not written in the Booke of life from the foundation of the worlde) when they bebolde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 Here [is] the minde that hath wisdom. The seven heades are <sup>k</sup> seven mountaines, whereon the woman sitteth: they are also <sup>l</sup> seven Kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come: and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is even the <sup>m</sup> eight, and is one of the seven, and shal go into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are tenne Kings, which yet haue not receiued a kingdome, but shal receiue power, as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 <sup>n</sup> These haue one minde, and shal giue their power, and authoritie vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall <sup>o</sup> overcome them: <sup>p</sup> for he is Lorde of Lords, and King of Kings: and they that are on his side, called, and chosen, and faithfull.

15 And he said vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the <sup>q</sup> tenne hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath <sup>r</sup> put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to do with one consent for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill <sup>s</sup> wordes of God be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is the great citie, which reigneth ouer the Kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

3. 9 The louers of the worlde are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon. 4 An admonition to the people of God to flee out of her dominion, 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

And after these thinges, I sawe [another] Angell come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that <sup>t</sup> earth was lightned with his glorie.

2 And hee cryed out mightily with a loude voyce, saying, <sup>u</sup> It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great [citie,] and is become the habitation of <sup>v</sup> deuils, and the holde of all foule spirits, and a cage of euery vncleane and hateful birde.

3 For <sup>w</sup> all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, & the merchants of the earth are waxed riche of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen, say, <sup>x</sup> Go out of her my people, that ye be not partakers in her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are <sup>y</sup> come vp vnto heauen, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 <sup>z</sup> Reward her, euen as she hath rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: [and] in the cup that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

7 In as much as she glorified her self, and liued in pleasure, so much giue ye to her torment & sorow: for she saith in her heart, <sup>aa</sup> I sit being <sup>ab</sup> a Queene, and am no <sup>ac</sup> widow, and shall see no mourning.

8 Therfore shall her plagues come at

with the sinnes of the wicked. <sup>ad</sup> The Greeke worde is, that her sinnes so followe one another, and so rise one after another, that they grow to such an heape, that at length they touche the very heauens. <sup>ae</sup> Blessed is hee that can repay to the whore the like, as is written, Psal. 137.8,9. <sup>af</sup> Ifai. 47.8. <sup>ag</sup> The glorious boasting of the strumpet. <sup>ah</sup> But full of people and magistrates.

<sup>b</sup> He describeth Rome to be the sinke of all abomination and diuillishnesse, and a kinde of hell.

<sup>d</sup> When God threateneth the wicked, hee euer comforteth and comforteth his, what they ought to do, that is, that they doe not communicate one day, death, and sorow, & famine, and she shalbe burnt with fire: for strong is the Lord God which will cōdemne her.

9 And the Kings of the earth shal bewaile her, & lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and liued in pleasure with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 And shall stand as farre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great citie Babylon, the mightie citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth shal weepe and waile ouer her: for no man byeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of gold and siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearles, & of fine linen, and of purple, and of silke, and of skarlet, & of all maner of thine<sup>k</sup> wood, and of all vessels of yuorie, and of al vessels of most precious wood, & of brasle, and of yron, and of marble,

14 (And the<sup>n</sup> apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and al things which were fat and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more)

15 The marchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stand a far off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wayling,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linen and purple, & skarlet, and guilded with gold, and precious stone, and pearles.

17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And euery shipmaster, and al the people that occupie ships, and shipmen, and whosoever trauaile on the sea, shall stande a farre off,

18 And crie, when they see the smoke of her burning, saying, what [citie was] like vnto this great citie?

19 And they shall cast<sup>o</sup> dust on their heades, and crie weeping, and wayling, and say, Alas, alas, the great citie, wherein were made riche all that had shippes on the sea by her || costlinesse: for in one houre she is made desolate.

20 O heauen, reioyce of her, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath<sup>p</sup> giuen your iudgement on her.

21 Then a mightie Angell tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, * and cast it into the sea, saying, with such violence shall the great citie Babylon be cast, and shall be<sup>q</sup> founde no more.

22 And the voyce of harpers, & musicians, & of pipers, & trumpetters shalbe heard no more in thee, & no craftes man, of whatsoeuer craft [he be,] shalbe found any more in thee: and the sounde of a millstone shall be heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more in thee: & the voyce of the bridegrome & of<sup>y</sup> bride shalbe heard no more in thee: for thy<sup>r</sup> marchants were y<sup>r</sup> great men of the earth: & with thine inchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the prophets, & of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore, & for aueraging y<sup>r</sup> blood of his seruants. 10 The Angel will not be worshipped. 17 The foules & birds are called to the slaughter.

After these thinges I heard a great voice of a great multitude in heauen, saying, a<sup>a</sup> Hallelu-iah, saluation, and glory, and honor, and power [be] to the Lord our God.

2 For<sup>b</sup> true and righteous [are] his iudgements: for he hath condemned the great whore, which did corrupt y<sup>r</sup> earth with her fornication, & hath aueraged the blood of his seruants [shed] by her hand.

3 And againe they saide, Hallelu-iah: and her<sup>c</sup> smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure<sup>d</sup> beastes fell downe, and worshipped God that sat on y<sup>r</sup> throne, saying, Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of y<sup>r</sup> throne, saying, Praise our God, al ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both smal & great.

6 And I heard like a voice of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thundrings, saying, Hallelu-iah: for [our] Lorde God almightie hath reigned.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue glorie to him: for the<sup>f</sup> marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

2 And I John sawe the c holy citie newe Ierusalem come d downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trimmed for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Beholde, the Tabernacle of God [is] with men, & hee will dwel with them: & they shall be his people, and God himselfe shall be their God to them.

4 * And God shall wipe e away all teares from their eyes: & there shall be no more death, neither sorowe, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the first things are passed.

5 And hee that sate vpon the throne, said, Behold, I make all things newe: and hee sa vnto me, Write: for these wordes are faithful and true.

6 And he said vnto me, It is done, * I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will giue to him that is a thirst, of y f well of y water of life freely.

7 He that ouercometh, shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and hee shall be my sonne.

laters, & all liers shall haue their part in the lake, which burneth with fire and brimstone, which is the second death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come: I will shewe thee the i bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And he caried me away in the spirit to a great & hie mountaine, & he shewed me the great k citie, holy Ierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,

11 Having the glorie of God: & her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a m Jasper stone cleare as crystal,

12 And had a great n wall and hie, and had twelue o gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Israel.

14 And the wall of the city had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue p Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie with: all, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lay foure square, and the length is as large as the bredth of it, and hee measured the citie with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, & the bredth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and fourty and foure cubits, by the measure of mā, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper: and the citie was pure gold like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones: the first foundation [was] Jasper: the seconde of Sapphire: the third of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emeraude:

shewed me these things.

9 But he said vnto me, See thou [do it] not: for I am thy fellowe seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, & of them which keepe the wordes of this booke:
worship God.

10 And he sayd vnto me, <sup>s</sup> Seale not the wordes of y<sup>e</sup> prophetic of this booke:
for the time is at hand.

11 Hee that is vniust, let him be vniust still: and he which is filthie, let him be fil-thie still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And beholde, I come shortly, and my rewarde is with me, * to giue euery man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am * Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende, the first and y<sup>e</sup> last.

14 Blessed [are] they, that do his com-mandements, that their right may be in the<sup>h</sup> tree of life, & may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without [shall be] dogs and enchanters, & whozemongers, and mur-therers, and idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh<sup>i</sup> lies.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in y<sup>e</sup> Churches: I am the roote & the<sup>k</sup> generation of David, & the bright morning<sup>l</sup> starre.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say,
Come. And let him that heareth, say,

<sup>m</sup> Come: and let him that is a<sup>n</sup> thirst, come: and * let whosoever<sup>o</sup> will, take of the water of life freely.

18 For I protest vnto euery man that
booke, * If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are written in this booke.

19 And if any man shall diminish of the words of y<sup>e</sup> booke of this prophetic, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of y<sup>e</sup> holy citie, and out of those things which are written in this booke.

20 Hee which testifieth these things, sayeth, <sup>p</sup> Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so<sup>q</sup> come, Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ [be] with you all, Amen.

by his spirit. Deut. 4. 2. and 12. 32. prou. 30. 6. <sup>p</sup> Seeing the Lorde is at hand, we ought to be constant and reioyce, but wee must beware we esteeme not the length nor shortnes of the Lords comming by our owne imagination. 2. Peter 3. 9. <sup>q</sup> This declareth the earnest desire that the faithfull haue to be deli-uered out of these miseries, and to be ioyned with their head Christ Iesus.

g This is not then as the other prophecies which were commanded to be hid, till the time appointed, as in Dan. 12. 4. because that these things
shoulde bee quickly accomplished, and did nowe begin.

Rom. 2. 6.
Isa. 41. 4.
and 44. 6.
chap. 1. 8.
and 21. 6.

h They shall liue eternally with the sonne
of God.

i That maintaine false doctrine, and delight there in.

k That is, a true and naturall man, and yet God equall with my Father.

l For Christ is the light that giueth light to euery one that cometh into this worlde.

m Let them be asrayde of Gods horrible iudgements, and as soone as they heare the Lambe call, let them come.

n He that feeleth himselfe oppressed with afflictions, and desireth the heavenly graces and comfort.

Isa. 55. 1.

o That is, when God beginneeth to reforme our will

a He alludeth to the visible paradise to let forth more sensibly the spirituall: and this agreeth with y<sup>e</sup> which is written,
Ezek. 47. 1.
b Meaning, that Christ who is the life of his Church, is common to all his, and not peculiar for any one sort of people.

c For there are all things pleasant and full of all contentment continually.

d Which some time were impure as Gentiles, but nowe are purged and made whole by Christ.

e The light shall be unchangeable, and thine for euer.
Chap. 19. 10.

f Now this is the seconde time that hee suffered himselfe to be cari-

ed away with the excellencie of the person: which is to admonish vs of our infirmities & readines to fall, except God strengthen vs miraculously with his spirit.
